WELCOME TO THE Copper Coast

Yorke Peninsula's Copper Coast is the perfect location to visit if you're looking to relax; we have beautiful white, sandy and safe swimming beaches, and great fishing and diving spots.

The ancestral home of the Nharangga people, the area is also steeped in colonial history, dating back to the peak of South Australia's copper mining days.

With a population of more than 15,000, the Copper Coast's main towns of Kadina, Moonta, Moonta Bay, Port Hughes and Wallaroo are just a 150-kilometre, 90-minute drive from Adelaide.

This is an ideal destination for day trips, short or long stays, and there are many attractions, accommodation and dining options.

Copper was discovered near what was to become Wallaroo Mines (Kadina) in 1859 and the now Moonta Mines in 1861.

Cornish miners and Welsh smelters soon made their way to Australia's 'Little Cornwall' to extract and process the ore. The mines closed in 1923.

Moonta Mines was recognised as a National Heritage Site in 2017 and, if all goes to plan, could be inscribed on the UNESCO World Heritage List by 2029.

Nowadays, the Copper Coast's prosperity is attributed to the wealth of the land which lends itself to a rich agricultural sector.

Great weather, beaches, fabulous fishing and all amenities, including upgraded boat ramps, make this a special place to visit and live.

Vibrant retail businesses and service providers support the local community and people visiting the area.

Enjoy a traditional Cornish pasty, coffee and cake, or a meal at one of the many cafes, bakeries or restaurants.

There are many things for you to experience in the area so please drop into or contact the accredited Copper Coast Visitor Information Centres located at 50 Mines Road, Kadina, and Blanche Terrace, Moonta, to plan your stay.

Helpful, friendly staff can provide you with all the up-to-date local information about what to see and do to make the most of your time visiting the Copper Coast.

Relax on the beach, catch some fresh seafood, enjoy the walking and cycling trails, have a game of putt putt mini golf, bowls or golf, or explore all the region has to offer.

We encourage you to take your time, escape everyday life and immerse yourself in this region that is "Inspired by lifestyle. Driven by possibility."

We hope this Visitors' Guide helps you to experience all the Copper Coast has to offer.

Moonta Mines

Before European settlement began around 1840, following the British colonisation of South Australia, Yorke Peninsula — known as Guuranda — was home to the Nharangga people. Four Nharangga clans shared the land: Kurnara in the north, Dilpa in the south, Wari in the west and Windarra in the east.

The Copper Coast name reflects the region's rich copper mining heritage.

On December 17, 1859, shepherd James Boor discovered copper on a pastoral lease held by Walter Watson Hughes and John Duncan, almost 10 kilometres southwest of their sheep station. The find led to the creation of Wallaroo Mines.

Hughes quickly secured mineral leases and, in February 1860, began mining with four Cornish miners from Burra. By midyear, 150 miners were working the site, and the Wallaroo Mining Company was formed. By the mid-1860s, the mine was producing 26,000 tons of ore annually and, between 1870 and 1875, employed around 1000 men and boys.

In May 1861, shepherd Patrick "Paddy" Ryan discovered copper in a wombat hole at what would become Moonta Mines. Hughes obtained a lease and formed the Tipara Mining Association, later renamed Moonta Mining Co. Operations began in late 1861, producing nearly 5000 tons of ore in the first year. By 1865, it employed 1200 men and boys, supporting over 5000 people.

By 1876, Moonta Mines employed 1700 people. In 1890, it amalgamated with Wallaroo Mines. Over the next 33 years, the joint company employed an average of 1900 people, peaking at 2700 in 1906, and extracted ore worth £5.6 million.

In the 1880s, the combined population of Moonta Mines, Moonta, and nearby suburbs exceeded 12,000, with more than 6000 people living and working on the mine site. Most of the miners were from Cornwall, bringing with them centuries-old hard rock mining expertise and a distinctive cultural heritage. So influential were the Cornish that Moonta became known as Australia's Little Cornwall.

Mining operations ceased in 1923, and much of the infrastructure was dismantled. However, the impressive Cornish enginehouses, such as Hughes and Richmans, still stand as architectural icons of the era.

Tentative World Heritage

Moonta Mines is now considered one of Australia's most significant industrial and cultural heritage sites. In 2024, it was included — alongside Burra — on Australia's World Heritage Tentative List as part of the Australian Cornish Mining Sites, with hopes of achieving UNESCO World Heritage status by 2029.

The National Trust SA Moonta branch has cared for much of the site since 1964. Highlights include the historic school (built for 800 children in 1878), tourist train, lolly shop and interpretive displays.

Smelting at Wallaroo

The port town of Wallaroo was surveyed in 1860, with waterfront allotments allocated to the Wallaroo Mining Company for smelting operations. Smelting began in 1861, and the first shipment of refined copper left in January 1862.

The site employed many skilled Welsh smelter men, and Welsh was commonly spoken in the town. Over 65 years, the smelter produced more than 300,000 tons of copper, along with gold, silver, lead and fertiliser by-products.

After closing in 1926, only the 36-metre Hughes Chimney was left standing as a lasting monument to the industry.

RIDE, WALK, RUN: COPPER RAIL TRAIL

Explore the Copper Coast at your own pace along the scenic Rotary Copper Rail Trail — a network of sealed, shared-use walking and cycling paths that connect Moonta, Wallaroo and Kadina.

These trails follow the routes of former railway lines and are perfect for walking, running, cycling or using mobility aids.

Designed with minimal road crossings, they offer a safe and relaxing way to take in the region's rich history and beautiful surroundings.

MOONTA TO WALLAROO — 17KM

The newest section of the trail runs between Moonta and Wallaroo, beginning at the Moonta Visitor Information Centre, located in the heritage-listed railway station on Blanche Terrace.

The track winds through scenic countryside and follows the path of the old railway line, arriving at Ryan Street in Wallaroo via Cornish and Park Terraces.

Allow about one hour to cycle or three to four hours to walk each way. Along the route, you'll find interpretive signs, sheltered rest stops, and plenty of photo opportunities.

WALLAROO TO KADINA — 8KM

The trail from Wallaroo to Kadina begins near the Wallaroo Town Hall and takes in the Wallaroo Avenue of Honour, a memorial recognising those who lost their lives in service.

From there, the path follows the historical rail corridor to Port Road, Kadina, ending near the roundabout at Powell Terrace.

This section takes around 30 minutes by bike, or 1.5 to two hours on foot.

Like the longer section, it features signage, rest areas and flat, easy terrain.

Whether you're up for a full day of exploration or just a short stroll, the Copper Rail Trail is a great way to connect with the region, its people and its stories.

DISCOVER MORE HERITAGE TRAILS

The Copper Coast is rich with history — and it's easy to explore with a network of heritage trails across Moonta, Moonta Mines, Port Hughes, Wallaroo and Kadina.

These local trails are designed to help you uncover the stories, landmarks and hidden gems of the region. Whether you prefer to walk, ride or drive, you'll find a trail that suits your pace and interests.

Each town features its own set of historical trails, from mining and maritime heritage to architectural and cultural highlights.

For more detailed information, see the trail entries in each town's section of this guide.

You can also visit the Copper Coast Visitor Information Centres in Kadina and Moonta, or the Wallaroo Heritage and Nautical Museum, where friendly staff can help you choose a trail and provide brochures and maps to guide your journey.

Take your time, follow the signs, and enjoy discovering the Copper Coast's proud past at your own pace.

PARKRUN

Free and friendly fitness

Looking for a fun, social and active way to start your weekend?

Copper Trail parkrun is a free, five-kilometre walk or run held every Saturday morning between Kadina and Wallaroo.

The scenic course starts at 203 Racecourse Road, Kadina — opposite the Kadina Pony Club — and regularly welcomes around 50 participants.

Organised by local volunteers, Copper Trail parkrun is more than just a run or walk. It's a friendly community event with a strong social side — participants often head to a local cafe afterwards to chat and connect.

There's no need to make a regular commitment — just register once at parkrun.com.au before your first event. Registration is free and valid worldwide.

Parkrun began in London in 2004. In 2022, the global parkwalk campaign launched to encourage everyone to take part — regardless of fitness level. Whether you walk, jog or run, you'll be warmly welcomed.

Copper Trail event director Nichole Yeoward says the local parkrun attracts visitors year-round, with numbers doubling to nearly 100 over Christmas and holiday periods.

"The aim is to bring people together to enjoy a morning run or walk and support each other," she says.

"It's been great to see more people joining in, especially with the parkwalk option."

South Australia's unofficial Statesman parkrun Challenge encourages participants to complete every course in the state (52 as at October 2025), making Copper Trail a popular stop for parkrun tourists.

If you're in the Copper Coast region on a Saturday morning, head to the Rotary shelter opposite the Pony Club off Airport Road by 8am and join the Copper Trail parkrun team.

It's a free, healthy and welcoming way to kickstart your weekend!

FUN FOR THE WHOLE FAMILY

Copper Coast Putt Putt

The Copper Coast is packed with family-friendly fun. Whether you're travelling with toddlers, teens or pets, there's something here for everyone.

In Moonta, families can explore McCauley Park and Victoria Park — perfect for a relaxing picnic or letting the kids run and play under the shade of native gums. Hire an e-bike from Copper Trails Bike Hire to explore the area on two wheels.

The Polgreen Park bike path offers a fun and educational ride, where children can learn to navigate road signs and line markings in a safe setting.

For summer fun, Splashtown Moonta Bay is a must-visit. This free water park is ideal for cooling off and enjoying the coastal atmosphere. Just a short drive away, the Moonta Mines Tourist Railway offers a scenic loop from the Moonta Mines Museum, complete with guided commentary along the way.

In Wallaroo, you'll find even more seaside adventure. The jetty, sandy beaches, and Wallaroo Adventure Playground are all within walking distance. Visit the Wallaroo Heritage and Nautical Museum for an engaging glimpse into the town's maritime past.

Nearby, the Cutter Canberra, displayed near Office Beach, is a great stop for naval history enthusiasts.

For something a little different, Tarnasey Farm offers hands-on animal experiences and family-friendly accommodation.

In Kadina, the Copper Coast Visitor Information Centre precinct is a one-stop hub for fun. Young visitors can enjoy the indoor playcentre, tackle the putt putt mini golf course, or ride the Copper Coast Railway miniature train, operating on select days. The New Town Playground, with its giant slide, and the Victoria Square train park and the Walk in the Trees trail round out a great day out.

Every town — Moonta, Wallaroo and Kadina — also has a dedicated dog park, so no family member is left out.

The Copper Coast is the ultimate destination for family fun. Come and create unforgettable memories.

The Copper Coast Visitors' Guide will help you make the most of your visit and fishing experience!

RECREATIONAL FISHING ADVICE

As a result of the harmful algal bloom that emerged in 2025, stock assessments of the waters of Gulf St Vincent, Kangaroo Island and Spencer Gulf showed declines of some species including calamari, garfish and King George whiting, particularly in Gulf St Vincent. Other species including blue crab and abalone have also been impacted.

SARDI ADVICE	GULF ST VINCENT & KI	SPENCER GULF
CALAMARI	severe decline	north: broadly stable;south: decline
GARFISH	severe decline	stable
KING GEORGE	severe localised declines	stable
BLUE CRAB	decline	no evidence of impact
ABALONE	localised high mortality	no evidence of impact
PRAWN	low survey catches	stable
LOBSTER	unaffected — outside bloom areas

Temporary fishing restrictions have been introduced to support recovery. These measures will remain in place until at least June 30, 2026, subject to ongoing scientific review:

- A temporary 50 per cent reduction in bag and boat limits will be implemented for recreational fishing and passenger bag limits for charter boat fishing in the Gulf St Vincent and Kangaroo Island Fishing Zone
- A temporary 50 per cent reduction in bag and boat limits for recreational fishing and passenger bag limits for charter boat fishing will apply to calamari, garfish, blue crab and King George whiting in the Spencer Gulf Fishing Zone, where fishing effort is expected to be increased

Please always be aware of and remember the rules that apply to recreational fishing in SA:

- The size, bag and boat limits for all species, see PIRSA: tinyurl.com/bdey6d47
- If operating a boat or marine craft, see Marine Safety: marinesafety.sa.gov.au/

Fishing the Copper Coast is a seasonal thing. Please check Greg's Seasonal Fishing Calendar for the species relevant to this time of the year (opposite page). Your local fishing tackle retail store is another great place to start — for all the latest info, tips and where they are biting!

The targeting, taking and possession of snapper are prohibited; fines and penalties apply.

Best baits

There is one important rule when choosing bait for fishing — always use fresh bait. Most bait from recognised retail outlets is frozen, so it is important that the freeze has been once only. The best bait for the following fish is:

- Salmon/salmon trout — lures and fish strips
- Blue crabs — fish heads and frames
- Tommy ruff (Australian herring) — gents, small cockles and fish flesh
- Garfish — gents and small cockles/pipis
- King George whiting — softened squid, cockles/pipis, clickers
- Yellowfin whiting — bloodworms, cockles/pipis, clickers
- Squid — jigs (lures), small whole fish or a peeled potato on a jig

Using a small amount of berley is a great way to attract fish. Acting like a scent trail in the water, berley is available from most fishing tackle stores.

To keep your catch fresh — especially in warmer months — it's important to store it properly. Many experienced fishers use an ice slurry, which is a thick mix of ice and water in an esky. For best results, use saltwater to make the slurry.

Alternatively, you can keep your catch cool by placing a wet towel or hessian bag over it. This helps preserve freshness until you're ready to clean and prepare the fish.

CREATIVE CULTURE

Public art across the Copper Coast is thriving, with installations offering locals and visitors a full day of discovery.

Copper Coast Council has produced art trail brochures for Kadina, Moonta and Wallaroo, along with a separate guide to the fairy doors trail in Kadina CBD. These are available at visitor information centres or online at visitcoppercoast.com.au/arts-and-culture.

"The trails identify public art pieces and allow everyone to discover and appreciate the work of our talented local artists," says Copper Coast Council tourism coordinator Lynn Spurling.

"They offer a chance to experience a wide range of local art and artisan works."

New artworks include the vibrant Windy Wallaroo mural at Wallaroo Primary School and a silo light show in Wallaroo, which is updated every three months. In Moonta, Polgreen Park now has a birthday-themed large-scale artwork and a lion statue.

Kadina's CBD has a community photo board in Victoria Square and murals in Graves, Hallett and Goyder streets. A large mural on the old water tower pays tribute to the area's copper mining past and Cornish heritage.

In Moonta's Queen Square, visitors can view the wombat statues and a statue of Sir Richard Williams. A striking double-sided mural in North Beach is another local highlight.

These are just some of the many ways to enjoy the Copper Coast's public art, which also includes a number of indoor art spaces. And there is more still to come.

OP SHOP TREASURE TRAIL

Op shops across the Copper Coast offer a treasure trove of pre-loved items donated by the community and beyond.

From homewares and clothing to books and toys, these shops are a great place to find a bargain — and support a good cause.

As well as supporting a local charity, such as the Salvos and Vinnies, op shops support sustainability and the circular economy. The region is home to a mix of commercial and not-for-profit op shops, each with its own unique offerings.

In Kadina, the not-for-profit St Vincent de Paul (Vinnies) store is located at 7 Doswell Terrace. It stocks a wide selection of affordable items, including homewares, toys, games and knick-knacks.

Store manager Sharon Nelson says their stock is carefully selected by volunteers:

"We don't put anything out unless we're completely happy with it," she says.

"We take pride in the stock that is put out and hope there is something nice for everyone.

"Ladies' clothes are definitely our popular items, as well as kids' books and toys. From the tourist side, books and DVDs seem to be a big seller."

Funds raised through the shop support the Vinnies assistance program.

"If we make more than what they need, the funds also go towards other programs that Vinnies run," Ms Nelson says.

Other programs include Fred's Van meal service, refugee/asylum seeker help, youth and senior buddy programs, and more.

Vinnies Kadina is open 10am to 4pm, Monday to Friday, and 9am to 1pm, Saturday. More volunteers are always wanted. Contact 8821 3931 for more information.

From homemade goods and fresh produce to clothing and second-hand treasures, markets across the Copper Coast offer something for everyone. Spread throughout the region, these markets are a great way to experience community spirit — and pick up a bargain or two along the way.

KADINA

The township of Kadina hosts two markets each month: Rotary Markets and the Copper Coast Markets, alongside the Copper Coast Repair Cafe and Bazaar.

Organised by the Rotary Club of Northern Yorke Peninsula, the Rotary Markets are usually held on the last Saturday of the month, from 8.30am to 12pm in Victoria Square, the heart of Kadina.

Visit www.rotarynyp.com for current information.

Similarly, the Copper Coast Markets are held on the last Saturday of the month from 8.30am to 12.30pm in the Uniting Church Hall at 59 Taylor Street.

Contact the Copper Coast Visitor Information Centre on 8821 2333 for more information.

The local show society hosts the Copper Coast Repair Cafe at the Kadina Showgrounds in the Exhibition Building each month, in conjunction with weekly Chill n Chat on Tuesdays.

The Repair Cafe focuses on repairing items together, inviting visitors to bring in broken household goods and learn how to fix them alongside a volunteer.

THE SELF-CONTAINED TRAVELLER

Whether you're on a short getaway or embarking on a longer journey, travelling in an RV is a great way to see the country.

Towns across the Copper Coast welcome RV travellers, offering RV-friendly overnight stops for self-contained motorhomes and caravans. These convenient locations give visitors a chance to recharge and explore the region at their own pace.

In Moonta, the RV overnight stop is a free camp located at the corner of Blyth Terrace and Clayton Road.

Established in 2016, the park has been managed by the Copper Coast Residents and Ratepayers Association as a committee project since 2022. Association president Neil Windsor says the park attracts travellers from all over.

RVs have to be self-contained, and it has a maximum stay of three nights (72 hours).

Mr Windsor says the fewest he has seen is two vehicles while the highest count is 146 vehicles at a time.

Visitors are welcome to make a voluntary donation to the Copper Coast Residents and Ratepayers Association, with funds distributed to local community groups.

"In the first 12 months, we made over $10,000," Mr Windsor says. "It's doing great things for the community."

Describing the large site as attractive, versatile and user friendly, he says the park is an ideal way to promote the town.

More Copper Coast RV friendly parking at located at:

- Kadina: The Kadina Showgrounds at the corner of Mines and Agery roads. Maximum stay of five nights. Permits are available from the Copper Coast Visitor Information Centre. A non-powered site is $15 a night and a powered site is $25 a night. Toilets and water are available.

- Wallaroo: A free camp on Cornish Terrace, the site of the former grain sampling yards. Overnight stay only.
- Paskeville: Located at the community sporting complex on East Terrace. A free camp.

Other options

As well as the RV-friendly campsites, there are caravan parks and cabins, group accommodation, apartments and villas, cabins and cottages, holiday homes, pubs, hotels, motels and farm stays across the Copper Coast.

KERNEWEK LOWENDER COPPER COAST CORNISH FESTIVAL

Australia's largest Cornish festival will be held from May 10 to 16.

Since 1973, this colourful celebration of Cornish culture has delighted thousands with its unique mix of tradition and entertainment.

Expect furry and maypole dances, street parades, pasty-making, markets and classic cars.

The moving dressing the graves ceremonies honour the area's forebears, with a commemorative booklet produced to mark their contributions.

Kernewek Lowender is deeply rooted in the region's copper mining history. It continues to grow in popularity and plays a key role in Moonta Mines' recognition on Australia's World Heritage Tentative List.

For updates, visit www.kernewek.org.

Visit KADINA

With more than 5600 people calling it home, it's easy to see why Kadina is the largest town on the Copper Coast — and a great place to explore.

The town centre is pedestrian-friendly, featuring wide footpaths, multiple crossings and ample parking. It's a comfortable and accessible place to shop, dine and wander.

You'll find beautiful historical limestone buildings throughout the main streets, including the Kadina Town Hall, former banks and churches — all echoing the town's rich past.

At the heart of Kadina is Victoria Square, a shady green space perfect for a picnic, relaxing with family, or enjoying one of the many community markets held throughout the year.

A must-visit is the Copper Coast Visitor Information Centre precinct, offering much more than just local tips. Families can enjoy a putt putt mini golf course, indoor play centre and miniature train rides. There's also a large museum, gift shop with local souvenirs, and even a boutique brewery on site — making it a destination in itself.

Just outside the town centre lies Wallaroo Mines, the suburb where copper was first discovered in 1859, along with nearby areas such as Jerusalem, Jericho, Matta Flat and New Town.

While only a few mining relics remain, many original limestone cottages still stand — and are still lived in today — giving a glimpse into Kadina's copper-rich past.

Kadina is a welcoming town with a strong sense of history and a great base to begin your Copper Coast adventure.

THE FARM SHED HERITAGE MUSEUM

Step back in time and discover the fascinating story of dryland farming and rural life on Yorke Peninsula at the Farm Shed Museum, part of the Copper Coast Visitor Information Centre precinct in Kadina.

The museum highlights the challenges and ingenuity of life on the land, from early land clearing to the evolution of farming methods. Exhibits explore the transition from horse-drawn equipment to tractor-powered farming, with a vast collection of vintage machinery on display.

You'll also find exhibits that go beyond the paddock, exploring the role of women and children on the farm in Her Side of the Story and Farmyard. The They Served exhibit honours local service men and women, and The Local Newspaper display showcases a newspaper printing press and the history of regional reporting.

Don't miss the 1950s rural schoolroom from Kulpara — a nostalgic look at school life of the era — or Sowing the Seed, which traces the path from scrub to cereal farming, a foundation of the region's economy today.

At the heart of the site stands Matta House, a beautifully preserved home from the copper mining era, with views of the Wallaroo Mines, where mining first began. Nearby displays like Life at Wallaroo Mines tell the story of the town's mining legacy.

With high-quality, volunteer-curated displays and a rich mix of farming, mining and community history, The Farm Shed Museum offers something for everyone — and a deeper appreciation of the Copper Coast's heritage.

Inside, the Limestone Gallery showcases rotating exhibitions from local and visiting artists, displayed on the church's unique historic limestone wall.

Outside, the community garden invites visitors to relax under the trees, watch the birds and enjoy a drink in the fresh air. It's also a beautiful setting for small weddings or a quiet moment of reflection.

While you're there, be sure to browse the op shop — you might just uncover a hidden treasure, and there are two murals by local artist Debbie Seater to appreciate.

All are welcome to enjoy this special community space in the heart of Kadina.

Visit MOONTA

MOONTA MINES, MOONTA BAY & PORT HUGHES

In the 1870s, Moonta was South Australia's largest population centre outside Adelaide — home to around 12,000 people during its bustling mining era.

Today, many iconic structures from the Moonta Mines remain intact and are protected under South Australian, national and tentative World Heritage listings.

Now home to over 5500 residents, the Moonta region offers much more than its rich history. Moonta, Moonta Bay and Port Hughes combine seaside charm with modern convenience.

Visitors can enjoy white sandy beaches, excellent fishing and boating facilities, and shady spots like Queen Square — home to historical memorials and resident wombats. The lively town centre and a wide choice of eateries add to the area's appeal.

Port Hughes is also known for its world-class, Greg Norman-designed golf course.

COPPER COAST VISITOR INFORMATION CENTRE

Located in the former railway station — built in 1909 — the Copper Coast Visitor Information Centre welcomes travellers at the entrance to town.

Visitors can pick up pamphlets and maps of the area, browse a range of quality souvenirs and giftware, and explore books about Moonta's rich history. While in the grounds, take a moment to view the World War I trophy gun and learn more about its background.

Blanche Terrace, Moonta

MOONTA MINES MUSEUM

Moonta Mines Museum is housed in the former Moonta Mines Model School, built in 1878.

At its peak, the school educated up to 1250 students and remained a central part of the community for 90 years before closing in 1968.

The museum tells the story of the Cornish pioneers who came to South Australia during the copper mining boom between 1861 and 1923.

Across 14 rooms, the museum features displays on mining life, lodges and friendly societies, sports and pastimes, and the hardships of daily life. Exhibits include costumes, china, silverware, photographs and memorabilia, as well as a reconstructed circa 1900 classroom.

Verran Terrace, Moonta Mines.

MOONTA MINES TOURIST RAILWAY

A trip on the hugely popular, award-winning tourist train leaves from the station located in the Moonta Mines Museum car park. It takes passengers on an entertaining 50-minute guided tour through the historic landmarks of the former mining operations. Sit back and listen to the history of the region and the stories of the world-renowned Cornish miners, the mines' workings and ore sorting floors, reservoir and the tunnel through Ryans Skimping Heap, as well as other interesting tales.

Verran Terrace, Moonta Mines.

THE BLACKSMITH SHOP

Step back in time at the Moonta Mines Blacksmith Shop — a working display that shows how a traditional blacksmith operated during the copper mining era. Watch demonstrations and browse a selection of handcrafted items available for purchase.

Verran Terrace, Moonta Mines.

MOONTA MINES SWEET SHOP

Often considered a must-visit on the Copper Coast, the Moonta Mines Sweet Shop is located in the former Moonta Mines Post Office. This charming store offers a large variety of old-fashioned sweets and drinks — perfect for a nostalgic treat or gift.

Verran Terrace, Moonta Mines.

MINERS COTTAGE AND GARDEN

Opened by the National Trust as a museum in 1967, the cottage is preserved for present and future generations so they may appreciate the way Cornish families lived in an era with no reticulated water or electricity. Step back in time and see the pioneers' way of life. The cottage and its magnificent garden are lovingly tended by a group of enthusiastic volunteers.

Verco Street, Moonta Mines.

SPLASH TOWN WATER PARK

Located at Moonta Bay near the jetty and safe swimming enclosure, Splash Town Water Park offers free entry to a range of fun water attractions.

MOONTA MINES CHURCH

Built in 1865, this stone chapel is a replica of the Wesleyan Chapel in Truro, Cornwall. The foundation stone was laid by local mining icon Cap'n H. R. Hancock.

A gallery was added in 1872, increasing seating capacity to 1250. In 1890, a pipe organ was purchased with a donation from Cap'n Hancock. The building was purchased by the Adelaide-based Field of Dreams Church in 2022.

557 Milne Street, Moonta Mines.

HUGHES ENGINEHOUSE

Hughes Enginehouse is one of Moonta Mines' iconic buildings and features prominently in almost all of Moonta's promotional material. Erected between 1863 and 1865, the building contained a 60-inch Cornish beam pumping engine whose function was to pump water from the underground workings on the largest ore bodies, which made it a significant contributor to the Moonta Mining Company's success. The engine pumped water from the adjacent shaft at a depth of 366 metres, and from Taylors Shaft 300 metres to the north at a depth of 768 metres, until the mines closed in 1923.

Moonta Mines (follow signs from Verran Terrace).

RICHMANS ENGINEHOUSE

Built in 1869 by Frederick May, Richmans Enginehouse was constructed using stone gathered from local beaches.

It housed a 32-inch Cornish beam engine that pumped water from nearby Stuckeys Shaft. The water was used to power boilers, and support the concentration, crushing and treatment plants, as well as an adjacent sawmill.

Moonta Mines (follow signs from Verran Terrace).

SIMMS COVE

Simms Cove, between Moonta Bay and Port Hughes, offers views of both jetties and, as you look out over the Spencer Gulf, you can see Eyre Peninsula. Stairs either side of the headland allow you to walk from Moonta Bay to Port Hughes, even at high tide.

Moonta Mines Tourist Railway

MOONTA FAMILY HISTORY AND RESOURCE CENTRE

The resource centre, located in the historic Moonta School of Mines, is run by friendly volunteers with extensive experience in family history research.

Visitors can use the available equipment and facilities to explore their own family heritage — particularly Cornish ancestry.

The centre also features interesting collections, including a large medical display, working mine models and historic photographs.

Ellen Street, Moonta.

MOONTA BAY JETTY

The long L-shaped jetty at Moonta Bay is a favourite for recreational fishing. Common catches include Australian herring (tommy ruff), garfish and squid — especially in the late afternoon and evening when the tide is coming in. The jetty also provides access to a safe swimming enclosure, making it ideal for families.

Stretching from Moonta Bay to Port Hughes, the sandy beach suits all ages. At low tide, there's plenty of space to play and explore the shallow rock pools.

SECRET GARDEN

Tucked away near Moonta Bay beach, the Secret Garden is a much-loved local spot, beautifully maintained by residents.

This tree-shaded grassed area is ideal for picnics and small weddings. It includes child-friendly seating and is accessed by steps.

A short path connects the garden to the beach, making it a peaceful and scenic place to relax.

Kemp Place, Moonta Bay.

QUEEN SQUARE MARKETS

Held on long weekends, the Moonta Country Markets in Queen Square attract large crowds and a vibrant mix of stallholders. Browse crafts, toys, collectables, jewellery, books, fresh produce and bric-a-brac. Enjoy a variety of food and drinks, including baked goods and homemade treats.

COPPER RAIL TRAIL

Copper Rail Trail links Moonta and Wallaroo via a sealed 17-kilometre track. Starting at the Moonta Visitor Information Centre on Blanche Terrace, the trail follows the old railway line. In Wallaroo, it passes along Cornish and Park Terraces before finishing at Ryan Street.

Allow about one hour each way by bike, or three to four hours on foot. There are several road crossings along the route, please give way to traffic.

SHARED PATHWAYS

Moonta Bay, Moonta and Port Hughes are also connected by safe, convenient shared pathways, perfect for leisurely strolls or bike rides.

The Coast Road Shared Path is also underway, with Stage 1 connecting Bay Road to Rossiters Road in Moonta Bay.

Once finished, this path will seamlessly link Moonta Bay with Port Hughes.

MOONTA HERITAGE TRAIL

A relaxed drive, covering about 16 kilometres, the Moonta Heritage Trail starts and ends at the Moonta Town Hall and can be completed in two hours or less. The trail gives visitors an enjoyable and well-rounded tour of the history and development of Moonta and adjacent settlements.

MOONTA HERITAGE WALK

Many of Moonta's buildings were erected between 1863 and 1875, with most of these retaining their authentic shopfronts and verandahs. The Moonta Heritage Walk starts and finishes at the Moonta Town Hall and covers many of the town's shops, hotels, banks, the post office, meeting halls and several residences.

MOONTA MINES WALKING TRAILS

Explore the history of the Moonta Mines — part of a tentative World Heritage Site — on a series of scenic walking trails that highlight the remains of the region's copper mining era.

Paddy Ryan's Walk is a five-kilometre return trail from the Moonta Mines Museum to the old railway station. Allow around two hours to complete the loop.

Richmans Walk takes you from the museum to the Richmans Enginehouse area and back. This two-kilometre trail takes about 90 minutes to explore.

Truer's Walk, also starting at the museum, leads to the Truer's area and covers approximately 2.5 kilometres. Plan for around 90 minutes for a return trip.

Hughes Walk offers a shorter option, taking visitors around the historic Hughes Enginehouse site. A comfortable walk of about 30 minutes allows time to explore the area.

Hancocks Walk begins either at the Miner's Cottage or the Moonta Mines Sweet Shop, with signage to guide you along the way. This trail takes around an hour and can be walked in either direction.

Visit WALLAROO

Wallaroo, home to more than 4700 people, offers a mix of places to eat, stay and shop.

The town's shipping terminal supports international grain exports and shares the foreshore with spaces perfect for fishing, swimming or relaxing by the sea.

Once South Australia's second-busiest port, Wallaroo has preserved many historical buildings from its mining and smelting heyday.

Accommodation options suit a range of budgets and preferences — from affordable stays and tourist parks to group lodgings, luxury apartments and holiday rentals.

Visitors are drawn to Wallaroo's stunning coastline, boating and fishing spots, walking trails and resort-style atmosphere. The town also invites you to explore its rich heritage and connection to South Australia's past.

WALLAROO BEACHES

Wallaroo has several beaches, including Office Beach, North Beach (pictured) and Sailing Club Beach — all great spots for swimming.

North Beach is one of the few beaches in South Australia where you can still drive a vehicle. The area is also popular with scuba divers and snorkellers, and Wallaroo is a favourite destination for those chasing a great day's fishing.

WALLAROO INFORMATION OUTLET

The Wallaroo Information Outlet is located inside the Wallaroo Heritage and Nautical Museum on Jetty Road.

Along with local visitor information, you can also purchase souvenirs of your visit.

Jetty Road, Wallaroo, phone 8823 3015.

WALLAROO HERITAGE AND NAUTICAL MUSEUM

Housed in Wallaroo's first post office, built in 1865, the museum offers fascinating insights into the town's early years as a key South Australian port.

Extensive displays cover the copper smelting era (1861-1923), maritime history, shipwrecks, railways, postal and telephone services, local religion, civic life, entertainment, sport, wartime experiences and general local history.

The large nautical section highlights the region's strong ties to copper mining, agriculture and the sea. More than 70 ship models, along with photographs, documents, relics and record books, showcase the rich history of Wallaroo's port.

A standout exhibit is George the giant squid — discovered inside a whale caught off Albany, Western Australia, many years ago.

Jetty Road, Wallaroo.

WALLAROO GUIDED WALKING TOURS

Take a historical walk through Wallaroo and discover the stories behind many buildings listed on the South Australian Heritage Register. Tours run during peak tourism periods, or you can book a private group tour by appointment.

Each tour takes about 90 minutes and departs from the Wallaroo Heritage and Nautical Museum.

Jetty Road, Wallaroo.

WALLAROO HERITAGE TRAIL

Starting at the Wallaroo Heritage and Nautical Museum, this self-guided driving trail covers about nine kilometres and takes less than 90 minutes to complete.

The route passes several sites of historical interest and gives visitors a glimpse into the history and development of Wallaroo.

WALLAROO HERITAGE WALK

This self-guided walk explores the town centre and highlights commercial and public buildings dating back to 1861.

Many of the buildings along the Owen Terrace streetscape were constructed between 1864 and 1900. While their appearances remain largely intact, their uses have changed significantly over time.

WALLAROO SMELTERS TRAIL

At the base of the Hughes chimneystack near the Wallaroo foreshore is the Wallaroo Smelters Trail. This is a short walk with interpretive signs explaining the early smelting history of Wallaroo.

The Smelter, Wallaroo

WALLAROO AVENUE OF HONOUR

Located next to the Wallaroo Town Hall, this trail pays tribute to residents who lost their lives at war.

COPPER RAIL TRAIL

The sealed Rotary Copper Rail Trail follows former railway corridors, connecting Wallaroo with Kadina and Moonta.

This shared trail allows people to walk, run, cycle or use mobility aids between the three towns with minimal road crossings.

The track to Kadina begins with the Wallaroo Avenue of Honour — near the Wallaroo Town Hall — recognising those who lost their lives in war.

The Moonta trail starts on Ryan Street, Wallaroo, then follows Cornish and Park Terraces before joining the original railway line.

There are informative signs, shelter stops and scenic highlights along the way.

WALLAROO COMMUNITY SPORTS CLUB

Opened in 2011, the Wallaroo Community Sports Club is home to the local golf, croquet and bowling clubs.

The venue features indoor carpeted rinks, a bar and a function centre with seating for up to 300 people.

For more information, visit the Wallaroo Community Sports Club Facebook page.

Cornish Terrace, Wallaroo.

WALLAROO GOLF COURSE

Next to the Wallaroo Community Sports Club, this irrigated 18-hole course now features putting greens instead of scrapes.

Electric and push carts are available for hire.

More information, visit wallaroorgolfclub.org.

Cornish Terrace, Wallaroo.

WALLAROO SAILING CLUB

Racing starts at 2pm most Sundays during summer, with learn-to-sail courses held on Sunday mornings.

Friday night is social night, and other activities include radio-controlled yacht racing on Tuesday mornings and Thursday evenings throughout summer.

The clubhouse is available for events, and visitors are always welcome.

For more information, visit revolutionise.com.au/wallaroosailing.

Heritage Drive, Wallaroo.

WALLAROO JETTY

Stretching 867 metres, Wallaroo jetty features three berths on each side to accommodate large cargo ships and support the region's bulk grain handling operations.

The jetty's pristine waters are home to a variety of marine life, including garfish, squid and whiting — making it a popular spot for fishing and marine enthusiasts.

THE BOND STORE

The Bond Store has brought new life to one of Wallaroo's most historic buildings — formerly Elands Bonded Store. Since opening in 2019 as the Copper Coast's first microbrewery and distillery, it has become a local favourite for its quality tapas menu and house-made drinks. Owen Terrace, Wallaroo.

TARNASEY FARM

Located between Wallaroo and Kadina, Tarnasey Farm offers a hands-on farm experience for families and animal lovers. Join a Little Farmer Tour by appointment and meet chickens, cows, sheep, horses and more. Parents and carers can relax in deluxe yet affordable accommodation while children enjoy a safe and fun environment. Each stay includes a farm tour and animal feeding experience. Information: tarnaseyfarm.com. 205 Ellis Road, Wallaroo.

DINING IN WALLAROO

Whether it's fish and chips on the beach, a pizza to share, or a hot coffee with a hearty breakfast, Wallaroo offers a range of delicious options. With seven pubs across the town, it's easy to unwind and enjoy a drink or meal after a day of exploring.

YOUR GATEWAY TO YORKE PENINSULA

The Copper Coast is the ideal base for exploring the treasures of Yorke Peninsula. With a wide range of accommodation, shopping, services and attractions, it offers everything you need — right at your doorstep.

Just a short drive from your Copper Coast stay, the wider region opens up with endless day-trip possibilities. One of the peninsula's newest highlights is the Vietnam War Memorial Walk in Edithburgh, opened in 2025. This unique trail is the first of its kind in Australia, honouring every Australian unit that served in the Vietnam War.

Looking to indulge your tastebuds? Discover local cellar doors, a microdistillery, and boutique breweries — all within easy reach for a relaxed day of tasting.

Enjoy wines made from locally grown grapes at Barley Stacks Wines in South Kilkerran or Emoyeni Wines in Ardrossan.

Nearby, Sunny Hill Distillery, just north of Artherton, offers award-winning spirits, including vodka, gin, whisky, rum and a tempting range of cocktails and liqueurs.

Further south in Minlaton, Watsacowie Brewing Company is a must-visit for craft beer lovers. If you're heading north, drop into Karimi's Kitchen in Alford for a memorable meal, and enjoy Port Broughton's relaxed coastal charm, with local shops, art galleries and a family-friendly foreshore.

For those keen to explore further, Yorke Peninsula has even more to offer.

Walk the Yorke is a spectacular trail that begins in the Copper Coast and circles the peninsula, showcasing stunning coastal landscapes. Or, take in the highlights at your own pace with the Coastal Way self-drive road trip, which follows the peninsula's dramatic coastline.

With the Copper Coast as your base, the rest of Yorke Peninsula is within easy reach — and ready to be discovered.

Experience the wonders of Dhillba Guuranda-Innes National Park

Just a couple of hours' drive from the Copper Coast, Dhillba Guuranda-Innes National Park is a must-visit destination for nature lovers, history buffs and adventure seekers alike.

Established in 1970 and renamed in 2020 to reflect its co-management partnership with the Nharangga Traditional Owners, the park blends cultural heritage with natural beauty in a truly unique setting.

Lace up your walking shoes and explore a variety of trails — from gentle 30-minute strolls to challenging four-hour treks. Along the way, you'll discover breathtaking coastal views, secluded beaches, and the historical ruins of Innesston, a once-thriving gypsum mining town.

Wildlife lovers may spot brush-tailed bettongs, reintroduced as part of the Marna Banggara conservation project. The park is also home to emus, kangaroos and abundant birdlife.

Surfers will find top surf breaks suitable for all experience levels, while anglers can enjoy excellent shore-based fishing across the park's coastline.

Don't miss a visit to Ethel Beach, where the rusted hull of the Ethel shipwreck sometimes emerges from the shifting sands — a haunting and beautiful reminder of the region's maritime past.

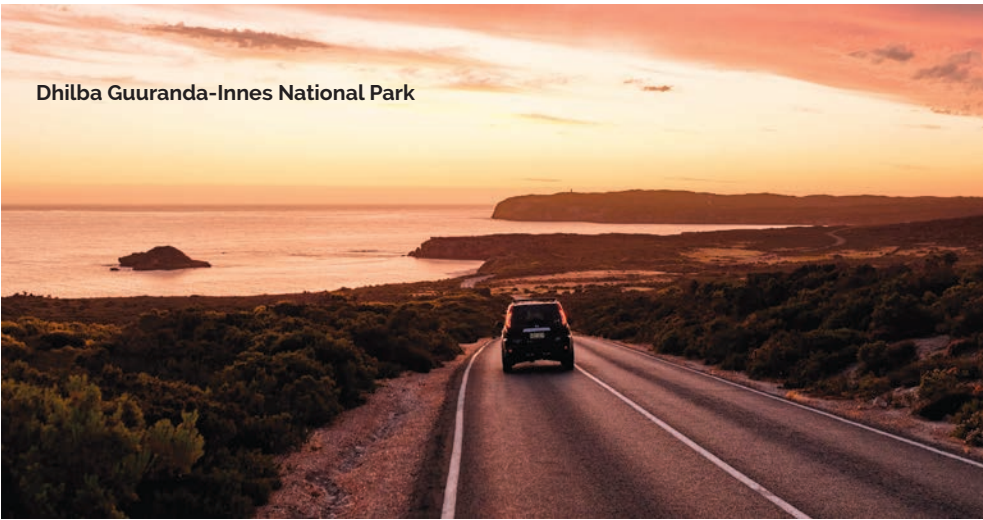

Accessible by two-wheel drive, the park also features campgrounds for visitors who want to extend their stay under the stars.

A park entry permit is required and can be booked in advance through the SA Parks website: www.parks.sa.gov.au/parks/innes-national-park.

From stunning scenery to deep cultural connections, Dhillba Guuranda-Innes National Park promises a day — or weekend — you won't forget.
