Bay Road finished

Fin Hansen
REPORT BY

A NEW-LOOK Bay Road, Moonta Bay, has reopened to the public.

Asphalt sealing marked one of the final stages of Copper Coast Council's major infrastructure upgrade, which included road widening, new central turning lanes, additional kerbing and median strips, as well as stormwater rectification.

The roadworks were completed at a cost of almost $6 million, which was helped by $2.19m from the state government and some federal funding.

Director infrastructure services Tim Neumann said the closing stages included side road tie-ins, median islands, as well as concrete and loam infills.

"The continuing SA Water upgrade (along Milne Terrace) postponed the completion of (the section near) Kitto Road and a section of the shared path,"

Mr Neumann said.

"Reinstatement works and sealing of the section were completed after we were forced to complete a third asphalt mobilisation, which we didn't plan for due to the SA Water works.

"Final works behind the kerb and up to property boundaries are complete, including stormwater drainage, crusher fines placement and shared path installation.

"Final touches were additional works to Hughes Avenue, the Kitto Road tie-in, line marking, signage and landscaping the loamed-filled median islands."

Local kindness

RECENTLY, my nephew and niece from Devon, UK, came to Minlaton.

They fell in love with the town, in particular meeting with locals.

Shops were attractive, staff helpful and friendly.

They met and mingled with some members of the local U3A, and had a couple of get-togethers with friends at local pubs.

They wrote to say "Everyone was amazingly easy to get on with, and we felt as though we were among friends we'd known for years, and staying in Minlaton was the highlight of our Australian holiday" (I might add the holiday included stays in Sydney, Melbourne and Tasmania).

So, a big thank you to all those who met Ant and Mrs Ant. And I'm pleased to say yet again, hooray for Minlaton.

Jetty questions

WE read the article Planning for an upgraded Wallaroo foreshore (YPCT 20-12-22) with frustration and disappointment as the Copper Coast Council engages yet another designer, Hatch Design, to prepare a plan for the swimming enclosure.

JPE Design Studio had already been engaged by council to have public consultation and to generate a concept, including the jetty pool enclosure, and other stages, through to the Office Beach.

Engaging another will be another expense, money council apparently does not have.

Our group, Wallaroo Swimming and Aquatics, has been working with the mayor and CEO for the resurrection of the Wallaroo swimming jetty for more than two years now.

In March 2021, councillors passed unanimously that Wallaroo Swimming Enclosure proceed with a Prudential Review undertaken.

This information was forwarded to Adam Bolton, Maritime Constructions, for their thoughts.

Adam suggested council contact WGA Engineers to discuss a potential design.

Members of our group, together with council CEO Russell Peate, had a video conference with David McKay from WGA Engineers on December 17, 2021.

Following this, Mr Peate was to meet with David, who would come up to Wallaroo to assess the area prior to drawing up the plans.

It was thought that we would have the jetty shovel ready when the funds became available.

Worst roads

IMAGINE you are travelling along a country road, and you're jolted as your car tyre lurches in and out of a deep pothole.

It's unfortunately an all too familiar experience for many across regional South Australia.

Now imagine you are in a truck loaded with grain and your tyre dips in and out of that same pothole.

Not only does that hole get bigger, but the safety of the truck driver (and others on the road), as well as his load of grain is potentially at risk.

For far too long, the South Australian grain industry, which is expected to contribute almost $4.5 billion to the state's economy from the 2022-23 harvest, has been forgotten when it comes to road maintenance, repair and upgrade.

For this reason, Grain Producers SA held the Worst Grain Road campaign to find the route in the poorest condition in the state.

Almost 60 different roads across the state were nominated; however, it was the Upper Yorke Road on Yorke Peninsula, Nine Mile Road in the Murraylands and Worlds End Highway in the Mid North which were voted the top three Worst Grain Roads.

Comments from grain producers and truck drivers to go with the submissions should have decision makers immediately concerned and, in fact, I'd be worried if they weren't already concerned.

As one grain producer put it when commenting on the Upper Yorke Road, "It's a prime agricultural area which is producing millions of dollars in grain and sheep, yet we've got a third-class road to travel on".

During the campaign we heard some heavy vehicle drivers are having to veer onto the opposite side of the road to avoid bumps, potholes and undulating surfaces.

These roads are key freight routes for South Australian grain producers which transport significant volumes of produce, ultimately providing a return to the state's economy.

The lack of investment into our federal, state and local government run roads, results in grain producers losing productivity, as well as putting themselves and the safety of other road users at risk due to the poor conditions of these roads.

The total road maintenance backlog in South Australia was estimated to be at almost $800 million in 2020 and growing by $100m every year.

It's high time that improvements are made, so GPSA is calling on immediate investment into the top 10 Worst Grain Roads in South Australia.

Brad Perry,
CEO, Grain Producers SA

OUR VIEW

Bay Road completed

THE Bay Road, Moonta Bay, redevelopment is now complete — minus a few final touches and additional works on Hughes Avenue and Kitto Road.

It's been quite some time since the idea of upgrading the tourist thoroughfare was floated, with Copper Coast Council allocating money to the project across a number of years.

This was boosted by state and federal funding for various components, helping the almost $6 million project to finally go ahead.

Unfortunately, it's not been smooth sailing.

Despite several rounds of consultation, people remain unhappy with the design of the road.

Three initial ideas were put out for comment, with the community at the time highlighting needs for bike lanes, walking paths, upgraded gutters and underground powerlines.

Councillors endorsed plans in 2019 with works, including the trial and ultimate closure of Frances Terrace beginning in 2020.

While council would be happy to have delivered on such a big project, the timeline for works did blowout.

In some instances, this couldn't have been helped as works were dependent on other organisations.

I know some people still have concerns about the road, particularly about the median strips and width of the lanes.

This was always going to happen.

I realise some people no longer can simply access their driveways from the road and that will be an inconvenience.

While it's not a matter of aesthetics over usability, it is nice to now have a safe drive down to one of the Copper Coast's finest spots.

PBS medicines now cheaper for many

Michelle Daw
JOURNALIST

FOR the first time in 75 years, the co-payment for Pharmaceutical Benefits Scheme listed medicines has dropped.

The federal government announced its decision to lower the maximum co-payment of medicines by $12.50 to $30 per prescription from January 1.

This means the maximum non-concessional patients, known as general patients, will co-pay for medicines listed on the PBS fell from $42.50 to $30.

The drop applies to all Australian residents who hold a current Medicare card, but who are not entitled to any concessions, including a Health Care Card.

“The biggest group of people who will benefit from this change will be non-concessional patients who need to take regular medicines on an ongoing basis...”

– Tim Gross, Newbery Chemists managing director

Visitors from countries with which Australia has a Reciprocal Health Care Agreement can also access the PBS.

Newbery Chemist managing director and member of the Pharmacy Guild of Australia Tim Gross welcomed the change.

“It’s fantastic news, especially when the cost of living has gone through the roof,” Mr Gross said.

“Any change the federal government can bring about to make medicines more affordable is a positive move.

“The biggest group of people who will benefit from this change will be non-concessional patients who need to take regular medicines on an ongoing basis, such as those to treat diabetes, cholesterol and high blood pressure.

“Once you start on those medicines, you have to keep going.”

A national survey commissioned by the Pharmacy Guild in 2022 revealed the affordability of health care was the biggest hip pocket concern among polled voters.

The co-payment reduction was an election promise by the Labor government.

Pharmacy Guild of Australia national president Professor Trent Twomey said it would be a big help to some 19 million patients, especially those struggling to afford their medicines.

“In 2019-20 we learnt 900,000 Australian patients did not get a script filled because they could not afford it,” Professor Twomey said.

“As health professionals, this disturbed us immensely and led to our Affordable Medicines Now campaign which pressured both parties to commit to lowering the cost of PBS medicines in the lead up to the last election.

“It’s a credit to our politicians they listened to those concerns and gave a bi-partisan commitment to lower the maximum co-payment for PBS-listed medicines after the election.”

Professor Twomey said the guild would push to further lower the non-concessional payment to to $19.

The current concessional co-payment amount of $6.80 increased to $7.30, in line with annual CPI increase.

Concessional patients are already receiving benefits from reductions to the PBS Safety Net thresholds on July 1, 2022.

General and concessional co-payments will continue to be adjusted on January 1 each year in line with the CPI.

Bute silo art nominated for street art awards

BUTE DISPLAY... Bute 2000 Onwards progress committee members Judith Sutton, David Rose, Brenda Dempsey and Sue Wehr are optimistic about the chances of the town's silo mural becoming a finalist at the Australian Street Art Awards.

Jarryd Rowley
JOURNALIST

BUTE'S silo art is a nominee in the Best Mega Mural and Best Rural Artwork categories of the 2022 Australian Street Art Awards. The artwork by Blue Mountains artists Scott Nagy and Janne Birkner (also known as Krimstone) took three weeks to complete in April.

Members of the Bute 2000 Onwards committee worked with Barunga West Council and urban art curator Juddy Roller for many years to bring the Bute "Beaut" Silo Art Project to fruition. Committee member David Rose said the mural had sparked the interest of tourists. "People have come from everywhere to check out the silo," Mr Rose said.

"It was quite a brilliant project and everyone who was involved in getting it done is quite proud of the result. "We have heard a bit of feedback and there hasn't been a bad word yet, there have been a lot of positives. "The two artists we worked with were brilliant. "I believe this was their first artwork of this size but they were complete professionals.

"There are quite a lot of identifiable elements which are quite recognisable to Bute. "One of the more prominent parts of the artwork is the Bute rooster, which is a reference to all of our sporting clubs. "You can also see the railway track, which provides a bit of history about Bute, in the back you can also see the Barunga Range that surrounds Bute."

The silo art also features flora and fauna from the region such as the rainbow bee eaters and blue wren. Illuminar's Constellation Stories on The Light Trail silo light art show, which was held at multiple locations including Wallaroo, was nominated for Best Street Art Festival or Event. Australian Street Art Awards finalists will be announced in mid-January.

Premier, cabinet coming to town

Patrick Goldsmith
REPORT BY

PREMIER Peter Malinauskas, state government ministers and senior department executives will visit Yorke Peninsula for Country Cabinet in February.

While the itinerary is still to be finalised, the Premier and ministers will tour parts of the region and host a town hall meeting on Wednesday, February 15, before travelling across the peninsula on Thursday, February 16.

Initially established by Labor following the 2014 election, but scrapped by the previous Liberal government in 2018, Country Cabinet meetings provide a chance for the government to hear from the regions.

Yorke Peninsula is just the third region to host the event since Labor's election victory last year.

"Country Cabinet is an excellent opportunity for our ministers and departments to hear from local communities across our great state about what is important to them," Mr Malinauskas said.

"The Yorke Peninsula is an important contributor to South Australia's economy, and I'm looking forward to coming back for another visit.

"Hearing directly from those who live, work and play in the region is a vital part of ensuring our regions aren't just growing but thriving."

Member for Narungga Fraser Ellis said he was pleased to hear a Country Cabinet had been announced for Yorke Peninsula.

"It's often said the state government thinks the state ends at Gepps Cross," Mr Ellis said.

"I've been working to hold a local Country Cabinet for some time, so I'm thrilled to be hosting one in February.

"I look forward to sharing local issues in the time-frame provided and encourage people to get in touch with any local issues they they'd like to be addressed."

Members of the public are invited to attend the town hall meeting once details are finalised.

More information will be available soon at www.countrycabinet.sa.gov.au.

One of the swimmers had ingested a large quantity of saltwater and was taken to the Wallaroo Hospital for further treatment.

Drink driver caught in Kadina

A woman was caught drink driving in Kadina on Monday, January 2.

Copper Coast police held a driver testing station on Copper Coast Highway and stopped the woman at 10.15am.

Police urge fire safety for farmers

YORKE Mid North police remind farmers to remain vigilant this fire danger season following six recent fires.

Between Friday and Sunday, December 16 and 18, six fires occurred within the Yorke Mid North area, all caused by farming equipment.

Although some resulted in only minimal damage, a police spokesperson said in each case the outcome could have been far worse.

"Harvesting during dangerous conditions or failing to maintain and service equipment can quickly start a bush-fire," they said.

"Help keep everyone safe by ensuring you have a shovel or rake and portable water spray at hand, ensuring all engine exhaust gases exit through the exhaust system to prevent the escape of burning material, preventing heated parts of the system from coming into contact with flammable material or vegetation and ensuring the system is in good working order."

"If a stationary motor is used to auger a crop, a minimum space of four metres around and above it must be cleared or a person who is able to control the engine must be present at all times it is in operation."

"It is strongly recommended you follow the Grain Harvesting Code of Practice."

They said deliberately, recklessly or negligently starting a bushfire is a serious offence and would result in criminal proceedings.

"I NEVER THOUGHT I'D BE HOMELESS."

Road ready for busy season

COPPER Coast Council mayor Roslyn Talbot said local residents and visitors finally had access to a flat surface.

“Moonta Bay is a premier tourist destination, so its entrance deserves a safe and appealing passageway,” Mrs Talbot said.

“The upgrade should mean no more flooding issues.

“I understand residents may have to change how they enter and exit their properties, but I think the safety benefits outweigh the inconvenience.

“Council thanks all Moonta residents for their patience during these works — I hope they can see it was all worthwhile despite the long delays.”

Member for Narungga Fraser Ellis said it was wonderful to see Bay Road reopen.

“I’m pleased council was able to capitalise on a significant state government investment,” Mr Ellis said.

“It’s tremendous to see the result of such a worthy product, which links a new product to the old road.

“Of course, it’s great to have it all done at a time we’re seeing more people visiting the region.”

FULLY OPEN... Copper Coast Council mayor Roslyn Talbot and director infrastructure services Tim Neumann are hopeful the long-awaited Bay Road upgrade, including central turning lanes and median strips, will improve the safety and overall appeal of Moonta Bay’s entrance.

Free welfare checks for South Aussies in need

SOUTH Australians at risk from extreme heat are being urged to register for a free welfare check through the Australian Red Cross Telecross REDi service.

On days of extreme heat, trained volunteers will call registered participants up to three times a day for a welfare check and, when needed, will call an ambulance for anyone experiencing heat-related health issues.

Those most at risk include people with disability, the elderly or frail, those who live alone or are unable to leave their homes, and people with a range of health concerns.

“I encourage those who live alone, and who experience circumstances that could create social isolation, to register for the free Telecross REDi service,” Minister for Human Services Nat Cook said.

“This is a fantastic — and potentially life-saving — service staffed by trained Red Cross volunteers, who provide a friendly welfare check as well as advice and tips on how to keep cool, stay hydrated and stay safe during periods of hot weather.”

Anyone who is isolated or at risk from extreme heat, or a representative on their behalf, can register for the free Telecross REDi service by phoning 1800 188 071 or emailing telecrossredi@redcross.org.au.

Convenient dump point for RV users

Fin Hansen
REPORT BY

MOONTA RV Park visitors can now dispose of their wastewater in a more convenient location.

The town's dump point has been relocated from McCauley Park to the RV park entrance on Clayton Road.

Copper Coast Residents and Ratepayers Association chairperson Neil Windsor said the relocation was timely ahead of the free park's busy period.

"We had a few complaints from people using McCauley Park as well as nearby neighbours, and it probably wasn't a great look for people going there to eat lunch," Mr Windsor said.

"We thank (Copper Coast) council for completing a new sewerage line off Blyth Terrace to help bring the dump point to a more convenient spot."

Mr Windsor said the RV park has shifted to the western side of Clayton Road since association began managing the space in May.

"Having the main park on this side (between Clayton Road and Crutchett Road) gives people more room to move and more protection and privacy from the trees along Blyth Terrace," he said.

"Hopefully this move and the dump point relocation will satisfy tourists this summer."

RELOCATION... Copper Coast Residents and Ratepayers Association chairperson Neil Windsor and committee member Dennis Nussio are optimistic about the Moonta RV Park's new dump point location , installed in time for the free park's busy period.

"Psst! Ask my missus if it's time to put the pasties in th'oven?"

Oswald Pryor asked this question and now Moonta Mines is put'n pasties in th'oven for you to enjoy.

We asked visitors to the Moonta Mines what they would like to see added to the attractions currently on offer and the major request was for food and drink to be available.

Now we are excited to be delivering the MOONTA MINES PASTY CART where you can enjoy great coffee, ice cream, cool drinks, Cornish pasties, toasted sandwiches and the traditional Cornish cream tea or saffron cake.

Our unique little cart is open daily during the school holidays (except public holidays) and is located near the Moonta Mines Museum and Moonta Tourist Train. Sit and relax whilst you wait for the train or in between your train ride and visit to the museum or Lolly Shop. You can also take away if you wish.

Why not take your photo next to this iconic little van with it's "crimp on top" as a memento of your visit to this heritage attraction of the Copper Coast?

Locals and visitors to our region are very welcome to visit our exciting new venture, opened on Friday, 30th December, 2022 - by Copper Coast mayor Roslyn Talbot.

Extended consultation launched for Edmund Street Gardens

Jarryd Rowley
JOURNALIST

FUTURE planning for the Edmund Street gardens, Port Broughton, is up for public discussion.

Barunga West Council is seeking comment through a community survey to determine the best use for the space.

The survey asks participants their preferences about on how the space should be used and potential names for the Edmund Street Gardens.

Potential works could include the construction of a nature play space and discovery park, health and wellbeing opportunities, a flexible event space or a public area which celebrates local identities.

Council CEO Maree Wauchope said the feedback would be used to develop a concept design.

“This will then form part of future consultation,” she said.

“Council understands the significance of both a potential upgrade as well as the naming of this valuable public space, and as such we have asked for the consultation to be more than the required 21 days.

“We will undertake wide ranging and extensive consultation from now until the end of March to give ample time for the community to make comment and respond.”

A report will be provided to council at the conclusion of the consultation. Consultation closes on Friday March 31.

Survey and design kits are available on council’s website and from council offices.

Patrick Goldsmith
REPORT BY

ATTENDEES at the Copper Coast New Year's Eve Celebrations were treated to an ideal welcome to 2023.

Activities began at 4pm with markets at John Terrace reserve, before amusements and food vans at Jetty Road/Chatfield Terrace opened.

Later, the fireworks proved popular as throngs lined nearby roads to get a glimpse, first at 9.30pm and then at midnight.

Copper Coast New Year's Eve Celebrations committee president Michael Byrne said the event was extremely successful.

"I think, because it was the first year back for the large-scale event, people were really keen to come out in numbers, particularly at the 9.30pm fireworks (after which) there was just a constant stream of people heading home," he said.

"I think what made it busier this year was a lot of tourists didn't have the option of travelling to the river, but were still keen to get away close to home, so it brought a lot more people here for celebrations."

Copper Coast Council mayor Roslyn Talbot said the event's success was in part due to the range of activities on offer.

"I went to Wallaroo and sampled the festivities there and once again it has shown what wonderful volunteers we have on the Copper Coast," Mrs Talbot said.

"I think after a few years of restrictions due to Covid we are all pleased to be able to revisit some of our past favourite activities.

"The New Year's Eve celebrations appeal to such a wide age group from small children witnessing it for the first time to some of us who have experienced it for many years.

"Thanks to the hardworking volunteers and the generosity of the sponsoring businesses, it is a free event for all to enjoy."

Stobie pole art lights up George Street

Jarryd Rowley
JOURNALIST

MEMBERS of the Moonta and District Progress Association public arts committee have brought stobie poles to life.

The 11 pieces display different Australian flora and fauna from around the Moonta region and have been placed on poles along George Street from Henry Street down to Bay Road.

Progress member and artist Julie Cheshire said the artworks have been planned for several months.

"We have had to wait for certain things to fall into place before we could put the idea into action," Ms Cheshire said.

"We had to wait for council approval before we could put them up, we also had to see where they were allowed to be placed as well.

"The public arts committee wanted to create a little attraction for people to come see when they visit Moonta.

"We really want them to stand out, most of them are quite bright.

"Their placement is purposely in a position so drivers heading down George Street towards Bay Road can clearly see them without needing to get out of their cars."

The pieces were created by seven artists from the committee, with plans in place to produce more in 2023.

"We would like to do the other side of the street in the near future," Ms Cheshire said.

"We received the boards the artworks were painted on from the Moonta Lions, they have been extremely helpful and supportive for this project.

"We have plans to turn the current artworks into bookmarks as well.

"These will help raise funds for the arts committee so we can do more projects like this in the future."

Picking up the shears for cancer research

Charlotte McEvoy
REPORT BY

LOCAL shearers Dylan Hancock and Shawn Barnett are raising money for cancer research by shearing for 24 hours straight on Friday, January 20.

The pair have nominated the McGrath Foundation and Prostate Cancer Foundation of Australia as its chosen charities.

Dylan and Shawn plan to shear alongside each other in two-hour intervals, taking breaks in between.

"It's obviously an issue that is very close to us," Dylan said.

"We thought it would be great to do something that would raise some money and some awareness for both of the diseases (breast and prostate cancers)."

The shearing will begin at noon at the Agnew's shearing shed on St Vincent Highway, Stansbury.

Dylan and Shawn are no strangers to shearing with Shawn competing in speed shearing competitions for about 11 years.

He has competed in the Wagga Wagga Quick Shear, where he claimed the championship title, and was also selected to compete in the Welsh International Speed Shear in June.

Dylan has also been shearing for some time and while he once recorded a personal best of shearing 400 sheep in one day, he believes this will be his greatest challenge to date.

It is hoped the day will be a community event, with donations and sponsors encouraged, while food, drink and merchandise will be on offer on the day.

"Obviously the more we can raise the better," Dylan's wife Laura said.

"We will do our best to get as much as possible."

For more information, visit the 24 Hour Shearing For Cancer's Facebook page.

First aid recognised as best aid

Patrick Goldsmith
REPORT BY

ST COLUMBA'S Memorial School, Yorketown, was recently honoured at the Resilient Australia Awards.

The Australian Institute for Disaster Resilience hosted its awards in Hobart during December, when St Columba's was recognised with a highly commended award in the school category for its SYP First Aid for Kids initiative, run in 2021.

The program, facilitated by Karyn Hindle from Head2Toe First Aid, delivered age-appropriate first aid, disaster resilience and wellbeing sessions for more than 350 primary school aged children and teachers.

More than 20 sessions were held during a week, with the program funded by Wellbeing SA's Strengthening Community Wellbeing after Bushfires Grant Program.

St Columba's chaplain Katie Hughes said it was surreal to be recognised at a national level.

"For little St Columba's Memorial School on southern Yorke Peninsula, with fewer than 100 students, to be recognised on a national level like this, was fantastic," she said.

"It was also really good to have conversations (at the awards event) with other organisations which have facilitated disaster response and wellbeing programs, to learn from each other."

Warooka Primary, Minlaton District, Yorketown Area and Stansbury Primary Schools were all involved in the delivery of the program.

Mrs Hughes said it was incredibly important children have an understanding of what to do in any given emergency.

"Karyn incorporated a specific focus on caring for our wellbeing after an emergency event at the end of each session," she said.

"This set the sessions apart from other first aid programs and was an important step to be able to start conversations about looking after ourselves after an emergency at a young age.

"Children are capable of so much, and to see them enjoy learning life-saving skills was a real highlight for Karyn and me."

HIGHLY COMMENDED... St Columba's Memorial School staff Gaylene Wilkey, Katie Hughes, Margaret Grainger and Miriam Honner after the school was highly commended for its First Aid for Kids initiative.

Artists named for new tank mural projects

RENOWNED artists Mike Makatron and Sam Brooks have been selected to paint murals on the Minlacowie and Wool Bay water tanks respectively.

The extension of the Yorke Peninsula Water Tank/Tower Mural Trail has been made possible after Yorke Peninsula Council received $130,000 in funding from the Australian Government through the Local Roads and Community Infrastructure Program.

Mr Makatron has painted all over the world and was previously the lead artist for the trail pieces at Edithburgh and Stansbury.

His artwork at Minlacowie will feature local scenery which relates to YPC's slogan of "agriculturally rich, naturally beautiful" with prominent nods to Narungga culture.

Mr Brooks' previous work includes the Eudunda silos among many other large-scale murals across the state.

His Wool Bay painting will include separate but connected murals on the SA Water site's shed and tank, tying the town and surrounding region's history to its present day.

Mr Brooks' work will incorporate Narungga history as well as references to the port, modern agriculture and nature.

The artists were chosen as a result of an expression of interest process, and their art will be based on extensive consultation with the Yorke Peninsula community, with concept designs now in the final stages of preparation.

"We are incredibly excited to have such accomplished artists committed to paint these tanks, which will add to our national award-winning SYP Water Tank/Tower Mural Trail," YPC mayor Darren Braund said.

"The preliminary designs look fantastic and will be improved upon further before painting commences in the first half of this year.

"We can't wait for everyone to see these new murals, which will improve an initiative which has already proven to be a significant drawcard for tourists and a source of community pride for locals."

The Local Roads and Community Infrastructure Program supports local councils to deliver priority local road and community infrastructure projects across Australia.

"This new line of untied funding has been enthusiastically welcomed by local councils and consequently we elected to keep the program going past the pandemic," Member for Grey Rowan Ramsey said.

"It has great merit in that local councils should be closest to their communities and know where best to invest"

Local artists' chance to step up

YORKE Peninsula Council is offering talented and enthusiastic local artists the opportunity to expand their skills.

Two successful applicants will be selected for the project and work with either Mike Makatron or Sam Brooks on the Minlacowie or Wool Bay water tanks for a week.

YPC will offer a stipend to the successful applicants to cover expenses such as travel and time away from regular employment.

"This is your chance to gain invaluable experience with a highly credentialed artist working on a large-scale public mural which will form part of the award-winning SYP Water Tower/Tank Mural Trail," YPC mayor Darren Braund said.

"You can learn and refine the skills needed to project manage and deliver on major public art, bolstering your résumé and portfolio.

"Mentees will increase their chances of being selected as the lead artist on projects such as murals in the future.

"They will also help produce a beloved piece of art which will encourage community pride and attract tourists, helping the local economy."

The expression of interest is open to all artists living on Yorke Peninsula and Narungga artists residing on Yorke Peninsula are strongly encouraged to apply.

Applications close Friday, January 27; to find out more and to apply, visit www.yorke.sa.gov.au/news/expression-of-interest-mentorship-water-tank-art-mural/.

Keep Guiding going in Kadina

Michelle Daw
JOURNALIST

KADINA Girl Guides are marching into 2023 with a call for more members and volunteers to strengthen the unit's future.

Unit leader Annie Hyland said all girls aged 8 to 15 years old in Kadina and surrounding areas were welcome to join to make friends, learn new skills, and contribute to their communities.

“The Girl Guides provide a safe, welcoming space for girls just to be themselves and to share their thoughts and ideas with each other.”

– Annie Hyland, unit leader

“We offer girls the chance to develop as leaders in their world — whatever their world looks like, whether it is in their family, the classroom, their community, or the workplace,” she said.

“The Girl Guides provide a safe, welcoming space for girls just to be themselves and to share their thoughts and ideas with each other.”

The guides meet once a week during school terms and choose their activities, which can range from exploring local parks and beaches, planting trees, fishing and camping to indoor games, cooking and crafts.

Members also get involved in community events, including the Kadina Christmas pageant and the Kernewek Lowender, as well as hold garage sales to raise funds for their unit and to help maintain their nearly 100-year-old hall in No. 6 Lane.

Ms Hyland said more members and volunteers would help to secure the future of Kadina Girl Guides.

“Twelve guides would be an ideal number because then we could have two or three small groups working together,” she said.

“It’s been really exciting to welcome a new parent, Akeishah Clark, as a volunteer leader-in-training and we would also love to find more adults to help as leaders and role models.

“The Girl Guides are all about helping other people and doing your best.”

Neigh reason not to follow your passion

Patrick Goldsmith
REPORT BY

FORMER Ardrossan resident Julia McMillan has spent her whole life alongside animals and has recently started an equine assisted therapy business, allowing her to work with horses every day.

While Heard in the Herd at Willunga combines her love for animals with more than 20 years working in mental health, it was in Ardrossan her passions were originally fostered.

Julia said she realised early on the impact animals can have on an individual.

“There were two very special dogs, Midge and Rusty, who, at various stages of my childhood, taught me patience, unconditional love and consistency are invaluable ingredients for a lasting relationship, for humans as well as animals,” she said.

“I begged my parents for a horse as soon as I could talk and finally, when I was 5 (and after endless beseeching), along came a little black pony named Smokey, who was loaned to me by the Crowell family.

“I regularly caught the school bus to Dowlingville to Brian and Marj Hill’s farm where we kept Smokey, and where the Hill family taught me to ride him.

“Smokey was very young and I couldn’t ride, so we learned together, the hard way!

“When I fell off, Marj picked me up, dusted me off, dried my tears, straightened my helmet, and put me back in the saddle.”

Julia left Ardrossan to study teaching in Adelaide in 1986, before later transferring to a bachelors degree in psychology.

She spent more than 20 years as a case worker in mental health practices, in both government and non-government roles.

“I was fortunate enough to work with some outstanding human beings who helped me to understand emotional distress is not an illness,” she said.

“People often experience trauma which leads to different ways of coping, and all that behaviour has meaning, even if we sometimes don’t understand that behaviour.

“Offering time, space and opportunities for people to be heard can make all the difference, particularly when they are feeling powerless and afraid.”

Julia said she always dreamt of combining her love for horses with innovative ways to support people.

“I realised I wasn’t getting any younger, so I resigned from my government role in December 2021, and Heard in the Herd was born,” she said.

“I advertised locally for an art therapist, and was fortunate to meet someone with significant experience, who is gentle and compassionate.

“Our team has expanded to include a social worker with outdoor adventure expertise, a registered counsellor and psychotherapist and a social work student who will assist us with our horse powered reading program.

“Each session is tailor made, depending on how the person is feeling when they arrive, and what they’d like to achieve.

“I love that horses intuitively understand people.

“They don’t judge, they’re not interested in what you’re wearing, how educated you are, or what you ate for breakfast; they accept you, just as you are.”

EQUINE THERAPY... Former Ardrossan resident Julia McMillan has always loved animals, particularly horses, and now works with them daily in her equine therapy venture.

Lions give SYP ambos the gift of comfy sleep

LIONS Club of Stansbury Dalrymple has given southern Yorke Peninsula's ambos the opportunity for a sound sleep.

SA Ambulance Service stations at Warooka and Yorketown now have a new king single bed each, courtesy of the Lions, for the ambos to catch 40 winks overnight, if needed.

The club topped up the $1000 it received for the beds from the YP Council Community Grants Scheme.

"YP's ambulance stations are staffed by volunteers alongside paid staff," Stansbury Dalrymple Lions secretary Chris Duncan said.

"These volunteers give many hours to the community to provide this service, often travelling long distances to staff the ambulance and, on occasion, these officers need to sleep at their stations.

"The new beds will allow improved sleep to help these vital workers perform to the best of their abilities."

Hunt still on for the biggest blue crab

BARUNGA West Council's new biggest crab competition is proving to be a big hit with residents of northern Yorke Peninsula.

The competition has already had several entries to the Top of the Yorke Instagram page since its launch on December 21.

Council CEO Maree Wauchope said the competition is continuing to spread through word of mouth and is becoming increasingly popular.

"It is proving a hit with both tourists and locals," Ms Wauchope said.

"The competition is being spoken about across the district and council continues to get enquiries on how to enter.

"The response on Instagram has also been encouraging with the competition being promoted across the platform.

"Council even had one keen angler wanting to bring their crab to the Port Broughton office to show the staff how big it was.

"We have entries already but I encourage everyone to get crabbing and give the competition their best shot."

TREASURED BALER... Hugh Wearing and his trusted small baler have been busy baling pea straw for locals to buy, as a fundraiser for the Maitland Rotary Club.

Maitland Rotary selling small pea straw bales

ONE of Maitland Rotary Club's popular local projects is providing small pea straw bales for the residents of Maitland and district. With abundant growing season rainfall, it was an excellent season for plentiful pea straw bales. Bales cost $5 and are available from J & D Southwood, phone 8832 2346. "Rotary is indeed appreciative of the courtesy afforded by Southwood's," a representative said. "Project instigator and longstanding coordinator Hugh Wearing assured us his 'treasured' baler was reliable during baling season. "Thank you to David Eden for providing his paddock of pea straw for the benefit of Rotary. "Start spreading your pea straw around plants as a safeguard against the forthcoming heat of summer."

Heartbeat Copper Triangle fundraises for local hospital

HEARTBEAT Copper Triangle branch's 2022 Christmas raffle proceeds will help upgrade medical equipment at Wallaroo Hospital. "For a small team of dedicated members, we are pleased to be able to support our local hospital and its staff by providing much needed medical devices," branch chairperson Neil Windsor said. "The local community members strongly support what we do and we thank them for that. "We currently have two new Vital Signs Monitors on order, thanks to the generosity of a private donor offering to pay for one. "These units cost around $3700 each and are a frontline piece of equipment used on most patients presenting at the hospital; the first is due early in 2023." Raffle winners were Don Cullen, Margaret Partington and Richard Earle. Heartbeat is always looking for new members who could spare an average of two hours per month towards helping the community; contact Neil for information, phone 0419 865 212.

Lions Club hampers help through festive season

CONTINUING its Christmas tradition of the past 10 years, Lions Club of Stansbury Dalrymple donated 16 festive hampers for distribution by SYP Community Health.

Foodbank SA packs the hampers, which are then distributed by agencies such as SYP Community Health to disadvantaged and low income families to help them celebrate the festive season.

The hamper includes premium Christmas goodies such as canned leg ham, Christmas cake, pudding and custard, along with a range of staple foods including pasta, cereal, canned fruit and vegetables.

Copper Coast locals support Cambodians during pandemic

RICE DONATIONS... Pastor Arthur, Steven and Helen Tzanakis, with Bo and Ming, with some of the rice donated by the Copper Coast community and distributed to needy families in Phnom Penh, Cambodia.

WALLAROO Pastor Arthur Tzanakis, wife Nita and their family have made an overdue trip to visit Nita's family in Cambodia.

The Covid-19 pandemic meant Nita hadn't seen her family since 2018.

Throughout the pandemic, Pastor Arthur's Copper Coast Baptist Church congregation regularly sent money to family and friends in Phnom Penh, who used it to purchase rice and distribute it to families in need.

"Through the generosity of the church and the wider Copper Coast community, we received more than $3000 in donations which purchased a tonne of rice for needy families in Phnom Penh and a church community in Sam-Maki, a small village on the outskirts of Phnom Penh," Pastor Arthur said.

"We also donated US$500 to a school in Phnom Penh that provides free Christian education to needy children."

Another US$500 was donated to the Mother's Heart ministry, a Christian outreach in Phnom Penh that supports abandoned pregnant mums to be.

"Thank you so much to all those from the Copper Coast community who supported these essential services in Cambodia," Pastor Arthur said.

"The Covid-19 pandemic has caused a lot of pain and challenges for the people of Cambodia over the past couple of years.

"Many businesses were shut down and family life traumatised because of the regular lockdowns.

"A little bit of money goes long way over there, so your generosity means so much to these wonderful people.

"Please continue to support Cambodia."

Minlaton Meals on Wheels says bon voyage to 2022

FESTIVE CHEER... Minlaton Meals on Wheels volunteers at the group's Christmas lunch: Michelle Hawthorne, Lorraine Rice, Val Rogers, Margaret Button, Deane Litster, Annette Butler, D'Arcy Button, Ian Austen, Bev Litster, Rick Hawthorne and Margaret Hamilton. Right: RECOGNITION... Service award recipients Val Rogers, Rick Hawthorne and Annette Butler.

MINLATON Meals on Wheels volunteers held their festive season luncheon at Ye Olde Cafe, Minlaton.

They enjoyed a delicious Christmas meal, and president Margaret Hamilton thanked them for the time they had given to delivering meals over the year.

Val Rogers and Rick Hawthorne were presented with 15-year service awards and Annette Butler received a certificate of appreciation for one year of service.

A few more volunteers would take the pressure off the delivery roster, Margaret said.

"If you have half an hour to spare during the week at lunchtime, think about giving it to Meals on Wheels."

Interested people should call Margaret on 0427 532 832.

Point Turton star hits Brisbane gold rush

BEST IN THE STATE... Point Turton's Hugo Taheny claimed the Sport SA Para Athlete of the Year award.

Patrick Goldsmith
REPORT BY

Point Turton's Hugo Taheny finished 2022 with five big victories, taking home four gold medals from the Virtus Oceania Asia Games in Brisbane and winning Sport SA Para Athlete of the Year.

The Virtus Games were held across a week in November and provided a platform for elite athletes with an intellectual impairment to shine on the big stage.

Hugo claimed victory in javelin, shot-put, discus and 4x100 relay.

His mum Louise said the competition was an amazing experience which far exceeded everyone's expectations.

"It started with the opening ceremony; there were 25 nations competing and a large Australian team," she said.

"Hugo stayed with the team which was an incredible step up for his independence and, because he has represented Australia previously at the Global Games in 2019, he was almost well known.

"The first thing he competed in was the javelin, which isn't something he's competed in much in recent years, but he qualified quite easily.

"He happened to win gold in that, so that was a great start to the week, and then he had discus the next day and did a sensational job and won gold again."

His discus throw was close to his personal best, which also happens to be the world record.

Louise said, as the days went on, Hugo became more inspired and loved meeting other athletes from across the world.

"The next day was his shot-put where he threw 11.07 metres, won gold and was strong right from the start," she said.

"He was able to wear a body suit, which is what (Commonwealth Games gold medallist) Matt Denny wears and he was absolutely beside himself to be able to do that, and it really lifted him as well.

"Steve Larsson, Hugo's coach from Kadina, came with us to Brisbane and he organised for Hugo to meet Matt which was just incredible."

The week finished with Hugo stepping up as part of the relay team and, despite not being a trained runner, played his role in securing a victory and his third current world record.

Just two weeks later, Hugo was in Adelaide collecting another accolade, perhaps his finest yet, being named SA Para Athlete of the Year.

Louise said, although she was unable to attend due to Covid-19, a large group of supporters was there to witness the moment.

"I was told there wasn't a dry eye in the house and there was only one person who owned the room that night and it was Hugo," she said.

"To win that award is just amazing, and to be alongside athletic royalty, like Jess Stenson, was incredible.

GOLD... Hugo Taheny also took home four gold medals at the Virtus Oceania Asia Games in Brisbane, during November.

"We just couldn't be prouder and when I was told he had won, I was in tears too."

The award is granted on what an athlete has achieved for the previous 12 months, but also what they've given back to the community.

Louise said it was inspiring to see Hugo's self-esteem grow having found a passion which he has proudly made his own.

"He takes it all in his stride and knows the importance of representing your country and competing on the world stage," she said.

"You wouldn't know it, but he trains really hard and really values and loves the whole athletic community."

While he keeps breaking new boundaries, there is always another challenge just around the corner, or even on the other side of the world.

"The team hasn't been announced yet, but Hugo will go to Vichy, France, in June for the Virtus Global Games, which is exciting for all of us," Louise said.

"A lot of people don't realise it's all self-funded because Hugo isn't a pathway athlete, so we're beginning to look at ways to raise money to get there.

"But it should be another great experience."

BBL

Adelaide Strikers had an emphatic six wicket win against the Sydney Thunder on December 20. Thomas Kelly (Bute connections) remained two not out while in the next match against the Brisbane Heat on December 23, he produced his best twenty20 score to date.

The Strikers were chasing 9/166 and Kelly made 43 in a 73-run fifth-wicket partnership with New Zealand's Colin de Grandhomme.

Kelly's dismissal changed the momentum of the contest and the Strikers went down by six runs.

The Strikers took on the Perth Scorchers in Perth on Boxing Day, with the visiting side scrambling to 7/133.

Kelly was amongst the players who got a start, making 18 from 15 balls, including a four and a six.

Perth won by three wickets.

The Strikers fell eight runs short of the Melbourne Stars at the Adelaide Oval New Year's Eve thriller.

Kelly failed to trouble the scorers, recording a first-ball duck.

SACA men's under 19

Max Kelly (Bute connections) was part of the state under 19s Redbacks program and played as a wicketkeeper-batsman in the South Australian side which won four of its six matches at the Cricket Australia Under 19 Male National Championships.

Batting predominately at number seven, M Kelly's top score was 30 in the opening game.

He also made a valuable 29 in the low-scoring thriller against Victoria Metro in the quarterfinal, in which the Redbacks fell two wickets short.

He made a handy cameo of a-run-a-ball 18 not out in the penultimate game against Victoria Country.

Across the tournament, Kelly conceded just six byes, four of them in round three.

WNBL

Adelaide Lightning went down to the Melbourne Boomers in overtime, 100-106, at Victoria's State Basketball Centre on December 22.

Stephanie Talbot (Kadina) was a pivotal performer for the visitors, picking up another double-double.

She finished with 22 points, including a pair of three-point bombs, and had an impressive 63.6 per cent for field goals from the floor.

She grabbed 12 rebounds, five assists, four steals and four turnovers in a great all-round game.

The Lightning lost both its matches between Christmas and the New Year, Bendigo Spirit at home and Perth Lynx in the west.

Slow out of the blocks against Bendigo, Adelaide was seven points down at halftime before eventually going down 66 to 78 on December 28.

Talbot led the way with 21 points including a trio of threes, 10 rebounds, three turnovers, two blocks, two steals and six assists in a brilliant individual effort.

The Lightning was seven points up at quarter time against the Lynx before losing by 10 points, 72-82.

Talbot was the shining light in this contest, finishing with yet another double double with 12 points, 10 rebounds and eight assists.

She also was credited with a pair of blocks and a couple of steals.

Reuther happy with nationals performance

Peter Argent
REPORT BY

James Reuther, of Coobowie, has confirmed his position as a bowling all-rounder after his performance at the Cricket Australia Under 19 Male National Cricket Championships, which ended on Thursday, December 22.

South Australia finished with four wins from its six 50-over (one-day) encounters. After a trio of victories in the opening three games, the Redbacks fell just one wicket short in a low scoring and thrilling quarterfinal with Victorian Metro at Prospect Oval.

Reuther showed his mettle with the bat, arriving at the crease at 6/47, and recording the top score of 43 from 83 balls.

His 44-run eighth-wicket association with Nick Stathoris (22 not out) helped SA to a modestly competitive 8/139.

SA bounced back in the semifinal against New South Wales Country, winning by five wickets, chasing down 187 in 45.3 overs.

One of SA's four fast bowlers in this game, Reuther bowled second change and finished with 1/25 from eight overs.

Reuther's fast balls reached speeds of 135 km/h early in the tournament.

On the final day, Reuther made an enterprising 37 from 50 deliveries.

His 58-minute stay included three boundaries and he was involved in a 61-run sixth wicket partnership with opener Reghard Els for a team total 8/203, but it wasn't enough with WA winning by eight wickets.

Reuther finished the championship highly respectable average score of 34.75, making 139 runs in the middle order.

"I was happy, especially with my batting," he said.

"I felt I bowled reasonably well, but would have liked to have taken a few more wickets.

"Due to my batting performances, I played in all six games.

"By the end of the tournament, I was pretty sore and tired.

"Despite finishing with four wins, we didn't have any players in the All-Australian team from the championships."

Reuther's figures

- Round 1: South Australia 8/226 (Reuther 59*) d Tasmania 223 (Reuther 1/28).
- Round 2: South Australia 4/187 (Reuther dnb) d Northern Territory 181 (Reuther 2/31).
- Round 3: South Australia 8/307 (cc) (Reuther 2) d Queensland Country 238 (Reuther 1/36).

- Semifinal: South Australia 5/190 (Reuther 0) d New South Wales Country 187 (Reuther 1/25).
- Grand final: Western Australia 2/207 (Reuther 0/17) d South Australia 9/203 (Reuther 37).

YP pair on SACCA board

Peter Argent
REPORT BY

Two of Yorke Peninsula's greatest cricket exports, Andrea McCauley and Daniel Harris, are now members of the South Australian Cricket Association Board of Control.

While McCauley has been on the board since 2019, Harris joined in September.

Brought up at Maitland, McCauley's success on the field included one Test match for Australia and captaincy of South Australian cricket's most successful era, skipping the SA Scorpions to three national titles in four years from 1990.

McCauley was also the first full time coach for the SA women's side and has played a key role in the growth of current stars including Megan Schutt, Tahlia McGrath, Amanda-Jade Wellington and Bridget Patterson.

With fellow YP talent Lauren Ebsary as her skipper, McCauley coached SA to its first ever Women's National Cricket League title in 2014-15.

She was also the Strikers' first coach in the Women's Big Bash League.

A self-employed mortgage broker, McCauley chairs SACA's high performance and honorary nominations and naming committees and is a member of the strategic cricket committee.

Harris started his cricketing career at Sunbury and was an Australian Under 19s cricketer, who played first class cricket along with his demanding work career as medical practitioner.

His highlights include captaining the SA Sheffield Shield team and playing in domestic one-day and Twenty20 competition-winning teams.

Playing a pivotal role in helping the Redbacks win the 2010-11 KFC T20 Big Bash, his outstanding season was rewarded as he was named the Australian Cricketers Association's Twenty20 Player of the Year.

He also played in various T20 leagues including the Big Bash, Indian Premier League and competitions in New Zealand and Asia.

Harris played for Woodville for more 20 years and is a life member of the club.

Harris works as an emergency consultant at the Royal Adelaide and Queen Elizabeth Hospitals, and a Medical Retrieval Consultant for SAAS MedSTAR.

Harris is also a member of SACA's premier cricket and high performance committees.

Wallaroo Sailing Club

Although Wallaroo Sailing Club’s off-the-beach activities have been on a break, the radio control division has continued. The annual New Year’s Day Regatta was contested on Sunday, January 1. Conditions were almost perfect with 12 to 15 knot winds. There were 14 boats on the water, one of which was a DF95. This is smaller than the Internationals usually sailed on the marina and weighs in at two kilograms, making it a lively boat. There were different winners of each of the nine races in a competitive day for the radio control sailors. Off-the-beach sailing and sail training return next Sunday. Anyone interested in sailing and would like to give it a go is welcome at the clubrooms to have a chat with our sail trainers at 9am Sunday. Who knows? You could be the next Sydney to Hobart winner. Maria Carius

Mobile app for on-farm testing

Michelle Daw
JOURNALIST

AN app developed in South Australia is empowering growers to assess their grain on-farm.

GoMicro, is based at the Tonsley innovation district, has developed an app for lentils, with another for wheat to be released early this year.

Company chief executive Dr Sivam Krish said the GoMicro Assessor could help reduce some of the stress associated with determining grain quality for both growers and receival companies, and empower growers to make better informed trading decisions.

The app is based on visual machine learning via artificial intelligence and assesses lentil samples for visual qualities such as colour, size, breaks or wrinkles in the seed coat, and the presence of contaminants such as snails and weed seeds.

"The GoMicro Assessor can accurately assess thousands of lentil seeds in about a minute with an accuracy of more than 95 per cent," Dr Krish said.

Dr Krish said the difference between GoMicro and other grain assessment technology in development around the world was its use of an associated patent pending device which created studio-quality lighting at all locations, including outdoors on farms.

The device removes shadows and distracting backgrounds, eliminating the need for expensive machinery, industrial cameras and grain feeders to separate the grain before it is photographed.

"We are putting this technology in the hands of farmers, who have traditionally been price-takers," he said.

"A lot of farmers are now using on-farm storage, so the app will empower them to assess their grain themselves and make decisions on when to sell."

Walco Seed Cleaning at Halbury, near Balaklava, Long Seed and Grain at Leasingham, and three SA grain receival sites are currently trialling the app.

Their input about local weed seeds and other quality issues is being incorporated to expand the visual memory of the AI behind the app.

Kurt Walter from Walco Seed Cleaning said the GoMicro Assessor was a game changer for growers.

"It will provide them with convenience and the confidence of knowing the grade of their grain before it's even loaded on the truck," he said.

"It will also be a big help to growers who store on-farm, so they can keep closer track of their grain quality through the year."

Long Seed and Grain's David Long said the app was easy to use and it demonstrated the enormous scope for AI technology in the grain industry.

"We are only just on the edge of how AI can be used," he said.

"For example, the same technology could be used to do seed counts so you can adjust seeding rates and to check germination rates and new versions of the app could be developed to monitor for diseases."

GPSA launches new spraying campaign

WITH summer spraying starting in many regions across South Australia, Grain Producers SA is stressing the importance of safe summer spraying practices to avoid spray drift.

GPSA recently launched a new campaign titled Keep Your Droplets to Yourself, to remind grain producers about the importance of responsible spray application.

Together with key industry stakeholders and experts, GPSA created a fact sheet featuring 11 tips to be aware of when spraying, including monitoring weather, leaving buffers, avoiding high spray speed, recording, reporting and more.

CEO Brad Perry said it was critical grain producers displayed strong chemical stewardship and understood how to spray safely to avoid drift.

"GPSA has previously run the Hit Your Target approach and we've built on and strengthened it for the Keep Your Droplets to Yourself campaign," Mr Perry said.

"Most grain producers in SA do the right thing when it comes to spraying; however, we need the industry to be fully adherent.

"The new campaign is the first step in the grain industry in SA providing a new offensive on spray drift to ensure, as a sector, we are doing the right thing.

"The use of pesticides has had, and continues to have, a very positive impact on sustainable global food production and not just for agricultural production but for the protection and restoration of our natural environment and human health.

"But to maintain the use of these important chemicals, we all need to ensure we are doing the right thing when we spray.

"Producers need to understand how to spot hazardous temperature inversions, choose the right nozzle size and what speed they should be spraying at.

"If they're not certain, they shouldn't be spraying and should instead be on the phone to their local agronomist."

DEFENCE PROOF & EXPERIMENTAL ESTABLISHMENT PORT WAKEFIELD: LIVE FIRING RANGE WARNING NOTICE

Test and evaluation activities involving static firings and/or firings of naval and artillery weapons are conducted at the Proof and Experimental Establishment Port Wakefield throughout the year. The Proof and Experimental Establishment Port Wakefield is a vital Defence test and evaluation capability that has supported Defence since 1929.

These firings may require specific tidal or weather conditions, and are critical for the safety of current and new Defence capabilities. Members of the public may notice noise, vibration, flashes and/or smoke during the testing. There is no risk to the public outside of the gazetted Defence Practice Areas.

For reasons of public safety, there is a permanent exclusion zone covering land, sea and air around the Port Wakefield Establishment. Specific details on the Port Wakefield Prohibited Area can be obtained from Commonwealth of Australia Gazette No GN 26, 4 July 1990, and is shown on the diagram below. Trespassing in this Area is strictly prohibited and very dangerous due to the presence of unexploded bombs. Any person found within the Prohibited Area or on Defence land will be subject to prosecution.

Specific test and evaluation activities may also require restricting public access to the Port Wakefield Defence Practice Areas over specific periods with these areas articulated in the Commonwealth of Australia Gazette No. GN 40, 7 October 1992, and also identified on the diagram below. This may affect access to the Gulf of St Vincent at Port Wakefield and Port Parham.

If any member of the public has inquiries in relation to these activities, please contact Proof & Experimental Establishment Port Wakefield - Range Control on (08) 8867 0270 between 8.00am and 4.30pm weekdays or the Proof & Experimental Establishment Port Wakefield - Security Office on (08) 8867 0299 outside these hours.

Still Going Strong

A hundred and sixty years have passed so the records show.
We are the last band on the Copper Coast and beyond and still well on the go.
Much grey hair is hidden under the Akubra hats.
The spectacles glitter at each performance, there's nothing wrong with that.
Trombones are on the slur, cornets hold the tune.
The sweet sounds of tenor horns, clarinets, baritones and euphos echo throughout the room.
The mighty basses set the mood with the beat of the big bass drum.
The percussion instruments add to the act while saxes follow on.
The conductor twirls her wand according to the beat.
Most of us follow on while others tap their feet.
A new year has started, so much is planned to do.
The KWM Band will keep entertaining until the year is through.
Most members are in their senior years but play without mistakes.
If you hang around for 90 years or so you get to share a cake.
New members are needed whether you're young or old.
You will find we are a friendly bunch and won't leave you in the cold.

Rob Kutcher

Elizabeth

Today, at last, you went away
Beyond the palace portal's sway,
And took our hearts and love with you
As once your husband left us, too.

Rejoined with him, in heaven's lair
You knew that you would find him there,
You turned and left your crown behind,
A life of duty, so sublime.

It broke our hearts to lose our Queen
The only sovereign we've seen,
From childhood you were always there
But now you leave a blank despair.

No King can take the place you won
So many years, beneath the sun,
You're wrapped in love within each heart
And carried still, though death does part.

Though death has taken you away
You're safe in heaven from this day,
Your loyal subjects all will swear
Perhaps we'll meet again up there.

Good old Aussie humour and more

I HAVE been pleasantly surprised by new Australian comedy series Colin from Accounts, streaming on Foxtel (and Binge).

Aussie-made television rarely gets a good rap.

I must admit I do tend to shy away from it in fear of disappointment and because of the ability it has to make me cringe; but the relentless adverts did their job — I gave in and I'm glad I did.

Created and written by husband-and-wife team Patrick Brammall and Harriet Dyer, who also play the main characters Gordon and Ashley, Colin from Accounts is everything your typical romantic comedy is not.

Ashley (Dyer) and Gordon (Brammall), two single (ish), complex humans meet when Gordon stops to let Ashley cross the road in front of him while driving to work.

She flashes him; he gets distracted and hits a stray dog which they take to a vet and the rest is history.

Set and filmed in Sydney, Colin from Accounts has a very particular and dry humour but is extremely relatable and bound to give you those deep belly laughs.

The series is supported by a stellar cast with many familiar faces.

I can only hope this home-grown gem is renewed for a second season.

Starscopes

- ♈ ARIES — March 21-April 20
Speak your mind and to the right person. Some hostility can make life a bit tense now. Your concerns over older relatives eases. Your diet should be part of the week's programme.

♉ TAURUS — April 21-May 22
Favours are returned in rapid succession. Adventure is featured throughout the week. Sports may not be in the picture, but expect to do a lot of umpiring. Your creative spirit soars.

♊ GEMINI — May 23-June 21
Don't hesitate to ask silly questions. It's critical that you dig for facts and understand expectations. Red tape can tie you up, relatives can tie you down.

♋ CANCER — June 22-July 22
Your intellectual powers are intense and your natural charm shines, too. Combine your skills and this can be one of your most successful weeks. Take extra time for bridging generation gaps.

♌ LEO — July 23-August 22
The week gets off to a whimsical start. Watch what you are volunteering to do. Friendships strengthen. Check spending throughout the weekend and be a sceptic when it comes to bargains.

♍ VIRGO — August 23-September 22
Ideas continue to develop and it's time to put them to work. Moves of various kinds are favoured. Make encouragement your current byword - give kids a helping hand with plans.

♎ LIBRA — September 23-October 22
Romantic entanglements and financial uncertainty are part of the picture through the weekend - then all prospects become clear and the time is right for at least one major decision.

♏ SCORPIO — October 23-November 21
Your romantic life perks up this week. Mix-ups continue and the trick is to laugh. This is a good time for nostalgia. You could find a new meaning in an old album or book.

♐ SAGITTARIUS — November 22-December 22
Closest friends are in different age brackets and perhaps of the opposite sex. Prepare to dish out advice, but don't expect any thanks for the effort. Sweet victory is indicated on the weekend.

♑ CAPRICORN — December 23-January 20
Misunderstandings, postponements and charming distractions don't make for a week of great accomplishments. Still, it can be a week of great fun if you are active and broadminded.

♒ AQUARIUS — January 21-February 19
Last week's pattern was change. This week has the feel of a still-life. It seems that there's little action, yet a lot of behind the scenes things are happening.

♓ PISCES — February 20-March 20
This is the week for culture. Go to a concert or read a classic - it will improve your mind and social life! Travel plans can get a little muddled. Bargain hunting is favoured on the weekend.

BIRTHDAY THIS WEEK
Versatility is your keyword. Spontaneity is a character strength and weakness - and your skill at getting out of tricky situations is incredible.

HOT FISHING TIPS

with Greg James www.gregjamesfishing.com.au

Welcome again to the fishing column with all the hot tips for fishing Yorke Peninsula; contact Greg by email at greg@gregjamesfishing.com.au.

Recipe, spicy fish kebabs: Ingredients – white fish fillets (cubed), chopped mint, coriander, parsley, red chillies, peanut oil, lemon juice. Preparation – combine fish pieces with herbs and gently mix with oil. Skewer fish and cook on a hot plate until done (two to three minutes). Drizzle with lemon juice.

Wallaroo: 2023 has arrived and with it has been the enormous level of traffic flows the length and breadth of The Leg! New Year's Day broke warm and with light southerly winds boat crews and jetty-based anglers hit the water early trying for garfish, tommy ruffs (Australian herring), blue crabs and squid.

Moonta Bay/Port Hughes: Very late afternoon/dusk has yellowfin and King George whiting out from Second and Cooper beaches, while the jetties have a couple of blueys and garfish. Offshore crews have been on the water before first light for gar, squid and tommy ruffs from Tipara Reef and Steamer channel.

Port Victoria: Boat crews are catching KG whiting off the north western end of Wardang Island when the winds permit and also at Balgowan and Chinaman's Well, plus gar and squid. The jetty has a few blue swimmer crabs and not much else.

Point Turton: Plenty of holiday makers arrived for the seasonal break and hugged the shore-line in their boats at Hardwicke Bay and Point Souttar/The Pines – all trying for gar, squid and tommy ruffs. Small pan-sized snapper are also about but the extended ban means they need to be returned to the water immediately. Try the jetty for gar at dusk.

Marion/Stenhouse Bays: Four-wheel drives and caravans of every persuasion have arrived in massive numbers to fish the beaches at Corny Point, Brown's and Pondalowie Bay with mixed success, mullet and salmon trout the main reports. Boat crews fishing the deep waters off Marion Bay have found a couple of 10-15 kg tuna, red nannygai and sweep. Some big snook are out from main reef at Foul Bay.

Edithburgh/Stansbury: Try the jetties for blue swimmer crabs and tommy ruffs at the moment. KG whiting are at Tapley Shoals and the Orontes Bank, while gar and squid are off Coobowie Bay and Port Giles.

Pine Point/Ardrossan: Blue crab rakers are at it right along this section of the coast when I checked between Christmas and New Year. Yellowfin whiting are off the wharf at Pine Point and Tiddy Widdy Beach north of Ardrossan. Boat crews have reported garfish, squid and snook, plus a few blue crabs.

Tight lines and see you next week!

Our athlete of the year

Patrick Goldsmith
REPORT BY

Hugo Taheny, Point Turton, has been named the Sport SA Para Athlete of the Year, recognising his outstanding athletic achievements.

"I was told... there wasn't a dry eye in the house and there was only one person who owned the room that night and it was Hugo," his mum Louise Taheny said.

"To win that award is just amazing, and to be alongside athletic royalty, like Jess Stenson, was incredible.

"We just couldn't be prouder and when I was told he had won, I was in tears too."

The award is granted on what an athlete has achieved for the previous 12 months and what they've given back to the community.

Louise said it's inspiring to see Hugo's self-esteem grow having found a passion which he has proudly made his own.

Taheny also recently competed at the Virtus Oceania Asia Games in Brisbane and won gold medals in javelin, shot-put, discus and 4x100 relay.

"He takes it all in his stride and knows the importance of representing your country and competing on the world stage," she said.
