Rex commits to next phase, ramps up plans

Patrick Goldsmith
REPORT BY

REX Minerals has committed to moving forward with financing and operational plans for its Hillside copper-gold mine project, south of Ardrossan.

The company has announced it will seek finance worth $850 million to begin construction of the project.

However, farmers on neighbouring lands continue to raise concerns about the mine's environmental impact.

Subject to finance, stage one including delivery of the first concentrate, has been scheduled for late 2025, with processing plant construction set to begin next year and general mine operation in 2024.

Rex expects to provide employment for more than 500 people during site construction and more than 400 during operations.

The mine is expected to produce 42,000 tonnes of copper and 30,000 ounces of gold each year for the first 11 years of operation.

Rex CEO Richard Laufmann said the company remained on track to become a significant Australian copper producer.

"Despite the current global headwinds, the economics remain robust, and Hillside is planned to be in production at a time when the world will require a significant amount of copper to drive global electrification initiatives," he said.

"We have received strong interest from a range of external financiers, traditional and non-traditional lenders, equipment suppliers and the major copper smelters and metal trading companies.

"This is an exciting time for copper developers, for Rex Minerals, for shareholders, and for the South Australian and local communities which are poised to reap regional economic benefit from Hillside."

Road concerns

I HAVE two major concerns regarding extreme road hazards which I am sure have not gone unnoticed by Yorke Peninsula motorists.

The first is the Great Gully on the Arthurlton to Kadina road about three kilometres out from Arthurlton.

It is an absolute joke this deep trench has not been rectified other than a Hazard ahead sign placed as a quick fix to the problem.

This is a main arterial road and a speed limit of 100km/h applies.

This is the recipe for a major disaster, even loss of life, unless something is urgently done to eradicate this trench.

I have watched interstate visitors' caravans hit this trench at 80km/h and almost lose total control of their vans.

I suggest the Department for Infrastructure and Transport investigate and solve this immediately.

Second on list is the intersection of Second and Fifth Streets in Ardrossan.

Once again, we have another Great Gully and this one is an absolute joke by those responsible for its creation.

Another hazard sign is a band-aid solution and does not account for all the driver discomfort, exhaust systems and boat motor damage caused.

There are also the crossover works at Bridge Road and High Street with the same problem but not quite as severe as the other one previously mentioned.

Surely the state must get involved to rectify these sorts of dangers and drivers' comfort if they are serious about the reason they are employed by we taxpayers.

Great work

FIRSTLY, I would like thank my wonderful team of dedicated traffic marshals for their valuable work towards another local event.

You always do an excellent and professional job.

If you would like to become a traffic marshal, I am organising a training course in the New Year and would like to attract around 40 to 50 new volunteers.

The Moonta Christmas Pageant has revived itself after the experiences and restrictions caused by Covid-19.

It was heart warming to see the community involvement and the many floats in the parade.

We hope to see about 40 floats next year.

So much work by so many.

The Moonta and District Progress Association should be commended for the time and effort involved with preparing and maintaining many of the floats and all the behind the scenes tasks.

The Christmas Carols at the Moonta oval was held as a separate event and is a very important part of our Cornish heritage.

I am still amazed at the number of people who are not aware that Carols By Candlelight actually started at Moonta in the 1800s.

Thank you to every person who attended or contributed towards these events.

Let the tradition live on.

OUR VIEW

Signing out from 2022

I LOVE lists.

So much so, my desk is essentially covered with them, much to the chagrin of many people whom I work with.

Writing down things and ticking them off as I finish them gives me a sense of achievement and accomplishment.

Lists really come into their own at this time of year but I am horrible at sticking to New Year's resolutions.

The only success I've had is through convincing myself they're goals, and I can tick them off the list like I would any normal day.

My goals for 2023 aren't complex, and a big chunk have to do with work.

I will be better at making time for activities like yoga, and I will leave work earlier than I do now.

I am really excited for what next year will bring to our paper.

This year, our wonderful team produced 51 editions.

That's almost 3000 pages of news and sport, and does not even include the property guides, football and netball season previews, grand final lift-outs and Christmas greetings amongst other features.

We also created our first two issues of Yorkes Magazine, of which we are all incredibly proud.

Next year promises to be even bigger as we bring you all the news and sport of the region combined with coverage of the Kernewek Lowender, Masters Games and YP Field Days, and two more brilliant magazines.

My work goals are simple — I want us to continue to better our coverage of issues across the region.

We want to tell the stories of our communities, to share successes and support each other after losses.

There are some exciting things happening next year, and I'm looking forward to getting started.

But first, we're taking a short break to recharge our batteries ready for the New Year.

Locals raise Rex doubts

BRENTON Davey, of Pine Point, said he believed Rex would find it incredibly difficult to fund the project.

Mr Davey, whose family has owned land neighbouring the proposed mine site for 150 years, said they've been opposing the development since 2007.

"I don't want them destroying a future generation of farming," he said.

"We know from the original little Hillside mine at this site, that everyone who has touched it has gone bust, and I think history will repeat itself and it'll happen again.

"They haven't got finance yet and they're struggling to get it (finance) to construct this project, and, with the economic climate we've got here now, that's only going to get worse.

"Furthermore, they've been given a deadline by the Department for Energy and Mining to commence mining by the end of year; they haven't even started the roads, which need to be completed first"

One of the first projects Rex must complete is a diversion of the Yorke Highway, further east to the St Vincent Gulf and south towards Pine Point.

A Department for Energy and Mining spokesperson said Rex had notified the department it would start mining operations by December 31 this year.

"Early works will include road diversion works, groundwater and geotechnical investigations, together with ongoing community engagement and other supporting activities," the spokesperson said.

"Since approval of the PEPR in 2020, DEM has focused significant regulatory effort to the oversight of the Hillside Project to ensure Rex Minerals adheres to all regulatory requirements and obligations.

"Should Rex Minerals breach its regulatory requirements, DEM will apply its compliance tools in accordance with the requirements of the Mining Act 1971 and compliance and enforcement policy.

"The Mining Lease for the Hillside mine was granted to Rex Minerals on September 16, 2014, and expires on September 15, 2035."

CONCERNS... Pine Point farmer Brenton Davey has concerns about Rex Minerals' project south of Ardrossan.

CCC becomes a Sister Town

Sister town agreement

- THE towns shall agree to the following:
- Heritage and culture — To promote and facilitate a better understanding of each other's heritage, culture and values
 - Education — To promote and facilitate the knowledge and cooperation of our young people, businesses and community organisations through the support of personal and professional development opportunities
 - Tourism — To promote and facilitate shared tourism opportunities
 - Commerce — To promote and facilitate knowledge, expertise and cooperation in trade and economic development opportunities
 - Sport — To promote and facilitate sport and health opportunities

SISTERS... Camborne Town Council mayor Zoe Fox and Copper Coast Council mayor Roslyn Talbot, with Cornish Association of SA Yorke Peninsula branch president Liz Coole, formalise a Sister Town Agreement between the two councils on Tuesday, December 13.

Fin Hansen
REPORT BY

COPPER Coast Council has formally inked a Sister Town Agreement with Camborne Town Council, Cornwall.

The two councils held a joint signing to formalise the sistership at 8.30pm (11am in Cornwall) on Tuesday, December 13.

The agreement is set to acknowledge Copper Coast's Cornish heritage, while promoting the education, tourism, commerce and sport of Cornwall.

CCC mayor Roslyn Talbot said she was pleased to finally sign the agreement.

"A lot of work has gone into formalising the agreement," Mrs Talbot said.

"At our end, the initiative was instigated by Councillor Brent Walker and Cornish Association of SA Yorke Peninsula branch president Liz Coole.

"This relationship enables us to promote and understand each other's heritage, culture and values and further enhance our Cornish offerings to tourists.

"Schools, businesses, tourism and community organisations will have the opportunity to build relationships with their counterparts in Camborne for personal, professional and educational opportunities."

Mrs Coole said the agreement had been in the works for more than five years.

"I'm particularly excited about this partnership with the Kernewek Lowender Cornish Festival celebrating 50 years in 2023 (May 25-21)," she said.

"This sistership will be a great way to draw people to Moonta Mines and other areas of the Copper Coast."

Out at sea for three more years

Patrick Goldsmith
REPORT BY

YORKE Peninsula Council will push ahead with its plan to upgrade the boat launching facility at Marion Bay; however, the project won't be completed for at least another three years.

YPC elected members voted last Wednesday, December 14, to endorse the boat ramp design and commit in principle to fund construction should they be successful through the South Australian Boating Facilities Fund.

The Fund is committed for the next two years, rendering funding unavailable until the 2025-26 financial year.

The project has been costed at $2.7 million; however, council expects rising building costs will mean the figure jumps to $3m by the time funding is available.

Should it gain funding, council may be eligible to receive up to 80 per cent of the total project cost, leaving it with a contribution of $600,000 (for a total project worth $3m).

CEO Andrew Cameron said, while the ramp is owned and controlled by council, it's acknowledged the costs involved are beyond its financial capacity.

"Council has committed to funding the construction of the facility, subject to receiving funds from the South Australian Boating Facilities Fund," he said.

The designs for the new ramp feature two lanes for different length vessels, a walkway between, wave attenuation past the ramp end and parking space for 36 vehicles with trailers and 12 cars.

Marion Bay resident Craig Thompson said it was ridiculous the community and tourists should be forced to wait another three years for a facility.

"Don't get me wrong we appreciate the work done by YPC, in particular director assets and infrastructure services Andre Kompler, for getting the ramp proposal this far," he said.

"It's all very well to say it's going ahead but then to say in another three years is downright disgusting.

"Surely, after so long in discussion with the South Australian Boating Facility Advisory Committee, they should see this ramp at Marion Bay as a priority and release the appropriate funding, thus allowing council to start the work within the next 12 months.

"Everyone down here says we're the forgotten part of the peninsula and it's true."

Pleasing SACE results for YP students

Jarryd Rowley
JOURNALIST

STUDENTS across Yorke Peninsula breathed a sigh of relief as Stage 2 SACE results were released yesterday (Monday, December 19).

There were impressive results all across the peninsula with Yorketown Area, Central Yorke, Minlaton District and Ardrossan Area Schools all receiving a 100 per cent SACE completion rate.

Moonta's Olivia Gill faced a anxious wait for her results, but achieved an ATAR of 86.20.

"I was quite comfortable I was passing all of my classes but I was a bit unsure about what my ATAR would be," Olivia said.

"I think as I was waiting for those results to be posted, some nerves crept in, I was confident but nervous.

"I pleased to receive 86.20.

"Although I didn't go through early entry, (my ATAR) almost guarantees my entry to a psychology degree at the University of South Australia.

"I'm eager to move to Adelaide in the new year and get right into university.

"I'm not one who likes sitting still and not doing much, so I'm really looking forward to getting an offer and starting as soon as I can."

Tiana Rudd, from Harvest Christian College, scored 97.6 to be one of the highest achievers at the school.

"I had a really good balance between school, work and mental health," Tiana said.

"Finding that right balance really gave me the motivation to strive for very good results and I am quite proud what I achieved.

"Although I got my early entry offer to the University of Adelaide for a law degree, which normally accepts a median ATAR of 98, I know I put the time and the effort in to get this result."

GRADUATED... Harvest Christian College, Kadina, year 12 student Tiana Rudd has set her eyes on a law degree at the University of Adelaide in 2023.

High achievers

YORKE Peninsula schools are celebrating the achievements of some of their high achievers.

Calvin Perrie recorded the highest ATAR for Ardrossan Area School, 95.10, while the school had 84 per cent of students place in the A/B bands.

Central Yorke School's highest ATAR was 96.2, recorded by Sophie Baker, who also received a merit for agricultural production; 66 per cent of CYS students achieved results in the A/B bands.

Harvest Christian College, Kadina, had two students with adjusted scores over 97.

Tiana Rudd scored 97.6 while Jerica Shevchenko scored 98.3. Amelia Vermeeren also impressed with her Research Project B receiving an A+ result.

Kadina Memorial School achieved an outstanding 68 A- or above grades in this year's SACE results, with eight A+ results.

Alexa Mill achieved 95.6, Connor Guerrero scored 92.7 and Mackenzie McCauley received 90.95.

Minlaton Area School dux Rory Hackett earned a 91.6 ATAR, while Moonta Area School's Olivia Gill scored 86.20.

Lucy Warren led the way for Yorketown Area school by achieving an A band for all of her subjects, including an A+ in English and an adjusted ATAR of 98.4.

ANXIOUS WAIT... Moonta Area School student Olivia Gill had an anxious wait on Monday morning as SACE results and ATARs were released.

A DRINK driver was caught travelling almost 50 km/h over the speed limit at Wallaroo on Friday, December 16.

Copper Coast police detected a Holden sedan travelling at 96km/h in a 50km/h zone on Charles Terrace at about 5pm.

The driver, a 44-year-old local man, submitted to a breath test and returned a blood alcohol reading of 0.064.

The man was reported for drink driving, issued with an immediate six-month loss of licence and had his car impounded for 28 days.

He will also be issued with a $1850 expiation notice for speeding and will receive nine demerit points.

Queensland Police officers remembered

SOUTH Australia Police has paid its respects to the sacrifice made by two Queensland Police officers last week.

Constables Rachel McCrow and Matthew Arnold, as well as member of the public Alan Dare, were shot dead by three members of the public at a property in Wieambilla on Monday, December 12.

SAPOL Headquarters was illuminated blue between 7pm and midnight from Wednesday to Friday, December 14-16.

The building is set to also be illuminated to coincide with each officer's funeral.

The Adelaide Convention and Entertainment Centres, Adelaide Oval, SA Parliament House and Adelaide Railway Station were also illuminated as a mark of community respect.

"The deaths of Constable Rachel McCrow and Constable Matthew Arnold will be deeply felt, not only by their families and friends, but by those colleagues with whom they served as they were united in service to their community," a SAPOL spokesperson said.

"SAPOL also wishes to acknowledge Mr Alan Dare, who tragically lost his life when he responded to assist.

"South Australia Police honours their passion and dedication to helping others, as well as the myriad of risks those in uniform must confront each and every day."

Concealment laws take effect

KILLERS who hide their victims' bodies will be subject to tough penalties under laws which came into effect on Friday, December 16.

The reforms address a deficiency in South Australian laws, which did not previously specifically criminalise the concealment, mutilation, destruction of or interference with human remains.

People found guilty of the new offences will face up to an extra 15 years in prison and, where the acts are done to frustrate criminal investigations, sentences will be cumulative.

Members of the public who find human remains are also obliged to report the find to South Australia Police, or face a five-year prison term.

Attorney-General Kyam Maher said the absence of the specific offence had been a significant shortcoming in the legal system.

"We've seen cases where attempts by a victim's family and loved ones to find closure have been thwarted when an offender refuses to help authorities find their victim," Mr Maher said.

"This will ensure offenders who try to stymie a police investigation and add to the already significant trauma experienced by a victim's family and friends can be prosecuted and punished appropriately."

New community connection arrives at Rex

Patrick Goldsmith
REPORT BY

REX Minerals has recently appointed Jo Barrie as its community relations manager, for its Hillside project.

Mrs Barrie spent more than a decade as Yorke Peninsula Tourism manager and has also been involved with projects including local wind farms and the Dockside Port Vincent development.

Her position, which will be based in Ardrossan, will provide an opportunity for the community to engage with Rex directly about concerns and general queries.

Mrs Barrie said she has a great affinity with Yorke Peninsula, its culture and people.

“To commence in the community relations role with Rex Minerals, as a future significant employer and contributor to the regional economy, is a natural fit for me,” she said.

“Having lived and worked on Yorke Peninsula for almost 20 years, I’m acutely aware of the need to create jobs, business opportunities and community benefits.

“Having watched Rex’s Hillside project progress, and with the mine now fully permitted, I saw this new role as a great opportunity to assist in creating a lasting positive legacy which a project like this can bring to regional communities.”

Mrs Barrie said she is developing strategies to ensure community engagement is updated and plans to keep everyone informed and engaged with upcoming activities and project developments.

“I’m looking forward to working with the local communities surrounding the Hillside project to help ensure social, economic and environmental benefits; to unashamedly keep as much of the benefits as we can within Yorke Peninsula and its surrounds,” she said.

“I’m a big believer in collaboration and I look forward to working across community groups and agencies to help build community capacity and capability for job seekers, local suppliers, businesses and contractors to maximise local benefits from procurement to employment.”

She said the project is significant not just for YP, but for the state and the country.

“Hillside is essentially a copper development, and copper is something we will all need as we tackle the push for electrification in the context of climate change,” she said.

“Rex has a commitment to

COMMUNICATIONS... Ardrossan’s Jo Barrie is Rex Minerals’ new manager community relations and is hoping to hear from members of the community.

provide communities with sustained benefits as a result of the project’s activities.

“This commitment includes maintaining open and inclusive engagement, contributing to the regional economy, building community capacity and contributing to environmental sustainability.”

Mrs Barrie and Rex Minerals can be contacted by visiting rexminerals.com.au/ contact, calling 1300 822 161, emailing community@rexminerals.com.au or stopping by the office at 5 Main Street, Ardrossan.

Whale removed at Corny Point

AUTHORITIES have removed a deceased juvenile sperm whale which was found on a reef off Corny Point last week.

The seven metre whale was observed on the submerged reef at about noon on Tuesday, December 13.

National Parks and Wildlife Service rangers towed the carcass at high tide to deeper waters beyond Wedge Island at about 7pm on Friday, December 16.

A NPWS spokesperson said they were investigating the whale’s death.

“It was observed alive last weekend in nearby Hardwicke Bay but looked to be in poor health,” the spokesperson said.

“Whale carcasses will naturally break down over time but this can be a slow process that takes several months.

“Members of the public are advised to stay a safe distance from the carcass as marine animals can carry various diseases that are transmissible to humans.

“Sharks also will be attracted to the carcass, which potentially creates an increased risk for water users in the area.”

Mixed feelings towards proposed Fisherman Bay freeholding changes

Jarryd Rowley
JOURNALIST

BARUNGA West Council has received mixed reactions towards proposed changes to the Fisherman Bay Freeholding Project from residents following two recent public consultation sessions.

Council is currently developing proposals regarding traffic management, fencing, landscaping coastal protection areas and foreshores, and providing beach access for Fisherman Bay.

Due to the transition to freehold titles, council will take ownership of roads and open space from Fisherman Bay Management from mid-2023.

Council CEO Maree Wauchope said roads are due to be upgraded to public roads next year and, as such, need extra space for emergency access.

“As a result, if council is to allow roadside parking, we are faced with making some roads one way only,” she said.

“The roads are very narrow and some houses have no driveways or areas to park on the property, so we know on-street parking is necessary.

“The roads we are considering making one way include the eastern leg of Whiting Road, Mullet Road and Trout Road, which will impact about one-third of residents.”

Informal parking will no longer be allowed along Trout Road, Mullet Road, Whiting Road and Silver Whiting Road and Catfish Lane.

Other proposals include the potential relocation of the western beach playground to free up limited space near the seawall while also putting in place a ‘local traffic only’ area along Whiting Road.

“Council’s planning expert is proposing open style fencing at a maximum height of 1.2 metres with conditions regarding setbacks,” Ms Wauchope said.

“We have had mixed reactions from the community to date, with some agreeing with the proposal, and others wanting higher fencing, and even some members of the community calling for no fencing at all.”

Ms Wauchope said council would need to finalise plans by April and works would begin once key infrastructure projects were completed in August.

To view the proposed changes, or submit feedback, visit www.barungawest.sa.gov.au/consultation or call into the Port Broughton or Bute offices.

Food trucks out

Jarryd Rowley
JOURNALIST

MOBILE vending vehicles will be banned from Port Broughton amidst fears the food trucks are creating unfair competition for local businesses.

Barunga West Council's new mobile vending policy restricts food trucks operating in Port Broughton outside of special events during peak tourism periods such as the Christmas Festival or New Year's Eve celebrations.

Mobile vending will still be allowed in Bute, Kulpara, Mundoora and Fisherman Bay.

The call for the ban comes after Port Broughton businesses expressed their concerns about a Copper Coast coffee van regularly parking on the foreshore.

However, other community members signed a petition in favour of mobile vending.

Council CEO Maree Wauchope said the Mobile Vending Policy and Mobile Guidelines and Locations would be amended to enforce the new restrictions.

"Council is likely to receive requests for mobile vending permits now the school holidays and good weather are approaching," she said.

"We acknowledge mobile vendors can increase visitors to an area, and can offer a variety of food and beverages to a township.

"In particular, mobile food vendors can also cater for an increased population during peak tourist periods or during an event.

"They can however, be seen as a threat to existing bricks-and-mortar businesses, and therefore a balance must be struck to ensure those who take significant risks and invest in permanent businesses in our community are afforded some protection."

BEAUTIFICATION... Copper Coast Council mayor Roslyn Talbot hopes a new Wallaroo foreshore master plan will help to showcase the area.

Planning for upgraded Wallaroo foreshore

Fin Hansen
REPORT BY

A MASTER plan is set to help guide future development along Wallaroo's foreshore.

Copper Coast Council has engaged Hatch Design to prepare the plan, which will feature five stages of work.

The plan will include scope for upgrades to the Wallaroo swimming enclosure, Office Beach, Wallaroo Sailing Club foreshore and Liberator Way.

Mayor Roslyn Talbot said council was looking at a coordinated long-term plan to guide the upgrades.

"The Wallaroo foreshore is one of our best assets so it's important we have it looking its best," Mrs Talbot said.

"We're planning to stagger the works and complete the upgrades in separate parts.

"Upgrades could include extra shade and improved access to the foreshore.

"Some areas just need a bit of beautification to help show off the wonderful place this is."

Director development services Muller Mentz said there were numerous small projects in need of completion along the Wallaroo foreshore in the next few years.

"Council officers liaised with consultants for the preparation of a master plan to ensure a coordinated approach," Mr Mentz said.

"It is expected the plan will be finalised in the first half of the 2023-24 financial year."

Pageant parades back into Kadina

Fin Hansen
REPORT BY

KADINA Christmas Pageant returned for the first time in three years yesterday (Monday, December 20).

The pageant featured many decorative floats which paraded along Graves, Hallett and Taylor Streets before finishing in Victoria Square.

As is the pageant's tradition, Father Christmas followed the floats into the square, where he donated his time to meet young fans.

Afterwards, a range of local entertainers and carols were enjoyed in the square.

Christmas in Kadina committee chairperson Neil Sawley said it was great to have the pageant back.

"I think it was probably the biggest crowd we've ever had," Mr Sawley said.

"We've had some really positive comments from people about the event.

"The pageant adds to the carols and it brings people who wouldn't necessarily be at the carols, it brings people together."

Amid celebrations, one person was taken to hospital with minor injuries after an accident with a car early in the pageant.

CHRISTMAS CHEER... Siblings Nakita and Jhett Corpus, of Wallaroo, bring in the festive season by celebrating the Kadina Christmas Pageant yesterday afternoon (Monday, December 20).

HE'S ARRIVED... Father Christmas greets the crowd with his elves Zoe Meier, Marlie Pridham, Charlie Koch and Maddison Pridham.

DRESSED UP... The Kernewek Lowender Copper Coast Cornish Festival float, featuring Alessandro Plutino, Gabriella Jackman, Matthew Stock, Graham Jackman and Dianne McDowell.

FLASH... Tate Cowie gets pulled along in his tinsel-festooned Copper Coast Motorsport vehicle.

GIFTS... Preparing to parade with the Uniting Country SA float, are back: Hayley Maddern, Charlotte Choules, Clover Choules, Mali Williams, Emmett Russack, Sebastian Sherry, Zac Sherry; middle: Loren Stevens, Trudy Maddern, Ari Smart; front: Taylah Miller, Kerri Choules, Monique Macri, Jeannine Hansen, Robyn Sherry.

ABOVE: FESTIVE... Ready to go with the Helloworld Travel float are Chloe Paddick, Lucas Oliver-Harris, Marley McCracken, Morgan Oliver-Harris, Macy Venning and Sandra Paddick.

LEFT: IN THE SPIRIT... Kadina's Joyce Pola, Virginia McDonald, Gwen Knight and Bill Knight settle into their seats for the Christmas carols in Victoria Square.

Copper Coast on show in visitor guide

THE 2023 Copper Coast Visitors' Guide has everything you need to know about spending time in the region next year.

The guide is now available online and in this week's YP Country Times, as well as at Copper Coast Visitor Information Centre, Kadina; Moonta Tourist Office; council offices; museums and local businesses.

Council library and tourism coordinator Lynn Spurling said she was really pleased with the new guide.

"It's a great publication for locals and visitors planning on a short or long stay in the area," she said.

"We encourage people to extend the length of their stays because there is so much for them to do."

The guide is a key marketing tool for the region, produced annually by the Yorke Peninsula Country Times and Copper Coast Council.

Not only does the guide provide readers with information about the local area, it also features many beautiful images.

"The Copper Coast is busy next year with major events including the SA Masters Games, Kernewek Lowender and YP Field Days, and the guide does a great job of outlining them," Lynn said.

The Yorke Peninsula Country Times thanks everyone who contributed to the guide including advertisers, and we trust you will, in time, reap the benefits of your investment by having your business front and centre for tourists to see when planning their holidays.

OUT NOW... Copper Coast Council tourism customer service officer Chelsea Rose and library and tourism coordinator Lynn Spurling check out the 2023 Copper Coast Visitors' Guide.

Researchers searching for regional entrepreneurs

FLINDERS University researchers are looking for women who operate online businesses in regional areas for a new study.

The Regional Women's Motivations and Experiences of Establishing and Managing Online Businesses Study hopes to gain an understanding of the triggers, motivations and decision-making processes of female entrepreneurs over the age of 18 living in regional Australia.

"Your participation would involve a 45 to 60 minute individual meeting with a researcher," research student Heather Prider said.

"You will be asked to share your views about your experiences operating an online business."

"It is envisaged your participation will contribute information to the local, state and federal policy-makers to assist them to develop appropriate support to assist female entrepreneurs in regional areas."

Dates for meetings have been scheduled for January 3, 4, 10 and 11.

For more information, email prid0096@flinders.edu.au with your preferred date.

Satellite boost for natural disasters beneficial to MFS

WALLAROO, Kadina and Moonta MFS stations have benefited from the federal government's Strengthening Telecommunications Against Natural Disasters program.

Backup NBN Sky Muster satellite services have been installed at the stations as well as CFS group bases in the Eastern, Western and Lower Eyre areas.

The federal government is protecting communities through the STAND program by investing in improved connectivity for emergency services depots and evacuation centres, improved telecommunications resilience under the Mobile Network Hardening Program and portable communications facilities across the country.

These projects will help ensure emergency services supporting communities during times of natural disaster can remain connected when land-based networks are damaged or offline.

"While no network can ever be 100 per cent disaster proof, these investments will go a long way towards ensuring local residents can stay connected in the most difficult times, especially to access potentially lifesaving information and advice," Minister for Communications Michelle Rowland said.

Senator for South Australia Karen Grogan said the projects were a boost for the region and would help minimise the risk of local communications network disruptions when disasters strike.

"Staying connected during a disaster can be the difference between life and death, whether that be receiving the latest information or contacting emergency services," she said.

Shadow minister visits regions

SHADOW Minister for Regional South Australia and Shadow Minister for Primary Industries Nicola Centofanti spent time out in the region last week.

Ms Centofanti spent time at Days Eggs in Lower Light and Dublin Clean Grain, and caught up with professional fisher Bart Butson in Port Wakefield.

“Dublin Clean Grain is an independent grain cleaning service; Andrew and Julie Koch have run the family farm at Maitland for many years and now, together with their son Simon, operate the successful business which has 780 tonnes of silo storage feeding directly into their machinery,” Ms Centofanti said.

“The business continues to grow — providing services to 15 export markets.

“I also caught up with Bart Butson, a third generation and well-regarded local fisher who has long championed for the sustainability of the fishing sector.

“Bart’s passion and dedication are driven by a desire to keep our fisheries healthy for generations to come.

“These South Australian businesses represent the heart and soul of our regional economy and their contribution to our state must be acknowledged and celebrated.

“Not only do they employ locals and support regional communities, they are also constantly innovating and proving their agility in doing business.”

Plover count complete

MORE than 40 volunteers travelled 355 kilometres of Yorke Peninsula coastline to track hooded plovers in late November.

Led by BirdLife Australia through its Beach-nesting Birds program, the biennial count on Yorke Peninsula is part of the Marna Banggara project, which is jointly funded through the Northern and Yorke Landscape Board, the Australian Government’s National Landcare Program, the South Australian Department for Environment and Water, WWF-Australia and Foundation for National Parks and Wildlife, in partnership with the Narungga Nation Aboriginal Corporation

The biennial count is a huge, coordinated exercise which simultaneously covers all hooded plover habitat across the country from South Australia to New South Wales, including Tasmania, and allows BirdLife Australia to track the long-term trajectory of the country’s hooded plover population.

Northern and Yorke Landscape Board project manager Janet Moore is cautiously optimistic BirdLife Australia’s number crunching will reveal an increase of Yorke Peninsula hooded plovers, considering a record number of fledglings last breeding season.

“In 2022 we counted 285 adult hooded plovers, which was a third of SA’s population, highlighting just how important Yorke Peninsula is for the species,” she said.

The count revealed hooded plovers on beaches where they had not been seen before, including at Pine Point.

Previously, the most northern location of hooded plovers on Yorke Peninsula’s east coast was 12km south at Port Julia.

One volunteer also counted 31 birds on a 10km stretch of beach.

The count results are expected in early 2023 but volunteers have turned their focus to this year’s breeding season and ensuring the survival of hooded plover chicks.

Beachgoers this summer are encouraged to look out for hooded plover eggs, which are well camouflaged in the sand above the high tide line, and for the chicks, which forage for food near the water.

Hooded plovers are particularly vulnerable to unleashed dogs and vehicles driven on the beach, until they reach fledgling stage, which is when they can fly.

Best wishes for the festive season

It is hard to believe 2022 is nearing a close, and Christmas is now less than a week away.

I have greatly enjoyed being at home in the electorate for most of December, attending end of school year celebrations, presenting medallions to meritorious students, being a part of the Kadina Santa trail, and visiting towns to pick up and replenish petition sheets to continue the vital call for improvements to our local health services.

The numbers of signatures being collected and the numbers of people assisting with the distribution of petition sheets continues to be impressive and I thank everyone who has supported the cause and who continues to do so.

Whilst I believe there are many sheets still to be counted/collected at shops and businesses across the electorate, I can advise the tally received at the Kadina Electorate Office now stands at more than 4000 signatures. So, taking into consideration sheets yet to come back into the office, I predict we are now over halfway to reaching the target of 10,000 signatures we need to trigger a formal Parliamentary Inquiry into the Narunga (and rural) health services. It is an ambitious target, but I believe we can reach it.

Please continue to urge friends and family to seek out a petition sheet at a local business and sign the petition or make contact with my office and we can get a petition sheet to you. Remember, signatures can be from any South Australian resident over the age of 18, not just locals.

Grants news

In recent weeks I have been busy providing letters of support for a multitude of applications to various government programs from local organisations and clubs planning projects (well done all). Whilst many funds close in December, two which remain open include the Office for Ageing Well Community Grants Program that assists community groups to support older South Australians to age well (Grants for Seniors, Positive Ageing Fellowship, and Age Friendly SA Grants) and Veterans SA grant programs. Visit www.fraserellis.com.au for more information.

Shop local

It is so very pleasing to see busy main streets filled with people shopping at local businesses; it cannot be stressed enough how important it is for our towns and the small businesses who service us so well to buy local!

The electorate office will be closed for a Christmas break, from 5pm Thursday, December 22, to 9am Tuesday, January 3.

My sincere best wishes to all for the festive season and a happy and prosperous 2023.

NEW TEAM... Experienced journalist Michelle Daw has recently joined the YP Country Times' editorial team.

New face in editorial team

EXPERIENCED journalist Michelle Daw is the latest addition to the editorial team at YP Country Times.

Michelle has come full circle in her career, having started at the Whyalla News, after graduating from journalism at the University of South Australia.

She later worked for The Advertiser as a rural journalist and features writer, at the Stock Journal covering rural issues and on-farm articles, and as a member of ABC's Country Hour team, based in Port Lincoln.

Michelle has also worked as a journalism tutor at UniSA and in communications roles, most recently with Fisheries Research and Development Corporation, based in Adelaide.

"I'm loving being back at a country newspaper and looking forward to meeting YP people and telling the stories that matter to local communities," she said.

"I've had a wonderful welcome from everyone at the YP Country Times and the local people I have already met.

"I'm working across many topics, but particularly those relating to farming, fishing and aquaculture, environmental issues, and health, so if you have any suggestions for articles, please let me know."

Michelle's mother and stepfather and extended family members live in Moonta and she has been visiting the Copper Coast since childhood.

She is keen to explore YP's beautiful beaches, play for a local hockey club and make the most of the country lifestyle.

"I NEVER THOUGHT I'D BE HOMELESS."

More people are now facing homelessness than ever before.

Warooka the place to be Christmas Eve

WAROOKA is gearing up for the return of its annual Christmas pageant on Christmas Eve, Saturday, December 24.

The event will begin at 7pm and organisers are urging anyone who wants to be involved, whether by walking along or in a decorated vehicle, to gather at the town oval gates by 6.30pm.

The pageant will run from the oval through to the park and Warooka Hotel, where attendees are encouraged to enjoy the evening.

“I think it’s nostalgia which drives it on, we get people from Coobowie, Edithburgh, Minlaton and Yorketown telling us they have to be there, because it’s what they’ve always done,” Warooka Progress Association president Anthony Hart said.

“It’s also important in terms of community spirit, people often catch up for the first time in a year.

“If it ever stopped, you would never replace it with anything else.”

For more information, contact Mr Hart at warooka progressinc@gmail.com or visit facebook.com/warooka.

Room for change at Warooka

Patrick Goldsmith
REPORT BY

WESTERN United Sporting Club and Southern Eagles Football and Netball Club are hopeful plans for new changeroom facilities at Warooka Oval will come to fruition in the New Year.

The current changerooms, which has stood for almost a century, have no designated female facilities and inadequate shower and toilet services for all match day participants.

Works would feature new showers for the existing home and visitors change-rooms as well as new female and umpire changerooms at the back of the building.

The facility would be used by the Southern Eagles, cricket and tennis participants, as well as the wider community as a potential hub in the event of a natural crisis elsewhere.

WUSC has applied for a grant through the Office for Sport and Recreation but will need to fund 50 per cent of the upgrades itself, the majority set to come through in-kind donations of labour.

WUSC treasurer and SEFC sponsorship coordinator Jo Taheny said the upgrade would bring the facilities in line with the current standard for changerooms at sports clubs.

"Stage one will be a female-friendly changeroom, designed to be 45 square metres with a 25sqm amenity block and three showers, three toilets and three handbasins," she said.

"Next to that will be the umpires changerooms at 20sqm with two showers, two toilets and two handbasins.

"Stage two will then be shower blocks for both of the current changerooms, joining the two structures (existing and new) together."

The club recently upgraded its kitchen

THINGS ARE CHANGING... Western United Sporting Club treasurer and Southern Eagles Football Club sponsorship coordinator Jo Taheny is excited about the prospect of new changerooms for all at Warooka Oval.

and, according to Mrs Taheny, wishes to provide a structure utilised by many in the community.

"The AFL-preferred facility guidelines are very clear about what they want and having our football games here means a lot to the community, if we were ruled out due to inadequate changerooms, that would be bad for us," she said.

"The Southern Eagles are very much about community, we really put back into each of these communities (Edithburgh, Warooka and Yorketown).

"We could possibly have this as a community gym in the (football) off-season which all of our sports clubs could use.

"We're also identified as a place of refuge if there's a major fire in Edithburgh or especially Marion Bay, because there's no safe spaces there.

"We're a place people can come, especially after an incident, so there's also that emergency side of things we'd like to build on."

The clubs will find out if their grant application is successful in early 2023 and, if so, will look to commence work in August.

YP's biggest crab competition

Jarryd Rowley
JOURNALIST

BARUNGA West Council is calling all Yorke Peninsula crab wranglers to show off their catches during Yorke Peninsula's Biggest Blue Crab competition, which begins tomorrow, Wednesday, December 21.

To participate, anglers need to catch a blue swimmer crab in local waters, measure it from claw to claw on a Top of Yorke measuring podium and take a photo to upload to Instagram, tagging Top of Yorke.

The Top of the Yorke website currently has a guide to assist novice anglers on ways to participate in crabbing activities on Yorke Peninsula.

Mayor Leonie Kerley said the crabbing competition was a fun way to promote and celebrate the region's recreational fishing attraction.

"Blue swimmer crabs are a local favourite," Ms Kerley said.

"It was an easy decision to champion the blue swimmer crab and highlight the recreational opportunities at the Top of the Yorke.

"The prizes on offer for #yorkepeninsulasbiggestblue crab have been generously donated by the local business community.

"Prizes include vouchers for accommodation, cafes, pubs and the hardware store.

"These prizes really represent the ultimate Top of Yorke weekend away.

"This summer, get out and experience the family fun of crabbing in the Top of the Yorke by raking at Tickera or putting nets out in the boat, off the coast of Port Broughton."

For more information, visit www.topoftheyorke.com.au.

Second set for Alford courts

REJUVENATION... Alford Progress Association president Stewart Johns and vice-president Bevan Atkinson are looking forward to restoration works on the Alford tennis courts.

Jarryd Rowley
JOURNALIST

ALFORD's tennis courts are set for a facelift thanks to a state government grant.

Barunga West Council received $117,400 through the Community Recreational and Sports Facility program which will also fund upgrades to Port Broughton and Bute's courts.

Council received the grant last January but contractor availability delayed the rollout of works.

Alford Progress Association will join with council to contribute to the project, which has been 18 months in the making according to Alford Progress Association secretary David Gray.

"The works are long overdue," he said.

"The club folded about 10 years ago and in the meantime we have made sure the clubrooms have been maintained, but the courts definitely need work.

"There has been strong interest from the people of Alford to re-establish the Alford Tennis Club, and that starts by fixing up the courts.

"Allowing for the kids in the town to have a place to play is something we think is really important.

"There has been strong interest from the people of Alford to re-establish the Alford Tennis Club, and that starts by fixing up the courts"

- David Gray, secretary Alford Progress Association

"Progress was very pleased to hear about renewed interest and more than happy to look for ways to make that happen.

"We are putting one hundred per cent of our support behind it."

The courts are expected to be open to the public in early March.

State government launches life-saving app across state

MOBILE phone app GoodSAM has been launched across South Australia by the state government to help people in cardiac arrest access CPR sooner.

Supported by the South Australian Ambulance Service, the app will send an alert to registered responders if there is a cardiac arrest nearby, to which the responder can attend to provide emergency care while an ambulance is on the way.

In regional areas the response radius is five kilometres for regional towns and up to 15 kilometres in more remote locations.

GoodSAM was founded in London in 2013, South Australia is the second state in Australia to activate it after a successful roll-out across Victoria in 2018.

Minister for Health and Wellbeing Chris Picton said gaining the help of those nearby is an important start in the chain of survival before an ambulance arrives.

"South Australians have been eagerly awaiting the arrival of GoodSAM and the Malinauskas Labor government is proud to help deliver this lifesaving technology," he said.

"We've also supported legislation in parliament to make defibrillators mandatory in public buildings, larger businesses, and public transport.

"These defibrillators could then be quickly in the hands of a trained GoodSAM responder, with the app integrated with an AED registry that uses GPS technology to locate nearby equipment."

SAAS executive director Kate Clarke said the activation and registration of GoodSAM responders will be done in a phased approach, with numerous SAAS personnel already putting their hands up.

"GoodSAM will not alter the SAAS response to cardiac arrests, with cardiac arrests continuing to be our highest priority and SAAS always sending the closest available crew in an emergency," she said.

Reduce your summer waste by using FOGO

Advertising Promotion

ROUND four of Copper Coast Council's Take the Pledge program has resulted in three new local winners.

Jodi Panozzo, Rosina Jantke and Gary O'Callaghan have been recognised as being among the most diligent recyclers on the Copper Coast.

Take the Pledge encourages people to ensure they are utilising their food organics and garden organics (FOGO) bin appropriately to minimise household waste.

Residents and visitors to the Copper Coast are set for their second consecutive holiday season with the new fortnightly kerbside collection program across 2022-23.

Wardle's Garbage owners Karen and Andy Wardle said they expected an influx of general waste collection between Christmas and the end of January.

"The introduction of the FOGO bin has led to a decrease in rubbish," Mr and Mrs Wardle said.

"However, there are lots of people in rentals during summer who don't use it (FOGO) enough.

"There are so many other items other than lawn clippings which can go in them.

"Food scraps are obviously the most common, but you can also put bamboo cutlery, wrapping paper that can be torn, cardboard boxes, aluminium foil rolled up in a ball, as well as lots of other items.

"This all gets shipped off to composting sites."

Mr and Mrs Wardle encouraged people to utilise the collection of an additional FOGO bin, which can be purchased from Wardles or local hardware stores.

"The extra bin helps to ease the volume of your general waste," they said.

"Neither (general waste or recycling) bins should be filling up too much.

"It just takes a little bit of thought to separate your rubbish and we'll get better at reducing landfill."

To purchase an additional FOGO bin for the summer period, or to learn more about Copper Coast's kerbside collection program contact Wardle's on 8825 3341.

GREENER OPTION... Wardle's Garbage owners Karen and Andy Wardle encourage locals and visitors to make the most of Copper Coast's Food Organics and Green Organics collection system this summer.

Inspired artworks on show

INSPIRED... Moonta artists Julie Cheshire and Dee Kurauskas have worked together to produce new exhibition INSPIRED, on show at the Moonta Gallery of the Arts from Sunday, January 1.

MOONTA artists Julie Cheshire and Dee Kurauskas are preparing to launch their newest exhibition, INSPIRED, at the Moonta Gallery of the Arts on Sunday, January 1.

With more than 70 years' combined experience, the pair has created 30 artworks, including acrylic paintings and sculptures for the exhibition.

Julie said, since retiring, she has had the luxury of painting for enjoyment in a variety of different styles and materials.

"This year I figure, we've all had enough of fires and floods and pestilence," Julie said.

"I've done paintings in a naive style of subject which evokes feelings of serenity, calm, relaxation and pleasure.

"I was always a creative person, even as a young child.

"My path took me to art school via a scholarship from the Western Australian Department of Education.

"In the early '90s I became the resident artist at the Cable Beach Club in Broome where I made portraits of guests, landscapes, paintings of Australian birds and underwater scenes.

"In the late '90s I designed and produced stage scenery for bands, theatres, venues and cruise liners before moving to Moonta and retiring 10 years ago."

Like Julie, Dee has been a creator for most of her life.

"When I was in my 20s, I discovered I wanted to play with clay," Dee said.

"Having completed courses in ceramic art at TAFE and at the University of South Australia, I became a potter.

"After living in Whyalla for a few years, I opened my own studio to sell my pottery in 1999, but the walls were bare.

"I started painting the walls and people started buying and asking for commissions, I have been painting and sculpting ever since."

The works will be on show until the end of the month.

Surfarama to make post Covid comeback in 2023

YORKES Surfarama will be back at Corny Point on Saturday, January 14 after a two-year Covid hiatus.

The festival, hosted by the Daly Head National Surfing Reserve, aims to raise money for coastal care and community initiatives.

The last festival raised around $8000 for the Yorketown fire appeal and three local CFS units.

Money had also gone towards preservation projects like the construction of an osprey nest platform and bathrooms at Salmon Hole.

A Daly Head National Surfing Reserve member said Yorkes Surfarama is a way to celebrate the idea of conservation and surf culture.

"It's also a way to celebrate our local culture itself, tied in with the idea of environment protection that we believe everybody should get behind," they said.

Organisers have lined up a strong list of entertainers, with bands including St Morris Sinners, Oscar the Wild and The 745 set to play Dave's Shearing Shed.

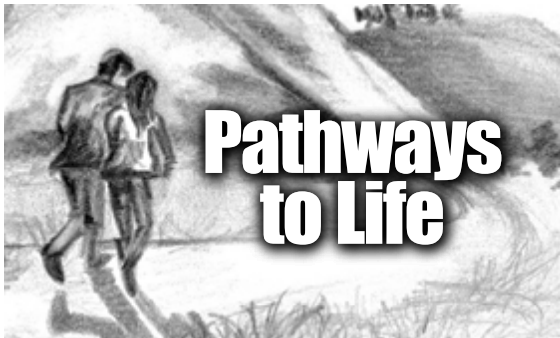

Locally collated surf film and memorabilia, as well as local art, will be on display, while there will also be a variety of activities for all ages.

Tickets are available at $30 per person from Eventbrite.

The Christmas tree

I REMEMBER as a child in England going with my father to buy a small pine tree at the local garage in time for Christmas Eve.

This tree was brought home and decorated with tinsel and paper chains we used to make ourselves.

Presents were then placed around the tree.

This Christmas, many homes and some businesses will have a Christmas tree decorated by coloured lights.

There are many stories about how a decorated tree came to be associated with Christmas.

Some historians believe it all started in Germany in the 16th century when some Christians brought small evergreen trees, mostly pines, into their homes and decorated them to celebrate the Coming of the Christ Child.

Trees, coloured lights, sparkle and decorations are part of our Christmas – and there's nothing wrong with that.

However, we need to remind ourselves it was very basic in that stable where Jesus was born.

Rather than the cleanliness of a medical ward, the birth took place in a stable because there was no room for the weary travellers in the inn.

The New Testament tells us Mary and Joseph used a wooden manger as a crib for the newborn Jesus to sleep in. Not the most comfortable bed for God's Son!

It's great to celebrate the season and have a Christmas tree, presents, decorations and a great time, if possible, with family and friends.

But it's also good to remember the humble beginnings of Jesus – and perhaps get along to a Christmas service in a church near you.

Australia's best rum at Sunny Hill

Advertising Promotion

SUNNY Hill Distillery, Arthurlton, has been recognised for the quality of its spirits, taking home major national awards.

The distillery entered its vodka, limoncello, second release whisky and first release rum in the 2022 Australia Distilled Spirits Awards in Melbourne earlier this year.

"The judges do a blind testing of the spirits in each category and award points based on how the spirit addresses the criteria," co-owner Olivia Colliver said.

"We came with a bronze for our whisky, a silver for the limoncello and vodka while our rum won a gold medal."

Olivia, husband Sam, rum creator Justin Murdock and their team also entered their first batch of rum in the inaugural Australian Rum Awards.

"We won the best aged rum aged two to four years, which was wonderful, but during the assessment, the judges all said it was the best in the category and scored it 95/100, which earned us a double gold," Olivia said.

"It's wonderful to have the recognition for the work we've done to get here."

"The rum and the whisky are a process, they have to be fermented and distilled and then sit in a barrel to age, so there's a lot of work that goes into this."

"It was really nice to be able to show at the Rum Awards, which were held in Queensland where the distillers have easy access to cane sugar, that South Australia can make an amazing product too."

The Sunny Hill team is preparing for a busy summer holiday period, with the doors to the distillery open for seven straight days between December 27 and January 8, excluding New Year's Day.

"Now our outdoor toilet block is finished and we've got a lovely garden bed with rosemary and thyme that people are welcome to pick as well, we're ready for a big summer," Olivia said.

"We've got food and music happening every weekend and on Australia Day, we're hosting Australia's number one whip cracker, Nathan "Whippy" Griggs."

Bookings are encouraged; to find out more, visit Sunny Hill Distillery's Facebook page.

See advert on Eat, shop, play page 19 for more.

Santa pops in to Kadina garden club

SANTA popped in to spread some Christmas cheer at Kadina Cottage Garden Club's recent end-of-year lunch.

The 50 or so members present enjoyed a festive meal at the YP Veterans and Community Centre, Kadina.

Claire Bettess won a prize for the best Christmas joke that showed all Santa's reindeer are female, while Ellen Baker won the best decorated Christmas hat with a quilted masterpiece.

The committee then had the pleasure of presenting outstanding service awards to Rhonda Allen, Ann Fry and Marg Orr for their contributions helping to establish the club in 1996.

Jeannie Feuerherdt, Colleen Lally, Judith Davies and Nigel Westbrook each won a hamper to share with their family and friends.

Kadina Cottage Garden Club meets monthly, usually in a lovely garden.

This past year we've enjoyed guest speakers talking about irises, ferns, cymbidium orchids, sand dune revegetation and butterflies.

We visited the delightful gardens of Colin and Tanya Cook, McCauley Park Community Garden in Moonta, Rex and Jenny Herde, Brian and Brenda Cross, Meg and Leighton Wilksch, and John and Marie Hancock.

Knight's Roses in Gawler and the Lyndoch Lavender Farm were on the itinerary for the club's annual bus trip in October.

We welcome all gardeners to our club, whether you're starting out and need some advice, or you're a seasoned green thumb, everyone is welcome.

For more information, contact KCGC president Leanne Westbrook on 0418 859 701 or come along to our first meeting of 2023 at 99 Bay Road, Moonta Bay, at 9.30am on Wednesday, February 15. Please BYO cup and chair, entry is $2.

Thank to our committee and all members for making 2022 a fun and interesting year; happy gardening to you all in 2023.

McCauley Park update

WORK is continuing on the improvements around McCauley Park, Moonta.

Crews have been focusing on the Haylock Road end of the park, with Copper Coast Council staff helping with the removal of rubbish and pulling out feral trees, shrubs and grasses.

Recently, six bird homes made by Moonta Area School students were attached to various trees around the park.

“A big thanks to council and Matthew Rose and his crew who, with the help of a very modern piece of machinery, fixed the wooden bird homes to the trees,” McCauley Park working group spokesperson Josie Welk said.

“But unfortunately town beautification storage shed was broken into on the weekend of November 26-27. Goods, including chainsaws, hedge trimmers, whipper-snippers, to the value of about $6000 were stolen and it is very disheartening.

“It has taken a lot of donations, bamboo and various other fundraisers to buy these items.

“Work the group does, including tidying the cemetery and other parks in Moonta, will be curtailed by the lack of tools.

“Any help from local businesses would be appreciated.”

For more information, contact Bob on 0488 225 539 or Josie on 0458 552 582.

INSTALLATION... Copper Coast Council staff Matthew Rose, David Poole, Michael Dimech and Neale Moss work on installing bird homes at McCauley Park, Moonta.

Something brewing at Bond Store

Advertising Promotion

IT has been an action-packed first three years for the Bond Store, Wallaroo.

Opening its Owen Street doors just before the pandemic hit, the microbrewery and distillery has just reached another huge milestone.

Two new fermenters have just been installed, boosting the brewing capacity of the premises.

“A global pandemic definitely wasn’t in our business plan,” owners Derek and Nicole Matthewman said.

“Because we run two businesses (group accommodation cu@Wallaroo and cu2), when we were looking at opening the Bond Store, we thought we could rely on our other income if things were tough to start with.

“But to have both so heavily impacted, as well as the impact it had on our staff, was a really scary time.”

Derek and Nicole said the support of their customers has been vital to their survival, from the start of Covid-19 when people came and purchased products, and repeat visitors.

“Perhaps we also opened at the right time, because there’s been a clear push for people to travel intrastate and we’re seeing people recognise how great it is in Wallaroo,” they said.

“When we were working on our plans, it was hard to know how we were going to go when there were already six pubs in the town, but there was a need for something a bit different and we’re seeing that still.”

CELEBRATING... Bond Store, Wallaroo, owners Derek and Nicole Matthewman celebrate their first three years of operation.

Derek said the Bond Store’s newest additions, the fermenters, will mean their brewing capacity is four times as much as it is currently.

“We’ve also just finished building a coolroom which is three times our current space to store all our kegs and cans,” they said.

“This will really allow us to increase our can production, which with seven medals this year at the Royal Adelaide Beer Awards, has been incredibly popular.”

Not only are the beers cold and the gins refreshing, the Bond Store’s menu has something for everyone.

“We have staff from six different countries working with us, bringing great flavours from all over the world,” Derek and Nicole said.

To book, visit www.bondstore.net.au/ or call 8823 3809.

Minlaton Yorke Peninsula Probus Club Christmas 2022

MINLATON Yorke Peninsula Probus Club members enjoyed an end-of-year luncheon at the Yorke Hotel, Yorketown, recently.

Some of our members were unable to attend due to other commitments but we had four guests join us.

President Tom Martin wished all season's greetings and thanked Bernie Hendry, in her absence, for organising the lunch.

Kris Kringle gifts were exchanged amongst friendly conversation and good cheer.

Probus is open to anyone who is retired or semi-retired and is interested in a social club with no special membership requirements other than friendship and getting together for outings to places of mutual interest.

We often have special interest guest speakers or just going out for a lunch or a barbecue; highlight of our year for most was our trip on the historical Pichi Richi railway between Port Augusta and Quorn.

The club's next meeting is at St Benedict's church meeting room, Minlaton, at 10.30am on Friday, January 20; anyone wishing to visit or join us can contact Bernie on 0428 545 173.

Moonta Probus Club news

MOONTA and District Probus Club celebrated its Christmas meeting with lunch at Kadina's Wombat Hotel on Monday, December 5.

Acting president Richard Herbert welcomed 47 members

John and Pauleen Hounslow, nominated by Dawn Ireland, were inducted and warmly welcomed to the club.

December birthday greetings were offered to Gwen Elsworth, Jan Oxley, Mary Greven and Malcolm Coleman, whilst wedding anniversaries were noted for Jan and Syd Cheesman, and Judy and Doug Warmington.

The club's next meeting is at the Moonta Golf Club on Monday, January 9; there will be a shared light finger food luncheon afterwards.

Dental and denture care for the whole family

WHETHER you are after fillings, implants, denture work or a general dental check-up, Minlaton Dental and Denture Clinic is here to help you and your family!

The team at Minlaton Dental and Denture Clinic is committed to providing you with excellent and exceptional dental care.

"Providing a friendly, comfortable, and relaxed environment is our top priority," a spokesperson said.

"Our services include general dentistry, crown and bridges, veneers, dental implants, root canals, care and management of gum disease, replacing missing teeth, whitening and night guards, for adults and children.

"The clinic has recently transitioned to new management, while still maintaining key members of the team in both the dental and dentures fields."

Tim Martin brings more than 35 years' experience producing high quality dentures.

Tim's extensive experience gives us the ability to find out what patients like or dislike about their dentures in order to produce the most suitable products.

Minlaton Dental and Denture Clinic has an in-house dental laboratory, offering a faster, more personalised service.

"Dentures which have been worn down over time or don't fit properly can cause problems from headaches, dizziness, ulcers, hyperplastic tissue, and pain in or around the ear to premature ageing of the facial features," Tim said.

"It is imperative to have the correct size, colour and shape of teeth to suit your facial features.

"With personal care expertise and top-of-the-range products, you can have a comfortable, well-fitting denture enabling you to smile with confidence."

Making a denture usually requires at least three to four appointments and the team at Minlaton Dental and Denture Clinic, we will examine your teeth and discuss your options.

While visiting the dentist can be daunting for some, Minlaton Dental and Denture Clinic aims to create a warm and pleasant environment for all, where patients leave with renewed confidence in their smile and dental health.

YP competes at Country Champs

Peter Argent
REPORT BY

Yorke Peninsula competed well but failed to win a game in the SACA Under 16 Boys Country Championships in the Barossa Valley last week.

Jaxon Barnes (Port Broughton) was the pick of the bowling attack in the side's opening match against South East, recording 3/21 from eight overs.

Harry Kakoschke (Maitland), James Cook (Minlaton) and Charlie Kakoschke (Maitland) each chimed in with a wicket, keeping South East to 7/181.

The run chase was modest and YP went down by 90 runs.

Port Broughton's Tom Dolling (14), Kadina's Harry Rennie (12), Paskeville's Ed James (16) and Minlaton's Freddie Wilson (19) all got to double figures.

YP batted first in the day two match against Fleurieu and Districts, finishing with 5/115.

Opener Charlie Hines (Wallaroo) took 87 balls to make a patient 29, while the trio of Dolling (11), Rennie (15) and Minlaton's Henry Coote (18) got starts in this game.

James (10 not out) and Wilson (8 not out) were at the crease late in the innings.

After quick bowler Wilson (1/24 from seven overs) collected an early scalp, a second wicket stand of 81 set up Fleurieu and Districts to win.

H Kakoschke (2/19 from seven overs) then chimed in with two wickets and James (1/18 from four) collected one to see their opponents fall to 4/99, before they got home with four overs to spare.

YP was sent in by Murray Districts on day three and the side was in early trouble at 2/1 and 3/17 before James (24 from 52 balls, including two fours) and H Kakoschke (34 from 49 balls, including two fours) steadied the ship in the middle order.

A trio of cameos from C Kakoschke (11), Arthurton's George Butler (12) and Barnes (17 not out) helped YP to 123.

C Kakoschke collected a pair of victims to have Murray Districts at 2/36, but only two more wickets fell as Murray Districts won the game and a berth in the final.

In its final match, YP kept Mid North to 7/148, with H Kakoschke finishing with 3/31 from his eight overs while Wilson had 2/29.

Bowling first change, Angus Hall (Paskeville) took 1/3 from four overs, including a maiden, while Barnes took the other wicket, with 1/27 from his eight overs.

The run chase started modestly, with YP at 2/14 before Rennie (22) and James put on 45 for the third wicket.

James was effectively the last person out, at the fall of the ninth wicket, run out for a brilliant 70 from 81 deliveries faced including nine boundaries.

YP fell 17 runs short.

H Kakoschke wasn't able to bat in the final game, after he smashed the end of his finger in the warm up and was unable to get his hand in the glove.

STRIKE... James Reuther, in action for South Australia against Tasmania, took 1/28 and made 59 not out to secure victory for the side.

Reuther steps up for state

Peter Argent
REPORT BY

Coobowie's James Reuther produced a match-winning innings for South Australia to start the Cricket Australia Under 19 Male National Championships at Karen Rolton Oval, Adelaide, last Thursday, December 15.

SA bowled Tasmania out for 223, with Reuther taking the scalp of opener Ryan Borsboom to record 1/28.

When Reuther arrived at the batting crease, the game was on the line at 6/133.

He dispatched three 6s and four 4s in his undefeated 59, which got South Australia over the line.

"Along with Hamish Case's 63 at the top of the order, we felt that James played a key role in this first-up victory," SA coach

John Palmer said.

"He had a nice partnership with Max Kelly (grandson of Bute's Robin Kelly) for the seventh wicket of 44.

"His problem solving through the innings was one of his strengths.

"When it was his time to go, James sized up the short boundary in the 49th over and drove home the victory.

"He has been primarily selected as one of our four strike quick-men for this tournament, along with Patty Weckert, Campbell Thompson and Nick Stathoris.

"It was important to start with a win."

SA bowled Northern Territory out for 181 and made the runs four wickets down on day two.

Reuther sent down seven overs and collected 2/31 and he wasn't required with the bat.

The Redbacks had a bye on Saturday and faced off against Queensland Country on Sunday. In SA's big total of 8/307, Reuther was only required to bat late and was dismissed for two.

The Queenslanders were dismissed for 238, in 42.3 overs, giving the Redbacks a 69-run triumph.

Reuther opened the bowling and finished with 1/36 from four overs.

Roosters cling on to unbeaten start

“The Finger Roll”
REPORT BY

Before I could blink an eye, the first half of season 2022-23 is over.

Wins for Arthurton and Paskeville — the latter through forfeit — have cemented their spots at the top of the ladder.

Sam Jacobs continued his MVP-leading campaign with 22 points for Arthurton, whilst ably assisted by shifty youngster

Cooper Promnitz, 14, and Jordan Fuller, 12, to beat Bute by 15.

Kadina’s A Women went oh so close to upsetting ladder-leading Bute.

Amber Aldridge led the Bloods with 10 points, including a pair of three-pointers, but 12-Montana Briggs points helped the Roosters hold on by two as they head into the Christmas break.

Enjoy the rest and we look forward to seeing you courtside in 2023.

BOWLS

Maitland Wednesday: Results 14-12-22 — Host to Kadina, Maitland lost 43-45, but three hard-fought matches were played. The pairs, C Kelly and C Sandercock let Kadina have a good start 7-0 after four ends, but evened the scores 7-7 by the seventh end. After this the scores went back and forth with 12-12 on the 14th; final scores, Maitland winners 19-17. Triples, T Wuttke, L Harper, J Lehner kept the game even throughout, 8-8 on the ninth, 12-13 on the 18th. Kadina won 15-13 after 20 ends. Fours C Gloyn, R Evans, B Fuss, G Treloar also had another close game. After letting Kadina get ahead 9-3, they caught up and levelled the scores 9-9 on the 15th. Final scores, Kadina up 13-11. Will be back on January 25. “Kitty/Jack?”

Maitland Saturday: Results 17-12-22 — For the last game before the break, division I hosted Kadina and lost 73-111. Once again the wind played tricks. T Poole, C Gloyn, D Hallion (div I first-timer), B Fuss had a good start up 9-0 after four ends. Kadina won the next three ends, but Maitland slowly drew away leading 15-5 after 11 ends. The home team’s early lead gave it the win 26-16, which earned it the club bios. T Moustrides, J Davies, J Hollams, C Sandercock kept the scores close for 14 ends but Kadina slowly moved ahead, up 20-11 on the 18th. Maitland closed the gap to 19-22 but Kadina claimed the last end and the game 24-19. Maitland found Kadina too strong in the other two matches. Div III was also home to Moonta Red, the top side, and lost by a single shot, 59-60. This was the first time both Maitland sides had played home together this season. R Evans, T Hasting, J Harper, S Treloar were 7-7 after six ends but won the next five out of six ends moving to 15-10. The match was close after this, Maitland won 21-14, giving the team the club bios. M Stock, C Hibbard, H Humes (first-gamer), S Klinghammer allowed Moonta to get a good lead, 3-11, but by the 8th end closed the scores 6-11. A few good ends from Moonta moved it further ahead 16-9 on 15th. Maitland settled in the last three ends to win 18-17. M Wuttke, J Lehner, J Kelly, G Petch had a good start but Moonta soon caught up 9-9 on the sixth end. With two great ends, Moonta went ahead 16-9 on 15th. Maitland kept close, only down 16-19 on the 13th but Moonta moved away winning 29-16. Overall a good effort but a disappointing loss against the top side. Thursday bowls resumes January 12, the open competition on January 14; and the men’s competition on January 25. Happy Christmas to all. “Kitty/Jack?”

Moonta Thursday: Division I (Red) travelled to Ardrossan and had another good win, 102-49, in round 10 on December 8. All rinks were up and the best was Jenny Redshaw (skipper), Sandra Barker, June Wilson and Rikki Bartlett. Div I’s round 11 game is at Wallaroo on January 12. Div II Blue had a bye in round 10 and received a forfeit from Alford in round 11 on December 15. They are now three games clear on top of the ladder. Div II Green had a good win, 99-48 with all rinks up, against Ardrossan in round 10 on December 8. Best rink by far was Pamela Parmiter (sk), Pauline Sweet, Anita Woods and Dawn Lodge with a win of 29 shots. At Wallaroo last week, Moonta Green lost by 38 shots with all rinks down. “Twins?”

Moonta Saturday: Results 17-12-22 — At the end of a disrupted first part of the season, the open competition sides are in strong positions leading into the break. Division I can mount a charge to the top four, both div II sides are well placed and the div III sides look strong to finish in the race to the finals. Div I, in seventh place, hosted Arthurlton, second (with only one loss for the season); the result was an easy win to Moonta 132-69, all rinks up. Best Mike Treloar, Ian Hatcher, Kim Redshaw, Joe Fahey 42-12. Div II Red, away at Port Broughton, was confident of a win and so it was 125-67, all rinks winning well. Best John Gibb, Rod Bilsborough, Steve Kerrigan, Dennis Willshire 18 up. Div II Blue visited Wallaroo Mines which looked to be a hard task but got the result 118-100, two rinks each. Best Al Gordon, Robert Rasmus, Tony Emmerton, Phil Woodward 18 up. Div III Red motored to Maitland and, in difficult, windy weather, scraped in 60-59 with only one rink up. Best Jenny Emmerton, Mike Catlow, Sharon Wilson, June Wilson 9 up. Div III Blue did a good job defeating Kadina on its home track 62-60, two rinks up. Best Ray Walker, Bob Wheaton, Jennifer Dunstan, Geoff Zeilm 4 up. “What’s under the tree?”

Paskeville: The Thursday women’s competition side won 83 to Wallaroo Mines 72. Jackie Harrop, Lynice Abbott, Clare Rundle and Bob Rouse won 25-12. Lyn Bensens team won 19-13 and Julie Philbey’s team had a draw. Thanks to Wallaroo Mines for your Christmas nibbles and also to Lyn Bensen for her special effort. Saturday division I got back into second spot with a 123-76 win against Port Broughton, and is only one point behind top. Well done. To think we are still winning right through the harvest period is magnificent. Ric Schild, Garry Willson, Matthew Ward and Bruce Daniel won 40-16; David Millard’s team won 31-16 and John Bussenschutt’s 31-18. Thank you to everyone who helped us to get a div II side together to play at Alford; we lost 84-99 but it was good to have a game. Robert Manuel, Sheryl Millard, Robert Venning and Bob Rouse won 21-14. A special mention to Rod Davies, Lyndall Stanley, Luke Warren and Paul Smith who led all day and won 23-21. Without you Lyndall and Luke we wouldn’t have had a side. Hope to see you all after the break. Merry Christmas. “One-eyed Magpie”

A GOOD DAY... Crew of Chameleon, Jack and Deni, back ashore following an afternoon on the water.

Port Vincent Sailing Club

Once again harvest and family events kept several boats off the water but a small fleet competed in race three of our club championship series in good sailing conditions on Sunday, December 18. Regular top deck spectators enjoyed the view of the bay and kept an eye on the boats as they navigated the course buoys.

Following the completion of the race, everyone gathered together for a shared Christmas dinner in the clubhouse. Trailer sailers: 1 Cripple Creek Ferry, R Cook; 2

Half Fast, G Hackett; 3 Xtremist, J Butler; 4 Chameleon, A Rushbrook. Multihulls: 1 Grinch, A Van Arend.

PM

Wallaroo Sailing Club

Temperature was perfect for a day on the water on Sunday, December 18.

The only thing missing was a decent breeze and, with Christmas just around the corner, we were missing quite a few of our junior sailors.

Many had family commitments and others were occupied with harvest.

Nonetheless, we were still able to get two boats out on the water for a turn around the bay in a very gentle breeze.

The afternoon sailors set off for two races in very fickle winds, which went from a gentle breeze to 10 knots and then dropping out again.

The fleet, although very small, was very competitive.

After a magnificent day on the water, everyone enjoyed the social atmosphere on the sailing club deck.

Radio control

Conditions were very trying in the marina basin for the radio control led yacht sailors.

Swirling and gusting winds were quite frustrating.

Congratulations to John Orchard who finally had a win today after some very close races in the last few weeks.

Sign up day draws crowd

Moonta Football Club welcomed more than 20 participants to the town oval for its female footy come and try day on Sunday, December 18.

Coming from all across Yorke Peninsula and Port Pirie, attendees engaged in simple drills organised by SANFL game development coordinator Will Schultz and took the time to familiarise themselves with the club.

Moonta is attempting to enter a senior team in the Mid North Women's Football Competition and under 14 and U17 teams in the Northern Plains Female Football League.

Pleasingly for club president Mark Durdin, the vast majority of those who attended had already or subsequently registered to play.

"It was great to see the girls from everywhere involved and obviously it was a Moonta FC event, but some of the girls were in their Wallaroo or Kadina gear, which really signifies just how big of a group effort this is," he said.

"From what I gather, pretty much everyone who attended has committed to playing next year which is fantastic.

"We've had a lot of optimistic talk and response since launching this project, and it has certainly brought an extra positive factor for the club."

Attention now turns to putting teams on the field, with the season set to begin in February.

The club has also decided on coaches for the senior side, with Nick and Kara Rendell set to provide coaching and fitness leadership respectively.

"We're actually going to start training for the seniors in January on Mondays and Wednesdays," Durdin said.

"The fixtures aren't set yet but the senior side will start on Friday, February 17 in the Crystal Brook competition and we understand the juniors will be on Sunday, February 19."

If you're interested in finding out more information or registering to play, contact Durdin on 0416 436 872 or visit docs.google.com/forms/d/e/1FAIpQLSc_r59Y_afQeUruYDAiGJcgLiKUmFakwRWiE3KbSF3zgWqkA/viewform.

FRIENDSHIPS... 2023 SA under 18 girls academy member Kayleigh May (middle) with local footy hopefuls Taya Linke and Phoebe Rosewarne at Sunday's come and try day.

HAVING A GO... Carlin Marco, of Moonta, handpasses during the come and try day.

Southern Yorke Peninsula...

Back to bowls, except at Minlaton

“NN”
REPORT BY
Saturday competition
DIVISION I
The open gender competition top division Minlaton versus Stansbury match was called off due to a fire in the district on December 17.
All other round 11 games were played without incident, although the wind was hard to handle, and some big scores were recorded.
It was good to get out on the greens again after round 10 matches were cancelled due to a Bowls SA ruling regarding the predicted catastrophic fire danger day on December 10.
Yorketown had the biggest winning margin, 114-58 against Warooka, and retained top spot on the table.
Darrin Thom, filling in for skipper Rod Franke, came up against top Warooka skipper Jim McKenzie and won 27-16. Mick McCallion scored a big win against Allan Gregory 32-11.
Edithburgh annexed Curramulka 117-74. Micheal Davies (Edithburgh) was up 35-12 on Marshall Thompson, and Chris Tatchell scored a 26-13 win against Des Short.
Closest div I game was at Port Vincent, which defeated Port Victoria 94-92.
The biggest rink win went to Port Vic's David Field, 38-10 against Ron Turnbull, whilst Rob Marner (Vincent) defeated John Thiele 34-10.
DIVISION II
Port Victoria had an upset win at home, defeating Stansbury Blue by six shots.
Stansbury White hosted Yorketown Blue, the match going the visiting side's way by three shots.
Yorketown Blue skipper Kevin Lynch continued his winning ways, up 23-13 against Arnie Holland, whilst Ian Perry kept the flag flying for Stansbury White with a 27-16 win against Robin Spratt.
Windy Warooka was the venue for the Warooka v Yorketown Red clash, Yorketown Red travelling home with a 15-shot win under its belt.
Yorketown Red's Peter Quick and his team led easily at the break, 19-5 up against Heather Drury, but only won one end after tea to lose 22-28.

Thursday competition
DIVISION I

Port Victoria hurt Warooka's chances of a finals berth with a 29-shot win against the home side.
Biggest winner was Port Vic's Naomi Porrovecchio 32-9 against Jan Larcombe. Warooka's only winner Fiona Bilney defeated Carol Gill 21-16.
Giant killers Stansbury and Curramulka met at the Curry greens, where the home side's bubble burst, Stansbury winning 83-67.
Edithburgh defeated Minlaton but not without a struggle.
The 'Burgh's top rink was Betty Hewton's, which had a 35-3 victory from Marilyn Mitchell; Barb Newbold nearly negated this for Minlaton with a solid win 30-9 against Deb Funnell.

Wednesday competition
Games were played at Minlaton and Curramulka last week.
The wind was cold at both places and there were several upset results.
Most surprising outcome was Ardrossan White's 46-18 defeat of Stansbury.
Ardrossan White won both rinks, David Adcock 24-6 over Nick Leach and Nick Marsh defeated the in-form Andy Rogers 22-12.
Minlaton had a 68-21 win against Warooka; Craig Norgren defeated Jim McKenzie 36-11 and Bill Eales defeated Tony Dunn 32-10.
At Curramulka, Edithburgh Green defeated Port Vincent Gold 70-20.
Peter Bartram took out the top prize with a 33-6 win against Bran Tuttle whilst Darcy Rex had a 37-14 win against Chris Coleman.
Closest game was between Curramulka and Yorketown Blue, Curry winning by one shot, 36-35.
Des Short defeated Geoff Clarke 27-9 whilst Peter Quick defeated Hugh Watters 26-12.
Here's to a happy Christmas and a healthy 2023.

Northern Yorke Peninsula...

Moonta top division back on a winning track

Joan Hill
REPORT BY

Saturday competition

DIVISION I

There were some big margins in top division's round 11 matches on December 17.

Moonta appears to be back on the winning track with a huge victory, 132-69, against the harvest-affected Arthurton. Winning 42-12, Mike Treloar, Ian Hatcher, Kim Redshaw and Joseph Fahey were a big asset in Moonta's overall scoreline.

Ardrossan won at home against Bute, 102-86, with three teams up.

Kadina travelled to Maitland and won 111-73 with three teams up.

Paskeville hosted Port Broughton; the home side's 123-76 win helped it back into second on the ladder.

With Moonta now fifth, the first few games of 2023 will indeed be interesting.

DIVISION II

Div II had some closely contested games, only one of the six having a margin larger than 18 shots.

Moonta Red travelled to Port Broughton for a 58-shot win, 125-67.

Three shots was the closest margin, twice: Kadina winning 99-96 at Arthurton and Bute defeating Ardrossan 91-88 at Bute.

White defeated Blue 105-91 (14 shots) in the Wallaroo derby.

At Alford, the home side defeated Paskeville 99-84 (15 shots).

Moonta Blue played Wallaroo Mines at the Mines and won 118-100 (18 shots) with two teams up.

Both Moonta sides continue to dominate this competition with Wallaroo White sitting close behind in third.

DIVISION III

Moonta Red had a one-shot win at Maitland, 60-59.

At Kadina, the home side lost by two shots to Moonta Blue, 60-62.

Port Broughton hosted Wallaroo Mines and won 56-46.

Biggest margin was at Wallaroo, where White defeated Blue 85-41 in their derby.

The Saturday (open gender) competition resumes after the Christmas/New Year's break on January 14.

Next round

DIVISION I

Div I is having a 34-day break over Christmas, with its last matches for 2022 (round 10) on December 8 and first games for 2023 (round 11) on January 12.

DIVISION II

After playing an extra round leading up to Christmas and round 12 programmed for January 5, div II only has a 20-day break.

Paskeville hosts Moonta Green first up in 2023. When last they met, the game was played in Moonta and Paskeville won by 20 shots. Can the Magpies do it again?

Top side Moonta Blue will welcome visitor Wallaroo Mines; Moonta Blue will want to stay on top so should win.

Walloaroo, at home, will be too strong for Ardrossan.

Thomas Kelly (Bute connections) and the Adelaide Strikers are two wins from two games to start season 12 of the Big Bash League. Kelly only faced one ball and was not out for one in the side's 6/184 against the Sydney Sixers at Adelaide Oval last Wednesday, December 14. The Strikers romped home for a 51-run win after keeping the Sixers to 7/133. Adelaide's match against the Sydney Thunder at Spotless Stadium on Friday, December 16, will go down in Big Bash history. Kelly, batting at number six, made 13 from 15 deliveries in the Strikers' modest total of 9/139. The Strikers went on to win the game by massive 124 runs, after bowling the Thunder out for just 15.

SACA men's first grade

Sturt made a big total of 9/329 against Prospect in the two-day fixture on Saturday and Sunday, December 17 and 18. Corey Kelly (Bute connections) made a respectable 38 from 66 balls, hitting six boundaries and taking 2/42 from 17 overs, including five maidens. Sturt bowled Prospect out for 245 to win by 86 runs.

SACA men's Twenty20 Cup

In the final minor round game of the t20 competition, Sturt was bundled out for 91. This score was on the back of a 52-run eighth wicket partnership, as the Blues were 8/39 at one point in their innings. C Kelly, opening the batting made a first ball duck. Tea Tree Gully took 15.1 overs to make the runs with Kelly collecting 1/23 from his four overs. Both the Blues and 2021-22 winners West Torrens didn't make the semifinal stage of the SACA T20 competition this season.

SACA U14 boys

In the Under 14 Red game, West Torrens had a strong six-wicket win against Port Adelaide. In the Magpie's innings of 5/137, Cash Meyers (Ardrossan) was involved in a pair of wickets and had the respectable figures of 1/28 from five overs.

WNBL

Stephanie Talbot was the Adelaide Lightning's stand out with a double-double at home against defending champions Melbourne Boomers on Sunday afternoon, December 18. After a solid first quarter, in which the Lightning edged out to a three-point lead, it was all downhill from there. The Lightning was only able to score nine points in the third quarter, losing by 25 points, 64-89. While she shot at just 20 per cent from the floor, Talbot was still the Lightning's second highest scorer with 13 points and the team's leading rebounder with 10, including eight at the defensive end. She was credited with two assists and a pair of blocks, and turned the ball over twice. The Lightning face off against the Boomers again, this time at the State Basketball Centre in Melbourne on Thursday night, December 22.

SACA MEN'S TWENTY20 CUP... Corey Kelly in action for Sturt.

JOLLY VISIT... Viterra harvest classifier Lucy Johns, Ninnes grower Richard Daviel and head classifier Suzanne Thomas take a break to mark the Christmas season at the Wallaroo site.

Harvest Christmas cheer

Michelle Daw

GROWERS across the peninsula are hoping to finish their harvest before Christmas.

Richard Daniel, of Ninnes, said this year's harvest is the best he has seen in 54 years of farming, with his crops reaping well above average after good spring rainfall.

"Our lentils are about three tonnes a hectare, barley about four tonnes and our wheat is four to five tonnes," he said.

Mr Daniel said, although he started harvesting later than usual this year, he hopes to be finished in time to enjoy Christmas with his family at home.

Viterra central region operations manager Jack Tansley said barley made up the highest proportion of commodities delivered to date at all Viterra's sites on Yorke Peninsula, closely followed by wheat, with lentils and some canola.

Mr Tansley said the sites, located at Wallaroo, Ardrossan, Port Giles and Bute, would be open to support growers over the Christmas and New Year period.

Growers call for understanding during fire season

Michelle Daw
JOURNALIST

GRAIN growers have called for more understanding from the public about fire safety precautions during harvest, after recent hot, windy weather on Yorke Peninsula.

The CFS made its first declaration of catastrophic fire conditions on YP for the 2022-23 bushfire season on Saturday, December 10.

This resulted in some criticism of YP growers in metropolitan media outlets and on social media.

CFS acting executive director of operations Brenton Hastie said it was important for the public to understand growers base their harvesting decisions on a set of observations taken in real time at the local level, under the Harvest Code of Practice.

Under the code, growers make observations of local conditions including temperature, wind speed, humidity, and fuel loads.

The data is entered into a fire behaviour calculator to produce a fire danger risk rating.

This year, SA is transitioning from the state-based Grasslands Fire Behaviour Index to the new national Fire Behaviour Index, with growers able to use either index during the transition period.

Mr Hastie said the Code of Practice enabled growers to harvest their crops within reasonable time frames, while still taking necessary precautions based on sets of observations.

He said many of SA's fire weather districts, including Yorke Peninsula, encompassed large geographical areas which could experience a wide range of weather conditions in any 24-hour period.

"You could have potentially dangerous conditions on northern YP yet quite mild conditions on southern YP, or vice versa, on any given day," he said.

"The fire danger ratings can be based on predicted conditions for as little as 10 per cent of the entire geographical area of the fire weather district."

Mr Hastie said it was important to retain a balance between safety and the ability for growers to harvest their crops as soon as practically possible.

"We want growers to be able to harvest their crops safely and efficiently and it is an advantage for the CFS if they can get their crops off early in the season to reduce the risk of grass fires," he said.

Grain Producers South Australia chief executive Brad Perry said he understood SA was the only state or territory with a voluntary code of practice for fire safety during harvest.

"We have really good adherence to the code here and safety is paramount, but we also don't want to lose any more harvest days than necessary," Mr Perry said.

Agery grain grower and CFS Yorke Valley group captain Andrew Cadd said it was critical growers retained the ability to utilise data on local conditions to decide whether it was safe to harvest.

"There may be a forecast for fire danger across an entire fire weather district like Yorke Peninsula, but in fact it may be a perfectly good day for reaping in your local area," Mr Cadd said.

He pointed out growers could make repeated observations and calculations through the day if the weather changed.

Mr Cadd praised growers who utilised their farm fire units to responded quickly to grass fires on YP over the weekend, including the 80 units who supported 45 CFS crew members and CFS aircraft at a fire near Koolywurtie on Sunday, December 18.

The fire, which was caused by a build-up of lentils in the header comb, resulted in significant damage to lentil, wheat and oat crops over 185 hectares.

Precision farming with Vaters

Advertising promotion

VATER Machinery is leading the way in precision land management through its Vater RTK NTRIP network.

Not only do they offer state-of-the-art guidance correction, Vater RTK will help you work smarter, not harder.

"The main principles of Vater RTK are guidance, data and performance," Vater Machinery's Michael Glasson said.

"We have base stations across the peninsula and through our NTRIP mobile signal-based network, we can offer clients with all makes and models of tractors/headers the ability to steer their machines within two centimetres of accuracy.

"But that's just the start, by combining the NTRIP network and New Holland Telematics, we can collect data from seeding, harvesting and spraying and help clients achieve their best results.

"All data is stored safely in a cloud-based system but it is accessible across their whole system, which makes it easier than some methods which involve saving the data to a USB and only having access from one terminal."

Michael said the data collected through the Telematics system would be invaluable.

"It is not only guidance but technology that enables you to monitor and record, machine efficiency, moisture levels, topography, soil types, nitrogen, pH and crop yields and much more, giving you valuable information so fertiliser rates, sprays and even machinery use can be applied at the optimal time resulting in the best outcome," he said.

"We offer the whole package.

"With the latest guidance systems set up in my ute and utilising our RTK network, I am able to map a client's farms giving them accurate boundaries and AB lines, this is key to collecting data.

"We can then set clients up with MYNewholland portal access and help them collect farming data and manage all their paddock and guidance data across their whole fleet

"It helps performance across the board — from your equipment to efficiency, lower input costs and increased returns.

"We started it about 12 months ago, it's really just grown since then.

"We have many New Holland clients using Vater RTK and can fit this system to any make or model machine."

VATER - leaves a lasting impression

Stop silverleaf nightshade creep

LAND managers are urged to catch new outbreaks of silverleaf nightshade (Solanum elaeagnifolium) early this summer to prevent a costly eradication and crop yield problem.

Recent high rainfall is expected to trigger its arrival on agricultural properties previously considered clean of the plant, also known as tomato weed.

Silverleaf nightshade robs grain crops of available water and nutrients, reducing yields by up to 70 per cent and is difficult to eradicate if dense infestations form, with no effective herbicide treatments providing a quick fix.

Lochiel farmer Mitchell Nicholls shared his family's bitter experience with the weed and warned other farmers to take early action.

"Silverleaf nightshade is out of control on our farm despite our best efforts," he said.

"It's worth getting onto early, before it becomes a problem.

"We've tried controlling it with chemicals with limited success.

"We've found it keeps sending up new shoots which require multiple chemical applications each season and in subsequent years seems to be just as prolific.

"Plus, the chemical applications recommended are expensive, so broadacre spraying is not always a viable option."

Northern and Yorke Landscape Board's Fabienne Dee encouraged land managers to be on the lookout for the purple-flowered plant around shearing sheds, stock yards, shade trees, trough areas and near gates.

"The highest priority is to control isolated plants and patches of the weed before the tap roots form," she said.

The plant's deep root system, which can extend two or more metres below ground, makes it resilient to drought and competitive against crop and pasture plants.

"The other priority is stopping seed set in order to prevent the plant from reproducing and infesting other parts of your property," Ms Dee said.

For more information on silverleaf nightshade and how to control it, visit www.landscapesa.gov.au/ny/plants-and-animals/pest-plants-and-animals/pest-plants-weeds.

Upper Yorke Road named South Australia's worst

GRAIN Producers SA has named Upper Yorke Road as the worst grain road in South Australia.

GPSA's Worst Grain Road 2022 report identifies the top 10 worst transport routes across the state, as voted by grain producers.

This year's report featured almost 150 individual submissions which identified 58 different roads in need of repair.

The dangerously narrow nature of Upper Yorke Road, particularly the 36 kilometre stretch between Kulpara and Arthurton, was highlighted by survey respondents.

Numerous potholes, undulations and crumbling edges were also raised as a concerns.

GPSA CEO Brad Perry said the feedback from grain producers painted a bleak picture of the condition of key freight routes.

"The campaign has shown that grain producers are not just losing productivity due to the condition of the federal, state and local government roads highlighted in the top 10 of the Worst Grain Road campaign, but they fear for their safety and that of others travelling these routes," Mr Perry said.

"This is a damning report into the condition of key freight routes for a grain sector worth more than $3 billion to our state.

"For those who make decisions on where to invest in South Australia's road network, GPSA is calling on these top 10 Worst Grain Roads to receive immediate investment in repairs and upgrades and we will be relentlessly lobbying for a fix to these routes."

Fire prompts haystack reminder

Michelle Daw
JOURNALIST

THE potential for a bumper harvest on Yorke Peninsula this season, and a fire at Brentwood which resulted in $80,000 damage, have prompted a reminder to growers from the CFS about haystack fire safety.

The Brentwood, Minlaton, Edithburgh, Warooka, Stansbury, and Port Vincent CFS brigades responded to the fire, which destroyed 420 bales of hay, on Tuesday, December 13.

Crews were able to save 450 bales, valued at $100,000.

CFS state duty commander Ray Jackson said the fire was caused by combustion within the bales.

He reminded growers to take care storing hay correctly and to regularly monitor moisture levels and check for signs of overheating.

Mr Jackson said this was particularly important now, given that continuing favourable conditions were making this year's harvest a potential record-breaker.

"Just one damp bale is enough to ignite a haystack, so make sure you protect all bales from rain, runoff, leaking roofs and gutters," he said.

"If some bales become damp, they should be stored separately and closely monitored."

Haystacks should be limited in size and have enough airflow to allow heat and moisture to escape.

"If you get hay from another area, make sure you know the history and moisture content of the hay before you store it," Mr Jackson said.

"Be careful when using vehicles, machinery and equipment near haystacks, especially during days of high fire danger.

"Be aware that hot hay may suddenly catch alight if it is pulled apart, so if any part of the stack is near or above 70 degrees Celsius or you see or smell smoke, you should call Triple Zero (000) immediately."

ON FIRE... CFS crews were called to a haystack fire at Brentwood, which resulted in $80,000 damage.

DEFENCE PROOF & EXPERIMENTAL ESTABLISHMENT PORT WAKEFIELD: LIVE FIRING RANGE WARNING NOTICE

Test and evaluation activities involving static firings and/or firings of naval and artillery weapons are conducted at the Proof and Experimental Establishment Port Wakefield throughout the year. The Proof and Experimental Establishment Port Wakefield is a vital Defence test and evaluation capability that has supported Defence since 1929.

These firings may require specific tidal or weather conditions, and are critical for the safety of current and new Defence capabilities. Members of the public may notice noise, vibration, flashes and/or smoke during the testing. There is no risk to the public outside of the gazetted Defence Practice Areas.

For reasons of public safety, there is a permanent exclusion zone covering land, sea and air around the Port Wakefield Establishment. Specific details on the Port Wakefield Prohibited Area can be obtained from Commonwealth of Australia Gazette No GN 26, 4 July 1990, and is shown on the diagram below. Trespassing in this Area is strictly prohibited and very dangerous due to the presence of unexploded bombs. Any person found within the Prohibited Area or on Defence land will be subject to prosecution.

Specific test and evaluation activities may also require restricting public access to the Port Wakefield Defence Practice Areas over specific periods with these areas articulated in the Commonwealth of Australia Gazette No. GN 40, 7 October 1992, and also identified on the diagram below. This may affect access to the Gulf of St Vincent at Port Wakefield and Port Parham.

If any member of the public has inquiries in relation to these activities, please contact Proof & Experimental Establishment Port Wakefield – Range Control on (08) 8867 0270 between 8.00am and 4.30pm weekdays or the Proof & Experimental Establishment Port Wakefield – Security Office on (08) 8867 0299 outside these hours.

The Christmas Tree

"Twas the eve of the night before Christmas,
When the Christmas tree burst into flames,
It fell to the mat and it startled the cat
Who then leapt on the dog we called James.
The presents were burnt to a cinder,
The lounge was all blackened with soot,
The cat had then leapt out the window,
In truth, on the end of my foot.

But the wife wouldn't give up on Christmas,
She pulled out my old Santa suit,
And said that I'd come down the chimney
Complete with a sack full of loot.
And she wouldn't take no for an answer,
So, there I was up on the tiles,
As I waited that night till the stroke of midnight
While the snow coated gardens for miles.

At midnight I jumped down the chimney
And squeezed past the old chimney pots,
I got down halfway, then I heard the wife say
"There's a smell there like something that rots"
Then my foot found an ancient cadaver,
Lodged right in the chimney below,
The long-roasted bones of a possum,
That found there was no place to go.

Then the chimney had started to narrow,
I couldn't go up or go down,
I called to the wife, "I'll be stuck here for life,
If you don't call the men in the town."
So, I soon heard the bell of the fire truck,
And the sounds of them smashing each brick,
To the neighbours delight as they laughed at my plight
I'm now seen as dopey and thick.

So, whenever it comes round to Christmas
The wife goes all silent on me,
I know what she's thinking, they ought to be blinking
The lights on the top of the tree.
But the cat comes and peers in the window,
And the dog hides just under my chair,
For I won't have a tree if it's left up to me,
In the lounge, there's just one blackened square.

DEFENCE PROOF & EXPERIMENTAL ESTABLISHMENT PORT WAKEFIELD: LIVE FIRING RANGE WARNING NOTICE

Test and evaluation activities involving static firings and/or firings of naval and artillery weapons are conducted at the Proof and Experimental Establishment Port Wakefield throughout the year. The Proof and Experimental Establishment Port Wakefield is a vital Defence test and evaluation capability that has supported Defence since 1929.

These firings may require specific tidal or weather conditions, and are critical for the safety of current and new Defence capabilities. Members of the public may notice noise, vibration, flashes and/or smoke during the testing. There is no risk to the public outside of the gazetted Defence Practice Areas.

For reasons of public safety, there is a permanent exclusion zone covering land, sea and air around the Port Wakefield Establishment. Specific details on the Port Wakefield Prohibited Area can be obtained from Commonwealth of Australia Gazette No GN 26, 4 July 1990, and is shown on the diagram below. Trespassing in this Area is strictly prohibited and very dangerous due to the presence of unexploded bombs. Any person found within the Prohibited Area or on Defence land will be subject to prosecution.

Specific test and evaluation activities may also require restricting public access to the Port Wakefield Defence Practice Areas over specific periods with these areas articulated in the Commonwealth of Australia Gazette No. GN 40, 7 October 1992, and also identified on the diagram below. This may affect access to the Gulf of St Vincent at Port Wakefield and Port Parham.

If any member of the public has inquiries in relation to these activities, please contact Proof & Experimental Establishment Port Wakefield - Range Control on (08) 8867 0270 between 8.00am and 4.30pm weekdays or the Proof & Experimental Establishment Port Wakefield - Security Office on (08) 8867 0299 outside these hours.

Starscopes

♈ ARIES—March 21-April 20

Several opportunities present themselves for negotiation. A new person in your life seems to bring good luck. Long trips and brief encounters are featured on the weekend

♉ TAURUS—April 21-May 22

Take a breather from obligations to enjoy time alone and an evening of culture. It is a better week for giving than receiving. Be a little less secretive.

♊ GEMINI—May 23-June 21

Social obligations can get you weary and invigorating exercise should recharge your spirits. Don't read too much into a colleague's remarks. Music and the theatre are in the week's picture.

♋ CANCER—June 22-July 22

Postponements through the week make life a little confusing, but also provide for a surprise bonus. Diplomacy is the key to romantic success. Think twice before making loans, especially to family.

♌ LEO—July 23-August 22

You may receive important mail, email or phone calls this week. It's time to catch up on those left behind jobs, but also to get lots of rest and be true to your diet.

♍ VIRGO—August 23-September 22

Opportunities for increased status should open up now. The week combines lazy days with crazy days. Allow extra time for the needs of older relatives. Health problems can disrupt travel.

♎ LIBRA—September 23-October 22

Recent financial difficulties are resolved. You could find yourself coming to a friend's rescue on the weekend. Your creative juices are bubbling. Plan, begin and complete an entire mini-project.

♏ SCORPIO—October 23-November 21

This is a busy week for creating enterprising and partnership activities. Avoid speculating Thursday - Saturday. Real estate hunting is favoured on the weekend. Tact is critical in family dealings.

♐ SAGITTARIUS—November 22-December 22

Spend a little more time listening to children and boosting your own morale. Thursday could see good business prospects. Consulting with professionals will put your mind at ease.

♑ CAPRICORN—December 23-January 20

Relatives can be critical this week and they can also be right. The weekend favours family outings. Teamwork brings unexpected success and delight Thursday or Friday.

♒ AQUARIUS—January 21-February 19

The weekend is perfect for home improvements and general repair jobs. Information that's intriguing and helpful comes your way. Give extra time to agreements of all types.

♓ PISCES—February 20-March 20

Overall, this should be a quiet week, good for catching up on paperwork. Your perception and memory is sharp. Loved ones can be a little stubborn and interfering.

BIRTHDAY THIS WEEK

You are open minded, optimistic and philanthropic. Your biggest problem is that you are not discriminating enough. If you have been in a rut lately, this is the time to shake yourself out of it.

Analysis: What did Joe do?

PAUL Kelly's How to Make Gravy is the greatest Christmas song ever written and is loved by Australians everywhere looking for a Christmas identity.

Despite the almost inevitable fact Christmas will be spent in sweltering heat, we're inundated with imagery of a snowy season from the Northern Hemisphere.

How to Make Gravy provides a tale of heartache and longing which taps specifically into the emotional connection for Australians to Christmas.

However, it does raise one notable question if you stop and think about the lyrics.

Within the first four lines it becomes evident our protagonist Joe is in jail. But at no point throughout the five-minute song do we understand why he's in jail. What did Joe do?

Murder

I'm not going to say it's impossible, but this is unlikely. Joe's letter home gives the impression this is the first time he's been incarcerated at Christmas. He also says "if I get good behaviour, I'll be out of here by July". It turns out the average minimum sentence for murder in Australia is 20 years, meaning this timeline of around one year is unlikely.

Assault

This one garnered some support in the YPCT office and, while he does register some anger at the thought of someone else dancing with his wife while away, he doesn't seem like the type to be interested in a punch-up. He notes "I'm even going to miss Roger, because there sure is hell no one in here I want to fight". Doesn't check out to me, at least not in this weird analysis.

Armed robbery

See above for the most part. Although, I do get the impression, if push came to shove and Joe thought this was the only way he could provide for his family, he would resort to this.

Tax fraud or embezzlement

This is what I'm inclined to believe. To me, Joe seems like someone who might've done pretty well for himself, ended up with a cushy job and took it too far. The short sentence theory would make sense and it relieves Joe of a heinous act rather than a white collar crime.

Despite deliberately leaving the reason out (which should be commended - it adds to the song's mystique), Kelly is quoted as saying he thinks Joe got out and kept his promise of good behaviour.

It's also widely thought the gravy recipe mentioned (flour, salt, red wine, tomato sauce) isn't great and that's the whole premise of the song! So maybe just stick to the Gravox.

Anyway, I won't be offended if you forget you read all of this. Just listen to the song tomorrow, will you? It is the 21st of December.

This day in history

December 20, 1915: The last Australian troops were evacuated from Gallipoli during World War I.

December 20, 1957: Elvis Presley received a draft notice to join the US Army.

December 20, 2009: US President Barack Obama was vaccinated against swine flu.

What's been Trending

Poor protest: Soccer fans in Melbourne were slammed after they invaded the pitch during a Melbourne Victory and Melbourne City match on Saturday, December 17. A walk-out protest against a decision to award the next three A-League grand finals to Sydney was planned for the 20th minute of the match; however, it turned ugly as fans rioted instead.

Lowest score: The Adelaide Strikers bowled out Big Bash League opponent Sydney Thunder for 15, the lowest professional twenty20 score ever, on Friday, December 16.

Welcome again to Greg James' Fishing Column with all the hot tips, ideas and recipes for Fishing Yorke Peninsula; you can contact Greg by email at greg@gregjamesfishing.com.au

Recipe, prawn cocktail bruschetta:
Ingredients — 8-10 cooked prawns (shelled), 1 baguette, 2-3 marinated artichokes, 1 crushed garlic clove, caper berries, mayonnaise, seasoning, olive oil, chives.
Preparation — blitz artichokes, caper berries with mayo in food processor. Toast sliced baguette thinly spread with garlic and oil. Spread mixture over baguette slices and add 1 prawn. Sprinkle with chopped chives and enjoy with a cool glass of sparkling rosé.
Wallaroo: Strong southerly winds were the order for most days of last week, making for somewhat bumpy conditions offshore and pushing most jetty-based anglers to the northern side! Tommy ruff (Australian herring), squid and a couple of yellowfin whiting have been the main reports in the shallows, while a few hardy boat crews picked their times to chase blue crabs, whiting and garfish from up at Tickera and Myponie Point.
Moonta Bay/Port Hughes: Locals fishing both jetties caught a few blueys and not much else. Offshore has King George whiting, garfish and squid at Warburto Point and West Light. I sighted a couple of rakers seeking blueys from the Moonta Bay flats on the high tide on Sunday.

Point Turton: Shore and jetty-based anglers from Point Turton to Port Rickaby worked hard for not much during the week as poor tides negatively affected local fishing. Boat crews fished the deeper water drops off Point Souttar and Corny Point for whiting, small kingfish, snook and squid.

Marion Bay/Stenhouse Bay: Those persistent southerlies cracked in here last week and this kept many boaties on shore. Tommies and squid and a few garfish are at both jetties, while shore-based anglers caught salmon, flathead and mullet from Hillocky Beach, West Cape and Mozzie Flat.

Edithburgh/Stansbury: Both jetties hold a few blueys at first light and Sultana Passage has KG whiting, mullet and gar at times. Wattle Point and Suicides Beach have salmon trout and mullet on the high tides, while Tapley Shoals has KG whiting and small snapper (to be returned to the water immediately).

Ardrossan: The southerly winds were blowing when I checked in here late on Thursday afternoon with only a couple of anglers at the town jetty wistfully chasing blue crabs and squid. For boat crews there is gar, squid and tommies from the grounds near Windara Reef and blue crabs up at Price.
Tight lines and see you next week!

Girls flock to footy try outs

Patrick Goldsmith
REPORT BY

More than 20 women and girls came to give football a go at a come and try day at Moonta

Oval on Sunday, December 18. Moonta Football Club is attempting to enter a senior team in the Mid North Women's Football Competition and under 14 and u17 teams in the Northern Plains Female Football League, with both competitions starting in February.

Club president Mark Durdin said he was impressed by the turnout from across the peninsula.

"Obviously it was a Moonta FC event, but some of the girls were in their Wallaroo or Kadina gear, which really signifies just how big of a group effort this is," he said.

"From what I gather, pretty much everyone who attended has committed to playing next year which is fantastic.

"We've had a lot of optimistic talk and response since launching this project, and it has certainly brought an extra positive factor for the club."
