Designing Wallaroo's entrance

REPORT BY

THE second stage of works on Wallaroo's eastern entrance road are expected to begin early next year.

Copper Coast Council has been working on designs for bitumen works on Copper Coast Highway from Beare Street to Irwine Street.

the first quarter of 2023.

Council CEO Russell Peate said the design would be completed towards the end of this year.

"The council design includes a roundabout at the Athena Drive intersection with all entrances to streets remaining open," Mr Peate said.

Stage one required the Department for Infrastructure and Transport to complete initial pavement rehabilitation and resurfacing from Beare Street to Athena Drive.

Additional stormwater and kerbing upgrades are planned for this stretch and, once complete, DIT will add another layer of bitumen to widen the road and finish sealing to Athena Drive.

Mayor Roslyn Talbot said the improved entrance would improve the town's aesthetic.

"This entrance is an important part of a key tourist area in the Copper Coast," Mrs Talbot said.

"The works will make for a smoother ride, particularly for ambulances going to the (Wallaroo) Hospital.

"People seem happy something is finally being done about a rough road which has been in desperate need of fixing for so long."

Member for Narungga Fraser Ellis said he looked forward to the road causing fewer disruptions for tourists and locals entering the town.

"The improvements will be much more suitable for a major tourist town in the region," Mr Ellis said.

"It's important this road becomes a good service asset for people entering Wallaroo."

Additional council works from Bowman Road to Athena Drive are also expected to start in February.

Environmental decisions

THE Environment Minister, Tanya Plibersek, releasing the State of the Environment Report, called it a story of crisis and decline.

The report found the country's environment is in a poor and deteriorating state.

Looking deeper into the report, we find one of the main problems is land clearing, which both decimates native animals and reduces the ability of the land to store carbon.

The report says, "Ongoing pressures from agriculture are immense. As of 30 June 2017, approximately half of Australia's land mass was used for agricultural production, mostly for grazing" — some 340 million hectares.

Animals farmed for meat and milk lead wretched lives of suffering followed by gruesome deaths while still young.

Imagine if we were to stop breeding them and rewild some of the millions of square kilometres of land that have been devastated for the profits a few giant corporations.

Closing down these factories of horror would allow the regeneration of native forests, saving koalas and other animals from the threat of extinction, as well as sucking up carbon dioxide and making us a world leader in greenhouse emission control.

All it requires is for all of us to vote with our knives and forks and not buy meat and dairy.

A simple, elegant and immediate solution.

Desmond Bellamy,
Special Projects Coordinator, PETA Australia

What's in a name?

WHY is it that every time a new refurbishment or development is announced it is called a hub?

We are continually lumbered with school hubs, sport hubs, leisure hubs, health hubs, shopping hubs, retirement hubs, parking hubs; ad nauseum.

Seems if anything is common and boring, call it a hub.

Meaningless and unexplanatory except for a tyre retailer.

Kadina may as well be renamed The Hub. No one has ever said "I'm off to the hub!"

The English language is rich and varied.

Try centre, sphere, circle, axis, nucleus, source, meeting point, gathering place, field of action, province, precinct, drawcard, environs, and hundreds of others.

Please leave hubs in the eighties and use a bit of imagination, or at least a dictionary.

Keep watch

ROYAL Life Saving Society — Australia is asking all owners of backyard pools to check their pool fences and pool gates as a matter of urgency.

Children under 5 are curious and fearless, and their love of water puts them at risk of drowning.

Tragically, every year in Australia we lose on average 22 young children to drowning, more than half of those drowning in backyard swimming pools.

The majority are aged just 1 year old.

We know seven times the number of children who die go to hospital after a non-fatal drowning incident.

That is more than 150 children aged under 5 each year, some of whom will be left with life-limiting disabilities.

While active supervision is the best protection against childhood drowning, no parent or caregiver can watch a young child 24 hours a day.

Ensure you have a functioning and compliant pool fence and working gate as an additional barrier between young children and water for all those moments when life interventions can literally be lifesaving.

You can download a free home pool safety checklist from www.royallifesaving.com.au/about/campaigns-and-programs/keep-watch.

Check no fence posts have come loose from the ground.

Make sure the gate is still self-closing and self-latching.

Pack pool toys away so they are not an overwhelming temptation.

It is also a good time to brush up on CPR ahead of summer.

By spending a bit of time checking the pool fence, pool gate and the area around the pool is secure, including no furniture or structures little people can climb to access the pool, you could prevent a tragedy this summer.

Keep watch and protect the littlest members of your family.

Justin Scarr

Need for improvement

THE recent fatal collision at the Thrington and Agery Roads intersection highlights how dangerous this poorly designed intersection is.

When it was in its design stage, I was talking to Paul Thomas, who was attending a meeting later in the day at the intersection.

I suggested to him that a roundabout would be a good idea, he said he would suggest it.

The Ardrossan turn off is a good example of how safety and lives can be saved with good design.

The Kadina to Agery traffic needs to be forcibly speed reduced and a roundabout would achieve this and ultimately save lives.

OUR VIEW

Election time fast approaching

JUST in case you forgot, we have another important election coming up this year.

Nominations are officially open for local government elections across the state, with the nomination window closing next Tuesday, September 6.

Ballot information will be posted out to you between October 14 and 20, and polling will close on November 10, with votes counted on November 12.

If you didn't write this down, don't worry, I will remind you.

While council elections are completely voluntary to participate in, they can be some of the most important.

Local councils, and their elected members, set the tone for our communities in terms of development and growth.

They determine our rates and are chosen to speak for our wants and needs.

It is all very well and good to say council elections don't matter to you, that is your choice.

But you have a chance to have a say and by refusing to do so, I think you remove your right to complain when a decision is made against you.

It's not even just about voting — if you think you have what it takes, consider running for council.

The Local Government Association, and the councils, are holding information sessions for those interested in learning more.

Like all forms of government, councils head into caretaker mode before an election.

This means they are unable to make big decisions, or use council resources for the advantage of a particular candidate or group of candidates.

Councils will still meet each month during the election period, and we will still report the goings-on at these meetings.

We also plan on giving each candidate a fair and equal platform to try and secure your vote throughout the course of the election campaign.

Around-the-clock ATM set for Port Broughton

Fin Hansen
REPORT BY

PORT Broughton residents will soon have 24/7 access to an ATM.

Barunga West Council announced it would partner with the Armaguard Group to install an ATM at the entrance of its council office at 11 Bay Street.

When completed, the facility will be the first 24/7 ATM in the BWC region.

Armaguard is set to install, operate, cash and service the ATM at its own expense.

Mayor Leonie Kerley said existing cash-out services in Port Broughton provided limited access and withdrawal amounts.

"There are no facilities where residents or visitors are able to withdraw cash at their discretion within about 30 minutes of the Port Broughton township," Mrs Kerley said.

"This proposal will provide residents with a 24/7 option and offer a drawcard for visitors to conveniently access and spend additional time in the town."

Following the removal of direct charge fees by major banks in 2017, more than 6000 Australian bank-owned ATMs have been removed, over 4000 of which were decommissioned during the peak of Covid-19, according to Armaguard.

Data from consumer group CHOICE showed 575 banks closed across regional Australia between 2017 and 2021, with a 34 per cent drop in ATMs.

YP Council awards community grants

YORKE Peninsula Council has awarded more than $100,000 to 30 groups and not-for-profit organisations as part of its 2022-23 Community Grants Scheme.

Projects range from the purchase of disability and wheelchair-friendly seating to establishing a nine-hole par-three golf course at Port Victoria.

“Council is excited by the range and calibre of projects submitted for the 2022-23 Community Grants Scheme,” Mayor Darren Braund said.

“Council had 40 applications requesting total funding of $138,299.28 for projects to the value of $350,519.

“While council could not approve all applications, we thank everyone who applied and encourage those who missed out to try again next year.”

Mr Braund said council was focused on working together with the community to shape a sustainable future for current and future generations.

“It is important for council to engage and support the community and the Community Grants Scheme is just one way to do this,” he said.

“The projects put forward by the community will improve the quality of life for those living on and those visiting Yorke Peninsula.”

SUCCESSFUL... Minlaton District Community and Sports Centre’s John Glazbrook and David Newbold are excited to receive $5000 through Yorke Peninsula Council’s 2022-23 Community Grants Scheme to install and commission an upgraded coolroom for the new centre, which is currently under construction.

Minister returns to the region

MINISTER for Regional Development and Primary Industries Clare Scriven returned to Yorke Peninsula last week.

Ms Scriven met with Member for Narungga Fraser Ellis, as well as representatives from the Yorke Peninsula Field Days committee and PIRSA Fisheries officers.

“The Field Days committee had applied for funding through the Regional Growth Fund and did not receive funding, despite being worthy,” she said.

“It was important for me to meet with the committee members and understand what their plans were.

“We’re currently reviewing the guidelines for the fund as we want the money to go where it is needed and can bring the most benefits to regional areas.”

Issues such as housing, infrastructure, health and skills shortages are common talking points across regional South Australia and were discussed during this visit.

Ms Scriven said there were many benefits to living regionally but also recognised the challenges facing communities when it comes to attracting trained professionals, including housing.

“The state government has committed to 150 new public houses in regional areas, which is the first step,” she said.

“We also need to look at other innovative solutions and I’ve been hearing some really interesting ideas which I will feed back through to government decision making.”

VISIT... Minister for Regional Development and Primary Industries Clare Scriven looks over plans for the Yorke Peninsula Field Days site with YP Field Days CEO Peter Anderson, Member for Narungga Fraser Ellis and YPFD president Greg Stevens.

Searching for a new MFS site

COPPER Coast Council has responded to an increased demand on local MFS services.

Section 3038 Kennett Street, located on the eastern side of Mines Road, Kadina, has been noted as a potential site for a future MFS station.

CEO Russell Peate said council had been aiming to enable a larger and improved station in Kadina.

“There’s been increased demand for MFS services across the whole Copper Coast in the past five to 10 years,” he said.

“The benefits of this land are it has good access to the Kadina township and there’s no purchase price due to being zoned as Crown Land.”

Mr Peate said there were drainage and infrastructure limitations to the site.

“Council will continue looking for potential sites for an improved MFS station,” he said.

“We will also explore similar facilities at both Wallaroo and Moonta in the future.”

Ellis to appeal

MEMBER for Narungga Fraser Ellis lodged an appeal in the Supreme Court last Wednesday, August 24.

Following an ICAC investigation Mr Ellis was charged with 23 counts of deception over his alleged misuse of the Country Members Accommodation Allowance.

Earlier this month, Magistrate Simon Smart refused an application for a stay of prosecution by Mr Ellis’s legal team, who asked for the court to consider the admissibility of the travel claims due to parliamentary privilege.

Smart approved to have the appeal heard in the Supreme Court.

Mr Ellis’s trial was expected to start this week, but has been vacated.

No date has yet been set for the Supreme Court hearing.

Council endorses sister town agreement

Jess Liddy
JOURNALIST

COPPER Coast Council is progressing with plans to sister town with Camborne Town Council in Cornwall, England.

Councillors have endorsed an agreement which acknowledges the friendship and cooperation between the two councils.

Cornish Association SA YP branch president Liz Coole said she thought the arrangement was important for Australia’s Little Cornwall.

“This idea first came about almost seven years ago when a Camborne Town Council elected member visited Moonta,” Mrs Coole said.

“We then revisited the idea again in November and correspondence began on how to progress it.

“I think the opportunities are endless with this arrangement — council, community groups and schools can all correspond and learn from each other.

“I think the timing is particularly exciting with Kernewek Lowender coming up and it’s a way we can keep our Cornish flavour alive with their help.

“I’m very enthusiastic about it and I really want it to succeed.”

Mayor Roslyn Talbot said with the Moonta Mines World Heritage bid it would be beneficial to have a relationship with the Camborne Town Council.

“I really hope the schools will take advantage and develop a relationship with each other — overall we will be able to learn from each other,” Mrs Talbot said.

CEO Russell Peate said the draft agreement would be forwarded to Camborne Town Council for consideration.

“Once there is concurrence between the parties regarding the wording of the sister town agreement, it will be signed by both mayors,” Mr Peate said.

“Once the agreement has been completed between the parties, information sessions will be held with schools, National Trust, and tourism and business organisations to advise of the completion of the agreement and the ability to benefit from the agreement between the parties.”

If agreed, the sister town agreement will be upheld until a review on July 1, 2024.

SAVE OUR SLIDE

Jess Liddy
JOURNALIST

NEW Town residents are not playing around.

A recent Copper Coast Council playground safety audit revealed the tower slide and metal climber at New Town playground, Kadina, had failed and should be removed and dumped.

However, many community members have said they would prefer to see the equipment repaired and refurbished rather than torn down and discarded without any public consultation.

New Town resident Lauren Russack said the community would be devastated to see the iconic tower slide destroyed without the chance of raising funds for its refurbishment.

“The slide was installed by a community group, not council, it’s a shame the community hasn’t been consulted,” she said.

“Obviously, the safety of children comes first but wouldn’t it be amazing if instead of replacing the slide it could be refurbished?”

“Surely if members of the community are willing to fundraise and donate to help see it returned to its former glory, rather than just torn down, council should take that into consideration?”

“We don’t need to continue down the path of being a throwaway society — repair is much better than replace.

“We would love to see the audit report and see if we, as a community, can fix it up because I think it would be less costly then tearing it down and replacing it.”

New Town resident Sam Crosby said the playground was always busy.

“There’s no other park like it with the amount of grass, the bike track and the equipment,” she said.

“I don’t think the metal slide is any more dangerous than other equipment, especially in comparison to the Walk in the Trees equipment in Victoria Square, and it all comes down to the parents’ judgement and supervision.”

The metal slide and climber have been blocked off, from the public, since at least December.

Doesn't meet Australian Standards

Council CEO Russell Peate said the standards the equipment was required to meet had changed since its installation.

“We can all lament and sometimes regret this, however, once an official audit has been done and deemed some equipment is unsafe, council must act to remove it,” Mr Peate said.

“Otherwise, if there is an injury — and the council is well aware as a result of the audit, we will be liable — this will cost council and ultimately the ratepayers should a claim be lodged.”

Mr Peate said council could not predict the outcome of audits of playgrounds, which must be done periodically.

“We inspect all playgrounds weekly and do not know what equipment may be (assessed as) unsafe as a result of the audits,” he said.

“Therefore, it is difficult to budget for playground equipment replacement, which is sometimes expensive due to the new Australian Standards and installation to such standards.

“We do not remove playground equipment lightly, but where an audit has said such equipment is unsafe, we must do so.”

Council is currently working with the Moonta and District Progress Association and Moonta Lions Club to improve Polgreen Park facilities as part of its masterplan.

New equipment for New Town will be considered in future budgets.

ICONIC... Lauren Russack and Helen Rodda, with New Town and surrounding residents, want to see the iconic slide saved and repaired rather than torn down and discarded at the New Town playground.

Speed reduction for George Street

SLOW DOWN... Copper Coast Council elected member Brent Walker is pleased council, together with the Department of Infrastructure and Transport, approved a George Street, Moonta, speed limit reduction of 40km/h from Blanche Terrace to just past Henry Street.

Jess Liddy
JOURNALIST

GEORGE Street, Moonta, is slowing down.

Copper Coast Council has approved a speed limit reduction from 50km/h to 40km/h from Blanche Terrace to just past Henry Street under guidance from the Department for Infrastructure and Transport.

DIT traffic investigations officer Robert Henty said typically, roads suitable for a lower speed were characterised by roadside development which encouraged more pedestrians or cyclists than might usually be found on or about the road, on a consistent daily basis throughout the year.

“The midweek observation noted roadside development encouraging social activity on George Street was limited to the section between Blanche Terrace and Henry Street, and found significant activity in the sections of Ellen and Henry Streets, closest to George Street,” Mr Henty said.

“However, the roadside adjacent Queen Square appeared purely residential, with no pedestrian activity observed in or around the square.

“Taking the above into account, the proposal to extend the 40 km/h speed limit to include the intersection of William Street is not supported.

“Council could consider incorporating George, Ellen and Henry Streets and the streets surrounding Queen Square within a 40 km/h speed limited area.”

Councillor Brent Walker raised the possibility of reducing the speed limit on the town’s main street during council’s December meeting.

“The main streets of both Wallaroo and Kadina have speed limits of 40km/h and I thought there was no reason why Moonta shouldn’t be either — it makes sense,” Mr Walker said.

“I think it will also be beneficial during peak times when there are more people in the area.”

Mayor Roslyn Talbot said it was important to slow down George Street especially where the pedestrian crossing was.

“In the summer months when there is more foot traffic it will be a lot safer,” Mrs Talbot said.

“You would think people would drive to the conditions being a long, straight stretch of road but it doesn’t always happen.”

Disability-friendly menu option added by council

REPORT BY

COPPER Coast Council has become the first regional local government in South Australia to have a disability-friendly widget on its website.

Accessibility widget UserWay is set to enable easier navigation across all of council's website pages through the use of artificial intelligence technology.

The new accessibility menu is aimed to aid people who live with visual and motor impairments and cognitive learning disabilities, as well as other disadvantages.

Menu options include voice screen reading, colour contrasting, bigger and spaced text, a dyslexia-friendly option and multiple other settings.

Councillor Cathy Vluggen was introduced to the widget earlier this month before she presented the idea to council staff.

Mayor Roslyn Talbot said Mrs Vluggen, a member of council's Disability Discrimination Act committee, was always looking to improve accessibility and inclusion in the Copper Coast.

"There is a greater proportion of people aged under 65 living with a disability on Copper Coast than there is in regional SA, and we need to assist wherever we can," Mrs Talbot said.

"This widget will help people better navigate our website and find the information they are after regarding council services, facilities and more."

Mrs Talbot said council was pleased to partner with UserWay, which had serviced brands like Coca Cola, Disney and Toyota.

"This is a cost-effective way to ensure our website remains compliant with the latest rules and regulations, whilst enabling more people to perceive, understand, navigate and interact with what council is doing," Mrs Talbot said.

ADAPTING... Copper Coast Council ICT services assistant Bryar Ostendorf helps Councillor Cathy Vluggen navigate a new disability-friendly widget recently installed on council's website.

A stone's throw away from completion

Jess Liddy
JOURNALIST

MOONTA Cemetery wall upgrades are almost complete, with Kadina not far behind, after almost three years of hard work.

Works on the northern entrance point (in Moonta) are all that remain before contractors return to Kadina to complete the southern wall.

It has taken contractors longer than anticipated to find the correct limestone and sludge miners bricks, then carefully chipping and mortaring them in to preserve the historical aesthetics.

Copper Coast Council director infrastructure services Tim Neumann said contractors had been up against it with the weather and larger holes due to cement mortar washout.

"There is an estimated two weeks remaining on the outer northern wall before works can start on the inner wall (at Moonta)," Mr Neumann said.

"With minimum weather delays, completion is approximately six to eight weeks away."

Mayor Roslyn Talbot said she believed preserving the walls added another story to the already historical cemeteries.

"It's wonderful to be able to restore these walls back to their former glory," Mrs Talbot said.

"It is important work, back-breaking work, and the contractors are doing a fantastic job."

"Stone walls around cemeteries are not common so to be able to restore these rare pieces of history and retain them is very important for the community."

Council also adopted a draft cemetery action plan in February.

The main goal for the plan is to provide the four council cemeteries — Moonta, Kadina, Wallaroo and Greens Plains — dignified, functional interment facilities.

The plan takes into consideration the cemeteries' heritage and ensuring they are compatible with their environment as well as capable of meeting the evolving needs of the community.

Council allocated $124,150 for the cemetery wall project, as well as a portion of the $75,000 from the first round of drought funding and $57,000 from the second round.

A $5000 boost through the state government's SA Heritage Grant program also helped.

KADINA'S Valda Southam has claimed this year's YP Country Times and Retravisión Kadina AFL Tipping competition.

Mrs Southam finished the season with 143 correct tips to win a $500 Retravisión Kadina voucher.

Point Turton's Alex Golja was runner-up for a second season and Matthew Penney, of Wallaroo, was third.

Mrs Southam said the competition was the biggest thing she'd ever won.

"I haven't really thought about what I want to spend it on, but my kids have already put in orders for what they think I should get," she said.

"It might go towards a new fridge."

Mrs Southam said her tipping process was based on where the teams were on the ladder.

"If I listened to my husband Mark, I don't think I would have won," she said.

"Already I've had someone stop me in Woolworths to congratulate me, and ask me if I can help him with his tips next year."

Retravisión Kadina owner Bernie Schulz said the business was proud to again sponsor the tipping competition.

"I couldn't be happier for Valda to have won this," he said.

"Valda would drop her tips to the store most weeks, so it was nice to see her get a win."

CONGRATULATED... YP Country Times and Retravisión Kadina AFL tipping competition winner Valda Southam receives her $500 first prize from Kadina Retravisión owner Bernie Schulz.

Scope for potential affordable housing

COPPER Coast Council has considered potential sites for new affordable housing opportunities in Kadina.

Council CEO Russell Peate highlighted 8 Frances Terrace, Kadina, as the most likely site for future development.

"There is a clear lack of affordable housing not only in the Copper Coast, but all across Australia," Mr Peate said.

"This council freehold land could address the issue and help meet rental demands on Copper Coast."

Mr Peate said many processes needed to be considered before the project could commence.

"Some type of partnership between state and/or federal governments would need to be made," he said.

"A proposal would also involve potential rezoning of the land and finding a housing developer, all of which would start with public consultation.

"This is merely an idea being considered and I'll be seeking feedback from councillors."

Jess Liddy
JOURNALIST

WORKS to fill in the sinkhole on Verran Terrace, Moonta Mines, are almost complete.

After consulting with engineers, Copper Coast Council staff commenced excavating, filling and reconstructing the road, near the corner of Shepherdson Road, on Monday, August 8.

The hole has been filled and the ground will be made level with the existing road.

When the area is verified as safe, the road will be reopened to the public.

Council CEO Russell Peate said the majority of the assessment (by engineers) was ascertaining what types of soils were present, were there any voids, and was the area safe for excavation.

“A series of bore/drill holes were undertaken to find where the solid ground was,” Mr Peate said.

“Further to this, the engineers have provided strategies of what works are required in the reconstruction of the excavated area.”

Mayor Roslyn Talbot said the sinkhole was a major task to repair.

“We want to ensure works are done correctly so it doesn’t happen again,” Mrs Talbot said.

“It will be pleasing to see the sinkhole filled in and the road back open to traffic.”

It is believed a water main break led to the sinkhole.

Early information from SA Water indicated the cause of the main break was the collapse of an underground mine drive below the pipe, following heavy rains.

The first stage of work is set to be completed by the end of the month, weather permitting.

Contractors will then bitumen seal the road to complete the repairs.

FILLING IT IN... Copper Coast Council mayor Roslyn Talbot inspects works on the Verran Terrace, Moonta Mines, sinkhole, which began earlier this month.

Works involved to fill the sinkhole:

- Over-excavate the hole and the width of the road extent to remove loose, wet, soft unsuitable material
- Create a base to begin filling from
- Place/embed rocks into the base at the lowest part, approximately nine metres
- Place stabilised sand (cement/sand blend) above this, approximately to a level of 6.5m
- Place a tensile grid over the stabilised sand, this is to disperse load and bond materials
- Place controlled fill in compacted layers to a level of one metre
- Place PM1/20 rubble in compacted layers to road level
- Finish with a two-coat spray seal and line marking

Jarryd Rowley
JOURNALIST

MORE than 50 people attended the unveiling of four World War I veterans' headstones at Condowie cemetery on Saturday, August 13.

Private George Edward Adams, Pte Ernest Prater, Bombardier William Norman O'Neill and Pte John Tonkin Baker were previously laid in unmarked graves near Snowtown.

However, research by volunteers of the Headstone Project SA led to the discovery of their names and relatives.

Family members of Ptes Adams and Prater, and Bbr O'Neill, who all served with the 3rd Australian Lighthouse, unveiled their headstone while Pte Baker received a Commonwealth military commendation.

Headstone Project SA volunteer Ian Hopley said in spite of awful weather, there was still a great turnout.

"We managed to track down and have representatives from all the families, it was a very good morning," Mr Hopley said.

Wakefield Regional Council CEO Andrew McDonald, who served with the Royal Australian Navy, was the keynote speaker at the unveiling, with The Ode read by acting president of the Snowtown RSL sub-branch Greg King.

Deputy Commissioner of Veterans' Affairs Janice Silby also attended along with the Barossa Lighthouse Historical Association who brought troop horse, Rocco.

Representatives from the veterans' families received replica WWI medals from Headstone Project SA president John Browlie.

"The veterans' original medals are often lost over time, sold during hardship or their whereabouts are simply unknown, so this is something along with the headstone that we can give to the families," Mr Hopley said.

"We would like to encourage anyone who may be aware of an unmarked grave or has any information about veterans' graves to reach out to us."

- Headstone Project SA volunteer Ian Hopley

Headstone Project SA estimates there are as many as 3000 WWI veterans buried in unmarked graves across 900 different cemeteries throughout South Australia.

To learn more or to contact the Headstone Project, visit their Facebook page or website www.theheadstoneproject.org.

More responsibility for local cat owners

BARUNGA West Council has introduced a new cat management policy.

The policy increases owner responsibility in ensuring their cats are identified to reduce the impact nuisance cats have on the community.

Owners will need to provide an enriched environment for their pet, ensure it has minimal impact on local fauna, be sexed unless it is in a recognised breeding program, register it via Dogs and Cats Online, and ensure cats are microchipped by 12 weeks of age, as well as several other terms.

As part of the policy, council's responsibility to cat management has been limited to public land only.

WHS, risk and compliance officer Jodi Russack said council would respond verbally or in writing to all complaints received about cats, regarding the adopted policy.

"In the 2021-22 financial year, council's animal management officer trapped 68 unidentified feral cats, including those caught on private property in response to requests by ratepayers," she said.

"These cats were taken to a veterinary surgeon, costing ratepayers $2490 in euthanizing or rehoming fees.

"While many residents enjoy the pleasures of cat ownership, there are times when cats can cause problems in the community and require a cat management response.

"The policy proposes increased responsibility by cat owners, ratepayers and less intervention by council."

Cat traps are also available for hire from the council at a weekly cost of $10 and a bond of $50.

Show art prize awarded

Ms Petherick was presented with her prize, $1000 donated by Kadina Carpet Court, at a small function in the Ascot Gallery, Kadina, last Thursday, August 25.

All art prize entries, and other art sections, will be on display in the gallery for the next month.

This year's theme was Local Lost Legends, paying tribute to those who shaped our community but have since passed.

"I was trying to find a subject and I came across some information about Henry," Ms Petherick said.

"I like what he represented.

"Not only was he a key driver of employment in the region, but he was incredibly engaged in the community and felt like a worthy candidate to me.

"It probably took me about a week to complete."

As a result of the win, the work has been acquired by the Kadina AH&F Society.

"This prize helps bring leaders in our communities to the front," prize donor Susan Daniel said.

"It highlights the extraordinary things some of them have done and instils a little bit of local pride.

"It also helps to raise the profile of local artists and the show, and I'm hopeful the week the portraits were on display in Kadina Carpet Court meant people spent time in local businesses as well."

Ms Daniel also used the event to launch next year's theme — Fabulous Farmers.

Artist Glen Gearing was also recognised for his work of Kate Cocks — one of the state's first female police officers — by donor Kathy McDonald.

"I really had no idea who she was until a friend suggested her name," Mr Gearing said.

"You feel like you get to know someone when you're working on a portrait like this and she was really ahead of her time."

Copper Coast Council celebrates

150 YEARS

COPPER Coast Council is celebrating 150 years since the inception of the Corporation of the Towns of Moonta and Kadina in 1872.

Copper Coast Council Mayor Roslyn Talbot said a milestone, such as this one, was an important time to celebrate, be thankful and reflect.

“I like to think back to our forefathers and what they did and achieved all those years ago,” she said.

“It is because of all their early and wise decisions our region is what it is today.

“I know many of the decisions would have been unpopular at the time, such as amalgamating, but they did it for the betterment of the community.

“I wonder if they ever imagined what our region would be like now?

“I would love to be able to talk to them today.”

Council will continue to preserve the region’s history while also advancing the area which covers some 773 square kilometres, including a coastline of roughly 50km, servicing a population of about 15,000 people and more than 400,000 visitors annually.

“We need to sustain growth that respects our past,” Mrs Talbot said.

“I think our three major towns all need each other and I think the community and council have done well to keep each town’s specific identity which gives them a point of difference but also makes the region as a whole so cohesive.”

Mrs Talbot said she was proud of the Copper Coast community.

“We’ve got more community engagement than ever before and people want to have their say,” she said.

“People really care about their community here and it shows.”

Family connection to local government strong

LOCAL government is in Copper Coast Council Mayor Roslyn Talbot’s blood.

“I’m a third generation Mayor which is incredibly special,” Mrs Talbot said.

“Council discussion was always had around our dinner table.

“My grandfather William Wearn was a huge contributor to Council dedicating 35 years to the Corporation of the Town of Kadina, as a Councillor from 1938-73 and Mayor from 1962-64.

“My father Graham Wearn was a Councillor for the Corporation of the Town of Kadina for five years in 1972-77 and then the District Council of Kadina for two years and three months.

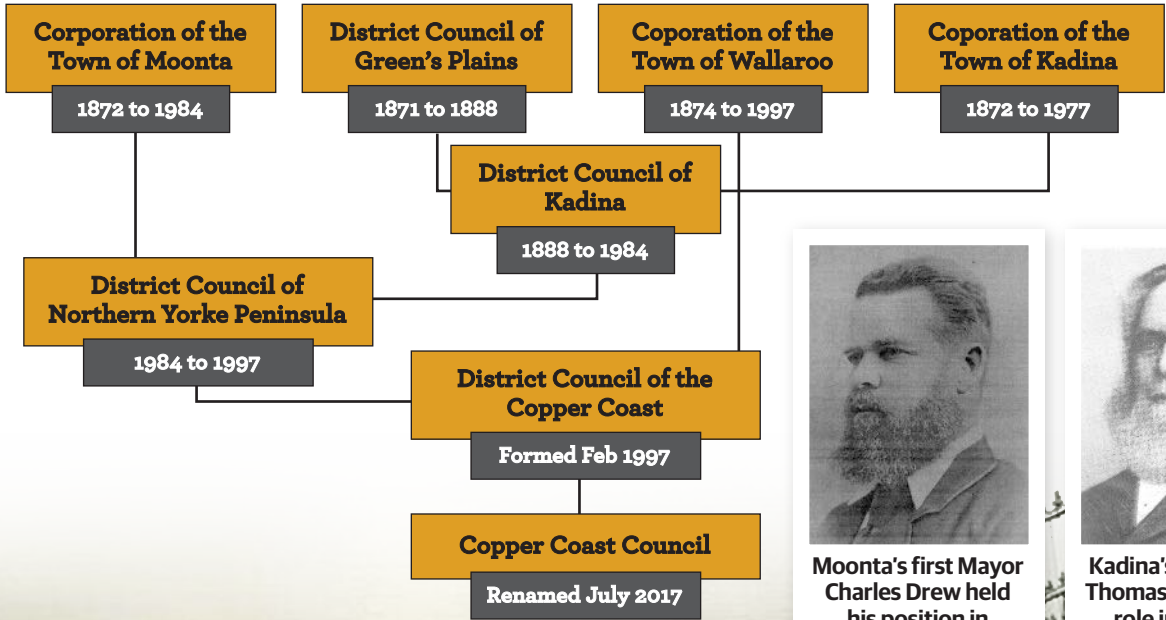

“He then spent nine years on the District Council of Northern Yorke Peninsula — four of those as Mayor.”

Mrs Talbot said it was this family connection to local government which encouraged her to first nominate for Council.

She has been involved in the District Council of the Copper Coast and Copper Coast Council for 14 years and Mayor for the past four.

“It was instilled in me to give back to the community from a young age and Council is the perfect way to do that.

“My passion for local government is still strong — there is more to do and achieve — my job is not done,” Mrs Talbot said.

Moonta's first Mayor Charles Drew held his position in 1872-73 and again in 1879-81.

Jarryd Rowley
JOURNALIST

A GROUP of cyclists will battle Yorke Peninsula roads to raise funds for spinal cord injury research as a part of this year's Project Discovery #7 bike tour, November 3 to 5.

This is the first time Project Discovery has visited the peninsula with up to 30 riders travelling 300-plus kilometres in three days.

The riders will start their journey in Clare before making their way to Wallaroo on day one.

On day two, they will travel from Wallaroo to Kadina before heading to Port Broughton and finishing back at Wallaroo.

On day three, the cyclists will travel to Maitland and circle back.

Former Olympic volleyball referee Cameron Olsen, who has ridden in all six previous iterations, said the project was a test of one's physical and mental strength but was one of the most rewarding events on his yearly calendar.

"It is a tricky three days," Mr Olsen said.

"It really is a physically and mentally demanding ride; in saying that, it is one of the most rewarding events cycling enthusiasts can participate in."

Participants need to raise $3000 for the Neil Sachse Centre at the South Australian Health and Medical Research Institute before they can ride.

"In the first few events I really thought I was going to struggle to meet that $3000 target, but people who genuinely care about the cause, they will get involved in some way and have continued to each year, I am honestly really touched by that,"

Mr Olsen said.

Project Discover was created by Neil Sachse who passed away in 2020.

He was a former SANFL and VFL player, who was left a quadriplegic in a freak accident in just his second VFL game for Footscray in 1975.

Neil then founded the Neil Sachse Centre, which is one of the country's leading spinal cord injury research/facility in 1994.

The Neil Sachse Centre has hosted the Project Discovery Tour since 2015.

RIDING FOR RESEARCH... Peter Hayes, Professor Brian Freeman and Paul Garner rode together as a part of last year's Project Discovery ride.

Local businesses get tech savvy

YORKE Peninsula businesses had a chance to learn more about social media through a recent workshop.

The workshop was hosted by Vanessa Dingle from Vee Supreme Digital Marketing Services and facilitated by Yorke Peninsula Council, in partnership with Regional Development Australia Yorke and Mid North and Yorke Peninsula Tourism.

About 15 businesses attended either a basic or advanced session to help them effectively improve their social media use and were also offered a 30-minute one-on-one session.

“In a predominately digital world, it’s important for businesses to be savvy on social media,” Mayor Darren Braund said.

“There were more than 21 million active social users in Australia (as of February 2022) so it’s important for business to have an online presence to promote themselves.

“Council is committed to supporting economic growth and this workshop is just one of the ways council is making a positive impact in the business community.”

Regional Development Australia Yorke and Mid North economic development officer

Jo-Anne Buchanan said it’s important to optimise how a business is presented online, including providing a concise description of the products/services offered.

“Potential customers and clients are also becoming fast scrollers, so if your website, Facebook, Instagram presence isn’t easy to navigate they might skip your business and move onto another,” Ms Buchanan said.

“If you haven’t had the opportunity to either establish or review and improve your online business media, there are lots of affordable professionals out there who can also assist.

“As a business, having an effective online marketing and promotional presence can provide significant increases to your customer/client base.

“RDAYMN is also available for free and confidential business assistance.”

This was the second YPC, RDAYMN and YP Tourism business workshop held this year.

For more information, visit <https://yorke.sa.gov.au/community-services/grants/business-enhancement-program/> or call Yorke Peninsula Council on 8832 0000.

Sweeping warning for swooping bird

SPRING heralds the start of Magpie breeding season.

While the birds make a beautiful sound, warbling as the sun rises or sets, their behaviour can be frightening during spring as some may become protective of their nests and young chicks.

Department for Environment and Water principal ecologist Dr Karl Hillyard said magpies usually breed between August and October with females typically laying between three and five eggs in August to September and sitting on them for around three weeks until they hatch.

“Some male magpies defend their nests from the time the eggs are laid until the young birds are ready to fly, this is normally around four to five weeks after hatching, and they will attack anything they consider to be a threat, from another bird to a dog or a human,” Dr Hillyard said.

“Magpies are a very intelligent bird and have an excellent recall of faces and very long memories, so if you’ve been swooped before, or even if you just look like someone they swooped last year, you’re likely to get the same treatment again.

“They typically only defend their nests within about a 100-metre radius, so the best way to avoid getting swooped is to take a detour around known nest sites if you can.

“They aren’t malicious — it’s just the natural instinct of some magpies to defend their young.

“It can be hard to remember this when you’re being swooped, though.”

The best way to avoid being swooped is to change your route, but if that’s not possible, travel in groups as swooping birds usually only target individuals.

“Carry an open umbrella above your head, wear sunglasses and a broad-brimmed hat or, if you ride a bike, walk it through magpie territory or have a flag on the back of the bike that is higher than your head,” Dr Hillyard said.

“Do not act aggressively.

“If you wave your arms about or shout, the magpies will see you as a threat to the nest — and not just this year, but potentially for years to come.

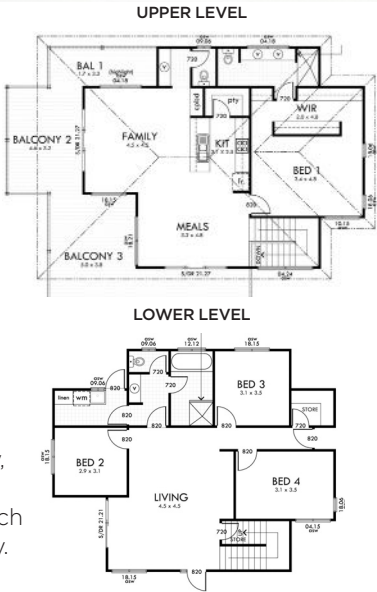

“Walk, don’t run and avoid making eye contact with the birds.”

Indigenous history acknowledged in commemorations

RECENT celebrations of Maitland's 150th anniversary of foundation included the opening of the Native Garden Trail on Gardiner Terrace.

This event was much more than launching an ecological and cultural experience for locals and visitors to the region, it also offered an important chance for reconciliation and recognition.

Established with funds via a Grassroots Grant from the Northern and Yorke Landscape Board, the project was jointly initiated by the Maitland branch of the National Trust and Maitland and District Progress Association.

The garden meanders along the Lions walking trail and consists of four areas, with plantings of local native species, natural sculptures and language relating to insects, reptiles, birds and mammals.

Plants were established by 75 students and teachers from the Central Yorke and Maitland Lutheran Schools with support from community members Di Morgan, Jane Greenslade and members of Friends Restoring Our Gardens.

Students from both schools decorated the tree guards and Lutheran school students painted rocks and created a native bee house.

"The opening provided the opportunity to recognise the pre-colonisation and ongoing relationship of the Nharangga people with the Yorke Peninsula - Nharangga Banggara," Maitland and District Progress Association president Emma Leonard said.

"We are grateful to the Yorke Peninsula Council and Maitland Golf Club for making this location available for the garden."

A highlight of the opening was the Welcome to Country performed by Rex Angie and smoking ceremony performed by Ian Harradine and Angel Webb.

"Having these local Elders (Mr Angie and Mr Harradine) involved in the opening was essential and a very special experience," Dr Leonard said.

"We were delighted to see so many locals attend the launch including many from the Aboriginal community."

"It has been a great learning experience working with members of the Point Pearce and Nharangga Progress Associations, Daniel Newchurch of Newchurch Family Farm and Nharangga language specialist Tania Wanganeen, who helped with the selection of suitable plant species and use of Nharangga language."

"The plantings have been designed to create areas that attract, feed and shelter insects, reptiles and mammals."

"Signage includes Nharangga words for examples of these species as well as for some of the plant names, including native foods."

As a living ecosystem, the native garden will continue to evolve and progress looks forward to adding additional features to the garden in the future.

LHN board visiting

YORKE and Northern Local Health Network Governing Board will be visiting the Laura and Districts Hospital on September 7.

The board was formed in 2019 and holds its monthly meetings across the region to ensure the best possible oversight.

"Meeting with local health staff and partners helps us understand the lay of the land and make informed decisions," chairperson John Voumard said.

"It's important to consult with the community, especially the people who work exceptionally hard to provide local health services."

"Each visit in the past has connected our members with locals to listen and understand the unique needs of each health service, which is invaluable."

"By building partnerships and collaborating during these visits, we can have a greater impact."

Thelma Bettess celebrates her 100th birthday

THELMA Joan Bettess, formerly of Bute and Kadina, celebrated her 100th birthday at her Woodcroft home surrounded by family and friends on Wednesday, August 10.

Thelma was born in Port Lincoln where she attended both primary and high school before training as an infant teacher in Adelaide.

After teaching at various schools in the city she was appointed to country South Australia in Bute and Alford.

She met and married local farmer Tom Bettess in 1946 and lived on the family farm just north of Bute. They had five children and retired to Kadina in 1975.

Thelma was very active in the communities she lived in and has always been a positive person.

She took on leadership roles in the Country Women's Association, the Bute school welfare and the Catholic Church.

Thelma always played a major role in the training and presentation of young people at the popular debutante balls held throughout regional SA in the 1960s and 70s which raised funds for the disabled through the Miss Australia Quest.

She enjoyed and played tennis, netball, golf and bowls and held many leadership roles within the clubs she was involved in.

Thelma and Tom moved to Adelaide in 1993 to be closer to their children, grandchildren and great-grandchildren, all who still play a major role in her life.

Thelma was overwhelmed by and grateful for the phone calls, cards and messages she received from all over Yorke Peninsula wishing her well and recalling good memories, especially from former students.

Oswalds reach 25-year milestone

Advertising Promotion

PETER and Jan Oswald are celebrating 25 years in business. The pair took over a Yorke Peninsula optometry practice in July 1997.

"I was initially enquiring about Paul Brown's practice in Port Pirie which was for sale," Mr Oswald said.

"However, we decided to also look at his two day a week visiting practice in Kadina.

"It was 46 degrees and Kadina was like an oasis in the desert that day but we persuaded him to sell the Kadina (practice) instead and commenced on July 7, 1997.

"When I started, we only operated the Minlaton practice one day a week on a Friday and now we serve our southern Yorke Peninsula clients five days a week."

From 1997 to 2008, Mr Oswald was an independent optometrist and said he enjoyed his time very much.

"However, nothing stays the same forever," he said.

"When Specsavers invited me to join their group it proved to be an excellent move.

"As an independent you cannot compete price-wise with the larger players.

"So the business remains owned by Jan and myself but we have access to a much more competitively priced frame and lens range for everyone's benefit on Yorke Peninsula.

"Specsavers' vision is to passionately provide best value eyecare to everyone simply, clearly and consistently, exceeding customer expectations every time."

Mr Oswald said there had been many changes in optometry across the years.

"Changes in optometry include optometrists permitted to prescribe medications and the equipment," he said.

"The Humphrey Visual Field Analyser has been continually refined and our new models have the latest tests.

"Ocular Coherence Tomography (OCT) was a game changer — it became so easy to show patients the backs of their eyes with macular degeneration or macular holes, rather than describing it or drawing diagrams.

"This is provided free with every eye check.

"Lenses have also improved and are continually improving all the time.

"When I first started, if you wanted a lens to go dark outside — glass was the only choice. Now no one uses glass anymore and plastic lenses can change colour."

Changes are also visible at the premises, with Mr Oswald purpose-building and refitting the practice four times in the past 25 years.

Specsavers are also preferred providers with a number of health funds.

Specsavers Kadina is open 9am-5pm Monday to Friday, and 9am until noon on Saturdays.

The Minlaton practice is open 9am-5pm Monday to Friday.

Supporting our local community

CELEBRATION... Specsavers directors Peter and Jan Oswald celebrate 25-years in business.

Community minded and driven

LOCAL businesses thrive when they are community-minded and driven. Peter Oswald said the community had been fantastic supporters of Specsavers, from their loyal patients to the businesses they deal with on a daily basis. "We've had many personal and professional highlights across our 25 years," he said. "These include our twins being born (now aged 23) and the two Sydney Swans premierships in 2005 and 2012. "We have had many loyal staff with half a dozen staying for more than 10 years. "We have also had seven staff go on and complete the official optical dispensing qualification and one has become an orthoptist. "It is great to see these young people blossom not just here on Yorke Peninsula but sometimes when they move on (all around Australia)." Optometry is still a relatively new course in South Australian tertiary settings but Mr Oswald has been a strong supporter of graduates. "We offered scholarships early on to attract optometrists to the Copper Coast," he said. "We still support the Flinders University Optometry students by offering them placements." Mr Oswald is heavily involved in the community and believes giving back is important. "I was District Governor for Kadina Apex and in my second term as president of the Northern YP

Rotary Club," he said. "I am also an elected member of the Copper Coast Council – an area where I felt I can give back and help the community." Specsavers Kadina currently employs 16 staff, including experienced optometrist Brooke Daws and manager Rebecca Rich, while Rachel Goodes manages the Minlaton practice. "You can't do much without your staff and mine are terrific," Mr Oswald said. "Jan (Oswald) recently retired from being the bookkeeper after 25 years as well. "We did a staff bonding session in Adelaide with an axe-throwing afternoon – so I now know who not to mess with – some of them are very good at throwing axes!"

Wakefield RC awards community grants

COMMUNITY groups in the Wakefield Regional Council area will benefit from more than $100,000 in funding as part of council's minor and major community grants program.

Each year grants are awarded in the minor and major categories — minor grants fund projects up to $2000, while major grants are for projects between $2001 to $25,000.

This year, 19 community projects received funding across both categories.

WRC mayor Rodney Reid said the grants played a vital role in supporting Wakefield's community infrastructure, arts, culture and sports initiatives.

"The continued commitment from these groups to grow and establish these fantastic projects around our vision of creating liveable communities, a thriving region and a sustainable future is once again displayed across the successful applicants this year," he said.

"Regardless of the size of the chosen projects, the minor and major community grants program injects funding into our local grassroots projects each year.

"Continually the program connects council directly with our local volunteers through the application process, providing council with an insight into how the community wants their future shaped.

"I can't wait to see all of the projects come to fruition over the coming year as they are completed across the region."

GRANTS... Hocky's Community Shed coordinator Don "Duck" Rayner in the newly expanded metalwork section of the Snowtown community shed, which will benefit from $4972 through the Wakefield Regional Council community grants program.

Sports kick off at Harvest Christian College

Advertising Promotion

HARVEST Christian College, Kadina, is proud to reveal its new multi-faceted sports oval to the public.

The oval will be officially opened at noon on Friday, October 21.

The privately funded space is the size of an AFL oval and will be used by both the school and community in the future.

School sports days and athletic events will feature heavily on the new oval, and a staff versus student Australian Rules match will formally launch the space.

A full school assembly will also be held on the oval to mark the occasion with special guests including Copper Coast Council mayor Roslyn Talbot, CEO Russell Peate and Christian Schools Association state executive Mark Ryan.

The oval has taken 12 months to complete, with plans in the works for a number of years.

"We are excited that we are adding another AFL-sized oval that is accessible to the school and in the future for the wider community," principal Peter Ayoub said.

"It will provide students with a facility which will host sporting events right here at the school expanding the capacity of our sports days and competitions."

The college will also be adding an additional parking area beside the new oval, which is expected to be completed in coming months.

LAUNCH... Harvest Christian College will officially open its new sporting oval on Friday, October 21.

Banding together for cancer research

LOCAL band Just Mates will help raise money for cancer research when it performs at Moonta on Monday, September 5.

The fundraiser has been organised by the Women's and Children's Hospital Moonta auxiliary, whose vice-chairperson Wanda Chittleborough will have her head shaved for the Royal Adelaide Hospital Research Fund on November 11.

Wanda made her head shave decision after her nephew Grant Murray was diagnosed with aggressive mouth cancer.

She and friend Lorraine Darling are holding a series of fundraising events in the lead-up to the shave, and Just Mates' Moonta Town Hall gig is one of these.

Just Mates was formed in early 2020 when mates Tony Secker, Barry "Tug" Wilson and Arn "Reg" Baldock — all from the Moonta/Moonta Bay area — got together to make music.

They all play guitar and all sing the lead in different songs from the 1950s, '60s, '70s and later.

Their song list includes Eagles, The Mavericks, John Denver, Bob Seger, Creedence Clearwater Revival, Roy Orbison, Smokie, Brooks & Dunn, Neil Diamond, The Beatles and many others.

A popular dance band on Yorke Peninsula, the Just Mates members enjoy entertaining.

See them at the Moonta Town Hall on Monday, September 5; the doors will open at 7pm for a 7.30pm start.

Tickets cost $22 ($20 concession), and supper will be available for $5.

Bookings are preferred, phone 0418 830 639 (see last week's YPCT Community Calendar for information).

Makin' Tracks back to Kadina

POPULAR Port Broughton vocal duo Makin' Tracks is returning to perform at the YP Veterans and Community Centre, Kadina, monthly dinner dance, 6pm to 10pm this Friday, September 2.

The duo, Lyn Stead and Sandy Owen, will perform a range of popular songs from the 1950s to the present day.

"Lyn and Sandy are looking forward to catching up with new faces and renewing old acquaintances at the venue," a YPVC spokesperson said.

"Makin' Tracks has performed locally and interstate, endearing themselves to audiences with their lively personalities and captivating vocals.

"Why not get a few friends together, book yourself some seats and have a great night out?"

"There is no cover charge for the music, all you need to pay for are your meals ($10/$12/$3) and drinks.

"Hope to see you there for a fun time."

For bookings, phone 0418 830 639; (see last week's YPCT Community Calendar for information).

VOCALISTS... Port Broughton vocal duo Makin' Tracks, Lyn Stead and Sandy Owen, will entertain at the YP Veterans and Community Centre this Friday evening.

Rural Business Chics learn from each other

MEETING OF MINDS... Regional businesswomen meeting to discuss business issues and network at a recent Rural Business Chics dinner at Moonta, Gaynor Harding, Carol Burford, Susanna Philbey, Sue Allen, Nan Berrett, Sandra Maynard, Deb Keheler, Gillian Rice, Tracey Browning.

AFTER Women in Business Regional Network wound up, a group of Yorke Peninsula businesswomen decided to continue meeting regularly.

The network brought local business owners, managers and entrepreneurs together to learn from each other and hear from guest speakers.

“Rural Business Chics will fill the gap by providing a chance for businesswomen to continue to network and learn in a friendly, supportive environment,” organiser Susanna Philbey (Life Directions Planning, Wallaroo) said.

“Women in business, developing or new to business, or dreaming of their own business, and business managers are welcomed.

“Meeting at the Moonta Hotel on August 1, our discussion touched on a wide range of topics, including the new .au extension to website URLs, coping with Covid-19 as small business owners and its impacts on viability, the need for an exit strategy when a decision is made to retire from our businesses and lots more!”

Other members include Gaynor Harding (Motherduckandmee, Moonta), Carol Burford (ex Statewide Cinema, Moonta); Sue Allen (Sue Allen Designs, Kadina), Nan Berrett (Word Solutions, Clare), Sandra Maynard (sweetsby-ma/Moonta cafe), Deb Keheler (ex Lifeline manager, Clare), Gillian Rice (Cafe Moonta), and Tracey Browning (Constantine Quilts/Machine Quilting Academy, Agery).

“The group agreed they’d like to get together monthly on the first Tuesday of each month - next one, again at the Moonta Hotel, is on Tuesday, September 6,” Susanna said.

“It was also agreed a different group member will lead the meeting each month; in September it will be Tracey at the helm.

“We have a Facebook group — Rural Business Chics — where we keep everyone up to date about events and can share other information; we welcome new members.”

Moonta and District Probus Club news

PRESIDENT Marg Bastian welcomed visitors John and Pauleen Hounslow to the Moonta and District Probus Club meeting of Monday, August 1.

She then inducted new members Graham Hancock and Penny Richter, sponsored by Moranne Coombs.

Richard Bastian informed that the planned bus trip to Kapunda had been postponed until 2023 but the excursion to Port Pirie Festival Centre, to hear the SA Police Band, was confirmed for December 16.

Birthday and anniversary greetings were extended to Helen Bishop, Kate and Richard Herbert, Fay and Leon Roesler, Marg and Richard Bastian, Pam and Philip Woodward, together with Jan and Kevin French.

Lynne and John Rowe, founders of Broughton River Gourmet and Heritage Fine Food, were introduced.

The Rowes started their enterprise at their small Lower Broughton property 40 years ago.

After retiring from school teaching, their business grew.

Now mainly trading at SA country markets and shows, the Rowes’ bush food range includes locally sourced ingredients such as quandong, lemon myrtle, wattle seed and bush tomato, along with Tasmanian mountain pepper.

Chutneys and sauces, chocolate and much more are made, bottled, labelled and packaged on their property.

Complex brand name, labelling rules, trademarks, Australian content, nutrition information and weight/measure regulations, et cetera, keep Lynne and John busy.

The entertaining talk created a lively question time before Colleen Archibald gave the vote of thanks to generous applause.

A tasting time of the Rowe’s products followed.

The club’s next meeting on Monday, September 5, will feature author Meredith Appleyard.

Retirees may care to ask secretary Helen Colliver about Probus, phone 0419 839 869.

Libraries board visits the region

THE Libraries Board of South Australia visited Yorke Peninsula libraries on Thursday and Friday, August 11-12.

The board does a regional tour each year with Yorke Peninsula having the opportunity to host.

Copper Coast Council library and tourism coordinator Lynn Spurling said the intention of the tour was to give the board members a better understanding of the way library services are delivered in regional areas.

"It also offers the opportunity for libraries to showcase what they are doing for their local communities," Mrs Spurling said.

"A short presentation was made at each library and the board was very impressed with the 24/7 access at the Kadina Library which had recently won the Jim Crawford Award for Innovation in Libraries."

The visit also provided a chance to discuss the use of the One Card System, which celebrates its 10th anniversary this year.

"SA library customers can now use any public library across SA with a single card, and have access to more than three million items," Mrs Spurling said.

"The One Card network connects more than 130 public libraries across the state and provides convenient access for the whole community to the entire public library collection."

The board visited Two Wells and Balaklava before making its way to Kadina, Moonta, Maitland, Minlaton, Yorketown and Ardrossan.

The Libraries Board of SA is a statutory authority operating under the provisions of the Libraries Act 1982, and is responsible for library policy and administration of the State Library and Public Library Services.

VISIT... Libraries Board of South Australia chairman Bruce Linn AM, board member Amanda Nettelbeck, Copper Coast Council mayor Roslyn Talbot and board member Joanne Cys during their Yorke Peninsula visit earlier this month.

String group competes at eisteddfod

STRING group, Stringtastic, competed at the Balaklava Eisteddfod on August 6.

The group includes students from both Kadina Memorial School and Harvest Christian College, guided by music teachers Jess Charles and Cathy Nicholls.

Jaeger Dennett, along with Jed Charles, played in a violin/cello duet and received an honourable mention for their performance of The Sound of Silence and their own arrangement of French Folk Song.

Monica Metcalf on cello joined Emily Carson on cello and Isabel Lemley on violin to perform Mamma Mia and their own arrangement of Lavender's Blue; they also received an honourable mention.

Both groups had excellent ensemble skills, expression and wonderful use of dynamics.

They practised throughout term 2 every Friday after school and during the holidays.

Well done to all the Stringtastic performers!

MOONTA Area School year 11 student Marcus Moore is part of a select group of Rural Youth Ambassadors.

The ambassador program is coordinated by The Country Education Partnerships Rural Inspire initiative.

Year 11 students are chosen from each state to participate in forums to better improve the delivery of education to students in rural areas.

Marcus has used the platform to deliver his findings and opinions to significant figures such as Department for Education chief executive Martin Westwell.

"It was awesome," Marcus said.

"He was really down to earth and willing to take the time out to listen to me.

"I was able to speak and ask questions about matters me and other ambassadors had discussed."

The Rural Youth Ambassadors flagged three key issues for regional and rural students: lack of teachers and staff, lack of subject selection and lack of mental health support.

"Personally, I would like to improve the subject selection, for me it goes hand in hand with improving mental health," Marcus said.

“We (Rural Youth Ambassadors) looked at different ideas we could propose to improve subject selection at the next forum.

"Mental health is an important issue to me and I want to be able to help canvass campaign push for better support for things in that area, such as LGBTQI+ support for rural students."

The program will culminate with a national conference in Canberra during December.

"From day dot, as soon as I heard that was a part of the program, if I have the time, I would love to go and present the concepts of young rural people," Marcus said.

The next Rural Youth Ambassador forum will be held mid-September.

Celebrating our dads

DADS are amongst the hardest group of people to buy presents for.

But as Father's Day fast approaches, Australians are expected to spend more than $730 million on gifts this year.

Research from the Australian Retailers Association, in collaboration with Roy Morgan, shows more than a third of Australians (36 per cent) plan on buying a Father's Day gift, down four per cent on last year.

More than half of consumers plan on buying a gift that's environmentally friendly while 42 per cent said current cost of living challenges have impacted how much they plan to spend.

"There's no doubt it's an incredibly difficult period for many businesses and consumers as inflationary pressures take hold," ARA CEO Paul Zahra said.

"Alcohol, including wine and spirits, top the most popular items for Dad as they normally do, while sustainability is on the minds of consumers with more than half planning to buy a gift that's environmentally friendly."

About 18 per cent of people said they were looking for clothing or footwear for Dad, while 14 per cent had purchased him a gift voucher.

"Father's Day is the last gift-giving event before Christmas and provides retailers with a good barometer for how consumer discretionary spending is likely to track over the festive season," Mr Zahra said.

Solid conditions for 2022 Yorkes Classic

Some of South Australia's top surfers battled it out in solid conditions at West Cape, Dhilba Guuranda-Innes National Park, across the weekend.

West Cape, known as one of the heaviest beach breaks in the world, delivered some heavy hold downs and a few serious wipe-outs, challenging competitors — which is exactly what is expected of a Yorkes Classic.

The Shaun Gray Charge Award went to local ripper Corey Taylor who got a 9'8 for an insane tube ride, as well as surfing consistently well throughout the event.

Other standouts included Ellie Francis, who has taken a break from competition for a few years, past champion Max Longhurst and local charger Luke Sykora.

The open men's title went to Brett Edwards, followed by Luke Sykora in second, Corey Taylor third and Max Longhurst fourth.

Taking out the women's division was young mid-coast star Maia Taite with last year's winner Skye Faddy second, followed by Ellie Francis third and Stella Senior fourth.

The junior title went to Leo Torok, Corey Taylor placed second, Miles Blanchard third and Finn Blanchard fourth.

The Yorkes Classic is South Australia's most prestigious and iconic surfing event, started in 1983 by local surfers. The event always delivers great waves in the spectacular surf region of lower YP.

Thank you to all the sponsors, spectators, the local community, Dhilba Guuranda-Innes National Park, Yorke Peninsula Council and Surfing South Australia for their support and we look forward to seeing everyone next year to celebrate the 40th Yorkes Classic in style with a huge after party at the Stenhouse Bay Hall.

Double the delight for Sarah Klau

Yorketown's Sarah Klau has been given double the honours.

Klau, a two-time NSW Swifts premier-ship defender and 2022 Commonwealth Games gold medallist, has been selected in the Origin Australian Diamonds team to play in the Constellation Cup and England Series this October and November.

Klau got her first taste of international competition when she trained with the Diamonds prior to the 2018 Gold Coast Commonwealth Games.

She also trained with the 2018 International Test Series and made her debut in the 2019 World Cup.

Origin Australian Diamonds head coach Stacey Marinkovich said she was looking forward to working towards these two huge international events and bringing test netball back home.

"The upcoming international series against New Zealand and England gives us a unique opportunity to continue to solidify what we have been building over the past 18 months and what we delivered from the Birmingham 2022 Commonwealth Games," Marinkovich said.

"While we are extremely proud of the result recently achieved at the Commonwealth Games we learned the depth and competitive nature of international netball is ferocious.

"I am looking forward to reconnecting with our squad as everyone will be refreshed and re-energised to align our focus towards the 2023 Netball World Cup build.

"We will continue to develop and challenge the depth of our squad enabling players to make their contribution in building our way forward."

The Diamonds, ranked number one in the world, will complete a training camp at the Australian Institute of Sport in Canberra before the international fixture.

INTERCOLLEGIATE... Jett Hasting celebrates a goal with his St Peter's teammates during the side's loss to Prince Alfred College on Saturday, August 27.

Hasting lines up for St Peter's

REPORT BY

Jett Hasting, Central Yorke Cougars, was a member of the St Peter's First XVIII team for the 2022 Winter Intercollegiate event against Prince Alfred College on Saturday, August 27.

Princes took the win, 17.19 (121) to 5.4 (34).

Deep in the second term only one straight major separated the teams, with Princes up 38-32.

St Peter's didn't kick a goal after halftime with Hasting converting from a mark towards the southern end of the ground in the second quarter.

"This was my second Intercol and hopefully there is a couple more over the next two years," Hasting said.

"It was a good first half (of footy) and our boys stayed with them and at the first two breaks we had put up a good fight.

"We played PAC in round three of the season and endured a close loss.

"Our coach Josh Francou former Port Adelaide footballer and current Gold Coast Football Club coaching staff member prepared us well as a team.

"I felt our first half showed we'd come a long way since our first encounter with PAC.

"The weight of numbers took a hold against us in the end and they took control after halftime."

Hasting will return to SANFL under 16s football this week, playing for Woodville-West Torrens in a knockout first semifinal against North Adelaide.

Adelaide started season seven of the AFLW with a grand final rematch against Melbourne at Glenelg Oval on Friday, August 26.

Adelaide suffered an 18 point defeat at the hands of the Demons, after being 10 points down at half-time, eventually losing 4.2 (26) to 6.8 (44).

Coming back from a fractured eye socket in a pre-season training accident, Chelsea Biddell (Port Vincent) was high amongst the Crows' best players in defence.

She finished with 15 disposals, including 10 kicks and a pair of tackles.

Both Hannah Button and younger sibling Rachele Martin, from a farm between Stansbury and Yorketown, had quiet games.

Button finished with two disposals and four tackles, while Martin had six touches, including five handballs and two tackles.

At Ikon Park in Melbourne, Tait Mackrill (Port Broughton) and GWS charged home against the Western Bulldogs, but fell seven points short, 5.4 (34) to 6.5 (41).

Temper flared late in the third quarter with Mackrill in the thick of the action, making her presence felt, before she was taken off to cool down.

Amongst the Giants' best players, Mackrill finished with 14 possessions (six kicks and eight handballs), a mark and an impressive seven tackles.

Jess Sedunary, formerly of Minlaton, was amongst the West Coast Eagles' best against newcomer Port Adelaide at Mineral Resources Park on Saturday.

Sedunary and the Eagles flew to a 12 point win, 6.4 (40) to 4.4 (28).

The former Adelaide Crow had 14 possessions, five marks and two tackles.

VFL

The Southport Sharks had a strong 49 point win over the Brisbane Lions in their qualifying final, getting up 12.15 (87) to 5.8 (38).

Already in the VFL team of the year squad of 40, Boyd Woodcock (Paskeville) was superb for the Sharks.

Woodcock recorded 32 possessions, two marks, three tackles and five clearances. He also chimed in with two important goals.

In an elimination game at Victorian

Park, Collingwood faced off against Carlton for a second week in a row on Sunday.

The Blues kicked five goals to one in the first term, leading from start to finish to win by 32 points, 15.10 (100) to 10.8 (68), finishing the Magpies' season.

Caleb Poulter (Ardrossan) was a solid contributor with 16 touches, including 10 kicks, five marks and a trio of tackles.

In the elimination final Woodville-West Torrens enjoyed a strong win against Glenelg, controlling the match from early in the opening stanza and leading by nine goals at the long interval.

After a quieter second half, Eagles won by a comfortable 37-point margin, 13.12 (90) to 8.5 (53).

Lachie Hoile (Southern Eagles) had 21 possessions, three marks, five tackles and three clearances in a strong all round game.

Along with 12 hit-outs and seven clearances, workhorse ruckman Zac Phillips (Kadina) had an impressive 19 disposals, including 12 handballs.

Charlie Adams (Kadina) was productive in defence with 14 touches and a couple of tackles.

Will Neumann (Kadina) collected eight possessions, while Brock Thomson (Paskeville) had seven and Ardrossan's Jack Wheare kicked 2.1 from limited opportunities.

WNBA

Stephanie Talbot (Kadina) and the Seattle Storm finished in fourth position at the end of the regular season, percentage ahead of Washington Mystics, with 22 wins, and are now in play-off mode.

In the final game of the regular season, the Storm defeated the Mystics 86-83.

Getting just seven minutes of court time, Talbot scored four points, along with being credited with a rebound and an assist.

Talbot started in the first play-off match against the Las Vegas Aces, enjoying a thrilling 76-73 win.

She scored seven points, including a three-pointer, grabbed six defensive rebounds, was credited with two assists, and a steal.

The second game in this series is tomorrow (Wednesday, August 31) with a third scheduled for Sunday, September 4.

Two mouth-watering clashes ahead

"Jeremy Binlayson"
REPORT BY

Moonta was able to cling onto its early margin against Kadina in the qualifying final clash and win on Saturday. Despite some inaccurate kicking, Moonta's ball movement was simply too much for the Bloods, who seemed to be lacking in experience and composure. The absence of Angus Poole, Jonathan Lee and Willy Serle didn't help Kadina's cause but, even with them, the Bloods may have struggled.

A late push from Southern Eagles just wasn't enough to snatch an upset against Central Yorke on Sunday. I did suspect the Southerners could take this game deep and threaten the result but, as they have consistently in recent weeks, Cougars came through in the clutch to advance to the next round.

Second semifinal at Paskeville

CMS Crows v Moonta

This grand final rematch will no doubt make for a spectacle. Moonta has been building in recent weeks and has continued to gather momentum heading into the pointy end. Crows are certainly well-rested but will need to be switched on coming out of the blocks. The midfield battle will be one to watch with Malcolm Karpny, Aidan Turner and Matt Appleton making for a nice mix of size and speed, although the likes of Murphy Short and Tom Schott are also very versatile. Demons have had the luxury of pushing Tyler Andrews forward recently, where Jake Turner has also caused some headaches in recent weeks. I expect Moonta's extra recent game day practice will ensure a strong start and possibly help the Demons run out on top.

Kadina v Central Yorke Cougars

A few key inclusions will be much welcomed by the Bloods, who have matched up extremely well with the Cougars both times this year. Home-side advantage will be huge for the Cougars and they're coming off some hot form having managed a couple close victories in a row. If Kadina can pick up where it left off from its last quarter against Cougars, when they came home roaring, this will also make for wonderful viewing. Both sides will throw everything they can at each other but I anticipate the Bloods will learn from their mistakes this time around.

At the final siren... Kadina by a goal.

Qualifying final

Moonta a step closer with impressive win

Finals scribe
REPORT BY

A dominant four-quarter display, led by captain Tyler Andrews with four goals, has propelled Moonta to a 24-point qualifying final win against Kadina.

The margin doesn't reflect the Demons' dominance for the contest, as they failed to make the most of their opportunities inside forward 50.

Despite showing glimpses of brilliance, Kadina struggled upon transition across the middle of the ground coming up against the talent breadth of Moonta's midfield featuring the likes of Ryley Maitland, Aidan Turner, Matt Appleton and Malcolm Karpany.

Andrews kicked the first of the contest as he roved a tap out of a pack well before slamming it on his boot for a snap from 45 metres out.

They were on a roll when Nick Prokopec kicked off the ground, Lachlan Everett nailed a running goal and Harry Williams converted a chance teed up by Dylan Mansell.

Maitland started the game brilliantly for the Demons, but it was then Kadina's chance to pile a few on beginning with Daniel Toole, who kicked a set shot from 45m out.

Giles Ellis then won a free kick for high contact and delivered to the hotspot where Isaac Chapman floated across the pack to take a great mark and kick the goal.

MOONTA	5.4	9.8	9.13	11.15	(81)
KADINA	3.1	5.1	7.3	9.3	(57)

BEST - Moonta: T. Andrews, R. Maitland, M. Appleton, D. Mansell, J. Cooper, O. Mullins; Kadina: J. Bruce, G. Ellis, M. Chapman, J. von Bertouch, W. Schultz, J. Elsworthy.

GOALS - Moonta: T. Andrews 4, N. Prokopec 3, L. Everett, T. Hancocks, R. Maitland, H. Williams; Kadina: J. von Bertouch 3, G. Ellis, D. Toole 2, I. Chapman, T. Glasson.

received a Jesse Bruce kick before calmly slotting the set shot.

It was a scintillating opening quarter and, with the Bloods now on top, Moonta was forced into a response, which came through Prokopec.

Moonta started the second quarter in similar fashion to the first, this time Prokopec stepped up for another — a set shot from 30m out.

He set up the next one too, electing to pass from within scoring range to Maitland who made no mistake.

The experienced G Ellis stepped up again for Kadina, this time breaking away from a pack and kicking a running goal from 30m out to fire up his side.

But all they could muster for the remainder of the quarter was another G Ellis goal, this a tight set shot on the back of good switch play and a Ryan Bruce set up.

Appleton and Andrews both goaled before halftime for Moonta, as the Demons took a 31 point lead into the main break.

The goals dried up in the second half, but Kadina wasn't going to lie down easy, getting the only two majors for the third quarter through Toole and von Bertouch.

The lift in performance was in large part due to a strong defensive effort led by Will Schultz and Bruce, repelling off half back well.

But Moonta did enough in the last quarter to dispel any chance of a Bloods fightback, with Andrews and Tom Hancocks kicking goals at either end of the term.

Toby Glasson and von Bertouch nailed chances for Kadina, but it was too little, too late.

Moonta will look to extract further revenge on 2021 premiers CMS Crows in the second semi-final while Kadina face Central Yorke Cougars in the first semi.

Cougars grit teeth for impressive win

A nail-biting last quarter kept spectators in their seats for the main event on Sunday, August 28. Kicking to the scoring end to start, Southern Eagles displayed some great ball movement and were happy to wait for the right option rather than bombing the ball forward with the wind.

Some good link-up handballs through the middle of the ground ended up in the hands of young Jordan Tilbrook, who went back and made no mistake with a short-range set shot.

Not long after, Eagles captain Nathan Allen slotted a major from about 50 metres on a slight angle to open up a three-goal lead.

Just when the Southerners looked like closing out an unanswered first quarter, Dylan Fry popped up with a mark, and despite being pressed hard against the scoreboard-side boundary, made no mistake before celebrating passionately in front of a handful of Cougar supporters.

The Eagles continued their unselfish slow play into the wind and found Scott Mumford, who presented strongly up the ground, on numerous occasions.

In his first game of A grade for the Southerners, Michael Beelitz bobbed up with an amazing contested mark and kicked truly to give his side some early momentum in the second quarter.

The major was the first of five for Beelitz, after he kicked no more than three through the entire B grade season, evidently waiting for the big stage to deliver the goods.

Spoiling the party, Cougar midfielders Ashley Williams and Zac Bates pegged back the margin each with goals from directly in front.

Eagle ruckmen Matt Taylor and Luke Hoare kept Henry Crauford accountable, with Hoare covering plenty of ground and clunking some impressive contested marks.

But Crauford clapped back with a snap from a boundary set shot to give his Cougars the lead.

This opened the floodgates as Cougars stormed away to finish the half with seven second-quarter goals to give themselves a one-goal buffer.

Nothing seemed to separate the sides in the third as the Eagles sent the ball forward relentlessly while the Cougars defenders dug deep and Jackson Bruce rebounded strongly.

Against the run of play, Jesse Potts crumbed and dribbled home a goal to open up Cougars' lead, not long before Eagle Ryan Weidenhofer pounced on a loose ball and waltzed into goal, cutting the margin to two points by three quarter time.

Kicking to the favourable end in the final term, Cougars struggled to capitalise on the advantage early while Eagles' inside midfielders battled brilliantly to keep them in the contest.

Potts kicked another from outside 50m to give Cougars the upper hand before an opportunistic snap from Beelitz once again drew Eagles within a point.

The Southerners certainly had chances to give themselves the lead but Cougars gritted their teeth and bagged three clutch goals to run out 18-point victors.

As they have so often, A Williams and Bates made the most of Crauford's ruck dominance.

Huge efforts from Allen, Hoare and Beelitz kept the Eagles in the contest for much of the game despite them not being enough against the composed Cougars.

Eagles send shock with dominant display

It was a case of defence reigning supreme as the Southern Eagles booked their place in the second semifinal, keeping Wallaroo scoreless for three quarters, and winning by 55 points.

The Eagles had standout performers on every line ready for the challenge while the Bulldogs were wasteful upon entry inside their forward 50.

Both teams had opportunities in the first 10 minutes but the Eagles were on the board when Jack Heinrich-Smith dealt a handball to Koby Poulton who kicked under pressure from 25 metres out.

The Eagles dominated the quarter, led well through the middle by the superior ruckman Jack Stuart and wingman Corie Hoare who found plenty of the ball.

After a number of chances early in the second quarter, the Eagles finally capitalised when Tim Daniell delivered a ball to full forward, marked by the mercurial Joseph Murdock who made no mistake from short range.

up well by George Bond who had so far proven a livewire inside 50.

They attacked with numbers along the grandstand side wing to tee up their fourth goal on the halftime siren as Jack Heinrich-Smith hit Murdock on the chest for his second.

Ben Abela and Scott Weger were productive for the Bulldogs, but every foray forward came to an abrupt end thanks to a well-drilled Eagles defence led by Tristan Russell.

The Bulldogs had a number of chances encroaching on goal, but were let down by inefficiency with the delivery inside 50.

With the ball parked at the Eagles’ end for large parts of the third quarter, only one goal and six behinds were converted, the major a running goal to Murdock after a free kick.

The Eagles were well and truly home when Bond kicked a goal from the goal square, but it didn’t stop Wallaroo getting on the scoreboard, with veteran Abela kicking a set shot after a taking a strong mark 35m out from goal.

Two more late goals flowed for the Eagles through Poulton and A Daniell, ending a dominant display and instilling great confidence leading into the second semifinal against Kadina.

Having earnt the double chance, Wallaroo will need to work quickly to find a response as it plays CMS Crows in a do-or-die first semifinal.

Moonta come from behind winners

Moonta has a date with undefeated Wallaroo in the senior colts second semifinal after a thoroughly deserved 13-point win against CMS Crows.

Dominant performances from Jayga Warmington and Jett Smith pushed the Demons to the come-from-behind win in impressive fashion.

Crows led at every interval, including by nine points at three-quarter time, but couldn't hold on as Moonta's electrifying run and carry took over.

A frantic stalemate to open the game was broken by the Crows as Jacob Hickman kicked the first two majors, the first a reward for finding free space deep inside 50 and the second a snap around his body from 35 metres out.

Moonta was on the board when Warmington linked up with Leon Fry across the grandstand side wing, before delivering inside 50 where Brock Pollard snapped a goal.

The Demons got another early in the second quarter as Brodie Bagshaw won a free kick 15 metres out from goal.

Ethan Dortmundt-Sansbury was seeing plenty of the ball for the Crows while Warmington was proving to be a mobile yet strong-marking headache at the other end.

With the ball sent long and deep, Crows' Kane Jolly stood up in the marking contest in the goal square, taking the mark and kicking the set shot goal.

Jett Smith had a great second quarter playing along the outside wing for the Demons, and his side was rewarded when it caused a turnover from a Crows kick-in and Carsyn Darling nailed a snap chance.

The play of the day came late in the third quarter when Dortmundt-Sansbury pounced on a loose ball in the middle of the ground, ran 30m and nailed a running goal from 40m out.

The margin was closed down within the first minute of the last quarter as Moonta won an after-the-play free kick on approach to forward 50, with the chance taken by Ryan Durdin-Dodman.

The Demons had another on the board soon after when Warmington again delivered to Durdin-Dodman who found himself in a world of space and kicked the goal off two steps.

Jacob Hickman jagged one back for the Crows from the pocket following a sling tackle free kick but two more goals to Moonta through Blair Mullins and Warmington were enough to nail the win.

Cougars hold firm against the threatening Bloods

“Finals scribe”
REPORT BY

Pulling off its second win of the morning, Central Yorke Cougars withstood an inaccurate Kadina outfit to escape elimination by two goals on Sunday, August 28.

Growing stronger as the day went on, the wind seemed to favour the golf course end, to which Cougars kicked to begin proceedings.

Cougars shared the ball around nicely before booting two goals to one in the opening quarter.

It was clear the fleet-footed Cougars would take some stopping when they moved the ball forward, threatening to hit the scoreboard on the back of some smooth transition.

But Kadina held up against the breeze early and went into the first change with a spring in its step.

Cougar Kane Elliott-Karpany’s elite left boot stood out into the breeze, helping his side maintain possession while Kadina looked to get the ball deep.

A Bailey Phillips snap from 30 metres out finally drew the Bloods level, shortly before another Cougars major put them up by a goal heading into halftime.

Picking up where it left off against the breeze, Kadina took on coach Gregg Clarke’s advice to chip the ball around before finding a forward option.

Despite some great teamwork through much of the quarter, the Bloods were punished by a couple missed chances when the Cougars went the other way and goaled quickly.

Then, straight out of the centre ball-up, Cougars walked it out of the stoppage and found Barnaby Wheare who nailed a goal on the run from 20m out.

Cougars held a three-goal lead heading into the last term but the Bloods would likely come home strong with the breeze.

A deep inside-50 entry for Kadina was followed by a Rex Monger gather, fend-off, and goal from 10m out to give his side momentum.

Another goal from Griffyn Hansen looked to spur Kadina on, but Cougars held up resolutely and rebounded the ball to the club-side boundary consistently.

A 40m goal from a set shot at the non-scoring end by Flynn Briggs looked to seal the result and, despite another late push by Kadina, Cougars held firm to run out two-goal winners.

Brayden Phillips and Mitch Cunningham were regular ball magnets in the Bloods’ mid-field, but some extra poise by the likes of Briggs and Brad Barnes was the difference on a weather-affected day.

Demons rise up for finals challenge

REPORT BY

A tight defensive performance has helped Moonta to a five-point win against Kadina in the junior colts qualifying final.

The competition's third-placed team was dominant in the first half, led well by key forward Will Gow (two goals).

League best and fairest winner Mitch Harris started in fine form for Kadina, winning the first possession for the day before a highly contested first 10 minutes thereafter.

Both sides traversed the middle part of the ground well, before becoming unstuck at half forward.

The resistance was broken for Moonta when Gus Hall got a kick out of a pack into the forward 50 where Gow was quick to fire away a shot which sailed through.

Moonta ruckman Tahj Madigan dominated around the ground, and started the second quarter with a centre clearance resulting in another Gow goal.

Both teams had their good moments throughout the quarter, including three Kadina chances which went begging, a great diving mark for Moonta's Alfie Gunning and a desperate defensive tackle from teammate Jackson Galley.

Kadina had plenty of the ball in its forward half, but couldn't capitalise until Lachlan Bodie took a great pack mark and kicked truly from 35 metres out.

Jack Christian laid a desperate tackle in defence, beginning a rebound for his side as they swiftly moved the ball through the corridor, resulting in a dribbled goal for Isaac Chamberlain.

Both sides had registered four scoring shots by three-quarter time, but it was Moonta which led by 10 points.

Gow had an opportunity to put the game to bed early in the last quarter but eventually it was Kadina's Harry Rennie who nailed a set shot at the other end to keep his side in with a chance.

With the margin at five points, a nasty clash inside Moonta's forward 50 halted play for two minutes, chewing up valuable time for Kadina.

Harris fired in a number of chances inside 50 for Kadina but, on every occasion, was thwarted by a resolute Moonta defence.

The siren sounded with a jubilant Moonta celebrating and moving into the second semifinal this week against Wallaroo.

Kadina will play Central Yorke Cougars in the first semifinal.

Skilful Cougars cruise past Eagles

Central Yorke Cougars breezed through the elimination final with to an 11-goal win against Southern Eagles at Wallaroo on Sunday, August 28.

Kicking towards the scoring end to begin, Cougars opened their account with three first-quarter goals to put the Southerners on the back foot straight away.

As they have for most of the season, Jack Southwood and Charlie Kakoschke dictated the play early on and managed to get the ball in the hands of some very capable forwards.

But the Eagles were determined to keep themselves in the contest — the dominant Jasper Phillis slotted his side’s only two goals of the match in the second quarter to stay within striking distance.

Cougars burst out of the blocks instantly after halftime, capitalising on their forward entries at will.

The silky skills of Blake Elliott-

Karpany stood out in breezy conditions, as the young star bagged three majors.

The Southerners stood little chance holding up against the free-flowing Cougars, which converted five goals to just two points in the third quarter.

Joseph Karpany, Cougars, provided a presence up front the entire match to finish with four.

It was particularly impressive to observe the care Cougars took with forward entries, which is uncharacteristic of a young side dealing with a choppy breeze.

The neat skills displayed helped Cougars capitalise consistently, as they nailed two more unanswered in the last quarter to run out 67-point winners.

Phillis, Sam Phasey and Joseph Honner fought valiantly for the Eagles all day, but it wasn’t enough to threaten their opposition.

Both B Elliott-Karpany and J Karpany were my best for the day, while Southwood and George Butler also imposed themselves at certain stages.

REPORT BY

Broughton-Mundoora A grade has wrapped up a successful home-and-away season with the minor premiership.

The visiting BM Eagles defeated Orroroo by five goals to finish the season four wins ahead of second-placed Southern Flinders on Saturday, August 27.

A two-goals-to-three opening quarter had the visitors trailing by eight points at the first change.

Playing coach Nick Hewett said his Eagles were a bit off the pace early.

“They applied reasonable pressure resulting in our ground-ball skills, disposal and decision making to lack a bit,” Hewett said.

“They have big bodies who like a scrap — they’re well coached and structure up fairly well, so they can be difficult to get flow going against.”

BM took control of the contest with five majors to one in the second term, before Orroroo outscored its opponent by a point in the third to stay within three goals.

“It was a pretty even contest all day — they play their oval well and are a very honest team which just always turns up,” Hewett said.

“With Jonah Grimes returning, he shared ruck duties with Blake Burt and they both did well.

“They’ve got a good ruckman in Aiden Lee but it was pretty even in there.”

Hewett said it was pleasing to pull away in the last quarter and run out comfortable winners.

“Orroroo had a few quality players out who they’ll get back, so they’ll be tough to beat come finals,” he said.

“A few of our midfielders had been crook during the week but they still played and contributed as they always do.

“It will be good to get Rehn (Aitchison) back in there as he provides us with a bit of difference.

“Matt Ramsey will also be back this week, so selection will be tight which is a good problem to have.

“Tom Button is back training after a long-term injury which is awesome for him and the group — he won’t play this week but will be a wait and see after that.”

Hewett said he looked forward to facing Southern Flinders in a home qualifying final this Saturday, September 3.

“It’s always good to be playing this time of the year, and especially good to be on the home deck,” he said.

“Southern Flinders has been solid all year — it is well coached and has plenty of quality players, so we’ll have to play well to win.

“It was a solid effort by the club finishing top in B grade and under 17s as well, so hopefully we can all go straight through.”

NAFA A GRADE... Jared O'Donohue, Broughton-Mundoora, fires off a handball whilst being tackled by Orroroo's Henry Slade.

NAFA B GRADE... In his 200th game, BM's Timothy Edwards marks in front of Anthony Wight, Orroroo, in the Eagles' 141 point victory.

NAFA A GRADE... Eagle Kallis Freer and Roo Will Bennett tussle for position before diving on the ball.

NAFA B GRADE... Broughton-Mundoora's Jonte Hunter-Price wins a hit-out to teammate and BM's best player Strath Roberts.

Yorke Peninsula scores and reports

Paskeville v Bute

In perfect netball weather at Minlaton, Bute had the centre pass and immediately scored through GA Maddie Simpson. Good feeding from Paskeville C Georgia Cadzow enabled GS Lucy Bussenschutt to score. Defence was tight in both circles, making it hard for the goalies. Bute capitalised on any turnover and GS Bree Taylor got a couple of long shots to put her team in front by five. Paskeville continued to apply pressure, causing many turnovers. Paskeville GA Lauren Maxwell found her rhythm and rewarded her team to close the gap. A timely intercept by Paskeville GD Amie Price resulted in a goal, putting Pasky in the lead. Quarter time: Paskeville 12, Bute 10.

Play was scrappy with neither team able to get clean delivery. Defensive pressure resulted in both sides being penalised for held balls. Paskeville GS L Bussenschutt held strong in the circle and combined well with GA Maxwell to get the best scoring option. Jade Daniel replaced Katie Koster at WA for Paskeville after an injury time. Strong defence from Paskeville GK Fiona Bussenschutt and GD Price kept Bute scoreless for several minutes. Paskeville extended its lead, scores 26-18 at halftime.

Bute made several changes with GK Marissa Hewett the only position unchanged. Bute GA Montana Briggs had an immediate impact, shooting at every opportunity. Paskeville made unforced errors and Bute clawed its deficit back to five goals. Bute C Charlotte Rose's defensive efforts made it hard for the Pasky midcourt to get easy possession. Bute GD Hannah Wellington combined well with Hewett, making it hard for Paskeville to penetrate its circle. Pasky eventually settled, keeping its composure and making good decisions. An intercept by GK F Bussenschutt, followed by good transition through the mid-court and efficient feeding into GS L Bussenschutt helped Paskeville extend its lead. Three-quarter time: Paskeville 37, Bute 28.

Paskeville came out firing in the last quarter and scored five unanswered goals. Bute eventually scored through GA Briggs. A turnover on Paskeville's centre pass resulted in another goal for Briggs. Paskeville's circle defenders continued to work hard, but Briggs dominated with strong movement and accurate shooting. Paskeville struggled to work the ball into its goalies and Bute worked hard, causing turnovers and giving many opportunities to score. Injury time was called and Lahni Smith replaced Rose at C. Paskeville GD Price took an impressive intercept in the goal circle, but Bute turned the ball over before Paskeville had a chance to score. Bute's defensive pressure was relentless and it was a great turnaround. However, Paskeville's lead was too much for Bute to peg back. Final scores: Paskeville 45, Bute 39.

Bute v Paskeville

Supporters were out in strength for both clubs. Paskeville had the centre pass and soon scored the first goal. Pasky defences Jorja Rogers and Emma Lukong worked hard to turn the ball over but Bute goalie Matilda Jones shot well. Players' nerves were evident and both teams made mistakes and play seesawed with no scores. Bute C Lahni Smith fed well into the goalies. Bute led 9-7 at quarter time.

Pasky brought fresh legs into C with Taylor Larsson taking the court. Both teams were quick to score and it didn't take long for players to settle. Pasky GS Sarah Pomery and GA Nicole Burgan worked well together, with Bute defences Anna Kearney and Olivia Dunn working tirelessly but there weren't many rebounds to be had as Pomery shot accurately. Bute goalies Jones and Ella McCauley found their groove, passing the ball around the circle to Smith and WA Sophie Longbottom to get a closer shot. Bute led narrowly at halftime, 18-17.

Pasky moved Stacey Evans back into C and Larsson to WA. With smooth ball movement down the court, Bute scored a few quick goals early in the quarter, although Pasky defenders stuck tight to Bute goalies. Bute had a strong quarter to lead 30-24 at three-quarter time.

Pasky changed it up again with Evans into GA and fresh legs Leanne Toogood into WD. Evans moved well around the court as Pasky scored two quick goals; twisting her ankle, Evans managed to keep going. Pomery's amazing shooting continued and Pasky caught up to be within a goal of Bute. Pasky goaled again, evening the scores with not much time on the clock. The ball made it to Bute GS Jones who shot a penalty goal after the timer for Bute to win the game by one goal, 37-36. An awesome effort by all players on court!

Bute v Moonta

Just the week before, in the last minor round match, Moonta had lost to Bute by 14 goals.

Bute had the pass but Moonta GK Rachael Clarke intercepted to collect the first goal. Bute goalies GS Abby Whitaker and GA Hilary Davies had difficulty gaining possession as Moonta WD Grace Inman and C Mackenzie Jones intercepted. Moonta was patient bringing the ball down the court with Bute WD Cody Kelsh and C Paris Schilling tight on their players. Moonta GS Amanda Formosa and GA Melissa Reid had some nervous misses. Bute C Schilling displayed some passing into her goalies, who shot consistently, Davies goaling over the tall defenders with ease. Quarter time: Bute 8, Moonta 4.

Moonta brought on Tahlia Woodward at GA and Hayley Durdin-Dodman at C. Bute was unchanged. Moonta scored from its centre passes, working hard to get ahead. Amelia Combe went back to GK for Moonta and made some great intercepts, the ball travelling back down the court enabling Moonta to score. Bute WD Kelsh intercepted around the circle, and Bute scored. Moonta's tall defenders had a good eye for the ball, making continuous touches, and the Moonta goalies' confidence improved. Scores levelled at 13-all. Bute called injury time for WA Zara Herbert to come off; Schilling moved to WA and Tyra Wigzell to C. Moonta shot accurately from all around the circle to take the lead. Halftime: Moonta 19, Bute 17.

Moonta passed the ball patiently down the court and WA Kloe Appleton showed great timing throwing into the circle. Moonta GK Combe collected rebounds from Bute goalies' missed shots. Bute C Wigzell made intercepts and her side capitalised. Three-quarter time: Moonta 32, Bute 25.

Bute put Kelsh into GS and Sarah Bruce into C. Moonta made no moves. Moonta scored the first goal, Bute scored the next two. Moonta GA Woodward shot some beautiful long bombs, and defenders Combe and Clarke continued to intercept. Despite Bute WD Shayla Herbert getting touches around the circle, Bute made mistakes down the court. Moonta GA Woodward hit the ground hard and Bute's GD received a warning. Moonta's goalies couldn't miss, despite Bute's hard defence effort all over the court, especially from WA Schilling. Final scores: Moonta 45, Bute 31.

Ardrossan v Central Yorke

Cougars had the centre pass and GA Olivia Dyett scored a quick goal. Ardrossan was up by one at quarter time: Ardrossan 11, CY Cougars 10.

Second quarter changes included a switch between Ardrossan's Rachel Treloar and Kat Mullins, also bringing on Isabel Sarre at WD. Cougars brought Ruby Dyett on at GS, moving O Dyett to the wing. Ardrossan's defence was tight and caused some crucial turnovers. Scores were even at halftime.

Going into the third quarter, the crowd got around the game and Ardrossan WA Treloar fought hard for the ball to get a turnover. The Cougars GK continued to play well and put the pressure on Ardrossan. At three-quarter time, the Roos were up by three.

Kadina v Southern Eagles

Kadina had won both minor round encounters, by margins of 13 and 20, so Eagles were the underdogs.

Kadina had the pass and converted, utilising the height of GS Charlotte Mercer. The Eagles GK went down with a blood rule and was replaced, meaning she could not return to the court until quarter time. Kadina led by three at the first break.

Eagles moved their GK to GS, her height and holding strong advantages for her team. Kadina changed Sydney Lockwood and Alice Schultz at GK/GD to improve height match-ups. Some strong defence and intercepts from Jada Pedler helped keep Eagles in the game, but Kadina edged ahead to lead by 11 goals at halftime.

Kadina had difficulty getting the ball into its attack end, in the face of overcrowding and good defence from Eagles. Some strong feeds from Mackenzie Neumann into Mercer helped steady Kadina. Eagles won the quarter by two but were still down by nine at three-quarter time.

Eagles had the momentum for the final quarter. Kadina brought on fresh legs at C, Sienna Rawlinson, replacing Olivia Brook and Eagles brought on a new WD. Kadina's defence worked tirelessly and spent lots of time out of play, trying their hardest to keep Eagles' goalers at bay. Kadina held onto the overall lead but lost the last quarter by four goals, final scores 42-37.

F grade

Southern Eagles v Kadina

Both teams were well supported with small crowds for the first game.

It has been eight years since Eagles won an F grade premiership and been in finals.

Kadina started strongly in defence, and goalies Eva Harris and Eva Schilling shot accurately. Eagles' midcourt may be small, but C Harlee Clark and WD Jada Clasohm worked hard to bring the ball down court. Eagles' shooters had difficulty in the face of defensive pressure, resulting in rebounds gained by Mackenzie Wood. Finals pressure was evident with Eagles players stepping and making passing errors.

Kadina was up by a few goals at halftime; it was still anyone's game.

Eagles' defence gained momentum with intercepts and strong rebounding from Lily Thompson. Shooters gained confidence and were able to pick up a few quick goals, evening the scores once again.

Strong defensive pressure on centre passes proved to be key with Kadina able to hold on for a one-goal win.

Central Yorke v Ardrossan

Ardrossan started with the centre pass; play seesawed until Cougars scored through Alice Butler. A beautiful long shot by Ardrossan's Isabelle Dayman was the reply. Cougars' Sophie Burrows took some great intercepts in the midcourt. Ardrossan's goalies continued to work well in the circle. Tight defence and great drive through Cougars' Penny Kohlhaben resulted in a goal. Quarter time: Cougars 8, Ardrossan 6.

Cougars had the pass and quickly scored. Ardrossan replied. It was a tight tussle through the middle of the court. Cougars' Matilda Southwood took a great intercept; later, Ardrossan's Shanaid Sansbury turned the ball over with great defence in the circle. Halftime: Cougars 15, Ardrossan 12.

Cougars made changes, Ardrossan went in unchanged and scored the first two goals to bring the margin back to one. Play seesawed up and down the court. Both GAs showed great drive into the goal circle. Three-quarter time: Cougars 24, Ardrossan 21.

Ardrossan quickly scored, Cougars replied. Injury time was called and Ardrossan brought on its interchange early in the last quarter. After tight defence down the court, Cougars' goalies worked well in the circle. Final scores: Cougars 37, Ardrossan 26.

Top of the table clash

"First Aid Kit"
REPORT BY

What a start to the finals series. Bute and Paskeville's clash was a brilliant affair. It was a narrow gap at quarter time which Pasky was able to build on and show why it deserves to still be considered in contention.

Bute has had an excellent season and competed until the final whistle but just wasn't able to hang on.

CMS Crows v CY Cougars

The winner of this match will head straight through to the grand final while the team which comes off second best will get a second chance. CMS Crows have been perched comfortably on top of the ladder all year, although after a round 16 loss to Kadina, their only loss, they don't seem so untouchable now. CY Cougars and have only lost two games — both to Crows — and sit marginally behind on percentage in comparison. With all these factors considered all I can say is this game will be hotly contested. If you can get to Paskeville on Saturday, I would highly recommend it to watch the best players of our association fight it out. When these teams first met in round 6, Crows defeated the Cougars by 14 goals and when it came to the second half of the season Crows managed another win (by 14 goals). I want to say Cougars have what it takes to upset the Crows but I still believe Crows are a class of their own with an express pass to the grand final in September. Luckily for the Cougars (if they lose) they'll have another chance and possibly another opportunity to redeem themselves against the elusive Crows in the most important game of the year.

YPNA A GRADE FIRST SEMIFINAL... Bute's Hannah Wellington looking to pass against Paskeville.

COUNTRY CHAMPIONSHIPS... Yorke Peninsula Soccer Association under 12s, back: coach Kylie Cini, Archie Winters, Claire Ferguson, Liam Wright, Jasper Dennett, Tyrell Costello, Charlee Kippax; front: Cody Turner-Lockwood, Jaeger Dennett, Isaac Freeman, Wilbur Ferguson, Blake Cresswell, Riley Davey, Kayden Wood.

YP soccer at country champs

Yorke Peninsula Soccer Association sent an under 12 side to compete in the Country Championships in Mildura on Saturday and Sunday, August 27-28.

The team came away with a draw against Broken Hill and losses against Adelaide Hills, Port Pirie and the Riverland teams on Saturday.

They then had a win against the Fleurieu Peninsula to end the competition on a high on Sunday.

Goal scorers for the weekend were Archie Winters, Cody Turner-Lockwood and Jasper Dennett.

There was also some fantastic defensive work and awesome support in the midfield.

Yorke Peninsula competitors played with heart and showed fantastic sportsmanship all weekend, not only making the club proud but themselves as well, they never once gave up!

Thanks to all the players and parents who made the long journey over the border, thanks to coach Kylie Cini and everyone involved in helping to organise the weekend.

Now to focus on our end-of-season carnival on Sunday, September 11.

Maitland Bowling Club scores a makeover

Although unsuccessful in a major grant application, Maitland Bowling Club premises have received some much-needed upgrades during the past few months with the help of some minor grants.

The wood panelling has disappeared and walls freshly painted, including in the office, kitchen, storerooms and bar, and these areas now look much bigger and brighter.

The old memorabilia boards have been removed and will be set up at the museum.

Updated boards were purchased using money from a Yorke Peninsula Council community grant; Bray Signs designed and made all the new honour boards and they look great.

Thanks to Barbie Brown for the many, many hours spent collating the data for this to happen, a job well done.

Grants applied for by the Maitland Rotary Club (which has its dinner meetings at the bowling club) and bridge club (which plays there every Monday), enabled the purchase of new lightweight, comfortable chairs, some with supporting armrests.

Many bridge players and club members also gave private donations, plus money received from the sale of the old chairs covered this cost.

The kitchen has a new floor covering and new splashbacks behind both ovens, in accordance with health regulations; thanks to Tom van Schaik for the installation of the splashbacks at his expense.

New glazing on both the windows and door was also installed; the entrance security doors are still to be replaced.

Thanks to the committee and members who have helped in any way to make these improvements possible.

YPHA MEN... Moonta Lion Mark Boakes tries to work past Kadina Rebel Tom Trumper.

YPHA UNDER 15... Minlaton's Violet Hoyle chases Moonta's Tahlia Voigt.

MEN
Kadina Spartans 9 d Moonta Demons 0. Best: Aidan Stock, Tim Millard, John Duka; Richard Heinrich, Rhys Flowers, Michael Smith. Goals: Aidan Stock 4, James Swan 2, Joe Stock, Aaron King, Ben Murphy. Report: Demons had their worst defeat of the year after working hard for most of the season and keeping their losing scores around the four to six goal mark. Interestingly, there were eight goals scored in the first and third quarters. Spartans didn't score in the second quarter and there was only one goal, to James Swan, in the final quarter. The second and fourth quarters were the periods of play in which the Demons had a focus on maintaining their team structure. Aidan Stock always plays well but put on a clinic as he ran from defence to attack and displayed outstanding skills, especially in Spartans' attacking D. Tim Millard is always in the play at centre halfback and John Duka made life extremely hard for the Demons. Toss in Swan's two goals and halfback Joe Stock's goal and the Spartans' goal scoring strength was too much for the Demons to counter. Richard Heinrich played well at fullback for Demons while Josh Badenoch saw a huge amount of action in the goal mouth. Rhys Flowers, Michael Smith and Kurt Daddow all tried their best but the Spartans were hot and when they're hot they showed they're hard to stop. Sporting teams which are on the improve, as the Demons are, often have reversals of form. Often these reversals precede an improvement to the team's performances. Demons will be hoping that this is the case for this particular game. Spartans' great win means they end the minor round on top of the premiership table.

Kadina Rebels 5 d Moonta Lions 0. Best: Oliver Garfield, Lachlan Harkness, Grace Mitchell; Jamie Battle, Mark Boakes, Alex Oakley. Goals: Nick Larwood, Lachlan Harkness 2, Oliver Garfield. Report: Lions, who have been holding top spot on the premiership table, got a lesson on how to play turf hockey from Rebels. Rebels' intensity on the ball and teamwork took Lions by surprise. Lions held their composure for most of the first half but still gave up two goals. Rebels had a dominant midfield with Ollie Garfield, Lachlan Harkness, Grace Mitchell and Nick Larwood being the most noticeable of the group. Tom Trumper played his usual strong role in the back lines intercepting the ball and directing traffic. At halftime Rebels led 2-0 but Lions still seemed to be in touch, even though they were being outclassed. The second half put a stop to any thoughts Lions had of taking the game away. As the half progressed, they lost confidence and their team structures started to falter. Lions' goalie Jamie Battle was outstanding as he saved many shots on goal, while full back Alex Oakley also played well. Lions centre half-back Mark Boakes tried his hardest to get Lions firing on all cylinders, but was unsuccessful. Lions were able to penetrate Rebels' defences but were unable to put the ball in the net. This was a good win for Rebels while Lions will go away lick their wounds, reflect on what needs to change, and hopefully, meet the challenge they have been given in finals.

WOMEN
Kadina Redbacks 1 d Moonta Flames 0. Best: Rebecca Smith, Caroline Roennfeldt, Tegan Mengersen; Kerriane Hage, Ashlee Frost, Lesley Ferguson. Goals: Sheree Brennan. Report: The first quarter of the game was an even affair. Both teams held their structures with the defences holding position close to their Ds. Rebecca Smith was in the play early for Kadina carrying the ball deep into attack. Moonta's defence rebounded these attacks giving Ashlee Frost and the other Moonta forwards opportunities to run the ball into the forward lines. Moonta goalie Emma Gloyne was playing another great game and turned out several attacks. Moonta's forwards were also getting into their attacking D but didn't have Kadina goalie Aviril McIntosh under quite as much pressure as Gloyne. Two of Moonta's young players, Isobel Meyer and Kelly Hoyle, were in the play and showing some good skills, especially in the first half. The second quarter opened as the first closed with neither team having an ascendancy. At the 10-minute mark of the quarter Kadina forward Sheree Brennan goaled from a short corner and this seemed to give Kadina a boost. Caroline Roennfeldt started to push further forward from full back and Rachel Mattschoss and Tegan Mengersen started to have a greater influence on the game. The momentum gathered by Kadina's backs generated more forward momentum, bringing Fenella McIntosh and the other Kadina forwards into the game. The Moonta defence retreated even closer to their defensive D. Kerriane Hage, Lesley Ferguson and Steph Treloar became more prominent as they worked hard to neutralise the Kadina attacks. In the end, the Flames defence was under intense pressure as Kadina had all the momentum. Considering this, Moonta did a good job to hold Kadina to one goal for the game.

UNDER 18
SYP 7 d Moonta 2. Best: Douglas Stock, Mackenzie McCauley, Aries Isgar; Lachlan Mill, Isobel Meyer, Madeline Peters. Goals: Douglas Stock 3, Aries Isgar 2, Mackenzie McCauley, Fenella McIntosh; Isobel Meyer, Lachlan Mill.

UNDER 15
Moonta 2 d Minlaton 0. Best: Lachlan Mill, Kiala Andrews, Marcus Powell; Alexander Redding, Patrick Johnson, Sabine Meyer. Goals: Blake Bowden, Kiala Andrews.

Maitland 4 d Kadina 0. Best: Buya Owen, Susannah Stock, Aries Isgar; Tayla Mengersen, Dexter Read, Rushton Sims. Goals: Aries Isgar 3, Susannah Stock.

UNDER 11
Moonta #1 Team 3 d YP Tigers 1. Best: Marcus Powell, Hunter Yandell, Henly Boakes; Benji Rowan, Jack Venning, Lucas Oliver-Harris. Goals: Henly Boakes 3; Jordy Graham.

Kadina 5 d Maitland 1. Best: Dexter Read, Lahni Sims, Matilda Westbrook; Isabelle Roennfeldt, Bethany Stock, Meg Ferguson. Goals: Dexter Read 2, Matilda Westbrook 2, Perry Sims; Meg Ferguson.

Moonta Dirt Bike Club Chappy Pony Express

The 10th annual Moonta Dirt Bike Club Chappy Pony Express was raced on Sunday, August 21.

Sponsored by Port Hughes Tavern owners Anthony and Nat Chapman, the event continues to be popular with riders and spectators alike.

Sub-junior, junior, intermediate and senior riders all look forward to its running each year.

This year's course meandered on and off the motocross track into scrubby sections, then out into the regular enduro course; some sections consisted of loam whilst rocks and hard pack were thrown in for good measure.

On the five kilometre course, the junior classes all rode together and, after a sight lap to familiarise themselves with the track, the flag dropped at 9.30am and racing began.

Battles raged throughout the 90 minutes set for the race with positions continually changing.

Bella and Connor Osborn, with 11 laps, were first in the intermediate class; Issac Chamberlain and Tex Price were second in the intermediate class and third outright on 10 laps; Mitchell Hodson and Brad Pahl were third in the intermediate class and fourth outright.

Junior class winners were Reece Osborn and Tom Daly with 10 laps and a creditable second outright. Charlie and Max Davidson were second with nine laps and fifth outright.

Kye Smith rode well with eight laps completed gaining him the ironman award.

Fastest lap went to Connor Osborn, seven minutes, 54 seconds on his third lap.

After the junior presentation, the senior group did their sight lap, then facing the starter's flag at noon.

Some formidable teams were on display with the racing sure to be close and exciting. Riders came from Jamestown, Adelaide, Barossa and Mid North to compete, all eager to be the next Chappy three-hour champ.

Placings below this pair changed and alternated throughout the three hours.

The track was in pristine condition and stayed that way through much of the day, although, nearing the end, some corners had rutted up and berms began to appear.

Brody Chamberlain and Andrew Arnold were first with 25 laps, second place went to Mick Daly and Daniel Hunt on 24 laps; in third were Matt Byerlee and Ben Foulis, also on 24 laps.

Brody Chamberlain achieved the fastest lap in seniors, seven minutes, two seconds.

Ryan Davidson won the ironman with 21 laps.

Other teams to do well were Gavin Hodson, Damien Pahl 21 laps; Luke Barnard and Ashley Rowan 23; Luke and Anthony Chapman 23; Andrew Green and Damon Braidblock 22; Charlie Mieglich and Shannon Daly 23.

Everyone enjoyed the track and weather.

Thanks to all the helpers throughout the day; these events could not be run without you!

Also a big thankyou to Anthony and Nat Chapman for their ongoing support of this event.

The club's next meet is on September 11.

Reliable investment or great family home

A CURRENT rental returning $335 per week, this comfortable 701 square metre allotment is a short drive to Wallaroo's cafés, supermarket and beaches, explains Ray White sales principal David Bussenschutt.

"This is an ideal property for investors, families, and everyone in between," David says.

"There are four good-sized bedrooms, the master has a walk-in robe and an ensuite, plus built-in robes in the remaining three.

"The open-plan kitchen/living area features a modern kitchen with overhead storage, an island bench with a dishwasher, and a four-burner gas cooktop.

"There is ducted air conditioning throughout the home as well as a second living space and under-cover alfresco area for easy outdoor entertaining.

"There's plenty of vehicle storage with a double garage under the main roof and direct internal access to the house."

The property has a fixed lease in place until March 2023.

Trees added to Field Days site

Patrick Goldsmith
REPORT BY

YORKE Peninsula Field Days committee members have been busy planting 70 trees on their Paskeville site thanks to important grant funding.

The committee received a $15,000 grant through the federal government's Planting Trees for The Queen's Jubilee program earlier this year.

Volunteers, most of whom were committee members, planted 70 native gum trees either side of Maitland Road on the southern side of the site.

Field Days CEO Peter Anderson said the plantings would provide valuable shade by the time the event arrived in 2023.

"Hopefully, as a result of the project we'll be able to provide a comfortable environment to visitors," he said.

along Maitland Road and therefore no shade for guests.

"We know during that time of year, it can get quite hot, so we think it would be an important addition."

Mr Anderson said grant funding goes a long way for an operation like theirs.

"It was advertised earlier this year so we approached local federal member Rowan Ramsey for his support and he did in fact provide it," he said.

"As a result we were able to lodge a full application to the federal government for the grant and luckily our application was successful.

"Any funds which we have left over from a field days event are poured back into the site, for maintenance.

"So, to complete projects like this, it's very important to receive financial support and we're very fortunate and grateful to achieve that."

The 2023 Yorke Peninsula Field Days will be held Tuesday to Thursday, September 26 to 28.

Sustainable practices being adopted

FARMERS across the country are increasingly adopting crop management practices backed by scientific research, a survey has found.

The Grains Research and Development Corporation's Farm Practices survey collected data from growers on grain and mixed enterprises across the nation to identify where, what and how they are changing their farming practices.

This was the fifth survey undertaken by GRDC since 2008 designed to help the organisation better understand on-farm practices.

This survey showed growers who were increasingly implementing changes lifted their business resilience and delivered improved productivity and profitability, while generating better environmental outcomes.

GRDC managing director Nigel Hart said the survey results were encouraging and provided invaluable insights into how Australian grain growers were using science-based research to make on-farm practice change.

"We complete this survey to help gain a better understanding of trends relating to farm management, which in turn lets us identify the gaps and target research, development and extension (RD&E) which meets grower and industry needs," Mr Hart said.

"Growers are innovative, and they are increasingly looking for ways to mitigate against factors that affect their businesses, such as seasonal weather conditions and rising input costs.

"What this survey indicates is they are implementing farming practices that deliver genuine gains to their bottom line."

The GRDC survey showed the precision agriculture practice of controlled traffic farming has also increased and was now being used on 34 per cent of the nation's cropping areas.

Variable rate technology for fertiliser application has also increased from 2011 to 2016, with notable rises in Victoria's Mallee region and eastern and northern parts of Western Australia.

Growers across 65 per cent of all cropped areas were also using soil testing to inform their management decisions, such as determining variable rates for nitrogen application.

"By soil testing and really understanding their fertiliser needs, growers can maximise the efficiency of some of these really expensive inputs costs, like nitrogen," Mr Hart said.

"Technology is one of the real game changers in agriculture, it's letting us take comprehensive data from the paddock and analyse and use it in a way we haven't been able to before to inform our farm decision making."

The survey showed a rise in the number of growers retaining stubble, with 57 per cent keeping stubble intact through to planting.

Research also found one-third of growers were using crop planting approaches which assisted with weed control, such as higher seeding rates or narrower row spacings.

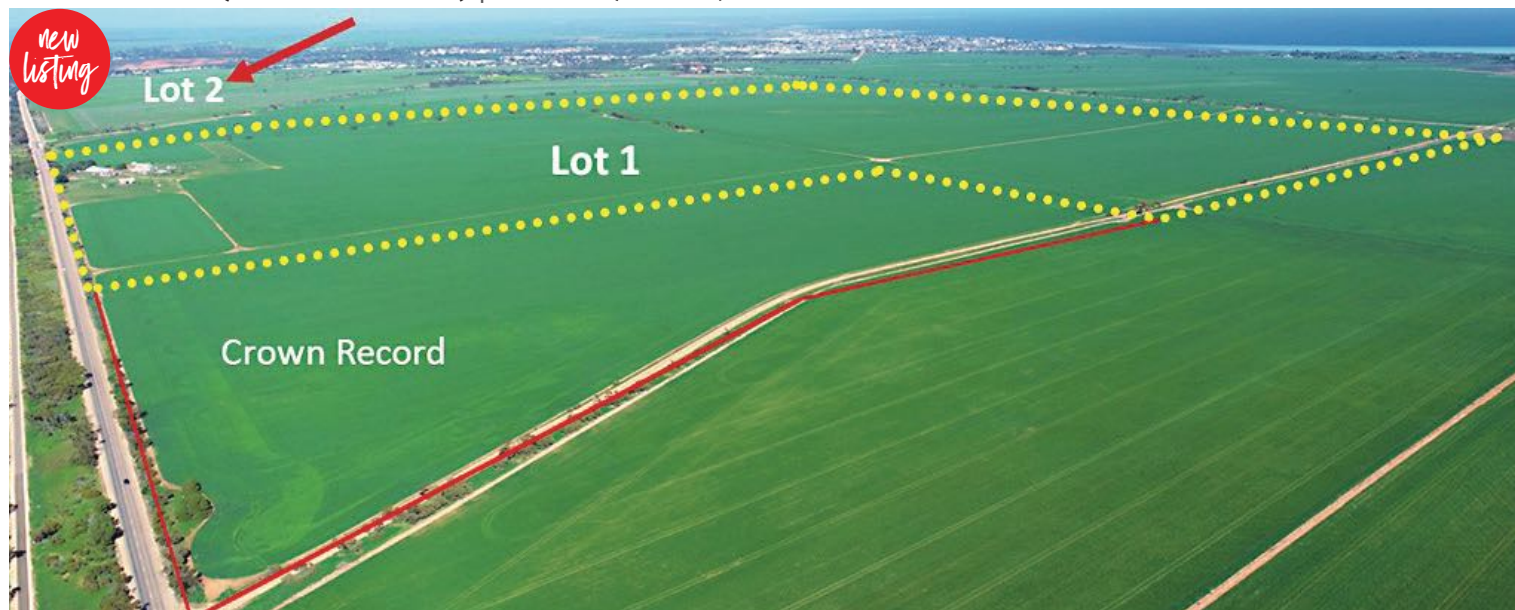

"Growers are continuing to adopt effective management practices backed by research that helps them to respond to industry challenges and ultimately ensure enduring profitability," Mr Hart said.

"As an organisation it is critical GRDC continues to work closely with growers and the broader grains industry to understand the issues and constraints, so we can invest in targeted research to address these problems."

CSIRO researchers are piloting the release of a Colombian fungus to help landholders tackle flaxleaf fleabane.

Flaxleaf fleabane (Conyza bonariensis) is a fast-spreading weed from South America which damages cropping and grazing areas across Australia and impacts the livelihoods of many primary producers.

CSIRO weed ecologist Dr Ben Gooden said flaxleaf fleabane was estimated to affect nearly three million hectares of land in Australia and cause grain crop revenue losses of more than $43 million each year.

"As flaxleaf fleabane has developed resistance to some herbicides, we hope the biocontrol agent will be effective in reducing its populations across the country," he said.

"We identified a rust fungus called Puccinia cnici-oleracei in Colombia which infects flaxleaf fleabane and restricts it from growing by destroying the plant's tissues."

The fungus was imported into CSIRO's high-security quarantine facility in Canberra where scientists studied it extensively to determine if it would be safe to introduce to Australia as a biocontrol agent.

"Our research found the fungus can only infect flaxleaf fleabane, while all non-target plant species tested were resistant to it," Dr Gooden said.

"Based on this research, the fungus is deemed to be safe and has been approved by the Department of Agriculture, Fisheries and Forestry for introduction to Australia."

Flaxleaf fleabane grows up to one metre and is a prolific seed producer.

Each plant can produce more than 100,000 seeds and these can disperse long distances with the help of wind, water, animals, and vehicles.

GRDC manager weeds Dr Jason Emms said grain growers had been battling flaxleaf fleabane for many years as the weed competes for soil water across multiple stages of the crop cycle, which directly impacts production.

"Flaxleaf fleabane can run rampant during the fallow phase as there is little competition for light or moisture. Once established it is very difficult to control," Dr Emms said.

"A biocontrol agent for this problematic weed is very exciting as it may help to reduce overall populations when integrated with existing weed management strategies."

Landholders wishing to participate in the program can register at fleabanebiocontrol@csiro.au.

CONTROL... CSIRO weed ecologist Dr Ben Gooden said flaxleaf fleabane was one of the most difficult-to-control weeds in grain cropping systems.

New approach to avoid frost damage

SCIENTISTS are taking a new approach to research the ways grain growers can protect against or avoid frost damage in wheat, barley and canola crops.

Frosts are difficult to predict, understand and manage and can have a significant impact on growers, their families and their communities.

For wheat alone, it is estimated frost causes losses to the Australian grains industry of approximately $400 million per year.

The research by GRDC and a consortium led by Field Applied Research Australia will trial novel in-season approaches, across varying agro-ecological zones and multiple seasons, to provide growers with confidence in adopting new management strategies to mitigate frost risk.

The project will explore how crop phenology — the biological life of a plant and how it is impacted by seasonal and climatic conditions — can be manipulated using approaches such as plant growth regulators or mechanical defoliation.

It will also examine the crop protection capacity of commercially available products for controlling ice nucleation active bacteria in the three crops.

The project will be led by FAR Australia's Dr Kenton Porter and includes a multi-disciplinary team of research partners such as the Western Australian Department of Primary Industries and Regional Development, CSIRO, Birchip Cropping Group, Frontier Farming, Living Farm, Mallee Sustainable Farming, EP Ag Research, NSW Department of Primary Industries, South Australian Research and Development Institute, and the University of Adelaide.

Dr Porter said frost was a difficult issue to solve, and any additional tools growers could use to mitigate frost risk were always well received.

"The key to this project is determining what strategies can be used in conjunction with genetics and development speed to de-risk early sowing (germination)," he said.

"We will take this research across multiple agro-ecological zones and identify where and when avoiding frost by delaying development may be a viable option for growers."

Dr Porter said avoiding frost by shifting development may not be appropriate for some regions, where the risk of heat was higher, or where avoidance strategies trade off unacceptable growth and yield reductions.

"The key to this project is determining what strategies can be used in conjunction with genetics and development speed to de-risk early sowing (germination)."

— Dr Kenton Porter,
FAR Australia

"This project works towards minimising the direct impact on grain yield and on-farm profitability caused by frost damage across a significant proportion of Australia's grain growing regions," Dr Uys Lourens, GRDC manager agronomy, soils and farming systems — west said.

The project will include both field and controlled environment experiments and will be run over three seasons.

FROST RESEARCH... A consortium of researchers, including GRDC's manager agronomy, soils and farming systems — west Dr Uys Lourens, are investigating new ways to avoid frost.

THRIVEAGRI, AgTrade's animal nutrition division, is the new owner of the former SP Hay facility at Paskeville.

General manager Charlie Brown said the business was keen to develop strong relationships with local growers to support the long-term prosperity of the region's farming industries.

"As part of the AgTrade Group, ThriveAgri are big believers in doing what we said we were going to do," Mr Brown said.

"Our priority is to build long-standing relationships with the region's farmers to show we will be a reliable partner, consistently requiring locally grown fodder.

"Our business is also keen to employ good, hardworking locals and we have a variety of positions available.

"We want to become engrained in the local community and ultimately be supportive business partners."

AgTrade is wholly Australian owned and runs a variety of agrifood supply chain businesses, including one of the world's largest cattle exporting enterprises, AUSTREX, which has operations spread across Australia, NZ, China, Indonesia, Vietnam, the Americas and the Middle East.

Mr Brown believes AUSTREX's business provides a foundation for ThriveAgri's hay trade and exports.

"AUSTREX is one of the premier exporters in the country," Mr Brown said.

"There are currently both northern feeder cattle exports to Indonesia, as well as more than 100,000 breeding and dairy cattle exports to parts of Asia from southern Australia and New Zealand.

"By expanding on these dairy cattle export locations and building upon them with hay exports from places like South Australia, we are building strong customer relationships with our partners overseas.

"The benefit of owning four locations, is it allows us to diversify our own risk.

"If one of our suppliers struggles or is affected by drought and floods, our customers won't lose out because of it."

Mr Brown said the exportation of hay had been a long-term plan for the company.

"Other hay exporters started out as farmers and grew into exporting, we started as cattle exporters and then developed into the hay business," he said.

"We have deals to supply hay to domestic east coast consumers.

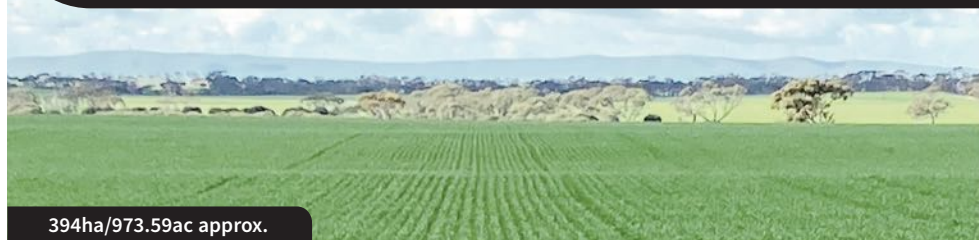

"Additionally, we are one of the country's largest users of hay, so we aren't solely reliant on trade and export."

Mr Brown is optimistic the Paskeville site will be fully functional by Christmas with a staff of 15 to 20.

ACQUISITION... ThriveAgri general manager Charlie Brown is eager to work with local farmers and growers after AgTrade's acquisition of SP Hay's former Paskeville storage site.

Delivering solutions for industries

Advertising Promotion

TECHGROW has always prided itself on providing innovative and best-in-class solutions to the everyday needs of farmers and business owners across Yorke Peninsula and the state's Mid North.

This desire to truly understand the job at hand has never been more beneficial than with the Spitwater range of products, where small variations in the operator's requirements can mean one product might be much better suited than another.

"This is the beauty of Spitwater — the diverse product range means there is a perfect unit for every job," a Techgrow spokesperson said.

"Across the pressure cleaner range there are single and 3-phase electric, petrol and diesel units of varying capacities, which all fit along the spectrum of light, medium or heavy-duty cycles.

"Light duty units are perfect for occasional use while medium duty caters for semi-frequent use by operators familiar with the product.

"Heavy duty units are best suited to frequent use (multiple hours per day) and, importantly, when the machine is being operated by various people.

"This is due to the in-built safety features which protect the pressure cleaner from undue damage caused by being operated incorrectly.

"Getting the right duty cycle is crucial to ensuring your pressure cleaning unit lasts the test of time, and provides the desired cleaning result day in, day out."

Another great aspect of the Spitwater range is the number of innovative options and attachments available, designed to carry out specific jobs across all industries including agriculture, manufacturing, construction, mining, and general commercial cleaning.

From foamer kits to cover your farm machinery, trucks or vehicles in a thick layer of chemical agent prior to pressure cleaning, to units designed specifically for plumbers to clear blocked drains, there is a Spitwater solution for all industries," the spokesperson said.

"With all units backed up by stocked parts and accessories, we also provide service for all models in house or on site."

To discuss your cleaning or heating requirements, be sure to contact your local Spitwater sales and service dealer, Techgrow.

SOLUTIONS... Techgrow showroom manager Mitch Reynolds and national sales manager Nick Pearce with some of the diverse Spitwater units and accessories.

State to lead in on-farm emission measuring

SOUTH Australian farmers will be the first to trial technology to measure and assist in reducing on-farm emissions for grain producers.

The technology, FLINTpro, allows Australian farmers to evaluate, benchmark and communicate the environmental footprint of their production.

FLINTpro for Farms technology uses a cradle-to-farm-gate approach, measuring not only the greenhouse gas output of on-farm activities, but also the embedded emissions which are found elsewhere in the supply chain, including fertilisers, chemicals and diesel.

The joint state government/Grain Producers SA funded project will be delivered by GPSA through the Mullion Group.

The trial will be evaluated for its potential roll-out on completion.

"The trial of this technology right here in South Australia, using 10 of our grain producers, will help find a credible, reliable solution to understanding a farm's environment footprint applicable to South Australian conditions," Minister for Primary Industries Clare Scriven said.

Big crowd welcomed at YP AG Farmer Tech Day

Advertising Promotion

THE 17th annual YP AG Farmer Technology Day was held near Thomas Plains last Wednesday, August 24.

Just more than 100 people were in attendance to inspect the latest innovations and trial work from YP AG agronomists and the industry's leading presenters.

YP AG research agronomist Alex Burbury welcomed everyone to the super site and thanked the Harris family for allowing YP AG to hold the event on their property.

Alex was grateful for the help of YP AG graduate agronomist Brianna Schaefer throughout the season with the site, as well as the suppliers who had contributed to the trials.

The first trial was the disc versus tine trial where YP AG agriservices agronomist Darryn Schilling, of Bute, gave information about how pre-emergent herbicides affected wheat under the two very different seeding systems.

Maximising the establishment of your crop is paramount to optimising the yield potential of the crop, so it is important to understand how pre-emergent herbicides interact using different seeding systems, and what this means for crop effect.

Growers got an insight into how pre-emergent herbicides work differently in different seasons according to the soil moisture conditions and how much rain falls at what intensity.

A lot of treatments had very visual differences in both crop effect and annual ryegrass control, depending on the mobility and solubility of the herbicide.

YP AG agriservices agronomist Chris Davey, of Kadina, ran the group through the broadleaf weed control in lentils trial.

There is a plethora of different mixes used across the peninsula for controlling broadleaf weeds in lentils, with many growers having different pre-emergent mixes for different paddocks, or even different varieties.

The trial was split into those treatments currently available to growers, and those which may be in the pipeline for weed control or lentil varietal herbicide tolerance.

After a filling lunch, Alex presented information on the options available to control ryegrass in lentils.

This trial demonstrated the importance of new pre-emergent herbicides which provide farmers with a different mode of action to control ryegrass on Yorke Peninsula.

Some of the new herbicides trialled have the added benefit of broadleaf weed control also, an added bonus for local growers.

A collaborative presentation from Dom Meaney, YP AG Maitland, and Troy Johnson, YP AG Yorketown, looked into how lentil nutrition and disease management can be fine-tuned.

Some treatments assessed the response of biological seeding products which may aid the lentil with a better root system to take up more nutrients, as well as better defend against diseases like ascochyta.

Dom mentioned how fungicides should be treated similarly to herbicides, by rotating the mode of action groups in lentil crops.

This led directly into the variety trials where Larn McMurray, GIA, and Nat Lloyd, YP AG Kadina, ran through the new lentil varieties available to growers.

Better disease resistance, higher yields and novel herbicide tolerance traits were all on display.

Calibre wheat from AGT gained a lot of interest from the audience, as did Brumby wheat from Intergrain.

Brumby is the first new wheat variety released in a long while with resistance to powdery mildew, a problematic disease on northern Yorke Peninsula.

Ryley handed over to Nick Wells-Smith from Sipcam who talked about a new herbicide tolerant barley variety called Titan AX.

Titan AX has been bred in partnership with AGT to tolerate Aggressor herbicide, which contains the group A fop active ingredient, quizalofop.

Titan AX may be an alternative to growing Imi-tolerant barley varieties, giving farmers a chance to control volunteer wheat, and susceptible brome grass and barley grass in their barley.

Alex concluded the day by thanking farming co-operators, the Harris family, guest speakers, suppliers, YP AG agronomy presenters, and YP AG staff who had assisted in making the day such a success with setting up and cooking the barbecue.

Match your pre-emergent herbicide to your sowing system

Advertising Promotion

THERE were several take-home messages from YP AG agriservices agronomist Darryn Schilling's presentation.

His trial compared tined and disc seeding systems, and the effect different pre-emergent herbicides have on both crop effect and weed control.

Darryn ran the large group through an elaborate trial designed to answer the questions about what contributes to the least crop effect, while still giving an acceptable level of weed control, in particular ryegrass control.

With recent resistance testing picking up annual ryegrass resistance to a lot of common pre-emergent herbicides, such as trifluralin, prosulfocarb and triallate, it leaves a limited number of herbicides available for ryegrass control, especially in a disc system.

Older products like trifluralin failed to control the resident ryegrass population adequately, with the resultant control poor due to measured resistance in the district of 30 to 95 per cent.

"When looking to make a pre-emergent herbicide choice to control annual ryegrass, it is important to know its resistance status, as well as the herbicide's mobility and solubility in the soil," Darryn said.

"We had quite a different start to the 2022 growing season, with a late break coupled with some very heavy rainfall events.

"Some pre-emergent herbicides are quite water soluble, meaning they will move readily with the soil moisture band through the soil.

"Others are more mobile, where they are bound less onto soil or organic matter in or on the soil."

The trial was done at the YP AG super site, as an opportunity arose to compare the landowner's disc system with that of the tined system on the YP AG trial seeder.

"The first step to the movement of the herbicide in the soil is to consider the soil texture, as well as be aware of the forecast rain pending," Darryn said.

"Minimising soil throw by the seeding system will contribute greatly to crop safety, so growers are encouraged to be aware of how much soil throw is occurring by their seeder.

"This will vary from season to season, and soil type to soil type, depending on how much moisture is in the soil.

"Not all disc machines are the same, as some do not disturb the soil at all, while others throw as much soil as what a tined implement does.

"This is critical to know when choosing your pre-emergent herbicide, so you minimise any potential crop effect, like we have seen the previous couple of years.

"There is a fine line between crop effect and successful weed control, with that line changing every season."

For any further information on the tined versus disc trial, or to have your annual ryegrass samples sent in for resistance testing, please speak to your local YP AG agronomist.

BIG CROWD... The throng of attendees make the journey for the first talk of the day with YP AG agriservices agronomist Darryn Schilling.

Southern Eagles
Football & Netball Club

Senior Coaching Positions – Netball & Football

The Southern Eagles Football & Netball Club is seeking applications for senior coaching positions for football and netball for the 2023 season.

The coaches will work closely with the football and netball management committees and possess the following qualities and skills:

- Knowledge of consistent and best practice coaching policies, individual and team development plans in addition to game plans that will provide the club with the greatest opportunity for on-field/court success
- Ability to manage the on-field/court performance and wellbeing of our players while also providing leadership within the club as a whole (i.e. mentoring other coaches, fostering junior development, etc)
- Ability to understand, abide by, implement, and monitor the Club Code of Conduct for coaches and players
- Possession of outstanding leadership, communication and interpersonal skills, well-developed knowledge, and expertise in building a high-performance team environment
- The ability to lead and embed not only a winning team culture as well as a healthy, thriving, inclusive club culture, which epitomises our club values and sets the club up for long-term success

About our club

The Southern Eagles Football & Netball Club was formed in 1994 when it combined the Western United, Yorketown and Edithburgh Football Clubs and joined the YPFL league. We are a family-orientated local football club with a long and proud history. Situated at the base of Yorke Peninsula and surrounded by beautiful beaches and farming land, we have players and members from all walks of life. We are proud of each and every one, and all they bring to the club's history and future.

How to apply

Apply now with your CV and covering letter addressing the above selection criteria to Wendy Ault (Secretary) at southerneaglesfnc@gmail.com. Enquiries can be directed to Simon Rowe (President) on 0408 841 722. Playing and non-playing coaches will be considered for the roles. Remuneration negotiable.

Positions Vacant

Yorke Peninsula Council is seeking applications for the management of the Port Vincent Foreshore Caravan Park.

Located 200kms from Adelaide, Port Vincent is a beautiful peaceful coastal town, with a magnificent coastline and sheltered bay. The Caravan Park is a warm friendly space, centrally located in the township and is within easy walking distance of all facilities. The park is an ideal base from which to explore the Peninsula, from the historic Copper Coast to the rugged and spectacular southern tip including the Innes National Park.

The Port Vincent Foreshore Caravan Park is operated by the Yorke Peninsula Council, and the appointed managers will be required to work with Council and within the requirements of the Local Government Act.

Council is looking to secure the services of Managers who do, or are prepared to operate as a company (on a contractual basis) and be responsible for the management, maintenance, cleaning, repair and upkeep of the caravan park. This position is being offered on a fixed term management agreement.

This is a unique opportunity for highly motivated couples or individuals to work with Council to grow the caravan park and deliver services as outlined above. Ideally you will have previous experience in operating similar facilities, possess outstanding customer service skills and have a comprehensive understanding of computer operations. The successful applicants should be ready to commence management as of 30 November 2022.

APPLICATION INFORMATION

To obtain further information and an application pack, please contact Muriel Scholz Caravan Parks Coordinator on (08) 8832 0000 or via email (admin@yorke.sa.gov.au).

Applications close at 5.00pm Monday 5 September 2022.

DEFENCE PROOF & EXPERIMENTAL ESTABLISHMENT PORT WAKEFIELD: LIVE FIRING RANGE WARNING NOTICE

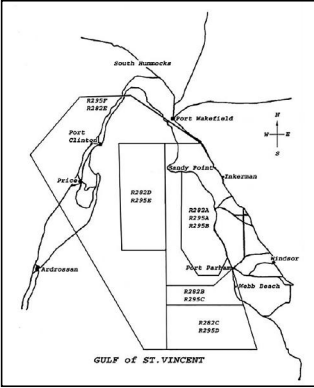

Test and evaluation activities involving static firings and/or firings of naval and artillery weapons are conducted at the Proof and Experimental Establishment Port Wakefield throughout the year. The Proof and Experimental Establishment Port Wakefield is a vital Defence test and evaluation capability that has supported Defence since 1929.

These firings may require specific tidal or weather conditions, and are critical for the safety of current and new Defence capabilities. Members of the public may notice noise, vibration, flashes and/or smoke during the testing. There is no risk to the public outside of the gazetted Defence Practice Areas.

For reasons of public safety, there is a permanent exclusion zone covering land, sea and air around the Port Wakefield Establishment. Specific details on the Port Wakefield Prohibited Area can be obtained from Commonwealth of Australia Gazette No GN 26, 4 July 1990, and is shown on the diagram below. Trespassing in this Area is strictly prohibited and very dangerous due to the presence of unexploded bombs. Any person found within the Prohibited Area or on Defence land will be subject to prosecution.

Specific test and evaluation activities may also require restricting public access to the Port Wakefield Defence Practice Areas over specific periods with these areas articulated in the Commonwealth of Australia Gazette No. GN 40, 7 October 1992, and also identified on the diagram below. This may affect access to the Gulf of St Vincent at Port Wakefield and Port Parham.

If any member of the public has inquiries in relation to these activities, please contact Proof & Experimental Establishment Port Wakefield – Range Control on (08) 8867 0270 between 8.00am and 4.30pm weekdays or the Proof & Experimental Establishment Port Wakefield – Security Office on (08) 8867 0299 outside these hours.

Starscopes

♈ ARIES—March 21-April 20
This is a great week for planning. The more you plan now, the easier it will be. Some novel problems may happen close to home. The weekend is for playing host.

♉ TAURUS—April 21-May 22
This week should be off to a wonderfully successful start. A realistic approach is favoured, as fancy dreams can hold you back. Be better tuned to family goings-on and health needs.

♊ GEMINI—May 23-June 21
Variation is the keyword, with a change much more exciting than rest. Don't fancy yourself as a mind reader - your intuition is feeble. A food oriented function could be the highlight of the week.

♋ CANCER—June 22-July 22
Distractions put you behind schedule and part of the weekend may be devoted to work. Your intuition may be strong this week. Chance encounters and pesty neighbours are all in the picture.

♌ LEO—July 23-August 22
Your plans go askew on Thursday or Friday, but the unflappable Leo makes the most of things. Take time out this weekend for pure pleasure. Overdue congratulations surprises you.

♍ VIRGO—August 23-September 22
A family conference can take place now, with several unusual items on the agenda. Breathe new life into old jobs. Culture and recreation is both favoured over the weekend.

♎ LIBRA—September 23-October 22
Your popularity rides high until Sunday, then your social life suddenly becomes hushed. Dream up romantic ideas and get on with creative projects. There may be some profits in a new hobby.

♏ SCORPIO—October 23-November 21
This week be prepared to deal with friction among relatives, but look forward to loosening the moneybelt. Outdoor recreation is encouraged. Romance is at up tempo.

♐ SAGITTARIUS—November 22-December 22
This is not the week for big risks, but little ones can prove fun, at least. Resist leanings to be suspicious of mysterious friends. Increase in personal contacts, decrease in correspondence.

♑ CAPRICORN—December 23-January 20
Don't forget to think about new programmes and goals. An unusual message arrives during the weekend. In romance, it could be to your advantage to make the first move.

♒ AQUARIUS—January 21-February 19
Restraint is needed in money matters during the week - then hopefully a small windfall may arrive on the weekend. Stick to theories despite an apparent lack of success.

♓ PISCES—February 20-March 20
Manual skills are not your strong point, so don't be a Mr or Ms fix-it. If you have health worries, listen to a health professional.

BIRTHDAY THIS WEEK
You are the proverbial eternal student - yet a student who seldom learns from mistakes. You are also a powerhouse of energy. The year ahead stresses energy conservation. Spend more time planning and developing - and watch resources grow.

The Peanut Butter Falcon - a feelgood adventure

BASED on real-life events, Neftlix's The Peanut Butter Falcon is a feelgood adventure with a touch of inspiration.

Using a short and simple storyline, the 2019 film features aspects of the life of Zack Gottsagen, who has Down syndrome.

Gottsagen plays Zak, while Shia LaBeouf plays homeless man Tyler.

Having both endured their fair share of life challenges, the pair quickly learn of their similarities which strengthens their bond and builds plenty of resilience.

I particularly enjoyed the short, punchy plot which cut to the main issues in a heartbeat and made for a fairly easy watch.

Picking up a 95 per cent rating on Rotten Tomatoes and 7.6/10 on IMDB, this is a good example of a small-budget film capitalising on some good acting and strong storyline.

No doubt able to grab some viewers' attention

through its unique headline, The Peanut Butter Falcon is the nickname Zak decides on when he gets in the wrestling ring, a dream he has long had.

Overall, it's hard to discard the effectiveness of this film through impressive acting and inspirational connotations.

#Throwback

This day in history

August 30, 2005: Hurricane Katrina devastates much of the US Gulf Coast from Louisiana to Florida Panhandle, killing 1836 people in its wake.

August 30, 1988: American actress Julianne Philips files for divorce from American rock star Bruce Springsteen.

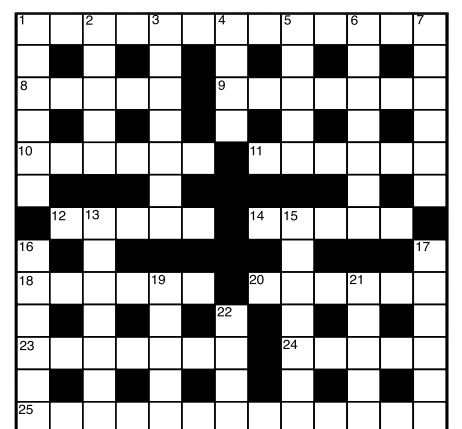

August 30, 2014: NBA basketball star Dwyane Wade, aged 32, weds actress Gabrielle Union, 41, at Miami's Chateau Artisan castle.

What's been Trending

Special appearance: Australian Prime Minister Anthony Albanese brings NBA legend Shaquille "Shaq" O'Neal to a press conference to discuss the federal government's Indigenous Voice to Parliament referendum.

Royal stir: Meghan Markle claims "just by existing", she and Prince Harry were "upsetting the dynamic" of the Royal institution, in a new interview. She said the couple was barred from stepping back from official duties despite other members of the Royal Family previously being allowed to do so.

HOT FISHING TIPS

www.gregjamesfishing.com.au

Welcome to the column with all the hot tips for fishing around Yorke Peninsula; contact Greg by email at greg@gregjamesfishing.com.au.

Recipe: Fish and pumpkin red curry –
Ingredients: Splash olive oil, 1 chopped brown onion, fresh ginger, red curry paste, 400ml coconut cream, 500g peeled and chopped pumpkin, brown sugar, splash of fish sauce, 500g white fish pieces (mullet, salmon trout, tommies), 250g snow peas, 250g white rice, lemon/lime juice and coriander (garnish). Preparation: Heat oil in saucepan to high, cook onion, brown sugar, ginger and curry paste for a minute. Add coconut cream, chopped pumpkin, fish sauce, bring to boil and cover. Reduce heat to medium and simmer for 4-5mins. Add fish and snow peas and cook through. Cook rice separately, add lemon juice to fish curry, garnish with coriander and serve with a glass of your favourite Traminer white wine.

Wallaroo: Fishers made the most of the good weather late in the week for King George whiting, red mullet and squid from the Boiler grounds. Big flathead can also be caught off the beach at Bird Island. The jetty has a few squid.

Moonta Bay/Port Hughes: Decent catches of whiting, squid and garfish have come from Cape Elizabeth and Tipara Reef. Both jetties are worth a try for garfish, tommy ruff (Australian herring) and squid.

Port Victoria: Steady catches of KG whiting from Rocky and Green Islands with bigger whiting in seven metres of water out from Second Beach. Bait of choice was cockle.

Stenhouse Bay/Marion Bay: Both jetties have tommies, green mackerel and squid at night. Browns Beach has mullet and the Dust Bowl has salmon trout. Boat crews enjoyed the odd trip out for KG whiting, flathead, sweep and garfish around at Hillock beach.

Edithburgh: Big whiting can be caught from Troubridge Light and Tapley Shoals, but be ready for small to medium snapper which must be returned to the water. Port Giles has medium whiting, garfish and squid. A couple of early season blue swimmer crabs are up around Coobowie.

Ardrossan: Mixed bags of KG whiting, gar and squid can be caught north of Rogues Point and out from Tiddy Widdy beach. The jetty again has tommies, mullet and squid.

Tight lines and see you next week!

SHORT ODDS

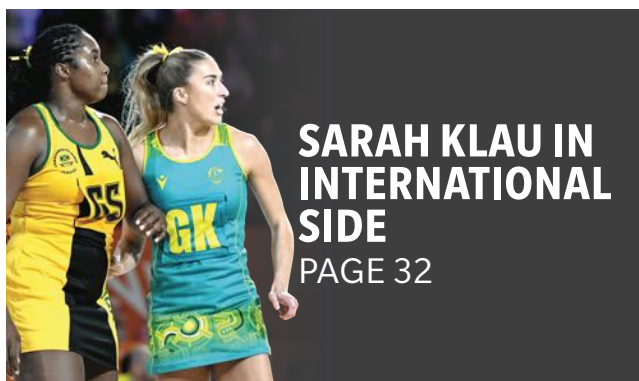

BACK TO BACK... Murphy Short, CMS Crows, claimed his second YPFL A grade Mail Medal at Maitland last night (Monday, August 29). After also receiving the accolade in season 2021, this time around Short received 25 votes ahead of Southern Eagles' Nathan Allen on 21 and CY Cougars' Zac Bates on 20. Moonta's Aidan Turner was named the best under 21 player. The B grade count was also a back-to-back affair, with a tie for the second year running. Kadina's Isaac Glasgow and Paskeville's Mike Daniel were named joint winners with 15 votes. CMS Crow Kai Newbold was the runner-up with 13 votes and Moonta's Dylan Slack third with 12.
