Marina works enter next stage

Jess Liddy
JOURNALIST

A SIXTH stage of works at the Copper Cove Marina, Wallaroo, has begun.

The marina was approved as a major development in 1999, with plans involving 500 housing allotments as well as commercial properties and up to 154 marina berths.

Construction has now started on the land along Heritage Drive, between the boat ramp and the Coopers Alehouse for a new road and installation of services to the new proposed allotments.

Crystallcorp Developments business development manager Alexander Stone said the civil works were the start of Stage Six.

"These works will facilitate future development projects, which may include tourist accommodation, residential and commercial, and marine-related facilities; this mix is yet to be determined," he said.

"Numerous discussions with the Copper Coast Council on how these developments will likely proceed in the future have been held and will be ongoing to establish final proposals.

"These civil works include a new sealed public road over the site with access from Heritage Drive to the wharf for the commercial fishing community, in addition to limited public access to the waterfront."

Updated electricity, water and sewerage facilities will be included within these works.

"Civil works are likely to continue until early April," Mr Stone said.

"In cooperation with Kelly Pyke-Tape of the Spencer Gulf and West Coast Prawn Fishermen's Association Inc., Crystallcorp Development have sought to have minimal interference with the fishing season and wharf access while the civil works proceed over Stage Six."

Copper Coast Council director development services Muller Mentz said council had recently approved a land division, which will create a public road, two reserves and seven commercial sites.

"We have not approved any built form on any of the proposed new allotments," Mr Mentz said.

"The new allotments can only be registered on separate titles once all the works and services are completed to service these newly created allotments."

"The proposed allotments are for commercial type uses which include a variety of possible uses, including retail and accommodation type developments as allowed in the Planning and Design Code."

Sir Richard statue meaning

I HAVE been asked many times why the statue of Sir Richard is posed the way he is on the bench.

He isn't waving to the passers-by and not facing a particular direction, he is facing the person sitting next to him on the bench.

The committee and the RAAF wanted this statue to be interactive, educational, inspiring and part of the community, passing on the message of the RAAF Centenary "Then Now Always" and the statue says it all.

The explanation below, worded by Group Captain Greg Weller of the RAAF, says it all.

There is symbolism throughout the statue.

It is designed to allow one to sit down beside an older Dickie Williams wearing his Air Marshal uniform with his awards and decorations on full display.

The intent is for one to sit beside the Father of the RAAF as if one is having a conversation with him drawing inspiration from a Moonta boy who, from humble beginnings, achieved so much through a distinguished career serving at the highest level of the Air Force and then civilian aviation.

Note the RAAF Roundel in his left hand — in effect, he is cradling in his hand the Air Force he created.

Meanwhile, his right hand is pointed to the sky — the domain he flew in as a military pilot where he served with distinction in WWI and conceived the vision and need for an independent Air Force for Australia that he fought to establish and then develop between the wars.

The eyes are superb — one can literally gaze into them.

The attention to detail on the uniform is superb with detailed medals and creases and folds in the trousers and pockets. The old boots are fantastic.

One can foresee people will come to Queen Square and take a take a moment to sit alongside Dickie Williams — the young Moonta boy who made good — who excelled not just at the highest levels of his profession but who created an Air Force that proudly serves its nation as one of the most respected air forces in the world.

It is great to see people interacting with the statue and reading the plaques as I drive by.

Interesting times ahead

FROM the outset I will inform you that I am a Labor Party stalwart but being realistic, Labor's chances of winning Narungga are very slim.

There is the probability of a three-to-five-way contest with a strong independent candidate likely to wrest the seat from the Liberal Party.

The incumbent member Fraser Ellis is exiled from the Liberal Party and has court action pending regarding the living away from home allowance.

This situation has led to the possibility of him running as an independent.

If he were to run as an independent would the Liberal Party run a candidate against him?

Considering he supports the government from the crossbenches, and if he were to be elected as an independent, would he truly be independent?

Then there is a "clean skin" local candidate not aligned to any political affiliation with lots of community support, Dianah Walter.

Just remember all of you electors how you distribute your preferences on your ballot is entirely up to you. I expect the result in Narungga will come down to preference distribution.

I have waxed on in this space before how the ALP knows it can't win Narungga and the Liberals know they can't lose, perhaps it is time for a change.

Kindness

I WISH to thank the kind lady who helped me by Woolworths on Goyder Street, Kadina, at about 10.30am on Monday, November 22.

My trolley slid off the path and ended up on its side with me and my groceries landing onto the road.

Also, a big thank you to a young McDonald's employee a little later who noticed my distress and offered me water and got me to sit down.

There are still kind people in this world.

Regional health matters

I READ with some anguish the article Regional health a priority: Ellis (YPCT 16-11-21).

Mr Ellis states regional health care is his focus in the coming election.

I say good as Yorke Peninsula's health system is under huge pressure directly due to not having sufficient trained resources in both nurses and doctors to adequately cope.

It also beggars belief the Liberal government recently allocated more than 70 new paramedics into SA urban health services and little for the regions, such as Yorke Peninsula, when their health care services are under severe pressure.

Pray a serious outbreak of COVID-19 does not occur on Yorke Peninsula with the opening of the borders or us residents will be in real trouble.

I am not questioning or judging what Mr Ellis has done in his four years as the Member for Narungga as voters will do that at the coming election.

Although I support his comment "that regional health care has been an issue for a lot longer than the pandemic and will continue to be an issue long after the pandemic is over—it is vital we sort it out".

In my opinion to do this, Mr Ellis must present a detailed action plan that indicates the number and classifications of additional health resources he seeks to be allocated, the date of proposed allocation, and the beneficial outcomes which will occur in significantly improving the health care services for all Yorke Peninsula residents, or they are just words?

The anti-troll fight

IN THEORY, the federal government's new anti-trolling legislation intends to make social media a safer place.

These new laws will require social media companies with more than 250,000 Australian users to have a way to deal with complaints and requests for information — a good thing.

A person can complain to a social media company about comments they feel are defamatory and the company then has three days to take the complaint to the commenter.

They can remove the comment and identify the anonymous user if consent is given.

If the company refuses to provide details, the commenter refuses to consent to its information being shared or the platform is unable to identify who made the defamatory comments, it may wear defamation costs.

The legislation would also reverse a recent High Court decision which found operators of social media pages were liable for defamatory comments posted on them.

In the changes, those companies, like Facebook, would then be considered the publishers of comments alongside the commenters themselves instead of the page or organisation on whose page the words were posted.

Many experts believe it's too little, too late, that the damage has already been done and some definitions around trolling are subjective.

Preventing people from anonymity may also censor minority voices from speaking up.

There's no denying online bullying and hateful behaviours are truly awful and should be stopped, but I'm not sure this is the right fit.

Border closures not ruled out

SOUTH Australian authorities are not ruling out border closures as they seek more information about the COVID-19 Omicron variant.

SA Police Commissioner Grant Stevens said SA Health had recommended the closure of South Australia's borders to New South Wales, Victoria and the Australian Capital Territory.

"This recommendation was denied, instead forcing arrivals from these states to get tested on arrival and isolate until they receive a negative result (as well as an additional test on day six)," Mr Stevens said.

"At this point in time, we just don't have enough information to make a definitive decision.

"We are watching very closely, we can't rule out border closures, but if we do that, it will be on the basis of legitimate concerns that need to be responded to."

At the time of print, there were 45 active cases in the state, taking the total case number to 971. There have been 49 total new cases since the borders opened on November 23.

Keep up to date with the latest COVID-19 news via the SA Health website, www.sahealth.sa.gov.au.

COVID hospital rules

Port Pirie Hospital is one of 10 regional hospitals which will accept COVID patients.

The announcement was part of SA Health's COVID-19 Acute Care Response and COVID-19 Regional Response Strategies, released last week.

COVID-19 Regional Response Governance Group chairperson Wayne Champion said, while regional hospitals were not designated COVID treating hospitals, selected regional hospitals will act as COVID accepting hospitals.

"These regional COVID accepting hospitals in the Riverland, Coober Pedy, Port Lincoln, Roxby Downs, Port Augusta, Whyalla, Port Pirie, Kangaroo Island, Murray Bridge, and Mount Gambier, will accept and stabilise acutely unwell COVID regional patients and assist the transfer to one of the three designated metropolitan hospitals," Mr Champion said.

"These include The Royal Adelaide Hospital the designated hospital for positive adult patients, the Women's and Children's Hospital for children who test positive, and the Flinders Medical Centre for COVID-positive pregnant women and their babies.

"As patient numbers increase, larger regional COVID accepting hospitals may commence providing inpatient care for some positive patients.

"Regional COVID Care Centres being established in Mount Gambier and Port Augusta will provide assessment, referral, and treatment for people with mild to moderate COVID-19 symptoms, to help reduce the demand on emergency departments and ensuring people have access to infusions and other treatments approved to manage COVID symptoms."

New guidelines have also been set for public hospital visitors.

All visitors must provide proof of a TGA-approved COVID-19 vaccination status upon entry, unless they have an approved medical exemption, or are a child 12 years or younger.

Unvaccinated visitors will have to wear protective clothing and get a COVID test.

Under the new guidelines, one visitor will be able to see a patient for two hours at a time, with allowances made for paediatric patients and in certain circumstances when approved by the hospital or local health network.

CONCERN... Warooka resident Darryl Burton is concerned with the state of the Flaherty Beach's car park and road leading to it.

Concerns with Flaherty Beach

WAROOKA resident Darryl Burton has raised concerns about the road leading to Flaherty Beach.

Mr Burton said he has been visiting the beach, about five kilometres from Warooka, for two years and the road hasn't been maintained.

He also is concerned about the "daggy" state of the car park area.

"The main issue is the state of the road that leads to the beach ... the road is pretty dodgy," he said.

"I like to go for a walk along the beach, it is used by a lot of people but the road needs to be graded more often.

"I have been coming to the beach for two years now and I don't think that it has been graded in that time and haven't seen any improvements."

Mr Burton said the beach is great for kids and families and is a popular place for four-wheel drives.

"It also looks a bit daggy and it's a shame they (Yorke Peninsula Council) aren't maintaining the car park because the beach is an asset," he said.

"I don't like to sound like I am complaining, I'm thinking of other people as well because it is an asset and we want people to visit."

Yorke Peninsula Council operations manager Stephen Goldsworthy said reports of hoon behaviour and illegal dumping are common for the area.

"With such a large coastline, 485 kilometres, and limited resources we rely heavily on our ratepayers to report such problems," Mr Goldsworthy said.

"While the bumpy/corrugated road isn't ideal for normal users as the road is basically a dead end with a number of rises in it, it does slow traffic down.

"It is treated the same as any road in our network and graded as part of the shift patrol grading schedule."

If ratepayers or tourists find something damaged, they are encouraged to contact council on 8832 0000 or email admin@yorke.sa.gov.au.

$5000 for Feast on the Foreshore

Fin Hansen
REPORT BY

PORT Broughton's Good Friday Feast on the Foreshore has received a $5000 boost.

The state government funding will enable Barunga West Council to engage specialised personnel, hire infrastructure, develop strategic plans and amplify marketing activities for its second Easter celebration.

Council secured the funding through round two of the South Australian Tourism Commission's Regional Event Fund after trialling the event to huge success earlier this year.

Staff have been working to secure 12 food trucks — six more than this year — for the event, plus more local entertainment.

Mayor Leonie Kerley said she appreciated the state government funding.

"As a small council we have limited funds, and securing grants will help make the Feast on the Foreshore a successful event in 2022," Mrs Kerley said.

Premier Steven Marshall said the boost for regional events will grow new and existing events across the state.

"We've seen regional tourism reaching record highs — this is keeping that momentum going into 2022," Mr Marshall said.

"The industry has told us it needs to attract more visitors across more events and get more people into work."

More than 1000 people attended the first Feast on the Foreshore in April this year.

The Port Broughton Feast on the Foreshore will be held on Good Friday, April 15.

EVENT BOOST... Yorke Peninsula's Saltwater Classic got $10,000 of funding to support its 2022 event which will include boats parading in front of the crowd at Port Vincent.

YP Saltwater Classic receives $10,000

Jess Liddy
JOURNALIST

YORKE Peninsula's Saltwater Classic has received a boost thanks to state government funding.

The event, in Stansbury and Port Vincent, was granted $10,000 through round two of the South Australian Tourism Commission's Regional Event Fund.

Yorke Peninsula's Saltwater Classic spokesperson Doug Le Feuvre said the funding was a welcome boost to efforts to maximise visitation to the region through the next event in April 2022.

"The majority of this funding will support our marketing and promotional efforts to showcase the unique features of the Saltwater Classic and the wonderful tourism assets of YP," Mr Le Feuvre said.

"The state government, the tourism commission, and Yorke Peninsula Tourism have been our principal supporters throughout the proud history of Yorke Peninsula's Saltwater Classic, and this latest funding is particularly helpful given the organisational challenges of the COVID-19 pandemic.

"This level of support through the regional event fund is helping organisations like ours to attract and welcome visitors, to support the economies of regional areas, and to maintain jobs in local businesses.

"Just as importantly, it demonstrates to people in the region the event is a vital part of the tourism calendar in our state, and this generates community pride and support for our efforts to present an event that is enjoyable and memorable for all."

Movies back on the big screen

Jess Liddy
JOURNALIST

IT is lights, camera and action once again at Kadina's cinema.

Movies will be back on the big screen under new lessees from this Thursday, December 9.

Michelle and Roger Coles, who also operate Cinema Augusta, have 20 years' experience in the industry.

"We've known Carol Burford (the previous lessee) for years and we didn't want to see another cinema close," they said.

"We want to bring movies back to Kadina and we really hope the community will embrace the cinema once again."

Kadina Cinema's program will run in conjunction with Cinema Augusta's.

"It will be run a bit differently with different opening hours," Michelle and Roger said.

"We really want to make this a community hub and we are looking forward to bringing live performances and concerts, silver screens, fundraising and school events and we'll even cater for corporate events."

"We just want to see people come through the door and support the local cinema."

Copper Coast Council mayor Roslyn Talbot said the new lessees were very experienced.

"Carol had a great love and enthusiasm for the cinema and we can't wait for that same great service to continue with Michelle and Roger," Mrs Talbot said.

"We are pleased they have partnered with council to keep the cinema running for the community now and into the future."

"The Moonta cinema is also intended to be back up and running when works are finished on the Moonta Town Hall."

CEO Russell Peate said the cinema was an important facility for the community.

"Council is pleased Kadina's cinema will recommence," Mr Peate said.

"We will also have discussions with Michelle and Roger in regards to Moonta's cinema next year."

Go to the Kadina Cinema Facebook page or www.kadinacinema.com for upcoming showings.

Port Broughton forced to limit NYE celebrations

NEW Year's Eve celebrations will be limited for the second year in a row at Port Broughton.

Barunga West Council has been forced to cancel the children's entertainment, including a jumping castle and live music, due to COVID-19 concerns.

The town's fireworks display is still set to continue as planned from 9.30pm on December 31.

Local food trucks will also be available for people watching the fireworks from different locations in Port Broughton and Fisherman Bay.

Council CEO Maree Wauchope said while it is disappointing to cancel the event, people can still enjoy the fireworks whilst abiding by SA Health requirements.

"We will continue to monitor the situation, and things could change further especially if further (COVID-19) restrictions are put in place in the lead up to New Year's Eve," Ms Wauchope said.

"Council will continue to keep the community up to date regarding New Year's Eve activities via social media platforms, notice boards and updates in the Yorke Peninsula Country Times."

Jewellery stolen from Cashzone

COPPER Coast police are investigating a break-in and theft at Cashzone Kadina at about 3.55am last Wednesday, December 1.

A safe containing jewellery was found to have been stolen, with police releasing CCTV images of two suspected men.

Small amounts of jewellery were also missing from the Goyder Street pawn-broker store.

Anyone who recognises the two suspects or has information regarding the break-in is asked to call Crime Stoppers on 1800 333 000.

Examples of suspicious behaviour may include a vehicle parked in an unusual position, people making obvious efforts to avoid CCTV cameras, or people walking into yards which are known to be vacant.

Novice drivers falling victim to road rage

Road rage is a major concern among teenagers, an RAA survey has shown.

More than a quarter of students with a learner or provisional licence have been victims of road rage at some point.

The alarming statistic comes as an increasing number of learner drivers spend time behind the wheel during the summer holidays.

A survey of more than 2800 high school students found 82 per cent had already witnessed road rage as a passenger.

It also showed almost half the students said their parents had instigated the aggression.

RAA senior manager community education Ben Haythorpe said road rage endangered the safety of all road users.

"It's very disappointing that an overwhelming majority of the students had already witnessed road rage as a passenger," Mr Haythorpe said.

"It's also of great concern that so many novice drivers have already been victims of road rage."

Mr Haythorpe said it was frightening how disagreements among drivers could escalate so quickly into aggression.

"That is why it's important we send a message that all road users need to be courteous and considerate to each other," he said.

"Experienced motorists need to cut learner drivers some slack, show them patience and don't express frustration.

"It's also important for novice drivers to not be aggressive or react to aggression."

Men arrested in attempted break-in Police were called to an Ardrossan address where several men were attempting to break into a home early on Friday night, December 3.

Ardrossan police arrested three men, all who failed to enter the home.

Two Ardrossan men, aged 48 and 22, were arrested and charged with property damage and aggravated assault, while a 28 year old was reported for disorderly behaviour.

All three are set to appear in the Maitland Court in February.

THIEVES... The two pictured men are suspected to have stolen jewellery from Cashzone Kadina and were captured by CCTV cameras. Anyone who recognises them is asked to call Crime Stoppers on 1800 333 000.

Centenary preparations ramp up at Bute

Fin Hansen
REPORT BY

BUTE Soldiers' Memorial Hall's centenary will be celebrated next year.

A range of activities will be held during the March long weekend, Friday to Sunday, March 11-13, to mark 100 years since the hall's foundation stone was laid.

Celebrations will be officially opened by former student and long-time Bute Early Learning and Primary School teacher Pat Daniel while a luncheon and afternoon activities will be hosted by the Bute Early Learning and Primary School community.

Parents and grandparents are invited to join students and staff for the event, to be emceed by school principal Richard Hall.

Presenter of ABC TV show Gardening Australia Sophie Thomson has been announced as guest speaker on Saturday from about 10.30am.

Mrs Thomson is set to hold two 1.5-hour presentations about a variety of gardening subjects, as well as the therapeutic and mental health benefits of working with nature.

Attendees will also have opportunities chat with Mrs Thomson throughout the day.

Tickets for the event will be available through Eventbrite

MILESTONE... Bute's foundation stone was laid by Mrs Mary Devitt almost 100 years ago, as detailed in its plaque, and still stands today.

from early January.

A Dressing the Graves ceremony will be held at the Bute Cemetery at 10.30am on Sunday.

Mrs Mary Devitt, who laid the foundation stone 100 years ago, will be honoured at the ceremony, in addition to five World War I soldiers.

Ticketholders will be invited to return to the hall for a luncheon and fellowship.

A resin art workshop will then be hosted by Painting Imperfect Pieces artist Megan Gilchrist from 2pm to 4.30pm in the hall.

The Bute RSL clubrooms, Bute History Room and Gunner Bill's Heritage Centre will all be open to the public across the weekend.

For enquiries about the Bute Soldiers' Memorial Hall Foundation Stone centenary, email Cynthia Axford via axford02@gmail.com.

LOCAL HISTORY... Citizens of Bute gather to watch the laying of the Bute Soldiers' Memorial Hall Foundation Stone on March 8, 1922. Nearly 100 years on, Bute locals are getting ready to celebrate their piece of history.

History display to feature in hall

BUTE History Group has planned to erect a historical display in the Bute Soldiers' Memorial Hall.

Members have started to assemble information to depict the hall's history.

Group member Cynthia Axford said the regal old building has been a pivotal centrepiece to the Bute district for many events.

"(The hall has hosted) RSL diggers and debutante balls, old style dances, fetes, concerts, lodge installations, wedding receptions, Bute Lions Club handover dinners, Rural Youth balls and sporting club fundraisers," Mrs Axford said.

"Many of these events will be captured in photographic displays around the walls for those interested in the hall's history.

Mrs Axford thanked Barunga West Council for lobbying a hall upgrade to the federal government last year.

"The funds assisted with the reinforcing of the (hall's) outer walls, repair of the wooden trusses and replacing the ceiling, at the significant cost of $300,000," she said.

"This has breathed new life into the building, which is once again safe for the public to enjoy for many more functions into the future."

Chemist getting back on its feet

RECOVERY is underway for Newbery Chemists, Wallaroo, after a fire destroyed its building on Monday morning, November 29.

The chemist's ceiling, a wall and cellar all collapsed as a result of the structure fire, which bel- lowed toxic smoke.

The fire has been treated as non-suspicious although the cause is still under investigation.

Emergency services were widely praised for their response times and efficiency in limiting the fire's damage.

Newbery Chemists staff also responded rapidly by securing a two-year lease of Wallaroo Shopping Centre's shop 6, accessed from the outdoor foyer area.

Newbery Chemists general manager Tim Gross said he was in the process of installing new equipment and fit outs for the premises.

"Our services are pretty limit- ed because (the new store) is a much smaller space, but we'll be back to functioning as normally as possible soon," Mr Gross said.

"We'll have a person onsite during business hours to inform everyone how to access our ser- vices.

"We will also be sending clients' medical scripts online or to Kadina where they can be col- lected.

"Getting payments through has also been tricky, but we should have (this system) up in the coming days."

Mr Gross said his team had acted exceptionally despite the enormous setback.

"My trust in the team was the main reason we've reopened so quickly," he said.

"They've all been really posi- tive and are looking forward to the next stage.

"There'll be no jobs lost in the process and we'll have staff back at our (Moonta and Kadina) sites to deliver the same services for our valued clients."

Mr Gross said he has received an overwhelming amount of support from the community.

"Our suppliers have also been excellent and are getting ready to roll out (our resources)," he said.

The new premises are set to include two dispensary benches and two service counters and are on track to be near-fully opera- tional by Christmas.

The store is also scheduled to have a full shop fit-out installed by next March.

Forever Newbery family history

NEWBERY Chemists, Wallaroo, has been part of Wallaroo's history for more than a century.

The Owen Terrace site was built in the early 1900s by Ernest Ford Newbery, grandfather of current owner Kent Newbery, and started trading as E.F. Newbery Chemist.

Ownership of the business and premises transferred to one of E.F. Newbery's sons John Newbery, Kent's uncle, in the 1940s.

"(The chemist) was also Dad's family home — he often recalled how he would sleep out on the balcony on hot summer nights," Kent said.

The business briefly left the family when it was sold to Alex and Jill Flower in the early 1970s, before being purchased by Kent and his late father Don in 1982.

"Dad and I were business partners until he retired and I took over," Kent said.

"One of our biggest milestones was purchasing (the chemist) back into the family.

"I also became the property owner when he died about 15 years ago — Tim (Gross) also joined the team at about the same time."

Kent said he was in a state of shock for about 24 hours after the fire last week.

"We had to front insurance assessors on Tuesday who classified it as a total write off," he said.

"We're now in the process of organising a demolition clean-up.

"It's my sole intention to have the site cleaned up and to rebuild as a pharmacy again."

Kent said the old building would always be a big part of his family's history.

"We've always had a solid team to service the Wallaroo community," he said.

"Julie (Weight) has been working here since we bought the building back more than 40 years ago.

"We've had lots of wonderful staff and great community support in my time.

"I have no doubt Tim and his team will pull through once again."

FAMILY HISTORY... Newbery Chemists, formerly E.F. Newbery Chemist, has been a part of Wallaroo since 1908 and is here pictured in a busy Wallaroo main street in 1933.

No workers cheer on Christmas

SOUTH Australian workers will be the only ones in the country not receiving penalty rates on Christmas Day.

Both the Liberal and Labor Parties blamed each other for the breakdown in Act amendments last week.

Treasurer Rob Lucas has claimed, despite weeks of public protests by Labor and opposition leader Peter Malinauskas, when the opportunity presented itself, it was turned down in a “remarkable act of stubbornness”.

Independent MP Troy Bell tabled a compromise to amend the Holidays Act 1910 which would have resulted in time and a half pay on Christmas Day, and instead remove penalty rates on Christmas Eve.

However, it was knocked back.

“Ultimately, Mr Malinauskas and Labor have nobody to blame but themselves for refusing to support a reasonable compromise by independent MP Troy Bell which was supported by the government,” Mr Lucas said.

“The last thing small businesses need, particularly those in tourism and hospitality, after more than 18 months of COVID, is to be hit with having to pay 250 per cent penalty rates for four-and-a-half days in a row over Christmas was untenable.”

Shadow Minister

for Industrial Relations Kyam Maher said South Australian workers deserved to be compensated.

“Our essential frontline workers, such as retail workers, nurses, ambos and police officers, have been the heroes of the COVID-19 pandemic,” he said.

“So how does Steven Marshall thank them? He votes against a bill which would have given them the penalty rates they deserve.”

Wallaroo Shores evolving

THE development of Wallaroo Shores continues to evolve.

Copper Coast Council mayor Roslyn Talbot said Wallaroo Shores was a major development within the Copper Coast.

“The development will have significant benefits to the region providing facilities and housing options for all to enjoy,” Mrs Talbot said.

“Council has worked with the developer to ensure infrastructure that council will ultimately own is constructed to a high standard.

“I am looking forward to watching this development evolve to its full potential.

“As the development continues, the benefit to the community will be realised and the financial commitment to the CCC will be finalised.”

The planned development will result in about 600 residential dwellings, a lifestyle village, retail precinct, medical centre and a four-star resort operated by Wyndham Hotels and Resorts.

The resort will contain 100 dwellings (mainly townhouses) and a function centre consisting of a restaurant and café, catered function rooms, meeting rooms and offices and a gymnasium and resort services.

CCC CEO Russell Peate said the $220 million project would be an important asset to the Copper Coast.

“In July 2017, council adopted a separate rate to enable the construction of the Liberator Way road, enable other critical infrastructure and local economic development initiatives for the Copper Coast,” Mr Peate said.

“The separate rate levy in 2017 was set at $7m, with the separate rate to be paid to council with the prescribed interest applicable under the Local Government Act 1999, on the formal sale and settlement of allotments as they occurred.

“The majority of the dwellings in the resort have been sold and continue to be sold and, therefore, some payments have been made to council.

“The full amount payable to council, including accumulated interest on the separate rate balance, is due by June 30, 2023.”

Council will review payments made by Copper Coast Investments to council in February 2023, after a new council has been elected (in November 2022).

CCC continues to work cooperatively with Copper Coast Investments, the developer of Wallaroo Shores, and its project manager Monopoly Property Group.

Bodgie clocks up 40 years at the YPCT

MILESTONE... Ian “Bodgie” Shaw checks out the first paper he was involved with and the most recent as he marks 40 years in the Yorke Peninsula Country Times production department.

Jess Liddy
JOURNALIST

IAN “Bodgie” Shaw has been helping produce the Yorke Peninsula Country Times for 40 years.

At age 17, Bodgie started his first day at the paper, in Taylor Street, Kadina, on November 30, 1981.

“I didn’t even have a (car) licence when I started, I had to get a ride with Mr Spry who worked at Rosewarne’s,” Bodgie said.

“Managing director at the time, Trevor Ellis, came into Kadina Memorial High School looking for typists.

“It turned out I was pretty good at typing and that’s how it all kind of started.

“I could type 30 words a minute in high school and then when I had finished my apprenticeship it was about 100 words a minute.”

Bodgie was hired as a compositor and then completed a four year apprenticeship to obtain his trade certificate.

“I travelled to trade school in Croydon Park and learned different aspects of the industry,” he said.

“Dennis Gill was my boss, in production, when I first started and we did a lot of typesetting — I also remember becoming the headliner which involved spending hours creating the headlines for the paper.

“I also had to work my way up and did many other jobs in-between as all good apprentices do such as cleaning and collecting the morning smoko.”

Bodgie said he had seen some huge changes spanning his 40 years, the biggest including the ever-evolving nature of technology.

“Forty years ago, the Compugraphic computers I started on were very expensive and had a fraction of the capability of today’s Apple Mac computers which cost a fraction of the price,” he said.

“It was different times and while

I might have doubted new technology when it came along, I always adapted.”

Bodgie has held the title of production manager for 20 years.

“I think I’ve still got a few years left in me — who knows what will happen,” he said.

“Every week is a challenge and getting the paper out is a new jigsaw puzzle every single week that is why I have enjoyed this job for so many years.

“It has been a privilege to have worked for the Ellis family for 40 years and I have been fortunate to have worked with some wonderful people along the way.”

District Update

2021 Christmas Photo

Port Broughton's Christmas tree is becoming one of the most 'Instagrammable' spots on the Yorke Peninsula. New additions including a gingerbread family, Woody the gnome and a bench in front of the tree make it a great place to take a Christmas family photo.

Christmas Decorations Facebook Competition

Port Broughton's popular Christmas Decorations Facebook Competition is running again with entries encouraged from Wednesday 1 December. Entries received to date include:

- Schmitt Road, Port Broughton
- Spencer Highway, Tickera
- Harvey Street, Port Broughton
- Upper Yorke Road, Bute

The winner will be announced Thursday 23 December. Check out Council's Facebook page for further information and to vote for your favourite entry.

Port Broughton NYE fireworks to go ahead – live music and entertainment cancelled

Council can confirm that while the NYE fireworks display will still occur at 9.30pm as planned, staff have made the decision to cancel the kid's entertainment (jumping castle) and live music. The fireworks can be seen from anywhere in Port Broughton.

The town will still accommodate a number of food trucks to cater for the Port Broughton and Fisherman Bay communities. These trucks will operate in different locations and serve takeaway only.

Christmas Festivities

The Christmas festivities will kick off on Saturday 11 December including:

- Christmas Street Party from 4pm until 9pm with food trucks
- The Port Broughton Christmas pageant from 6pm
- Santa's Cave will be officially open from 7pm at the Town Hall for families to meet and get a photo with Santa
- The lighting of the tree will take place on the foreshore at nightfall (approximately 9pm)
- Christmas carols will be performed by the Port Broughton combined churches during the lighting of the tree.

Santa's Cave will also be open most weekends leading up to Christmas.

Council will continue to monitor the situation, and things could change further especially in light of recent COVID-19 cases in Adelaide.

Fisherman Bay works start and first titles issued

Work has officially commenced on the $23 million transformation of Fisherman Bay's infrastructure, with a sod turn marking the start of construction on an upgraded Port Broughton Community Wastewater Treatment System (CWMS).

It will be followed by a further $20 million worth of infrastructure for the town; private investment unlocked through an innovative agreement between the Council and Fisherman's Bay Management.

The start of this work also coincides with the first tranche of freehold titles issued to Fisherman Bay residents, signalling the end of a decades-long wait for title over their land.

Work on the remaining wastewater collection system, upgraded roads, stormwater system and coastal protection is expected to commence in late 2021 and accelerate in the New Year.

2022 Feast on the Foreshore secures sponsorship

Council has secured $5,000 from round two of the South Australian Tourism Commission's Regional Event Fund.

The sponsorship will support the 2022 Feast on the Foreshore event. Council staff are working towards securing twelve food trucks for the event and some local entertainment. The Feast of the Foreshore will be held on Good Friday 15 April 2022.

MISSING... Julie Ford and Paul Rebbeck want to find the rightful home for Samuel Burns Roberts' World War I medals.

Search on for rightful owners

Patrick Goldsmith
REPORT BY

A GROUP of amateur detectives is on a mission to find the rightful owner of a set of World War I medals.

The medals belonged to Private Samuel Burns Roberts, the son of William Roberts, of Wallaroo, and was born in 1893.

He enlisted in Kadina and was deployed to Gallipoli on March 13, 1916, as a part of the 27th Infantry Battalion, and was discharged following exposure to a poisonous gas shell in Belgium in 1918.

Adelaide's Julie Ford, without having any connection to Samuel or the Copper Coast, came across two of Private Roberts' medals when they were given to her parents in Port Lincoln by their neighbours Ren and Kit Ashneade.

"We (my sister and I) were just kids at the time, but when we moved to Adelaide, the box of stuff they'd been given came up (in conversation)," Mrs Ford said.

"My mother was told not to give any of it to anyone else, but really, there was nothing valuable in there anyway, it's just a few bits and pieces.

"But that's another mystery as well, we've got no idea of the connection between him (Samuel) and this couple who lived next door to us."

After years of feeling guilty about being in possession of two medals that weren't hers, Mrs Ford — along with her brother-in-law Paul Rebbeck and their respective spouses Ken Ford and Susanne Rebbeck — decided to search for the rightful owner.

The quartet has slowly been putting Private Roberts' story together thanks to online databases.

They have two of the three medals he was awarded, the Victory Medal and the British War Medal, however the third, the 1914-15 Star, is nowhere to be seen.

The three medals were given to anyone who served in conflict for the Commonwealth at the time.

The group believes there is a chance Private Roberts came back to Kadina after he was discharged but they have hit a road block in finding the medal's home.

"They don't belong to us, but there is a family out there missing a part of their history," Mr Rebbeck said.

"I don't really think we've got anywhere else in particular to go so we'd love it if anyone would come forward and claim what is theirs.

"They're no good just sitting in a box."

Scribbled notes say Samuel died on January 1, 1987.

The medals are not valuable and the group would appreciate if only those who really think they're related to Samuel come forward.

If you or someone you know has a connection to Samuel Burns Roberts and the family, please call 8821 1155 or email patrick@ypct.com.au.

Skin Cancer Screening Unit at Stansbury

JOURNALIST

MORE than 120 people booked in for skin checks with the Lions Club Skin Cancer Screening Unit at Stansbury during November.

Volunteers from the unit travelled from as far away as Peterborough and the Adelaide Hills for the weekend.

“If we can save a few lives and make people more aware of the dangers of skin cancers, it’s worth the effort,” Stansbury-Dalrymple Lions Club president Jeff Brundell said.

“When you’re standing there looking in the mirror having a shave or something and you think ‘what’s that mark?’, you’ve got the opportunity to get it checked out.”

Mr Brundell lost his father to cancer and wants to help the community avoid potentially unnecessary pain and anguish.

The screening unit concept began in Western Australia during 2002 and has been running in South Australia for about eight or nine years.

The unit covers all of South Australia and the Northern Territory as well as Mildura and Broken Hill.

The Stansbury trip was the first time the unit had returned to the peninsula since the Yorke Peninsula Field Days.

On average, about 16 per cent of people screen have lesions in need of referral — at the field days it was more than 20 per cent.

Volunteer dermoscopist Carol Barnes, a retired nurse, said every clinic turns up some form of skin cancer.

“From the more minor forms such as basal cell cancers through to the more serious melanoma, it would be quite rare for us not to find at least one melanoma per day,” she said.

New look for Wallaroo's Anglers Inn

THE Anglers Inn, Wallaroo, has been a long-time favourite for its great bistro food and atmosphere.

Some dramatic changes have been made to the hotel recently with the sports bar and TAB facilities upgrade as well as the addition of a magnificent beer garden.

Work is almost done on an upgrade to the kids' fun room and some changes have been made to the already impressive kitchen.

Adding to the bistro menu are Denise and Graeme Lyons, who have moved their Indian restaurant Curries on Taylor, to Wallaroo.

"They've joined the Anglers' existing chefs to produce their wonderful, authentic Indian cuisine," Scott Thomas said.

"Denise has 30 years' experience cooking Indian dishes and a true passion for food.

"She's now cooking all her creations for our patrons to enjoy either dine-in or takeaway, seven days a week.

"Favourites including butter chicken, lamb rogan josh, tandoori chicken and of course naan bread are all being served alongside the Anglers' traditional bistro menu.

"So Dad can enjoy a spicy Vindaloo whilst the kids can have chicken nuggets or a schnitzel all in the same place.

"Add to this the impressive selection of beers and extensive wine choices and you're guaranteed a great night.

"The beer garden adds another dimension to the experience as it can be fully lit for balmy evening dining and great tunes playing all day long."

The Anglers Inn is set to feature plenty of live music this summer, starting with the Urban Cover Xmas Show on Saturday, December 18.

"Book a table and enjoy the great music from across the eras," Scott said.

"Urban Cover is classed as the Anglers' resident band as it has played here more than a dozen times over the years and has a great local following."

There's also never been a better time to sign up as a hotel member and receive discounts on members' bottleshop deals, food and beverages.

"Every dollar spent earns you points to be redeemed anywhere in the hotel," Scott said.

"From now until the end of December, every member who signs up will receive a $5 voucher to be redeemed in the bistro or hotel whilst dining or just having a casual drink.

"Takeaway can be ordered either online at www.anglersinn.com.au or www.curriesatanglers.com.au or call 8823 2545 and book a table."

NEW MENU... Denise and Graeme Lyons are excited to be bringing their curries to the Anglers Inn, Wallaroo, adding to the already impressive bistro menu.

Yorke Valley the place to be

THERE'S always plenty going on at the Yorke Valley Hotel, Maitland. Licensees Darren and Renee Banks, and their staff, are keeping busy in the lead up to Christmas.

"Our harvest menu is also really popular at this time of the year, it's created especially for farmers on the go," Renee and Darren said.

While the past two years have been difficult for those working in hospitality, the Yorke Valley Hotel has stuck to its winning formula of quality meals.

"We've actually added more vegan and vegetarian options for our customers, which have proven really popular.

"Our beer garden is also being really well utilised and is the perfect space for functions as outside dining has lighter COVID restrictions than inside dining."

There are gluten-free options, and if you have any other dietary requirements meals can be adjusted to suit your needs, so everyone can enjoy the delicious food on offer.

The Yorke Valley Hotel works closely with local businesses including Watsacowie and Sunny Hill Distillery, and can also do packages for weddings.

"We are big advocates for shopping local," Darren and Renee said.

"We sponsor sporting clubs in Maitland and beyond, including Port Victoria, Artherton and Ardrossan, and they support us fantastically too."

Strengthening aged care industry

AGED and Community Services Australia is offering a program to strengthen the aged care and disability industries.

The organisation is being funded by the South Australian Government's Skilling South Australia program to deliver an industry-led initiative called the SA Universal Worker Project for the Eyre Peninsula, Yorke and Mid North.

The project will introduce aged care and disability competencies via a traineeship pathway.

"It will create a right fit and quality trained universal worker who will be capable of working in both the care and disability support services," Yorke Peninsula and Mid North Universal Worker Project workforce and industry development officer Aimie O'Brien said.

"The program has been successfully rolled out in Tasmania," Mrs O'Brien said.

"As we know aged care is struggling to get qualified workers and traineeships are a great way to train the staff and utilise them at the same time.

"This ensures service providers bring a trainee on, train them in a way that they need for their workforce and then it's likely they will keep the trainee on when they are qualified.

"The good thing is it is a dual qualification so in the time someone would normally get a Certificate III in individual support they can get that as well as disability at the same time."

Mrs O'Brien said the dual qualification will give people the flexibility to pick up hours in both aged care and disability support.

"It gives them flexibility and if aged care homes have NDIS patients they can also utilise those people with the disability support qualifications," she said.

"We are hoping to keep some of the younger generation employed in the region rather than them going to Adelaide for work.

"It's a long-term career, it's really rewarding and it's a platform for people who want to go into nursing, social work or those types of industries."

For more information, contact Aimie on 8338 8017 or email Aimie.O'Brien@acsa.asn.au.

INITIATIVE... Aged and Community Services Australia Yorke Peninsula and Mid North Universal Worker Project workforce and industry development officer Aimie O'Brien is encouraging people to register for a program which introduces them to both aged care and disability competencies.

Christmas spirit at Yorketown

YORKETOWN Progress Association provided the community with two days of cheer at its annual Christmas Tree Festival last Thursday and Friday, December 2 and 3.

The Yorketown Town Hall hosted the event with 15 tree displays in the main hall.

Schools, local businesses, the CFS and Red Cross all entered displays as well as families, with prizes awarded in three categories.

"We open it up for the public to vote and the winners receive a little thank you gift," progress chairperson Suzie Harvey said.

Suzie said the event began purely as a Christmas tree display but has evolved to include a visit from Santa.

"By adding the Santa visit we get more visitors to the display and more atmosphere," she said.

"We're getting more and more displays every year and we've already had a few people saying, they're keen to join next year.

"It's something the whole community can get behind and I think we, as a progress committee, need to give the community as many options as possible to come together."

SPIRIT... Stansbury's Kahlia Kemp with son Michael and daughter Amirah at the Yorketown Christmas Tree Festival.

NICE... Yorketown Progress Association chairperson Suzie Harvey keeps Santa in line at the Yorketown Christmas Tree Festival.

HELPER... Riley and Kelsey Smith join Santa and his helpers, Lylah Minks, Tanja McConnell and Jada Clasohm at the Yorketown Christmas Tree Festival.

COMMUNITY... Red Cross recovery project officer Linda McCabe with community development project officer Kendra White at the Yorketown Christmas Tree Festival.

She is Vengeance book launch at Yorketown

YORKE Peninsula author Kristin Murdock will launch her latest book, She is Vengeance, at the Melville Hotel, Yorketown, on Sunday, December 12.

Recently returned from a year teaching art and media studies in the APY Lands, Kristin has had plenty of time to complete her newest 180,000 word novel, set on Althorpe Island.

Her chosen genre is crime and she has won numerous awards for her work.

"She is Vengeance is an anthology of many of these prize-winning stories and the crafty ways victims are done away with are guaranteed to surprise," she said.

Kristin is a contributing editor to three agricultural magazines and has recently been approached by Australian Geographic to work with that publication.

Tickets for the book launch, organised by the Yorketown Community Library, cost $35 and include a two-course lunch.

She is Vengeance will be available to purchase on the day; see Community Calendar advert in last week's YP Country Times for details.

Art workshops on SYP

Advertising promotion

THERE is something for everyone these summer holidays with a huge range of art workshops on offer on southern Yorke Peninsula.

The Discovery for Recovery Program was developed in 2020 by the SYP Arts Development Group to help support regional communities on southern Yorke Peninsula by providing opportunities for social connection, local economic growth and cultural development through the arts.

A series of more than 30 art workshops have been available for community members and visitors throughout 2021 and into 2022.

An additional summer holiday program has also been designed as a family friendly set of exciting arts workshops which you can either attend with your children or drop them off and leave them for the day.

"So far we have had 70 per cent uptake rate for participation which has been awesome and equates to nearly 200 people," project manager Jasmine Swales said.

"We have had workshops ranging from basket weaving and paint parties to jewellery and posca workshops.

"The program is funded until October 2022 but, due to its success, we hope to continue it as a long-term feature of SYP.

"Some of the upcoming workshops hosted at Ballara Art & Lifestyle Retreat in Warooka include fabric rag rug weaving, jewellery workshops, painting and more."

Jasmine said an exciting workshop on the program is silver clay jewellery with award-winning regional artist Cindy Durant.

"About 80 per cent of our presenters have been regional artists and of those, half have been from Yorke Peninsula, which was an important target for the project," Jasmine said.

ART WORKSHOPS... Discovery for Recovery Program project manager Jasmine Swales is looking forward to offering many art workshops this holiday season.

"Country Arts SA awarded us $40,000 through the Regional Arts Fund which has enabled us to pull the project together and subsidise the workshops.

"This has meant the workshops are more affordable and accessible to people and means they may be able to participate in more than one.

"We have had a lot of people come back to multiple workshops but have also had new faces at every workshop which has been great to see we are reaching new people."

Roses in focus at Maitland

MAITLAND and Districts Garden Club members enjoyed an outing to Jamie and Helly Smith's rose-filled garden for the club's November meeting. Jamie greeted the arrivals with a cuppa while they drank in the beauty around them. Members were joined by well-known rosarian John Bradshaw, who has a wealth of knowledge about all things roses and was happy to answer any rose-related questions. In the Smiths' garden, besides roses, there were also a large vegie patch and shade house, all set off beautifully by extensive lawn. After a brief meeting, Jamie was presented with a small token of thanks before members adjourned to Nana Jayne's for lunch. The club's next meeting is its Christmas lunch at the Port Victoria Hotel.

Ardrossan Garden Club celebrate Melbourne Cup

ARDROSSAN Garden Club celebrated Melbourne Cup with a dress up, hobbyhorse races and lunch on Monday, November 1. After two races and a final, Rosemary Jolley was the winner and her horse was crowned with a wreath. Members dressed in various styles, including Gwenth Lodge as a bookie, Rosemary Jolley as a down-and-out gambler and Barbara Gray as a jockey; guest speaker Rex Herde also dressed as a jockey. Both jockeys used their whips during the races but to no avail.

HOBBYHORSES... Ready to race are Maureen Knowles, Evelyn Brett, Jan McInerney, Barbara Gray, Nancy Hayles, Rosemary Jolley, Marlene Houghton, Thelma Young, Gwenth Lodge.

The trading table had many plants and vegetables for sale. Members spent a day in Moonta during October. The itinerary included a ride on the Moonta tourist train, the Moonta Mines Museum and Miner's Cottage garden. A lovely meal was had at Caffé Primo to finish.

COTA SA on the Yorke Peninsula

PEOPLE aged over 50 have embraced the opportunity to participate in COTA SA activities with more than 40 members joining the Yorke Peninsula group in just five months.

Through COTA SA, the peak body representing the interests of older South Australians, the Yorke Peninsula group gives a voice to older people, helps influence advocacy on local issues and informs residents about activities to promote ageing well.

COTA SA chief executive Jane Mussared said interest from Yorke Peninsula shows the value of COTA SA's decision to reach out to regional communities.

"New people have joined the YP group attracted by the chance to ensure issues on Yorke Peninsula are raised as part of COTA SA's representations to business and government – particularly in the lead-up to the upcoming state and federal elections," Ms Mussared said.

YP group chair Vivienne Lambert said it was pleasing to have people from all over the peninsula on the database.

"We now have representation from 21 locations across Yorke Peninsula," she said.

"Members so far are from Alford, Ardrossan, Arthurlton, Black Point, Edithburgh, Kadina, Minlaton, Moonta, Moonta Bay, Moonta Mines, North Beach, North Moonta, Point Pearce, Point Turton, Port Hughes, Port Victoria, Port Vincent, South Kilkerran, Wallaroo, Warooka and Yorketown.

"The YP group has contributed local views to COTA SA on combating ageism, navigating change, health and transport services, and promoting local opportunities to age well."

The group will hold its next meeting at Yorketown and has partnered with the SYP Community Hub to provide training on using apps to access services.

Anyone over 50 interested in joining the group can contact Vivienne by calling 1800 182 324.

Regular walking is a great way to reduce risk of heart disease

BEING active is one of the most important ways Australians of all ages can improve their health and wellbeing.

When it comes to our heart, regular walking is one of the best choices we can make to reduce our risk of heart disease.

Walking for an average of 30 minutes a day can lower the risk of heart disease, stroke and diabetes by 30 to 40 per cent and it will help you manage heart disease risk factors such as blood pressure, cholesterol and your weight.

It is also associated with stronger muscles and bones, fewer injuries and falls and can reduce the risk of developing some cancers.

Despite its benefits, 84 per cent of South Australians do not do enough physical activity to maintain good health.

We should aim to incorporate 30 minutes of walking into our daily lives.

But if you think you can't fit it into your daily schedule, you can break it up into smaller sessions. Three 10-minute sessions are just as beneficial as one longer walk.

It can be as easy as getting off the bus two stops early on your commute and walking the rest of the way or going for a stroll when you are on the phone.

Heart Foundation Walking Groups are a great way to meet and socialise with new people. You can join an existing group or start your own.

Some people find it challenging to schedule regular physical activity into their day but find they are more likely to do it if they can walk with other people.

You can also sign up for a Heart Foundation Personal Walking Plan.

This is a free, six-week program that provides a walking plan tailored to your current activity levels. Once you have signed up, you will receive weekly emails and text messages to keep you motivated and achieve your goals.

It doesn't matter how you do it, but keep walking and your heart will thank you.

For more information or to sign up to a Walking Group or Personal Walking Plan, head to walking/heartfoundation.org.au.

Not only a fundraiser for the association, the stall helped raise awareness of SACWA's efforts within the local community and on broader issues.

It was also an enjoyable opportunity to meet many members of the public. Homemade cakes, jams, and biscuits once again proved popular, with craft, tea towels and cookbooks also available for sale.

SACWA Kadina branch's Christmas function is this month at the home of a member, and will not meet again in the Copper Coast Library until February 11.

You can check us out on Facebook www.facebook.com/southaustralia.cwa/SACWA_Kadina or SACWA Kadina Evening.

Contribution of the Cornish to Australia

REVEREND June Ladner talked about the contribution of the Cornish to Australia at the Cornish Association of South Australia, Yorke Peninsula branch's October meeting in Moonta.

When the local copper mines closed in 1923 about 10,000 people left the area; however, their impact on Australia was just as important as when the mines were operating, June said.

Politics was one field of influence, with a state MP Richard Hooper as early as 1892.

Three state premiers and four senators came from the Moonta Mines Methodist congregation, including local preacher John Verran who was SA's first Labour premier.

Miners were involved in the beginnings of the trade union movement and Cornish women were active campaigners for the Temperance Union in Adelaide.

Prominent mines shareholders invested in the state; Walter Watson Hughes, Barr-Smith and Elder were benefactors in the beginnings of the Adelaide University, hospitals, et cetera.

Culture and religion were important to Cornish families; as was music, with bands, parades, choirs, concerts, etc.

Moonta lays claim to the first Carols by Candlelight, as the men emerged from the mines on Christmas Eve with the candles on their helmets and joined in singing carols.

From there they went with their families to the "sand park" (Victoria Park) for more carols, where again the only lighting was candles.

CORNISH HISTORY... At the recent Cornish Association SA, YP branch meeting are Peter Egel, Lilian James and the Reverend June Ladner.

Sunday School anniversaries at the Moonta Mines church attracted large numbers for three services on consecutive Sundays.

In the 1870s, the church was filled for revival meetings; it was even reported a circus in town on one of those occasions had a poor attendance.

Mines church Sunday School superintendent Henry Lipson Hancock wrote a 1910 book "The Modern Sunday School", which influenced the way Sunday Schools were set up in SA, and his "Rainbow" system was used all over Australia and in western USA, England, Cornwall and Germany.

Sunday School picnics were also highlights; the raspberry cordial provided could be the only flavoured drink a child had for the whole year.

The 1891 Census revealed 90 per cent of residents were either born in Cornwall or their parents had been; of those, 90 per cent registered as Methodist.

One of the "sons" of the area, Sir Richard Williams, was honoured as the "father" of the RAAF as it celebrated its centenary recently.

Branch president Liz Coole thanked June for her talk.

The branch's final gathering for the year was its Christmas lunch in November.

CONGRATULATIONS... SACWA Yorketown branch president Kathleen Smith (right) congratulates Valmai Crosby on her years of service for SACWA.

Valmai's 50 years

SACWA Yorketown branch member Valmai Crosby was recently recognised with her 50-year badge.

Mrs Crosby was also presented with a certificate and bunch of flowers by president Kathleen Smith in front of about 20 Spencer Group members, her husband, daughter and sister-in-law.

Mrs Crosby first joined the Rudall branch in 1967 after returning home from her honeymoon.

She gave 35 years to the branch on Eyre Peninsula, and first became vice-president in 1968.

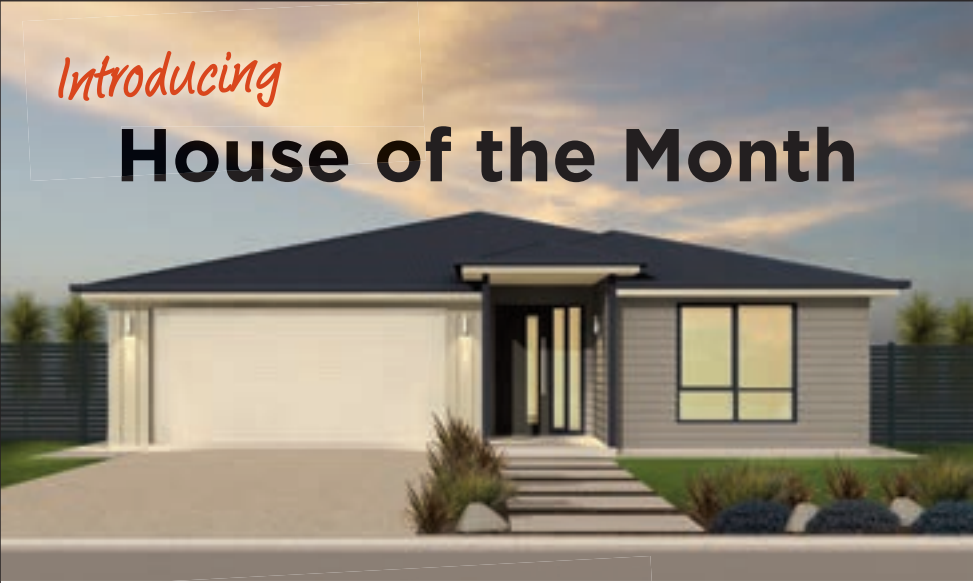

Mrs Crosby held a position continually, spending seven years as president, five as vice-president, nine as secretary, four as branch reporter and eight years as the handicraft officer.

She also held handicraft officer and president roles for the Buxton Group.

"Valmai held the office of Eyre Peninsula Divisional president and at state level, Valmai was appointed SACWA representative to the SA Agricultural and Horticultural Training Council and was appointed SACWA state training working party coordinator," a Yorketown branch spokesperson said.

Mrs Crosby received life membership in 2001 and she continued to be active in the group until she transferred to Yorketown.

"She has certainly played a large part with Yorketown branch as vice-president and also with Spencer Group as secretary/treasurer for a few years," the spokesperson said.

Farleys farewell Minlaton Discounters

Advertising Promotion

AFTER nearly two decades Phil and Pam Farley are ready to hand over the keys to their beloved Minlaton Discounters.

The store started small and has grown to be a one-stop shop for just about everything you can think of, from household items to camping, fishing and much more.

"We have been in the shop for 19 years and we started as a lifestyle business," Phil said.

"It has grown to the stage where we get customers from all over Australia on a regular basis because they come and see us on their holidays.

"We buy goods from Sydney, Melbourne, Perth and we used to buy four items at a time now we buy cartons and double cartons."

Phil said the time is right to slow down.

"We are ready to retire, we are both 67, so it's time to hand the business over to someone else," he said.

"We aren't leaving Minlaton, we want to retire and travel but we also have another business.

"I was down the beach one day, I wanted to have a sleep but it was too hot and the thermal blanket grew from that.

"Cub Campers in Sydney took one to the Birdsville Bash and we are now their major supplier for all their thermal blankets.

"It's something we can do from home and it will give us more time to be semi-retired and travel when we want to."

The couple said they have no intentions of moving and love living in Minlaton.

"We have met so many new people in the store, they keep coming back all the time especially tourists which is really great," Pam said.

"We like it here; we have made some wonderful friends so there is no need for us to leave."

NEW STAGE... Ryan Gordon congratulates Phil Farley and Pam Farley on their achievements ahead of their semi-retirement.

FAREWELL... Pam and Phil Farley are ready to semi-retire after nearly two decades of running Minlaton Discounters.

Phil and Pam's new venture

WHILE Phil and Pam Farley intend to slow down, they will keep busy with their Camper Trailer Thermal Blanket™ venture.

The blanket, designed by Phil, will cover most camper trailers and caravan awnings.

The lightweight, easy to use and easy to store Camper Trailer Thermal Blanket™ reflects the heat and drops the inside temperature by up to 20 per cent while helping to retain the warmth in winter.

The blanket is not only for camper trailers or caravans but can be custom made and used on tents, gazebos, beach shades and shelters.

Meet the new owner

MINLATON Discounters customers will be greeted by a familiar face as Ryan Gordon is taking over the business.

Ryan has worked at the store for four years and decided he wanted the challenge of being his own boss.

"(Working at Minlaton Discounters) I love interaction with the public, and having previously worked in hospitality, the more reasonable working hours and not having to work nights and only a few hours on a Saturday morning was appealing," Ryan said.

"Having worked there for four years, I have seen what the business can do and it also gives me the opportunity to be my own boss and prevents another local business from closing.

"It is in a great location and has a well-established customer base and reputation, providing a large variety of options for customers ranging from camping and fishing to pet accessories and general variety."

Ryan said he looks forward to keeping up the reputation Pam and Phil have established during the past 19 years.

Ryan was born in Minlaton and lived in Goolwa for the first seven years of his life before returning to the town.

"We returned to Minlaton to be closer to family," Ryan said.

"After completing my schooling at Minlaton District School my first job was at Minlaton IGA, which became IGA Fresh.

"I then worked for I M & C A Johnson Building Contractors and Carpenters before getting a job at the Minlaton Sporting Club."

Ryan has also worked as a trade's assistant at Minlaton Power Connections (now Nu-Gen Power and Storage) as well as in hospitality before getting the job at Minlaton Discounters.

"Outside of work, I have been involved with the CMS Crows Football and Netball Clubs for many years," he said.

NEW OWNER... Ryan Gordon, who has worked at Minlaton Discounters for four years, is taking over the business.

"I started as a player and boundary umpire, before goal umpiring due to rupturing my ACL, and becoming a trainer, as well as being the boundary umpire coordinator for a number of years.

"I am also a lawn bowler, having played for 17 years now, winning the club singles title last year, and a couple of pairs titles with my father through the years.

"I have also been fortunate to win a number of premierships during that time."

Young ones' reading through the roof

Patrick Goldsmith
REPORT BY

THE literacy of year 1 students in South Australia is constantly improving, according to results from the 2021 phonics screening check.

For the third consecutive year, results derived from a five-minute phonics test indicated a rise in ability, now delivering a 24 per cent increase since its inception in 2018.

Results in 2021 revealed 67 per cent of students met or exceeded the expected achievement by correctly decoding 28 words out of 40.

Kadina Memorial School principal Alistair Williams said the results were a really good sign for the future.

"It's been positive because we've noticed it through a significant jump in our year 3 results for NAPLAN testing," he said.

"That only happens with significant improvement in both reception and year 1."

Improvements were recorded across both regional and metropolitan schools, indicating an important parity between schools.

"An improvement of 24 percentage points over three years is a fantastic result and shows that public schools and preschools are implementing the right measures and practices to lift literacy among our state's children," Minister for Education John Gardner said.

"We'll continue to work with the schools and teachers to ensure they have the right support to push the high-achieving students further and ensure even more targeted support for students who aren't meeting the standard."

STEP ONE... Kadina Memorial School year 1 students Elizabeth Ireland, Imogen Atkinson, Jakobi Price, Bill March and Michael Reynolds sharing their passion for reading.

Nutrition and eye floaters

Floater appear when light passes through irregular parts of the vitreous gel — the substance that gives the eye its shape — and casts shadows on the retina, at the back of the eye.

A normal part of the ageing process, eye floaters can sometimes be an indication of a more serious eye condition so anyone who notices sudden symptoms should have an eye examination promptly.

Targeted nutrition has been found to significantly reduce eye floaters, as well as their associated discomforts, in certain patients, according to a study published in the journal Translational Vision Science and Technology.

Led by the Waterford Institute of Technology's Nutrition Research Centre, Ireland, the Floater Intervention Study involved patients with primary floaters.

The study showed a reduction in floater suffering as well as improvements in visual function after a six-month dietary intervention.

The intervention formulation comprised 125mg l-lysine, 40mg vitamin C, 26.3mg Vitis vinifera extract, 5mg zinc, and 100mg Citrus aurantium.

Researchers said the study provided evidence to support the use of antioxidative and antiglycation micronutrients can improve vitreous health.

A large percentage of patients (77 per cent) on the active supplement demonstrated a reduction in vitreous floaters and associated improvements in vision-related quality of life was seen in 67 per cent of patients.

Acknowledging not all participants experienced improvements, the researchers strongly advised patients to seek advice from a qualified eye-care professional.

REPRESENTATIVE... The Yorke Peninsula Football Association side which defeated a SA Football Association team in 1902; back: supporter S Rouse, supporter P Martin, W Wheenan, E Jones, J Abraham, manager R J Hughes, J Bailey, A Hayes, J Thomas, trainer E J Keen, timekeeper J Hutchings; middle: vice-captain J Slee, T Thomas, W Bryden, captain W Williams, A Kissel, J Bray, J Rees; front: W Hawes, S Worrall, A Lennel, umpire J Bilsborow, L Roberts, H Bell, A Slee.

Yorke Peninsula's victory over SAFA

Peter Argent
REPORT BY

One of the most legendary performances by a Yorke Peninsula football team was achieved against a combined South Australian Football Association side on Monday, September 1, 1902.

YP Football Association secretary Robert John Hughes had requested a match against the SAFA (precursor to the SANFL) and, in the city association's wisdom, they selected a collection of players from the bottom two sides — West Adelaide and Sturt.

The side still had a number of highly credentialed footballers including Sturt's Hendrick Stanbury "Taffy" Waye, 1903 Magarey Medalist; James Tierney, 1908 Magarey Medalist and part of West's premiership sides before World War I.

JD Daly, an Australian Football Hall of Famer, was captain of West Adelaide at the time while LL Hill (Lionel Laughton) Hill, originally from Maitland, played in this contest for the City team and was state Premier from 1930 to 1933.

The combined Yorke Peninsula side was captained by W Williams, with J Slee as the team's vice-captain.

Other members of this victorious YP side that travelled down to Adelaide included J Abraham, J Bailey, H Bell, J Bray, W Hawes, A Hayes, E Jones, A Kinnell, A Lennell, J Ross, L Roberts, A Slee, W Symons, T Thomas, W Whennan, S Worrall, with three emergencies being F Cawte, W

Bryden and J Thomas.

The SAFA team was in front at the quarter time and halftime intervals, leading 5.5 to 2.3 at the main break.

YPFA charged back into the contest with three unanswered goal in the third term.

After a seesawing final stanza, the Yorke Peninsula team held on for an outstanding victory, defeating the SAFA team, 5.9 (39) to 5.7 (37).

It should be noted there were discrepancies between papers of the final score — as a couple of reports had YP winning 6.9 (45) to 6.7 (43) — but all had the YP side victorious.

The report in the Adelaide Register Newspaper, "Yorke Peninsular v West Adelaide and Sturt Combined", on Tuesday, September 2 read: "An interesting football match was played on Adelaide Oval on Monday morning between a team chosen from the Yorke's Peninsula association and 18 from West Adelaide and Sturt.

"The country body asked the city association for a match and would have been a greater compliment to them if a side selected from all the clubs not in engaged that day had been picked.

"The game proved so enjoyable that it is hoped that the Peninsula men will pay an annual visit to the city and next time they come the association should take care to let a combination thoroughly representative of the city meet them.

"The country men won the match by two points but, in circumstances to which they were accustomed, they would have inflicted as severe defeat on the home team.

"First of all, the ground was against them — it was too soft — but above all they met what to them was a new interpretation of the rules.

"Mr Bilsborough (the umpire) carried out his duties exceedingly satisfactorily from the point of view of the Adelaide reading of the rules, but to the country association, they had a much stricter administration.

"It would be a treat in Adelaide to have few of the umpires to have taught the Peninsula men to play such a strict, fair game.

"During the first half they gave one of the fairest exhibitions seen for many years.

"In fact, it was too fair.

"They went straight for the ball and when they had occasion to catch a man they held him for a second, then unclenched, and were amazed to see their opponent running away with the ball.

"When they in turn were caught in possession, they discarded the leather at once.

"All these things told against them, but after the interval they suited themselves to local decisions and played the Adelaide game."

According to the Register's report, Abraham, Hawes, A Slee, Williams, Rees, Thomas, Kissell and J Slee were the best for YP.

For the hosts, future Premier Hill was their best, followed by Hay, Daly and Sugg.

A Slee and Jones kicked two goals each for the Yorke Peninsula side, while Bailey chimed in with one.

YPFL switches to 25m penalty

Fin Hansen
REPORT BY

Local football umpires will be able to issue 25-metre penalties to players in 2022.

The new ruling was proposed by Kadina Football Club and passed at Yorke Peninsula Football League's November board meeting.

Umpires will no longer have the power to enforce 50-metre penalties, with the reduced distance minimising the penalty for minor infringements.

YPFL secretary Phil Brand said the ruling was suggested to align with Adelaide Plains and North Eastern Football Leagues, as well as Northern Areas Football Association, which had all previously introduced it.

"SANFL also uses (the penalty) and it seems to work pretty well in other leagues," Brand said.

"Every umpire's interpretation is different anyway, but hopefully this helps get all leagues and umpires on the same page.

"This way when leagues get to association footy (carnivals), they've already been playing under the same rules."

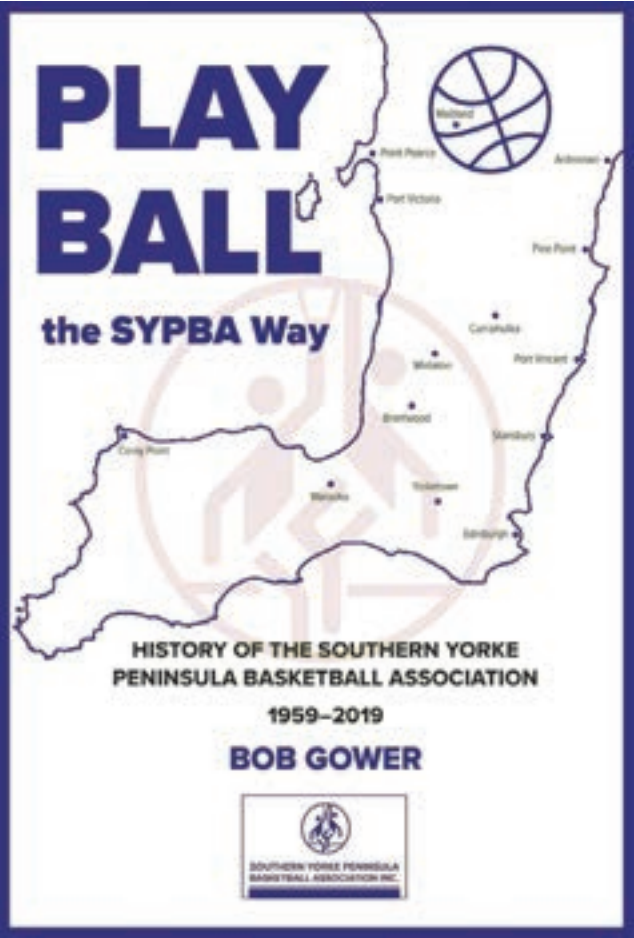

Brand said 50 metres was a significant price to pay for very minor acts.

"Fifty-metre penalties can be very frustrating for players and spectators," he said.

"If we can minimise the penalty for little infringements like entering the protected area and over-stepping the mark, it should make for a better game."

NEW RULING... Yorke Peninsula Football League players, including Southern Eagle Jack Tape, won't have to face 50-metre penalties for slight infringements next season.

SYPBA history updated

HISTORY... Historian and SYP Basketball Association life member Bob Gower is currently working on updating his SYPBA history book, Play Ball the SYPBA way, 1959-2019. Gower is looking for funding to complete the project, expected to cost $14,000. "I am pleased to advise I am currently editing the first 176 pages from my publisher," he said. "I must emphasise this project of mine is a book of love and passion. The entire process is on a volunteer basis and all the hidden costs are absorbed by me. My aim is to raise enough money for much-needed honour boards and a donation to the Beyond Blue Charity." For more information, contact the SYPBA.

Elite talent in junior hubs

Peter Argent
REPORT BY

Three of Yorke Peninsula talents have been selected in the SANFL Under 18s Male and Female Talent Hubs.

Edithburgh's Shineah Goody, Paskeville's Jedd Thomson and Southern Eagles' Trent Tattoli have been recognised for their skills.

Goody played all 11 games for Woodville-West Torrens in the SANFL Women's competition this year and was named in the SANFL Team of the Year.

The SA Under 18 girls side will be coached again by 2002 Magarey Medalist and premiership player Tim Weatherald, and assisted by Bill Economou, Craig Lum, Jason Rivett and Bek McMahon.

A four-day camp will be held at Thebarton Oval from Monday to Thursday, December 13-16.

South Australia is scheduled to tackle Western Australia in Perth on April 9-10, before heading to the Gold Coast to face Victoria Metro on April 19 and the Allies on April 22.

The SA boys' side started their four-day camp yesterday (Monday, December 6) until Friday, December 10.

The hub will hold another camp next month.

SA's under 18 coach Tony Bamford said he was looking forward to establishing relationships with next year's AFL Draft hopefuls and the entire squad, with public speaking and team building exercises on the agenda.

"Jedd has many of the same traits as his older brother Brock," Eagles under 18s triple title-winning coach Shane Reardon said.

"We love the intensity and attack on the ball that Jedd brings to the table.

"Currently he is returning from an injury and going through a rehab program.

"It is a groin-related issue which means Jedd will not be involved in any on-field training."

Scott Stevens, Central District talent manager, believes Tattoli's football package is strong.

"Trent has a phenomenal endurance fitness base and he is a natural leader," Stevens said.

"He is a ball magnet on the field, playing both under 16s and under 18s for us in 2021."

Colourful cricket on YP

The Yorke Peninsula Girls' Strikers League has wrapped up for 2021, with the event guaranteed to return in 2022.

Almost 20 girls participated in the two weekends of cricket at Maitland oval, which included a colour blast on Sunday, December 5.

The program was designed specifically to be a starting block for girls' cricket to grow on YP, with more girls set to thrive with their own outlet.

Those who attended got to have a hit of cricket while having some fun with colour paint and water balloons.

SACA North-West country cricket officer Drew McDonald said everyone who participated in the colour blast had fun.

"It was a really good experience just to learn a thing or two and to have fun while doing it," he said.

"The numbers (of participants) we've had out have been encouraging but we'd love it to grow more because that's what it's all about."

SACA is currently planning a Strikers holiday program for boys and girls aged 5-10 at Wallaroo in January.

It is also hoped the Girls' Strikers League will return next year, albeit a little earlier.

"We think next year it'll probably be best to bring the event forward to miss harvest," McDonald said.

"We're currently looking at late term three into the October school holidays and that way we can increase participation."

BLAST... The crew which took part in the Girls Strikers League Colour Blast day on Sunday, November 5, at Maitland oval. Back: Drew McDonald, Sabine Meyer, Elsie Meaney, Ayla Taheny, Sarah McConnell, Peter Brown; front: Mikaela Zwar, Sam Meaney, Isabella Govorusic, Tayer Warren.

Big winning scores feature in Saturday div I

Joan Hill
REPORT BY

Saturday competition

There were really no close scores in the NYP Bowling Association Saturday (open gender) division I competition on December 4.

The closest was Paskeville's win 87-65 against Maitland. Paskeville had two teams up and a draw. Paskeville's best was Garry Willson, Greg Clogg, Jason Bussenschutt and Bill Beech 29-15.

Wallaroo White, playing at home, was far too good for Ardrossan. Wallaroo had all teams up and won overall by 59 shots. It just proves how good Wallaroo is at home.

Perhaps the biggest surprise was Port Broughton's win against Arthurlton with all teams up. Broughton's best were Jeff Barnes, Geoff Edwards, Peter Temme and Mal Ramsey 27-12.

Kadina, at home, was too good for Bute, winning by 18 shots with three teams up. Kadina is second on the ladder would be very happy with that.

The other big winning score was at Moonta where the home side won by 69 shots against Wallaroo Blue.

There was only one close result in second division with Port Broughton winning at Arthurlton by four shots.

Moonta Red had a 27-shot win against Bute at Bute, Wallaroo Mines was far too good at Paskeville and Kadina, at home, defeated Alford.

Div III had the closest scores. Ardrossan White, playing at home, won by two shots against Moonta White and Kadina lost to Wallaroo White by six.

Moonta Red, at home, won by 22 shots against Ardrossan Blue.

Biggest win in this division was Moonta Blue 79-30 against Maitland.

This Saturday

Ardrossan travels to Paskeville and both will want a win; Ardrossan is coming off a big loss last week against Wallaroo, and Paskeville comes close to sides above it but finds it hard to have a win. Ardrossan might just win this one.

Arthurlton would like to get back to a win but Wallaroo White won't allow that.

Bute, at home, plays Port Broughton. Bute plays well at home but Port Broughton might just win this one.

Kadina should have a win when it travels to Wallaroo to play the Blue side, and Moonta should be too strong for Maitland.

In second division, Port Broughton will be too strong for Paskeville and Moonta Red should have a win against Ardrossan.

Wallaroo Mines is a good side and, playing at home, should defeat Bute.

It is a toss of a coin for the Moonta Blue v Arthurlton game. Moonta will be at home and so should win.

Wallaroo Blue won't manage the Alford green so Alford will win that one.

Div III is hard to pick; I will go for Moonta Blue to win at Wallaroo, Maitland to win at Ardrossan, Moonta Red to win in Kadina, and Moonta White to win at home.

Thursday competition

In Div I Green, Maitland had its first win for the season, Kadina/Mines defeated Wallaroo, Port Broughton defeated close neighbour Bute and Moonta Red travelled to Ardrossan for the biggest win of the round.

Maitland, at home, had three teams up with Judy Davies, Marie Burrows, Gill Jarrett and Meralyn James winning 30-18.

Closest game in the Green division was at Port Broughton. Both sides had two teams up but it was the 26-9 victory of Elizabeth Dolling, Helen Carter, Joan Munzer and Ros Aitchison that helped the home side win overall.

The closest game in Div I Gold was played at Moonta where Paskeville won 78-67. Paskeville is in second spot but this week comes up against the undefeated Arthurlton, which had the bye last week.

Alford played at home and would be happy with its 31-shot win against Kadina/Mines Gold.

Alford's biggest win came from June Roberts, Bronwyn Du Toit, Kim Williams and Derek Petherick, 31-7.

Wallaroo, playing at home against Ardrossan, had the biggest win.

NYPBA SATURDAY DIV I... Ian Stringer, Kadina, and Trevor Bruce, Alford, watch intently as a bowl comes into the head.

Region 2 women's side

A Region 2 (Yorke Peninsula) women's squad to play Region 3 (Upper North) at Crystal Brook on Sunday, January 2, has been chosen:

- Judy Prosser (skipper), Marilyn Lovelock, Lyn White, Jill Bagshaw
- Karyn Watts (sk), Ann Robinson, Jo Smith, Carole Gill
- Sharon Cavanagh (sk), Grace Moloney, Charmaine Simmons, Yvonne Dodd
- Debbie Dennis (sk), Di Milner, Rosie Stern, Kellie Paul
- Claire Eichenberger (sk), Janet

Tucker, Terri Schultz, Sandra Redding

- Cindy Thompson (sk), Penny McCarthy, Karen Baker, Myra Walling

Reserves are Amanda Gersch, Jenny Emmerton, Ali Adams.

Players are asked to be at Crystal Brook Bowling Club at 9.15am for 10am start.

White bowls pants/skorts to be worn; lunch will be $12, payable on the day.

Unavailable players are asked to contact Region 2 manager Pauline Sweet, 0409 849 023.

Bute travels to play Kadina/Mines, which had a good win last week. If Kadina/Mines is back on track it should win this one.

Ardrossan will want to win this week against close rival Maitland, which had their its win last week. Ardrossan, at home, should be too strong for Maitland.

In Div I Gold, Moonta hosts Kadina/Mines Gold. Moonta lost by five shots to Kadina/Mines in the first game of the season but will be too strong at home this time around.

Paskeville travels to Arthurlton, which is yet to lose a game. I cannot see Arthurlton losing at home. When these two sides last played Arthurlton won by four shots.

Wallaroo plays at home against Alford. Both are close on the ladder and the gap between their scores last time was only six shots. The difference this time will be Wallaroo is at home.

Bowls: not just for retirees

“NN”
REPORT BY

Saturday competition

It was great to see younger players given the chance to play top division bowls in the SYP Bowling Association's Saturday (open gender) competition on December 4.

Ava Vass played for Curramulka against Yorketown and Zac Gray played his second game in top division for Edithburgh; both performed well.

In second division, Dudley Russell played number two for Edithburgh and Indi Vass was a skipper for Curramulka.

DIVISION I

The round played last weekend ended with some interesting and close results.

Curramulka almost upset Yorketown at Yorketown when it came within five shots of a win. The green was lightning fast and a slight breeze made for a pleasant game for a change.

Yorketown won only one rink, Massimo Castiglia over Lyndon Watters 32-13, which gave Yorketown the overall win, whilst Rob Tilbrook's rink defeated Rod Franke 23-15 to give Curry its winning chance.

Edithburgh scraped home over lowly placed Warooka by 10 shots at Edithburgh, once again on near perfect greens. Tony Dunn was the only rink winner for Warooka 22-18 over Chris Tatchell. Micheal Davies for Edithburgh had the closest game, 23-22 over Ken Rickard.

Port Vincent caused the biggest upset of the season so far, defeating arch rival Stansbury by 28 shots.

Vincent's big winner was Greg Parsons' team 37-17 against Malcolm Jennings; Rob Marner also had a big win, defeating Rob Natt 27-15. Rob Storm defeated the in-form team skippered by John Cook 25-16.

Stansbury's only winner was Trevor Gill, 27-14 against Peter Green.

In the other game of the round, Minlaton scored a 10-shot win against Port Victoria 94-84.

Craig Norgren was Minlaton's biggest winner in this game, 33-24 against Rod Gill.

Gav Porter and Ben Groombridge played out a 20-all draw whilst Luke Brind had a good battle with Stewart Germaine to win 19-14. Alex Germaine was up six shots on Rob Beston.

The ladder at present has Yorketown on top from Stansbury, Edithburgh, Port Vincent and Curramulka.

DIVISION II

Games in this division were not as close as in div I.

Match of the day was at Stansbury, Stansbury Blue hosting Stansbury White in a battle for top spot, the result coming down to the very last end.

Les Nichol and his team had finished, five shots up in favour of Blue. Jennie Ford had to decide whether to play her last bowl or not as she was up one on Ian Perry, and the team skippered by Ron Duncan still had an end to play.

As the sun shone on the Blue side, Duncan's team lost by two shots and the side had an overall four-shot win to keep it on top of the ladder, nine points ahead of Stansbury White.

Yorketown Blue had a huge win against Warooka 99-56 with Tony Pittaway up 41-11 on Heather Drury and Alan Algie up 37-11 against Marg Coad. Graham Oakley was Warooka's only winner, 34-21 against Brenton Spratt.

Unfortunately Port Vincent Black had to forfeit again, this time to Edithburgh.

Thursday competition

DIVISION I

Port Vincent sent Stansbury's Saturday side a message when its Thursday (women) side defeated Stansbury in a shock five-shot win.

Merrilyn Lovelock was Vincent's best with a 21-12 win against Karyn Watts, and Margie Dodd was best for Stansbury with a 24-19 win against Wendy McDonald.

Yorketown scraped home by nine shots against Curramulka with three rinks up and Yorketown's form team of Sandy Redding lost to Sandra Wescombe 13-19.

Minlaton had a narrow win against Port Victoria by three shots with two rinks up. Karen Baker defeated Marilyn Mitchell 21-9 and Bev Kinnane defeated Lyn Krieg 18-16 for Port Vic. Nancy Newbold had a five-shot win against Denise Davey and Brenda Clarke had a one-shot win against Carole Gill.

Warooka played a top game against Edithburgh at the 'Burgh to win by 20 shots. Sandra Millowick was the Edithburgh's only winner, 26-13 against Dawn Detmar.

DIVISION II

In second division, Minlaton 39 defeated Warooka 27, and Edithburgh 51 defeated Port Vincent 24.

Foot fault rule

When delivering a bowl, at the time the bowl leaves the hand, at least one foot shall be on or over the mat in order to avoid a foot fault.

I have seen a large number of players breaking this rule in all SYPBA divisions over the past few weeks.

Players seen to break this rule should be warned the umpire of the day will watch for a problem. That is okay; however, even if found not to be breaking the rule, it will cause concern for the player being watched and they will be distracted with future bowls.

The most common foot faults

BOWLS... almost a foot fault in delivery are standing too far forward on the mat and taking a long step or standing on the side of the mat and twisting the foot off the mat, so watch your step.

Port Vincent two-bowl triples

Port Vincent Bowling Club held its two-bowl triples tournament on Sunday, November 28. Weather was perfect for bowling with, for a change, very little wind. Twenty teams enjoyed four games with players from Maitland, Ardrossan, Auburn, Paskeville, Lockleys plus most clubs from the SYP association; your support is greatly appreciated by the Port Vincent club.

Winners were Jim McKenzie, Allan Gregory and Bob Halliday (102 points) from Warooka; runners-up were Tony Dunn, Graham Oakley and Eric Smith (101) from Port Vincent; third Brian Tuttle, Roger Underwood and Des Chambers from Port Vincent (82).

Game winners: 1 Des Short, 2 Rod Franke, 3 Jim McKenzie, 4 Phil Lovelock.

Many thanks to the catering volunteers for providing a lovely lunch and afternoon tea.

The club and players greatly appreciate the fantastic support from major sponsor Jayco Adelaide and wines with lunch from Eldredge Wines.

Encipher takes Southern Cross Series

Kadina pacing sensation Encipher took off the $50,000 Group 2 TAB 2-year-old Southern Cross Series final over 1800 metres at Globe Derby Park on Saturday, December 4.

Encipher, bred and owned by Tyson Linke, has now won five races from eight starts including the Group 1 Breeders Crown in Victoria.

Trained by Emma Stewart, in Victoria, the filly was driven by Mark Billinger.

Encipher ($1.35 favourite) surprised even her owner by beginning brilliantly from gate 6 to cross and lead when the mobile drew away.

“I didn’t know she could do that,” a shocked Linke said.

“I was thinking she would go forward but might have to sit parked.

“There was no one more surprised when she led.”

Billinger brilliantly rated Encipher, setting a comfortable 31.4 second first quarter of the last 1600 metres, then steadily increased the tempo.

Encipher clocked another moderate 29.8 seconds for the next quarter before coming home in 27.9 and 27.4 for the last 800 metres making it near impossible for her rivals to catch her.

Linke said the filly would be floated back to Stewart’s stables to prepare for the Vicbred Super Series later in the month.

Billinger said it had been a pleasure to drive such a talented filly.

“She has nice high speed and has proven she is pretty tough,” Billinger said.

“Once she led tonight, I was confident she could control the race.

“She settled beautifully then really extended when I asked her to sprint.”

Wallaroo Sailing Club

This year’s harvest is affecting the number of trainees at Wallaroo Sailing Club on Sunday mornings.

Participants sailed a simple triangular course with a steady breeze, which was perfect for the trainees, this week.

This gradually dropped until there was little or no breeze at all. Fun was still had out on the water.

The breezes returned for the afternoon sailing.

The sailing trainees Samara Shane in her sabre, Griff Meirs in an Xtreme 3 and Bob aided by our sail training coordinator in a Laser 2 were joined by the more experienced sailors, Peter Elverd in a Laser and David and Maria Woodforde in their Tasar.

The Laser 2 capsized not once but twice and withdrew.

Just like the morning sailors, great fun was had by all race participants

The sailing club is open to all so come down and join in the fun.

Sides gear up for end of 2021

“The Finger Roll”
REPORT BY

Harvest commitments threw a spanner in the works for a few senior sides last week. Hopefully these sides can be bolstered as everyone searches for a pair of wins to round out the first half of the season. A heavily undermanned Pasky outfit fell victim to an in-form Arthurton side which has continued to expose its A Men opponents in the paint this year. A huge fixture is scheduled this week, as premierships favourites Kadina and Arthurton go head-to-head. Two disappointing forfeits explained why there was a scarce number of spectators in attendance on Friday night. Here's hoping Arthurton Orange and Bute Senior Women can bounce back and don't struggle for numbers in future.

Results
A MEN
Wallaroo v Bute

The Roosters were always going to have a tough night without Sam and Jordan Taylor. In their absence, big man Jace Wiggzell stretched the floor with a pair of three pointers, but a high-scoring Wallaroo side put its opposition to the sword by 25 points.

Moonta v Bears

A big game for the Bears in terms of ladder positioning, the yellow and black were left without a bench by the end due to foul trouble. Nonetheless, three big triples from Aaron Olsen and a handy 10 points from Luke “the unicorn” Gray edged out Moonta by 10.

Paskeville v Arthurton

Pasky was forced to field just five players with both Wanganeen twins unavailable. Credit to the Pies for sticking with Arthurton, which was incredibly dominant on the inside thanks to Anthony Oliphant and Matt Thomson in a 12-point win.

SENIOR WOMEN
Paskeville White v Arthurton Orange

The Tigers were one of two teams to forfeit on Friday night. This now puts them one game behind Pasky White on the ladder.

Wallaroo v Paskeville Black

Having three extra players was a huge bonus for Pasky in this one. Foul trouble for Wallaroo restricted their play, as Lucy Bussenschutt's 12 points led the Pies to a six-point triumph.

Arthurton Black v Bute.

Bute also forfeited its match up, keeping it at the bottom of the ladder and handing the Tigers their eighth-straight win.

YVBA A MEN... Moonta's Shane Turner takes control of the ball in front of Aaron Olsen, Bears.

YVBA A MEN... Aaron Meates, Moonta, defended by Jackson Arthur, Bears, at the three-point line.

Tips
A MEN
Paskeville v Wallaroo

Pasky will be crossing its fingers on the Wanganeen's availability. They'll be clear favourites if the brothers play, but the contest will be much closer if not. Like usual, Pasky's guards will have a big say in this one, plus Ben “Dame time” Davies has started to find a rhythm from deep.

At the final buzzer... Paskeville by 12.

Moonta v Bute

The Roosters will be begging Sam and Jordy Taylor to wrap up harvest asap. Bute's offence opens right up when they're on the court and high percentage shots are much more frequent. Either way, the red and white should be back in the winning column this week.

At the final buzzer... Bute by 20.

Kadina v Arthurton

If there's one team that matches up well with the Tigers it's this ultra-physical Kadina line up. Bloods big man Geoff Munn should be able to contain Matt Thomson to an extent, but he'll likely still find his spots when he steps outside. This will be a huge challenge for the ladder leaders, but Kadina's depth should again be too much for its opposition.

At the final buzzer... Kadina by eight.

SENIOR WOMEN
Arthurton Black v Paskeville White

Both sides won by forfeit last week, so they'll need to hit the ground running in this round 10 fixture. Pasky must find early answers for the Tigers, who continue to show why their complete line up is so hard to guard.

At the final buzzer... Arthurton Black by 23.

Moonta v Bute

The Roosters will be desperate to recapture their form from two weeks ago which helped them snatch an upset win. However, all players will need to contribute and gel to find good looks. This is a must win for Moonta if it hopes to lock down a spot in the top two.

At the final buzzer... Moonta by 10.

Wallaroo v Arthurton Orange

Rolling out with a team will be an improvement for Arthurton, which has struggled for numbers all year. The Dogs cannot drop too many more games in their race for finals, but they could well fall victim to Monica Britton and company in this one.

At the final buzzer... Arthurton Orange by five.

YVBA C MEN... Bailey Ramsey, Wallaroo, flies between Kadina Red's Steven Millowick and Rex Monger as he shoots a layup.

YVBA A MEN... Aaron Olsen, Bears, attempts to distract Patrick Fry, Moonta, by touching his hand at a Moonta free throw.

YVBA C WOMEN... Nellie Polkinghorne, Arthurton, passes around Paskeville's Rachel Watts.

YVBA C MEN... Deklan Birchmore, Wallaroo, takes control of the ball in front of Kadina Red's Lucas Schmidt.

ABOVE: YVBA C MEN... Anthony Bagnato, Wallaroo, defends Mitchell Cunningham, Kadina Red, as he drives to the basket. RIGHT: YVBA C MEN... Steven Millowick, Kadina Red, eyes the basket as he prepares for a free throw against Wallaroo.

YVBA B MEN... Caleb Snodgrass, Bears Yellow, looks for the goal as he is defended by Kadina Red players Flynn Cockshell, Bailey Rawlinson and Daniel McDonald.

YVBA C WOMEN... Naomi Davey, Arthurton, dribbles the ball away from Paskeville players Leonie Ey and Emma Lukong.

BOWLS

Alford: The Thursday (women) side played at home against Kadina/Wallaroo Mines, winning 90-59 with two rinks up and one drawn. June Roberts (sk), Bronwyn Du Toit, Kim Williams, Derek Petherick 31-7; Rose Pearce (sk), Lorraine Hotchin, Jude Davey, Dave Willment 23-13; Dot Hockley (sk), Leonie Roberts, Steve Davis, Trevor Bruce 17-17; Denise Hocking (sk), Colleen Balman, Lance Hotchin, Cheryl Price 19-22. Saturday (open gender) travelled to Kadina and struggled with gusty winds, going down 103-85 with one rink up. Geoff Pearce (sk), Steve Davis, Jake Hoare, Phil March 35-16; Brenton “Butch” Davies (sk), Derek Petherick, Laurie Hocking, Andrew Nelson 20-25; Rob Balman (sk), Trevor Bruce, Lance Hotchin, Denise Hocking 15-28; Trevor Reid (sk), Dave Willment, Peter March, Bruce Philbey 15-34. RW

Ardrossan Saturday: Division I was comprehensively beaten by Wallaroo White 76-135. After giving up a substantial start, best rink B Hicks, P Ward, P McCarthy and L Rich (sk) bolted home with nine winning ends to threaten 20-25. Finding itself down 4-19, M Shaw’s team then outscored its opponent to come home 26-36. D Adcock’s rink was competitive early but then suffered numerous scores against to lose 18-37. J Simmons’s team gave up many multiple scores for a 4-32 blowout, but in the run home won most of the ends to finish 12-37. Div III Blue went down to Moonta Red 43-65. Best rink C Werner, E Tomasini, T Burman and C Voysey (sk) chased down its opponent to briefly take the lead during its 17-21 defeat. G Moulds’s team won a sprinkling of ends during the contest but fell short 12-20. G Cook’s rink threatened midgame before losing several ends to go down 14-24. In a close match, div III White defeated Moonta White 55-53. Best rink L Tomasini, N Atkins, B Hosking and D Anderson (sk) dominated early but then needed to defend its lead to finish 19-13. D Barton’s team also scored freely early, needing to hold for a 22-18 win. N Marsh’s rink was embroiled in a close battle before its opponent slipped ahead to cause a 14-22 loss. Div II had a bye. LBB

Ardrossan Thursday: Ardrossan Gold trekked to Wallaroo only to be soundly defeated 93-38. Belinda Meredith’s team of Kath Lea, Mark Quinn and Heather Cowen was the best, coming within one shot after the 15th end but unfortunately then dropped shots on four of the last five ends to finish 14-22. Playing the top side in div I Green, Moonta Red was always going to be difficult. In blowy weather at Ardrossan, Moonta demonstrated their highly tuned skills. The only shining light for the day was Penny McCarthy’s team who managed a win 18-16. It was shot for shot for the latter half of the game, with Penny being supported by her teammates Meg Brown, Maxine Stennett and Jenny Adcock. The other three teams fell away to give Moonta Red the win 101-57. There was little to celebrate in the club for both the Golds and Greens last week. Let’s hope the bye this week for the Golds and a home game for the Greens enable a re-set and things will improve for the remainder of the season! CS

Ardrossan Wednesday: Ardrossan Blue defeated Port Vincent Gold 45-31. Best rink K

Holman, M Shaw and P Ward (sk) was rarely challenged during its convincing win 28-7. B Hicks’s team was even after 10 ends but fell away to fall short 17-24. Ardrossan White lost to Warooka 27-47. Best rink T Spiteri, N Marsh and L Burman (sk) slipped to the lead near the end only to drop a damaging four shots to finish 14-18 down. F Stern’s team chased its opponent to within a shot before capitulating a string of large scores to lose 13-29. Ardrossan lost to Yorketown Blue 25-46. Best rink N Atkins, C Robinson and J Burgess (sk) fought a close seesawing game, falling short 14-16. G Covino’s team went missing in the first half, but then stormed home to win most of the final ends for an 11-30 loss. LBB

Kadina/Mines Thursday: The Green side hosted Wallaroo, winning by 13 shots and scoring 14 points. The weather wasn’t windy so it was very pleasant for bowling. Best: Wendy Venning, Chris Pearce, Kaye Cross, Cynthia Pearce 20-11. Others: Anne Rule, Kay Greer, Dawn Bruce, Jan Harvey 25-20; Coralie Fiskén, Robyn Spurling, Barb Spurling, Barb Cooper 21-16; Jan Spry 17-23. The Gold side lost to Alford away with one winning team and a draw. Best: Helen May, Sue Kennett, Gen Cave, Wendy Walker 22-19. Others: Carol Howe 17-17, Jo May 13-23, Irene Davis 7-31. Welcome to new member Bronwyn Elefsen and good to see Cynthia Pearce and Tammie Read back on the green. NS

Kadina Saturday: On another up and down Saturday, first division hosted Bute and managed an 18-shot victory. Phil Miller with team Paul Thomas, Mark Venning and Roger Francis were the best, 11 up. Div II hosted Alford and mirrored the above match margin, 18 shots ahead too! Trevor Koch and team Jan Spry, Trevor Wallis and Alan Hutchison were the club’s team of the day with a 19-shot win. Not quite so good was third division, down at Wallaroo by six. Don Hendry and team Max Weylandt, Kevin Routley and Anne Rule did well to be up by five at the close. Internal tournament draws are on the board, let’s get those games played. Also keep in mind the Australia Day mixed pairs event next month. “Second Wood”

Maitland Thursday: Well at last the Maitland women scored a well-deserved win against Moonta Blue at Maitland, final scores Maitland 85 to Moonta Blue 66, on December 2. Maitland’s big winner by 12 shots was Judy Davies’ team of Marilyn James, Gill Jarrett and Marie Burrows. Other winners: Judy Prosser’s rink of Judith Kelly, Pat Nixon and Marg Wuttke by five shots, and Rae Cameron’s rink of Coleen Tucker, Marilyn Stock and Barbie Brown by four. Looking forward to going to Ardrossan this week. Julie

Moonta Thursday: For its last match of the first round, Moonta Red travelled to Ardrossan and won 101-57: Sharon Cavanagh 16-18, Marg Chandler 24-11, Claire Eichenberger 26-16, Joyce Andrew’s team with a score of 35-12 was best team for the Reds. Moonta Blue played at home against Maitland and went down 66-85. Sheryl Rost 18-30, Maxine Reynolds 24-21, Ann Waters 11-16, Judy Gibb 13-18. Best team for the Blues was Maxine Reynolds, Pauline Cross, Jenny Emmerton, Jen Wehleit. Moonta White played at home against Paskeville and went down 67-78. Maureen Johnson 15-29, Julie Downs 13-14, Rosemary Smith 20-18, Beryl Williams 19-17. Beryl Williams and Rosemary Smith’s teams, both with two-shot wins, shared the honour of best team for the Whites. Best team of the week and winner of Cafe Capella’s voucher was Joyce Andrew, Helen Moulds, Kay Johns, Di Eylward. “Woyda”

Moonta Saturday: Round 8 had good results for the club with five wins and one narrow loss on December 4. Division I was at home to Wallaroo Blue and had a big win 129-60 with all rinks up. Best: Steve Jolly, Bob Cavanagh, Lindsay Stam, Michael Collins 27 up. Div II consolidated top spot by defeating Wallaroo Blue 121-74, all rinks up. Best: Kevin Coates, Helen Moulds, Phil Johnson, John Amos 27 up. Div II Blue played at Bute winning 107-80, three rinks up. Best: Leigh Smart, Gary Martin, James Skinner, John Richards 15 up. Div III Red won 65-43 against Ardrossan Blue with all rinks up. Best: Steven Kerrigan, Jack Gallagher, John Neville, Jose Mena 10 up. Div III White struggled to get enough players but just went down to Ardrossan White 53-55. The only winning rink was Ray Walker, Gordon Woods, Jenny Dunstan, Pam Parmiter eight up. “Signing off for last week”

Paskeville: The Thursday side travelled to Moonta last week and had a win 78-67. Julie Philbey, Lyn Bensen, Pam McInerney and Steph Rundle again had a very good win 29-15. Denise Hill’s team won by one shot. Saturday division I travelled to Maitland and had two teams up and a draw to win 87-65. Garry Willson, Greg Clogg, Jason Bussenschutt and Bill Beech won 29-15; Ric Schild’s team won 21-10 and the drawn team was Jeff Miller’s 22-22. The news wasn’t as good for second division. Dion Pomery, Joan Hill, Robert Venning and Bryan Newton drew 22-22. A few of our farmers could be back this week. “One-eyed Maggie”

Wallaroo Mines Saturday: Playing Paskeville division II on its green in pleasant conditions had two rinks well up. T Webb, B Simpson, T McConnell, R Appleton 26-13; R Moad, T Stevens, D Appleton, G Hewitson 29-18; E Beare, A Phillips, I Sobey, D Stock 30-25; P Heinis, B Greer, K Greer, A Whiley fought hard to draw 22-22. Overall 107 (15) to 78 (1). Good effort playing away from home, well done everyone. DS

Wallaroo Wednesday: Both sides recorded wins, well done. White played Moonta Red 51-43. D Carter, B Griffiths, C Oborn, K Robinson 15-21; R Kent, M Johns, M Wildash 19-10; B Smith, P Spiers 17-12. Blue played Maitland 55-53. N Hards, F Schenck 24-18, J Brennan, R Jolly, A Weber 14-21; G Walling, S Yandell, P Rankin, W Wade 17-14. PB

Wallaroo Thursday: Well done Wallaroo Gold, with all teams up against Ardrossan, at Wallaroo. Top team was J Symons, T Young, M Kenchington and V Frost. Wallaroo Green played Kadina/Mines at Wallaroo Mines and went down by 13 shots, 70-83. Top team was L Jolly, M Brandt, M Spiers and M Walling. DP

Wallaroo Saturday: Division I White recorded a win against Ardrossan 135-76. M Hayes, S Paterson, R Brandt, M Wildash 37-12; D Milner, B Griffiths, G Summerton, C Oborn 25-20; R Kent, F Schenck, M Johns, K Robinson 36-26; D Carter, K Cock, B Smith; P Spiers 37-18. Blue travelled to Moonta and

Record lentil delivery on YP

YORKE Peninsula growers have delivered record numbers of lentils to Viterra this season.

More than $16 million worth or about 16,400 tonnes were delivered to Ardrossan on Wednesday, November 17.

The delivery was the most in a day in the history of Viterra and the state.

It comes as the first export shipment of new season grain crop for international markets left Outer Harbor earlier this month.

The 66,000 tonne cargo of South Australian barley kicks off a schedule of 4.5 million tonnes of forward shipping bookings for 13 exporters in the Viterra system.

It was closely followed by another 67,000 tonnes of barley loaded at Viterra's Port Lincoln terminal last week.

Viterra chief operations officer James Murray said there are 40 buyers in the Viterra network ready to purchase new season grain from growers to supply to domestic and international markets.

"This is a great outcome for local growers delivering to Viterra," he said.

"It reflects the strong demand for South Australian and western Victorian grain delivered to the Viterra network and represents greater options for growers when they choose to sell their grain."

Mr Murray said the records were a testament to growers and employees.

RECORDS... New season grain is loaded at Viterra's Outer Harbor port terminal, while records are being broken across the state.

"It is an outstanding milestone achieved by growers and is great news for them with grain being a key commodity in our state's economy," he said.

"We're pleased to support growers by helping get their grain into storage as quickly as possible, and then connecting them with local and international markets.

"It's also a huge credit to our employees who are a critical part of our business.

"It demonstrates their hard work and preparation to make sure our sites are running efficiently, in addition to our new digital delivery advice we've introduced to speed up the delivery process."

Across Viterra's sites, growers have already been delivering barley, wheat, lentils and peas, with canola and faba beans starting to come through.

"We work with growers year around and we will continue to do that during harvest with a continued focus of providing a valuable service during one of their busiest times of year," Mr Murray said.

Fox bounty hits target

ALMOST 2500 fox scalps have been collected from South Australian farmers in the wake of the Marshall Liberal Government's bounty.

The government announced a $10 payment would be given for each fox destroyed to help cull the pest and further support drought affected farmers.

Minister for Primary Industries and Regional Development David Basham said the first round of scalp collections across nine regional centres netted almost 2500 scalps.

"Foxes prey on newborn lambs, calves, kid goats and poultry and every pest fox which we can remove is a preventative measure for our farmers," he said.

"In total there were 2429 scalps brought in from a total of 33 claimants for the first round and we expect the numbers to grow when officers hold more collections across our regions.

"The feedback in most areas was many people are collecting scalps and we expect to see a strong return across the state at the next round of collection days.

"The Marshall Liberal Government recognises the importance of biosecurity, including feral pest control, and that's why we are running multi-faceted programs to bring down populations of foxes."

Upcoming collection days are planned for field days in Lucindale and Karoonda in March and April.

Livestock producers who have a Property Identification Code are eligible to claim the bounty for each scalp taken to a collection point.

A minimum of 10 scalps and a maximum of 100 scalps per property can be claimed per collection day.

Each property may claim up to a maximum of 300 scalps per year.

Farmers may enter into their own arrangements with professional and recreational shooters, but the person who claims the bounty at the collection day must be the holder of a PIC.

The fox bounty, which is running in addition to baiting programs to combat the feral pest, will be available for two years, or until the funding runs out.

Agriculture Sales Merchandise & Administration

J & D Southwood is a proud provider of quality agri-products, equipment and services to the rural community on Yorke Peninsula. Our family-owned business blends our history with progressive farming practices to create a service which has been known and trusted by farmers in the region for more than 65 years.

The Opportunity

We have an opportunity for a self-motivated, energetic and customer-focused individual, with a solid understanding of the broadacre cropping and rural industry to join our well-established team in Maitland, SA. The full-time position encompasses a broad variety of tasks within customer service, administration and stock management including:

- Providing a friendly and professional customer experience in store and on the phone through efficient response to customer enquiries relating to product pricing and availability, accurate sale and preparation of orders for delivery, effective store merchandise display and presentation of premises
- Timely management of invoicing, stock control and sales order administration tasks through the effective use and maintenance of established systems

About You

We're looking for someone who is excited by the challenge of this multi-faceted role. You'll be well organised and demonstrate an ability to effectively prioritise work tasks, despite the seasonal fluctuations that affect our work. Our ideal team member will have a genuine desire to learn and do the right thing and will also:

- Have a positive attitude and believe anything is possible
- Have well-developed computer skills, with an ability to independently problem-solve
- Be an excellent communicator with a diverse range of people, understanding the importance of relationships to our business
- Hold an unrestricted driver's licence (essential) and forklift licence (preferred)

To Apply

DEFENCE PROOF & EXPERIMENTAL ESTABLISHMENT PORT WAKEFIELD: LIVE FIRING RANGE WARNING NOTICE

Test and evaluation activities involving static firings and/or firings of naval and artillery weapons are conducted at the Proof and Experimental Establishment Port Wakefield throughout the year. The Proof and Experimental Establishment Port Wakefield is a vital Defence test and evaluation capability that has supported Defence since 1929.

These firings may require specific tidal or weather conditions, and are critical for the safety of current and new Defence capabilities. Members of the public may notice noise, vibration, flashes and/or smoke during the testing. There is no risk to the public outside of the gazetted Defence Practice Areas.

For reasons of public safety, there is a permanent exclusion zone covering land, sea and air around the Port Wakefield Establishment. Specific details on the Port Wakefield Prohibited Area can be obtained from Commonwealth of Australia Gazette No GN 26, 4 July 1990, and is shown on the diagram below. Trespassing in this Area is strictly prohibited and very dangerous due to the presence of unexploded bombs. Any person found within the Prohibited Area or on Defence land will be subject to prosecution.

Specific test and evaluation activities may also require restricting public access to the Port Wakefield Defence Practice Areas over specific periods with these areas articulated in the Commonwealth of Australia Gazette No. GN 40, 7 October 1992, and also identified on the diagram below. This may affect access to the Gulf of St Vincent at Port Wakefield and Port Parham.

If any member of the public has inquiries in relation to these activities, please contact Proof & Experimental Establishment Port Wakefield - Range Control on (08) 8867 0270 between 8.00am and 4.30pm weekdays or the Proof & Experimental Establishment Port Wakefield - Security Office on (08) 8867 0299 outside these hours.

Public Notice

Removal of tree at Port Broughton

Council wishes to advise that one Norfolk Island Pine tree is scheduled to be removed from the Port Broughton Foreshore on Thursday, 9th December, 2021.

Council sought the advice of Aboriculture Professionals to assist with the determination of the health of the tree.

The tree is being removed due to its poor overall condition, a lack of remedial options available and safety concerns for the users of the park.

The tree is located next to the foreshore toilets.

We thank you for your cooperation and understanding during these works.

Starscopes

♈ ARIES—March 21-April 20

You can realize a key career or academic goal, so long as you resist impulsive moves. Your popularity soars through the entire week and your workload includes variety and challenges.

♉ TAURUS—April 21-May 22

As your workload decreases, restlessness increases. This is a great week for dealing with educators and tackling bureaucratic obstacles. Avoid being a matchmaker. Old contacts get in touch.

♊ GEMINI—May 23-June 21

A professional acquaintance could become personally closer. The weekend favours a home improvement scheme. This could prove convenient because pleasant company may drop in. Think twice before taking on big projects.

♋ CANCER—June 22-July 22

The week finds you restless, but if you manage to concentrate you can make a financial coup. You are in a mood to get away, but the companion of your dreams may not be available right now.

♌ LEO—July 23-August 22

An older person takes you into his/her confidence and a youngster adopts you as a role model. The week has an exotic touch. You might meet a charming person from a faraway corner of the world.

♍ VIRGO—August 23-September 22

This is a nostalgic week that finds you involved in activities you enjoyed as a child. You are ready to enlarge your friendship circle and some good opportunities could come your way during the weekend.

♎ LIBRA—September 23-October 22

Charming distractions make of a less than productive week, but your morale soars with the news of advancement. If travelling, you could meet a kindred spirit along the way.

♏ SCORPIO—October 23-November 21

You may have to speak up for your rights. Someone could be trying to get the better of you - merely because you are shy. Body language says a lot and you are probably right-on as you interpret messages.

♐ SAGITTARIUS—November 22-December 22

Recreation and good shopping are features of the week. A friend may seem aloof, but there is a good explanation. A new tactic could bring better results at the workplace. A distant relative may suddenly becomes quite close.

♑ CAPRICORN—December 23-January 20

This is the week for culture. Enjoy jaunts to galleries or concert halls and enjoy them in the company of those you love most. If planning a career change, update your resume and send in an application.

♒ AQUARIUS—January 21-February 19

The week includes delaying factors. Beginnings and conclusions are both postponed. Family proves surprisingly generous but strings could well be attached. Be especially attentive to your health on the weekend.

♓ PISCES—February 20-March 20

Older relatives are outstanding advisors and children prove good friends. Don't postpone household repairs. Promotion is accented, thanks to behind-the-scenes work of a secret admirer.

BIRTHDAY THIS WEEK

Your famous persistence pays off, notably in your career and finance. Try to overcome shyness by being less subtle in your demands. Intuitive gifts prove more remarkable than ever in the coming months. Diplomacy becomes more important than ever.

Time to get back with the Beatles

THERE'S no musical group quite like The Beatles, and in the last week I've learned there's no album of theirs quite like Let It Be.

For this, I have the new three episode docu-series directed by Peter Jackson, The Beatles: Get Back to thank.

Get Back, currently streaming on Disney+, provides viewers with complete inside access to the workings of Paul McCartney, John Lennon, George Harrison and Ringo Starr - as well as drop-in keyboard player Billy Preston - the likes of which we've never seen before.

It chronicles the month-long journey the group went through in January 1969 to plan and record their next album live.

Unsurprisingly, a month of intense song writing and album planning throws up emotional, creative, and energy-busting challenges for Liverpool's fab four.

But how dare we be surprised they'd pull through under pressure.

We get to watch the spellbinding process of how songs like Let It Be and I've Got a Feeling germinate from a mere thought in McCartney's mind to the masterpieces we hear today.

By the end we get an understanding of the enormity of their last ever live performance, of nine tracks on top the Apple Corps building in London, which brought people at work and on the roads four storeys below to a standstill.

On the surface and at its core, it can be likened to a home video of four best mates having fun but it's so much more.

FAB FOUR... The new Beatles docu-series Get Back chronicles the group - Paul McCartney, John Lennon, George Harrison and Ringo Starr - and their trials and tribulations in planning and recording their next live album.

It's the perfect depiction of why people originally get into music.

The process, the emotions and the sounds are all so raw.

But with Lennon and Harrison gone forever and McCartney and Starr both just either side of 80, an immersive eight hours will be as close as we get. It does feel transient.

And now, with a Disney+ account valid for the rest of the month, it feels as though I should find something else to watch to get my money's worth.

But I think in actual fact, my pockets are already full.

This day in history

December 7, 1941: The Imperial Japanese Navy Service made a surprise attack against the United States at their naval base at Pearl Harbor, killing 2403 service people and civilians, effectively bringing the Japanese into World War II.

December 7, 2017: The Parliament of Australia votes to make same-sex marriage legal in Australia. The law came into effect two days later on December 9.

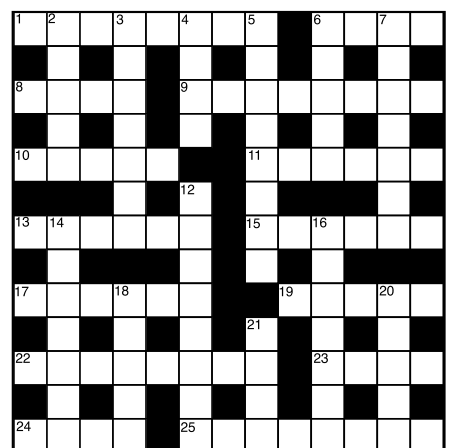

December 7, 2020: The International Olympic Committee votes unanimously to make competitive breakdancing an event at the 2024 Olympics in Paris.

What's been Trending

COVID positive: South Australia opened its borders to the rest of Australia on Tuesday, November 23 and since then the number of COVID-19 cases has gradually increased. Most notably, former Premier Jay Weatherill contracted the virus after attending Henley High School's 40-year reunion. Unaware of his status, two days later he met with leader of the opposition Peter Malinauskas for lunch, Mr Malinauskas has since returned a negative test.

Environment spray: Environment Minister David Speirs made headlines last week when he claimed the problem with his own portfolio was "the crazy leftie activists, they do wear you down after a while" and "there's only so many times you can deal with the Greta Thunbergs of South Australia". Mr Speirs has since stood by his comments.

HOT FISHING TIPS

with Greg James www.gregjamesfishing.com.au

Welcome to the column with all the hot tips for fishing around Yorke Peninsula; contact Greg by email at greg@gregjamesfishing.com.au.

Wallaroo: Anglers made the most of a reasonably calm day to fish for blue swimmer crabs, garfish, King George whiting and squid on Friday. Scattered small tinnies generally fished south of the jetty and regularly shifted their spot to avoid puffers and trumpeters.

Port Hughes: Garfish have been the go-to fish for crews fishing from Cape Elizabeth out to the grounds just west of Tipara Reef. Jetty fishing has a few blueys and squid being caught. Yellowfin whiting again have been targeted at several local beaches on the incoming tides.

Port Victoria/Balgowan: KG whiting were targeted when crews managed to launch last week with fish up to 37cm caught from Wardang Island, Polly's Reef and the Songvaar wreck grounds. Balgowan anglers also did well on whiting and squid.

Point Turton: Garfish and squid were the main catches from here, Port Rickaby and The Pines, as anglers sought shelter from the south-easterlies for much of the weekend and early week. The jetty has a few tommy ruff (Australian herring) and squid.

Marion Bay/Stenhouse Bay: Big squid again were landed at Marion Bay jetty in recent days, as fishers also targeted tommies and flathead. Boat crews are fishing for KG whiting, snook, red nannygai and squid.

Edithburgh/Stansbury: Blueys have been a welcome addition to the catch-bags at Stansbury jetty and the Port Vincent wharf. Yellowfin whiting are off The Hut and Sultana Passage with fresh bloodworms being good bait. Boat crews are reporting a few whiting, garfish and squid.

Black Point/Ardrossan: Shore-based anglers were sighted all up along the coast when I checked over the weekend as south-easterly winds made boat launching a challenge. Squid and yellowfin whiting are also being caught from local beaches, rocky headlands and jetties. Rakers are targeting blueys from Pine Point, James Well and Tiddy Widdy Beach.

Tight lines and see you next week!

Talbot picked for World Cup

Fin Hansen
REPORT BY

Kadina's Stephanie Talbot is set to suit up in the FIBA Women's Basketball World Cup on home soil next year.

Talbot was selected as part of the 24-player Australian Opals squad which will travel to Belgrade, Serbia, for the Qualifying Tournaments stage, beginning February 10.

The Opals will face Brazil, Serbia and Korea across the four-day qualifying stage.

Australia has automatic qualification for the group phase of the tournament as host nation, with matches to be played in Sydney from September 22.

Talbot will be aiming to go one better than her debut world cup in Spain, 2018, when she walked away with a silver medal.

She will play alongside fellow South Australians Tess Madgen and Cayla George.

However, the squad announcement did not include WNBA superstar Liz Cambage, who has again decided to opt out of national commitments after also pulling out of the Tokyo 2020 Olympics.

Opals coach Sandy Brondello said she was looking forward to getting the squad together.

"I was particularly excited by some of the performances from the younger players in the Asia Cup post the Olympics," she said.

"There will be opportunities for those who work hard and make the most of their opportunities throughout the upcoming WNBL competition.

"Our goal over the next 300 days is to continue to grow, develop and be better as individuals and as group so we can (get back on the podium)."

Australia currently sits third in the FIBA World Rankings, below the USA and Spain.
