SYP boasts nation's best

Sonny Coombs
REPORT BY

YORKE Peninsula tourism experiences have received national recognition.

Point Turton Caravan Park took out top honours at the Grey Nomad Awards while the Southern Yorke Peninsula Water Tower Mural Trail was a runner-up in the Australian Street Art Awards.

The park initially won the Best Grey Nomad Small Caravan Park category then took out the Best of the Best award.

The Best of the Best is handed to the nominee which impressed the judges the most, as determined by the highest cumulative score from all category winners.

"Being recognised at a national level is extremely exciting, to be awarded the Best Grey Nomad Small Caravan Park is a great achievement," park managers Malcolm and Dani Wheadon said.

"However, we were not expecting to also take out the Best of the Best award and for the judges to be so impressed by what our park offers really demonstrates how far we have come.

"We have had incredible support from Yorke Peninsula Council in our time as managers and feel privileged to be able to share such an incredible location with so many fantastic guests."

Malcolm and Dani said the awards provide an opportunity to showcase not only the caravan park but also southern Yorke Peninsula.

"As managers of the Point Turton Caravan Park for four and a half years we have had a strong focus on promoting and highlighting the area and making Point Turton Caravan Park a bucket-list destination for travellers," they said.

"Grey nomads in particular are seeking locations in which they feel safe and, for us, it's about providing a sense of community where everyone is welcomed with open arms.

"It's a location where forever friendships are made and for many this is what travel is about."

Voting choices

I HAVE been a Liberal member for decades. I have recently been asked by many people about the situation with Fraser Ellis and the Liberal Party.

I would like to give people a bit of background knowledge before the election.

We know Fraser Ellis has had accusations levelled against him and is facing court.

Many of us in local Liberal Party bodies know Fraser has worked hard and has been willing to cross the floor of Parliament in order to stand up for this electorate.

He has worked hard to achieve many good outcomes, some of which were initiated by former Liberal Members of Parliament and brought to fruition during his efforts.

We know he has worked hard for farmers, for local hospitals, to get country doctors, to get road funding so many road works could finally take place, et cetera.

He has done as we, the local Liberals, have asked and stood up for this electorate rather than be a yes man to city-based leadership.

When we heard that he was facing court action over an alleged offence, many of us local Liberals believed we should consider a person innocent until proven guilty.

As a result of this, and because Fraser had stood up for this electorate, we requested the state Liberal Party executives not pre-select another candidate and allow Fraser to stand.

We informed them many Liberals would act as individuals and not support another Liberal candidate if they chose to ignore our request.

The Executive chose to ignore the request we sent to them and so many Liberal members have chosen to support Fraser.

This in no way reflects on the person the Liberal Executive chose to endorse.

We believe it reflects poorly on some members of the Liberal Executive who chose to ignore the input of the local members.

As Liberal members, we would hope people would support Fraser Ellis since he has stood up for this electorate as the endorsed Liberal Member of Parliament.

We would hope people would vote for the Liberal team in the Upper House and if they find they cannot support Fraser as we have chosen to do, that they will vote for the Liberal candidate selected by the Liberal Party.

Our preferred outcome would be this electorate vote for Fraser Ellis in the coming election.

Where are our SMOs?

DO the people of Narungga understand recent health and healthcare claims made by independent Fraser Ellis? I certainly don't.

Decentralisation of bureaucracy and forming the "locally" governed Yorke and Northern Local Health Network was always risky for areas like ours.

There was always going to be a natural bias towards the largest health service in the LHN.

As a member of the Liberal Government, Mr Ellis would have known this, but supported the model without ensuring reasonable balance in service delivery across the LHN.

To excise Port Pirie Regional Health Service from the YNLHN as it stands, would create an unsustainable service without critical mass.

Carving Wallaroo from Port Pirie would mean a depleted workforce to deliver services in such a thin market.

I don't disagree Wallaroo Hospital should be the health service hub for Yorke Peninsula.

Current models of care are delivered based on a critical mass of health.

Mr Ellis has been vocal about brokering a model for salaried medical doctors. A model doesn't treat people in A&E, doctors do. The loss of local GPs in the emergency room is profound.

The government has been content to pay FIFO locums exorbitant fees (and expenses) rather than supporting local doctors who know their communities and patients.

The locum arrangement is four times more expensive than remunerating the local GP workforce and importantly, supporting those who care for our communities.

Decentralisation has taken four years to gain momentum and it's proven cumbersome and expensive.

Before the last election, the Liberal Party announced a commitment to invest $20 million directly into country health to fill skill gaps and attract specialists. Part of that commitment was to assist teaching and training in country hospitals, as well as doubling the number of medical interns in regional SA.

The model should provide opportunities for student doctors to rotate through regions for enrichment. Rotating student doctors is also about rotating GPs during training, as well as doctors training in hospitals (surgical trainees, ED trainees and other specialties).

As it stands, a rotation to the regions is not seen as an opportunity for enrichment because of the lack of support.

I have questions but can't find answers.

Land use balance

AS a sixth-generation farmer from Barunga Gap, I know Narungga and I know it is more than a farm.

Having a farmer representing Narungga just makes sense, as agriculture is consistently South Australia's largest contributor to GDP, helping the economy grow.

With the right support, the prosperity of farming will continue. But we need a balanced economy too.

I know issues such as the right to use safe, effective tools like glyphosate is crucial, while road networks not only need to be maintained but improved — without them we have no access to market.

Opportunities to keep ourselves mentally, physically and financially fit to maximise the good times and make us resilient through the bad not only need to be encouraged but continually evolve. This I know well.

Prime farming land needs to be protected but I believe there is a place — if done sustainably — for mining on YP.

There are synergies between agriculture and mining, access to lime sands, gypsum and road base locally will maintain or increase the productivity of farmland without the wear on our public infrastructure.

Exploration decisions need to be balanced between the community, landowners and mining companies.

The Liberal Marshall Government has delivered improvements for landowners engaging with exploration companies: more money is available for legal advice, free dispute resolution through and the separation between farmhouses and operations have increased.

I want to live in a great place and I want to leave it in the best condition for my kids and for generations after them.

To do this we need to protect our environment as well as have a prosperous balanced economy, which will provide flow-on effects to our small businesses and for tourism, which are numerous in Narungga.

These businesses deserve reward for effort, and they deserve a government who will provide a platform for them to thrive.

I see unlimited potential for growth on YP, including in tourism, farming and for our community generally.

We are a diverse community ourselves and I want to see the best opportunities for the next generation delivered for us, in Parliament.

OUR VIEW

#BreakTheBias

TODAY (Tuesday, March 8) is International Women's Day.

IWD is a day to celebrate the women in our world and their achievements, as well as to fight for gender equality, diversity and against discrimination.

These are all incredibly important things, and should be given the appropriate spotlight — but they don't become necessary because of a special day.

These conversations need to be happening every day, with diverse voices.

I fully admit my own shortcomings as I have not been elevating other voices as much as I could, and that's something I will try to improve on.

I am thankful for the strong women in all aspects of my life who inspire and challenge me daily.

My issue with IWD, is commercialisation.

I recognise there is a commercial aspect and it needs to exist to elevate the conversation.

However, my issue is when brands co-opt the day and use it to make themselves look good.

As a person who is trying to be conscious of my consumption and its impact on the world around me, seeing fast fashion retailers talk about #BreakTheBias (this year's theme) rankles me.

They may all be excellent women, but how can they talk about breaking the pay disparity when their seamstresses often do it in poor conditions on below minimal wage.

It just feels a little ingenuine to me. At least we're having the conversation.

$250m development at The Dunes

Jess Liddy
JOURNALIST

A $250 million development is being proposed for The Dunes, Port Hughes.

Metacap Developments and partners held an information briefing session with Copper Coast Council and members of the public to begin stage two of The Dunes on Monday, February 28.

The project could include retail, tourism and medical outlets, residential and aged-care lots, eco-camping facilities, open space including a lake, golf course and green areas, as well as maintenance and storage facilities.

Metacap Developments director Alex Jimenez said he and his team were committed to the area.

"We've identified the Copper Coast as a very interesting part of South Australia," Mr Jimenez said.

"We are here to stay — we see a lot of potential here."

Mr Jimenez said they wanted to create an over 50s village, among other things, as part of stage two of The Dunes.

"We want to see better accommodation and commercial areas such as coffee shops develop gradually in Port Hughes," he said.

"We understand we need to co-exist with other developments in the area and make sure we are all complementing one another."

"This is our 20-year plan for stage two of The Dunes and we plan on being very transparent with the community and council for what the area and the people want and need."

Council CEO Russell Peate said he was very pleased with the development.

"The developers and investors made the effort to travel from Queensland to present their proposal to not only council but to the community in a public information session," Mr Peate said.

"It was important the community was able to see, hear and understand what is being proposed and what this major project means for the Copper Coast."

"We will continue to work with the developers regarding this major development."

Mayor Roslyn Talbot said this was a premium parcel of land and the development which was presented certainly did it justice.

"It will be a quality development providing accommodation options, particularly for the over 50s, and should complement the rest of the developments in the area," Mrs Talbot said.

"I am looking forward to seeing this progress and the opportunities it will bring."

Metacap Developments plans to lodge development approval in April and hopes to start works late this year.

STAGE TWO... Mohammed Limbada, Metacap Developments director Alex Jimenez, Copper Coast Council mayor Roslyn Talbot, Nicholas Jimenez and Tim Xia are looking forward to working collaboratively to begin development on stage two of The Dunes in Port Hughes.

Silver for water tower mural trail

SOUTHERN Yorke Peninsula Water Tower Mural Trail was a runner-up in the Australian Street Art Awards.

The trail received silver in the Best Rural Art category which was announced from the Sunshine Coast on Friday, March 4.

The trail features work on structures at Coobowie, Edithburgh, Stansbury, Yorketown and Port Vincent.

Yorke Peninsula Council, with Yorke Peninsula Tourism and the town progress associations, gained funding for the murals on the SA Water-owned tanks/towers through a Regional Tourism Bushfire Recovery Grant.

Port Vincent Progress Association sourced its own funding through the Foundation for Rural Regional Renewal Grant and SA Water's Community Partnership Program.

"I am extremely proud of the recognition for not only the artists but also the council staff and volunteers involved in this project," Mayor Darren Braund said.

"It really is another feather in the cap for Yorke Peninsula and is a drawcard which is growing in popularity.

"It's something that attracts visitors and there are a group of people that follow mural trails around Australia."

The awards encourage Australians to explore the world-class street and public art that is accessible all year round and found in every corner of the country.

Narungga decides 2022

AS the 2022 state election nears, the Yorke Peninsula Country Times will pose important topics for discussion to the Narungga candidates vying for your vote. This week’s topic is roads and infrastructure.

Dianah Walter

Independent

STATE and federal grant funding schemes are vital to Narungga’s five local government areas.

Road safety is indelibly linked to these schemes, which include the Local Roads and Community Infrastructure Program and Remote Roads Upgrade Pilot Program.

Yorke Peninsula Council alone encompasses a 3400km road network — yet those local roads siphon huge amounts of your council rates.

Much greater urgency in funding our critical commodity routes will enable produce and freight to be transported faster, better and safer.

The next state government must accept its responsibilities on all our Narungga roads, not leave us bogged in the mud of mediocrity.

There are processes in place which aid in distribution of funds to councils to help pay for roads and infrastructure.

It’s ok but not perfect.

Commissioning a review is my aim.

Grant funding has helped improve many roads such as the long-awaited Bay Road at Moonta Bay.

However, urban rubble roads with no stormwater infrastructure around the Copper Coast need drastic attention.

This is mirrored throughout our electorate as seen around Point Turton along North Coast Road. Locals have waited too long!

A continued, tripartite arrangement will be an enabler for greater access to the region, supporting jobs and broader safety for locals and tourists alike.

This support for road networks would give councils breathing room to spend on other community assets used by you, like playgrounds, parks, boat ramps, jetties, sports grounds and more.

I will work tirelessly to ensure Narungga gets its fair share of funding.

Fraser Ellis

Independent

NARUNGGA has gone through a period of unprecedented investment in our road network, from shoulder sealing, re-surfacing and complete rebuilds of country roads to the massive Port Wakefield overpass and duplication project, with the latter a genuine nation-building one which will finally remove crash corner where multiple lives have been lost over the years.

This need was flagged for 20 years.

While I was campaigning in 2017-18, I promised to a great many locals on their doorstep I would fight to get the road up and down the middle of our leg fixed.

That has now happened, and soon the entire length of road between Arthurlton and Minlaton will have been redone.

Many felt they would not see this in their lifetime.

Long-neglected Bay Road in Moonta and the entrance road into Wallaroo from Kadina are finally getting the treatment they deserve as major tourism thoroughfares.

It took a petition and loud noise but it’s finally happening.

There are more roads to do — Bute to Port Broughton, Minlaton to Port Vincent and North Coast Road to name just three — and I also am advocating for a Turning Lane Fund to improve safety into tourism townships off local highways.

Other needs include boat ramp improvements and infrastructure to fix mobile black spots but with more than $210 million invested in our roads since 2018, a good start has been made.

Narungga is finally seeing significant investment, and I am seeking re-election to continue that work.

Kerry White

Pauline Hanson’s One Nation

ROADS in Narungga are in a bad state.

They’ve been neglected for decades.

Councils can only do so much with limited resources.

There’s a huge backlog in regional road maintenance and the state government needs to step up its game.

A lot of streets in Narungga communities need sealing, and our highways need a lot of work.

A good example is the Copper Coast Highway.

I’m told driving on it is like riding a roller coaster.

Some upgrades have happened either side of Paskeville but the whole stretch urgently needs some maintenance.

A well-maintained road network is crucial for many reasons: productivity, tourism and road safety.

Rather than spending $662 million on a new basketball stadium in Adelaide, I think Steven Marshall should put that money towards regional roads.

Roads aren’t the only infrastructure that’s lacking.

Public housing has been in decline for years, and with the current housing crisis it’s clear we need more investment in affordable and public housing.

Another important piece of infrastructure is the hospital in Wallaroo.

It services a large area including Kadina and Moonta, and must cater for tourists as well.

It’s old — so old that some local residents say they’d rather travel to an Adelaide hospital than use the one at Wallaroo.

My infrastructure priorities are simple: we are a thriving region that deserves to have the infrastructure to match, and our community is at risk if we don’t have it.

I’ll be a strong advocate for infrastructure investments in Narungga.

Mark Paull

Labor Party

SAFE, reliable roads represent a core infrastructure need on the Yorke Peninsula.

Their regular upkeep is paramount, as is the sealing of previously unsealed roads.

This allows freight, grain and delivery trucks better and safer access, commensurate with the increasing tourism traffic.

Moonta is a good example.

There is an established heavy traffic flow bypass that remains unsealed, leading to large trucks going past the school and through the village.

There are the booming developments of Port Hughes and Moonta Bay, increasing traffic throughout the town, turning previously quiet streets into traffic snarls.

An obvious fix would be to seal existing, alternative routes, spreading the load, allowing for safer and smoother access to and from the school, doctors and all town amenities.

Moonta is not unique in this sense.

Every town and farming community on the peninsula has similar tales to tell.

Yorke Peninsula is expanding rapidly and with this comes the need for improved roads and upkeep.

When last in government, Labor made a considerable effort in making our roads safer with safety barriers installed throughout the state.

This was a welcome initiative towards saving lives.

But there is a long way to go and the rewards are clear, not only in encouraging tourism and business opportunities, but improving access for emergency vehicles, including smoother rides for ambulances.

Labor is committed to improving the carriageways, and, with the state’s future in mind, recognises the need to be ahead of the game.

Wallaroo aquatic facility back in the spotlight

NEW plans are afloat for the Wallaroo aquatic facility.

Copper Coast Council has contracted Wallbridge Gilbert Aztec Engineers to modify and cost plans, with the project estimated to cost $3,337,971.

Works would commence in October 2022 and be completed by March 2024.

Council has lodged an application with the federal government’s Building Better Regions Fund Round Six to help cover the costs of works.

CEO Russell Peate said if funding was received there would be the opportunity for further consultation with council for input on the final design and interested stakeholders.

“A final design will then be completed prior to the tenders being called,” Mr Peate said.

“We want the final design to stand the test of time and the weather.”

Wallaroo Swimming and Aquatic Group members Jan Paull, Chris Wall and Julie Donnell said, after six years of no swimming facility, they were hopeful the day would soon come.

“We want to see a facility the whole community can use and enjoy,” the group said.

“We are pleased council is seeking this funding and they continue to be supportive of our work.

“We are positive Wallaroo will have an aquatic facility in the coming years.”

Federal Member for Grey Rowan Ramsey also sent letters of support in favour of the new swimming facility.

“It is very clear the Wallaroo aquatic facility would satisfy a definite community need for a safe swimming enclosure that is easily accessed and that would enable recreational and competition swimming, and allow instruction to the highest levels,” Mr Ramsey said.

“The aquatic facility would bring enormous social and economic benefits to the Copper Coast region.

“It would certainly lift spirits of a community impacted by drought then Covid-19.”

Mediation ongoing

The first pre-mediation conference between parties for the failed Wallaroo swimming enclosure and pontoon was held last week.

Council is seeking a commercial outcome for the project, with Mr Peate and council’s solicitors working for 12 months to get to this point.

“Including council, there are five solicitors and four insurers to deal with in endeavouring to reach a commercial resolution,” Mr Peate said.

“It is pleasing that finally, after many months of documentation being provided between the parties, the pre-mediation conference has been agreed to by all parties and is progressing.

“I will continue to be vigilant in progressing as best I can a commercial outcome for council.”

– Jess Liddy

Tom Michael

Liberal Party

THE federal, state and local road network requires continual maintenance and upgrades.
The Marshall Liberal Government has spent $1.8 billion on regional roads compared with a pathetic $384 million spent by Labor in their final term.
Being a Liberal member in a Liberal government gives unmatched access to the road budget and potential upgrades for our electorate.

This is something only a vote for the Liberal candidate can deliver, a Liberal Government is best for regional roads.
In the past four years under the Marshall Liberal Government the electorate of Narungga has benefited from $235m invested in the road network.
A $14.5m Regional Road Network Package with pavement repairs, vegetation clearing and line marking on: Spencer Highway, between Maitland and Minlaton; Yorke Highway, between St Vincent Highway and Curramulka; Copper Coast Highway, west of Kulpara township; Minlaton Road, between Minlaton and Stansbury; Maitland Road, with works adjacent to Maitland and Ardrossan townships; $187,800 for Stage 1 of the Wallaroo to Moonta Shared Path project; $124.5m will be delivered to Port Augusta to Port Wakefield Road Duplication and overpass; many roads in the electorate and more broadly South Australia need work.

Four years ago, when the Marshall Liberal team took office, there was a $750m backlog.
We are now not perfect but we are making progress.
I hope to continue the good work that has begun.

Ashley Wright

National Party

AS a member of the Narungga community, I believe we have been overlooked for far too long.
I would like to see a greater investment made into the infrastructure specifically in housing, health, community sporting facilities, roads and jobs.
All points are strongly linked.
Without housing we cannot attract health professionals to our community so health suffers, I feel with a can-do approach and a structured growth plan we can we can achieve anything as a community.

I have noticed a huge shortage of housing for either rent or purchase, this leads to a much-reduced opportunity for towns to grow in small business and permanent residents.
With increased population on a permanent level sporting clubs et cetera would expand, bringing the community closer together; this in turn makes for a stronger community through contact and involvement.
I feel it all starts with housing to enable the wider community to prosper across the board.
Roads are the hub connectors that take us to work, on holidays, and allow us to conduct our day-to-day activities.

It is extremely important for them to be sound and maintained to the highest degree, sadly this is not the case.
For roads that see so many tourists and locals they are not what I would call safe.
I feel urgent upgrades are required on main roads and unsealed roads.
The safety of people is paramount when traveling and unfortunately our roads are just not up to spec, work needs to be done.

Wendy Joyce

Family First Party

SOUTH Australians living in rural and regional areas deserve the same from government as someone in Adelaide.

Unfortunately, that has meant our politics and policy is noticeably Adelaide centric.
There is often not enough attention paid to the needs and aspirations of regional and rural South Australians.
Myself and Family First believe all citizens deserve better respect and first-class services, wherever they live.

We will advocate for better transport options between regional towns and cities.
Major regional cities should have public transport services.

It's family first for Joyce

Patrick Goldsmith
REPORT BY

WANDEARAH'S Wendy Joyce is running for Family First in the seat of Narungga at the upcoming state election. Ms Joyce lives on a farm 25 kilometres north of Port Broughton with her children and grandchildren — the latter the seventh generation to live on the property. She first represented Family First in the seat of Frome at the 2014 state election. Ms Joyce said faith, family and farming are her key priorities in life. "Family First is all about strong families, which is a top priority in my life, as well as Family First stands for religious freedom and freedom of conscience," Ms Joyce said. She said she hopes to provide a fresh opportunity for voters. "(I want) to give people in the Narungga electorate another candidate option which hopefully also lines up with their belief system," she said. "By standing in the Lower House, I hope it will also help get votes for Upper House representatives Tom Kenyon and Deepa Mathew." Ms Joyce has recently completed a diploma in counselling and said she puts the wellbeing of the community first. "I think coming from a good conservative farming family background has given me an honest, down-to-earth approach to life," she said. "I have a genuine concern for people's wellbeing and a listening ear to hear what people have to say. "I have also been very involved in the area of education, from being the chairperson to start the Mid North Christian College in Port Pirie to the SEO of Christian Education National in SA and WA. "I was also on the board of the Northern Territory Christian School Association."

Taking Stock of the Upper House

YORKE Peninsula Council elected member Tania Stock is running for a Liberal Party seat in the Legislative Council at the upcoming state election.

Originally from Orroroo, Mrs Stock and husband Geoff run a broadacre cropping property at Sandilands and a sheep grazing property at Naracoorte.

Mrs Stock has served as an elected member for the past six years and is currently deputy mayor.

According to Mrs Stock, her life experiences have equipped her well for this opportunity.

“My experience in human resources consulting roles has provided me with an appreciation of how crucial our major employers are to our state, creating direct and indirect opportunities for the growth and development of small businesses which are the key to job creation,” Mrs Stock said.

“As a mother, dedicated community volunteer, elected member and farmer, I understand the complexities of running a small business, and in particular, the unique challenges which face rural and regional South Australians.

“I have championed our council’s decision-making to be led by the wishes and direction of our community.

“To ensure the delivery of good governance, it is vital for all levels of government to listen and understand the needs of our communities.”

Mrs Stock, who is listed number six on the Liberal Party’s ticket, said she would continue to act as a passionate advocate for the protection of rights and interests of farming communities if elected.

“Agriculture is a key economic driver for our state and governments must play a vital role in unlocking the full potential of SA’s primary production and agribusiness sectors,” she said

“Now, more than ever in our current environment of global uncertainty, we need to ensure a strong and secure future for our primary industries to protect our prized reputation for our high quality and reliable food production.

“The recent announcement of a $378 million investment in plant-based food production, supported by $65m from the Marshall Liberal Government, is an exciting opportunity for our agriculture industry.”

Mrs Stock said growing up in a hardworking Liberal family had instilled in her the party’s commitment to free enterprise, freedom of speech and reward for hard work.

“The Marshall Liberal Government has consistently delivered for the Narungga electorate including more than $200m in road funding and significant investment towards many other much-needed projects for our hospitals, schools and sporting clubs,” Ms Stock said.

“If you want certainty and a stronger future for you and your family, this election is your chance to make that happen by voting Liberal.

“I seek your support to continue to grow our state by voting for me in the Legislative Council.”

FAMILY SUPPORT... Yorke Peninsula Council elected member, deputy mayor and Sandilands broadacre farmer Tania Stock is banking on the support from husband Geoff and sons Nicholas and Harrison as she bids for a spot in the state Legislative Council.

Sonia's Ukrainian love

Patrick Goldsmith
REPORT BY

FOR Sonia Kisielecki, of Port Hughes, the current situation in Ukraine feels like history repeating.

Russia launched an invasion on its eastern neighbour earlier this month, in scenes reminiscent of those which forced Mrs Kisielecki's family to leave Europe during World War II.

Mrs Kisielecki still has ties to Ukraine, with niece Halina living in Vinnytsia, in the country's west.

With conflict looming, Halina recently reached out to her family to find a way to Australia, but has been unable to do so amid difficult international laws.

The cousin of Mrs Kisielecki's husband Mick, lives in Lviv — his two sons have been forced into "taking arms" and serving the country.

"In 1939 my parents had to leave their land and go elsewhere, and now 83 years later, Ukraine is under siege again from a megalomaniacal leader," she said.

"That's how sadly we feel about it, the loss of life and the loss of beautiful culture the country has, is devastating.

"The whole Ukrainian community is grieving, because there would not be one of us (Ukrainian) here who doesn't have connections over there."

Mrs Kisielecki said the distance and connection difficulties make the matter harder to deal with.

"I try to ring Ivan (Mick's cousin) on the phone so at least there's contact to know everything is okay, but no answer," she said.

"We feel very helpless over here, I mean what can we do?"

"The power of prayer, vigils, getting together and talking about it is essentially all we've got at the moment."

"I hope it doesn't evolve into World War III and I hope he (Russian president Vladimir Putin) isn't going to go and take back those countries that were once (part of the USSR) and that Ukraine isn't the beginning of that domino effect.

"His own people don't want it."

HURTING... While members of her Ukrainian family struggle through the Russian invasion of their country, Sonia Kisielecki, of Port Hughes, is stuck helplessly on the other side of the world.

Driving long distance gets riskier with age.

Don't stop driving by accident.

Germein nominated in international contest

Sonny Coombs
JOURNALIST

SOUTH Australian indie pop/rock band Germein has been recognised in the International Songwriting Competition.

The competition is an annual song contest which aims to provide the opportunity for aspiring and established songwriters to have their songs heard in a professional and international arena.

The trio, which consists of sisters Georgia, Ella and Clara Germein, has a close connection to Yorke Peninsula.

Germein's latest single Good For A Girl has been announced as a semifinalist in four categories including pop/top 40, music video, lyrics and unsigned.

"We are stoked to be recognised as semifinalists in this prestigious global competition, having our song chosen out of 21,000 entries, it really means so much to us," Georgia said.

"It would be unreal to win this competition, to be selected by an amazing line-up of judges including some of our favourites including Coldplay, Joe Hahn from Linkin Park, and Jeremiah Fraites from The Lumineers would be a massive honour."

Georgia said she is drawn to reflect inwardly on her thoughts and feelings, so songwriting has always been a positive way to express herself.

"It's always been a very freeing experience, we are especially grateful that other people can connect with our songs too," she said.

"We write our songs mostly from our own personal experiences, but also like to tell other people's stories sometimes too."

"Good For A Girl touches on some of our personal challenges being an all-female band in today's music industry."

The band recalled a soundcheck on a national tour when the sound guy told them they were "pretty good for girls."

"We wanted to write a song that would help tackle these stereotypes, and give a voice to anyone who might be going through a similar experience," Ella said.

Germein is also gearing up for its headline show at the Adelaide Fringe Festival on March 15 at Gluttony, followed by a show at the Auburn Courthouse Outdoor Garden on March 19.

Vaccine mandates ease for some sectors

VACCINE mandates for SA Police and healthcare workers have been replaced with a managerial direction to allow more people back into the workforce.

It will require officers who have not received two doses of an approved vaccine to undertake a rapid antigen test at the start of their shift, and wear a properly fitted respirator-style mask for the duration of their shift.

Police commissioner Grant Stevens said more than 98.5 per cent of the South Australian police force was vaccinated.

"Whilst the managerial direction enables unvaccinated employees to return to their substantive duties, there will be some limitations regarding their ability to attend some settings such as residential aged care facilities, disability facilities and the forensic science building," he said.

"Unvaccinated healthcare workers on a single occasion or on an infrequent and irregular basis will need to produce a negative rapid antigen test either the day of or 24 hours prior to going to work, and wear appropriate PPE.

"The change in rules allows unvaccinated officers to attend call outs at emergency departments.

"The rules will also affect businesses such as florists or food delivery, who attend hospitals for one-off visits.

"However, unvaccinated officers will not be allowed into South Australian venues with vaccine mandates such as Adelaide Oval.

"All of those particular circumstances will be managed by their frontline supervisors."

Mr Stevens has suggested the state could be free from most Covid restrictions by the beginning of April when the state's emergency declaration expires.

EVs charging ahead on YP

Nigel Parsons
JOURNALIST

YORKE Peninsula is set to receive three new fast electric vehicle charging stations.

Kadina, Ardrossan and Edithburgh will benefit after the state government awarded the RAA a $12.4 million grant to construct and operate Australia's first state-wide rapid EV charging network.

The network will comprise 536 fast and rapid charging points across 140 sites in 52 rural, regional and metropolitan service locations; construction is expected to begin by midyear.

YP's three new sites will add to the 11 already in operation between Port Broughton and Marion Bay.

RAA managing director Ian Stone said the state-wide charging network was a historical moment in the transition to EVs.

"RAA believes EVs are the future of motoring, and our research shows almost 80 per cent of motorists would consider buying an electric vehicle," Mr Stone said.

"The maximum distance between charging points will be around 250-kilometres — well within the range of a typical EV battery.

"We know drivers' enthusiasm for EVs is curbed by the availability of charging points, so this new network will go a long way to allaying that range anxiety."

RAA's future mobility senior manager Mark Borlace said the network will be a mix of super-fast and fast charging stations.

"We've been pushing for more infrastructure for EVs for some time now," Mr Borlace said.

"Any charging stations on the highways will be the superfast chargers because they'll be in places where people want to get in, get charged and then get out.

"Inside the towns, off the highway, will be slightly slower ones and they will be in places where you are likely to get out and shop for an hour or so while your car charges."

Murdock Mitsubishi principal Michael Murdock said there are still obstacles in the way for the rural use of electric vehicles.

"Until there are more rapid charging outlets where there is money to be made and the private sector get involved, it will be government and RAA charging stations, and that won't help me sell more electric cars," he said.

"I genuinely believe at this stage the plug-in hybrid is the answer for rural Australia.

"Depending on how you go about it, you can get less than two litres per 100 km fuel efficiency and nearly 60 km on electric mode per charge.

"In the cities full electric makes sense but out here plug-in hybrids make more sense."

CHARGING FORWARD... Murdock Mitsubishi principal Michael Murdock thinks plug-in hybrid vehicles hold the key in the short to medium term on Yorke Peninsula while the RAA is keen to start construction on its state-wide rapid electric vehicle charging network.

Bute's beloved hall closes in on 100

Fin Hansen
REPORT BY

CELEBRATIONS for the Bute Soldiers' Memorial Hall Centenary celebrations will be held from Friday to Sunday, March 11-13.

The event will commence with a barbecue luncheon and live entertainment provided by The Kadina Wallaroo Moonta Band on the lawn between the memorial hall and Bute RSL sub-branch from 12.30pm on Friday.

The hall will then be opened to the public where they'll be treated to a Cornish furry dance, performed by Bute Early Learning and Primary School students.

Later in the afternoon, ABC TV show Gardening Australia presenter Sophie Thomson will speak to students about garden and vegetable opportunities at school.

A history display will be viewable, with afternoon tea options available in the hall until about 4pm.

Bute Soldiers' Memorial Hall Centenary committee member Cynthia Axford said the weekend will highlight the importance of the hall to the Bute district across the past 100 years.

"The regal old building means so much to us, as it did to the World War I soldiers — now it is up to us to look after it," she said

"The hall has hosted RSL diggers and debutante balls, old style dances, fetes, concerts, lodge installations, wedding receptions, Bute Lions Club hand-over dinners, Rural Youth balls and sporting club fundraisers.

"Many of these events will be captured in photographic displays around the walls for those interested in the hall's history.

"We are fundraising to upgrade the stage curtains, one of many projects to be completed in the hall.

"Donations from former and current residents of Bute who had an association with the hall will be gratefully received."

Mrs Axford said a $300,000 upgrade last year, initiated by Barunga West Council, breathed new life into the building and has allowed it to become safe for the public to enjoy once again.

"The hall is the heartbeat of our town and has been for a long time," she said.

"I encourage everyone interested in the history of Bute to come and support our local community groups whilst celebrating the hall's history."

To book tickets to the Bute Soldiers' Memorial Hall Centenary or for further information, contact Cynthia Axford on 0438 262 330.

100 MEMORABLE YEARS... Bute History Group members Allan and Cynthia Axford, Maxine Rose and Elizabeth McDonald are looking forward to the Bute Soldiers' Memorial Hall Centenary after coming up with the idea to celebrate the milestone last year.

Saturday activities

TICKETS are still available for two, two-hour presentations by ABC Gardening Australia presenter Sophie Thomson on Saturday.

The morning session will shed light on how gardening has evolved in recent years and the afternoon focus will be on the therapeutic and mental health benefits of working with nature.

Tickets range from $45 for a single session and $20 for lunch or $90 for the entire day, plus ticket-holders will have opportunities to chat with Mrs Thomson throughout the day.

Bute History Group member Elizabeth McDonald said the mental health session would be particularly topical.

"Mental health is important now more than ever, especially after our ageing community has been isolated for so long," she said.

"The soldiers got nothing in terms of support when they returned from war, and lots are still suffering.

"We need to try and normalise mental health conversation in our community."

Bute Soldiers' Memorial Hall Centenary committee member Cynthia Axford said it was a rare opportunity to host such a well-known and passionate speaker as Ms Thomson.

Sunday activities

A DRESSING the Graves Ceremony at the Bute Cemetery will honour five World War I soldiers on Sunday.

Mrs Mary Devitt, who laid the original Foundation Stone at the Bute Soldiers' Memorial Hall, will also be commemorated.

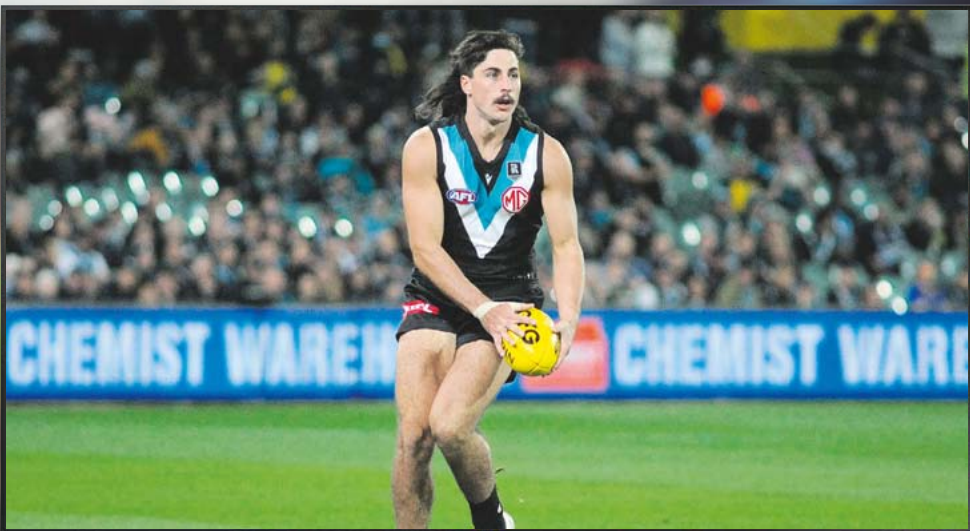

Locals and visitors are encouraged to gather at the cemetery shelter, where the KWM Band will play from 10am until the ceremony at 10.30am.

A relative or friend of each fallen soldier will lay a floral tribute, framed photo featuring the soldier's war service and a red poppy on each grave.

Doctor, doctor Practice pulls out

MEDICAL HQ Maitland is the latest medical practice to withdraw from servicing its local hospital. Previously GP clinics at Wallaroo, Kadina and Moonta had stepped away from the Wallaroo Hospital due to staffing pressures, with Maitland making the shift in late November.

Practice manager Michelle Nelligan said her general practitioners had been reducing their time at the hospital because of increased demands.

"Our last doctor finally made the decision they could no longer cover it either," Ms Nelligan said.

"It was a hard decision but, due to increased demands of Covid and the shortage of doctors, they felt they couldn't do it anymore."

Maitland Hospital has had its share of staffing issues in the past year, with several reports of nursing staff running the emergency department with the support of MedSTAR and SAAS paramedics when locums were unavailable.

A Yorke and Northern Local Health Network spokesperson said the hospital will continue to be staffed by locums and an Ardrossan general practitioner.

"All patients presenting to Maitland Hospital are assessed and treated according to their clinical needs, with trained nursing staff able to access SAVES when required and support from MedSTAR and SAAS paramedics," they said.

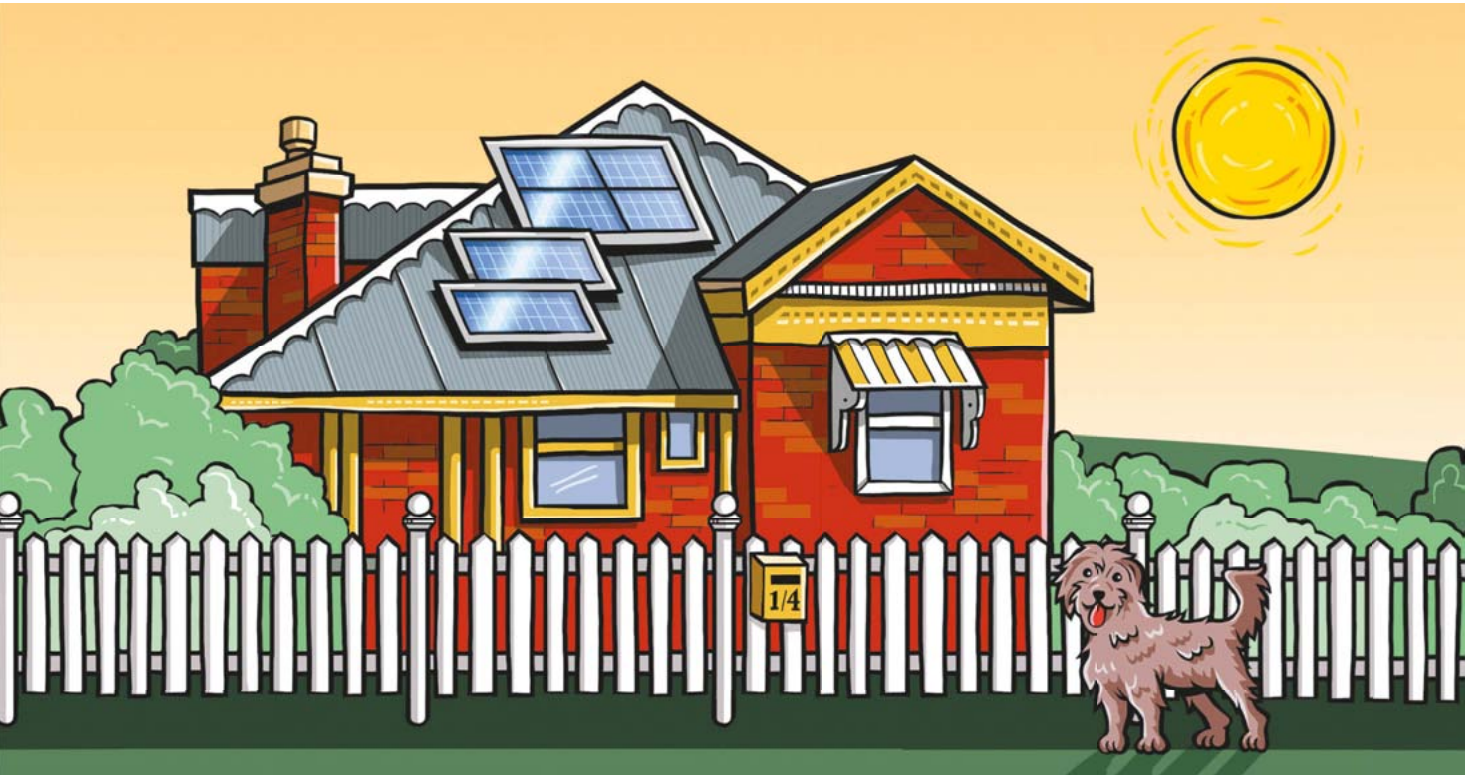

"We work with our locum providers and local general practitioners to ensure we can cover any unplanned leave."

"We continue to work closely with local medical practices and locum providers to cover the roster and source locums when needed, in line with the Enterprise Agreement, to ensure ongoing medical support for the hospital."

"Nursing staff are trained in triaging all presentations and are able to access SAVES for category three, four and five presentations."

"We thank our staff for their hard work and ongoing commitment to provide the best possible care for our patients."

This comes as SA Health is close to finalising the recruitment process for three salaried rural generalist practitioner positions to replace the locum model as recommended in the state's Rural Health Workforce plan.

WALLAROO Hospital is now offering a chaplaincy service.

Copper Coast Baptist Church, Wallaroo, Pastor Arthur Tzanakis and Wallaroo Hospital director of nursing and midwifery Sue Watkins have been collaborating about the project for the past 18 months.

After hiccups due to Covid-19, the service officially begins this month.

"The role of the chaplain will be to provide religious services, spiritual guidance and counselling to those in need," Pastor Tzanakis said.

“A chaplain who works in a hospital can provide counselling and spiritual guidance for patients, their families and hospital staff.

"The essential service will be a 24-hour-a-day, on-call service with a holistic approach."

Mrs Watkins said it was a collaboration between the hospital and the churches on the Copper Coast to provide an essential service to the community.

"We're excited for the consumers to have this additional service they can access," she said.

"It is the first of its kind on the Copper Coast and I think other sites will be keen to explore their options."

“Patients can self-refer to the service and brochures will be handed to them with their arrival pack.

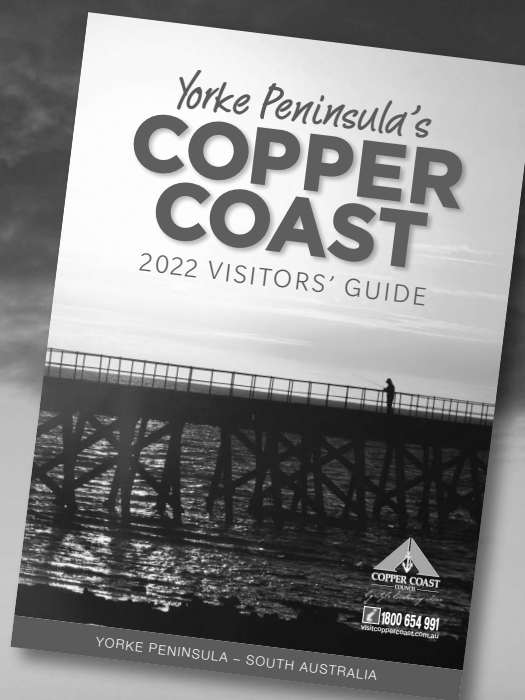

“People can also ask their healthcare provider about the program to organise a visit.”

The service will be provided by senior pastors or ministers who form part of the Association of Copper Coast Chaplains.

Services will include support for patients, caregivers and staff in the event of a major trauma, bereavement counselling, provision of pastoral care and referral support for drug and alcohol counselling, and mental health support.

NEW SERVICE... Copper Coast Baptist Church, Wallaroo, Pastor Arthur Tzanakis and Wallaroo Hospital director of nursing and midwifery Sue Watkins are pleased to be collaborating about the new chaplaincy service at the hospital.

Funding promised for Wallaroo PS

FUNDING for new classroom projects at Wallaroo Primary School has been promised if the Liberal Party wins the March 19 state election.

Transportable buildings at the site would be replaced at a cost of more than $840,000.

The local investment is part of a $38.8 million package to replace buildings across state schools.

Liberal candidate for Narungga Tom Michael said this funding was important because schools are the cornerstones of our communities.

“Wallaroo Primary is important to me and the Marshall Liberal team,” Mr Michael said.

“Our children and young people deserve a world class education that gives them the skills they need for great jobs and exciting careers here in South Australia.

“A re-elected Marshall Liberal Government is committed to building a stronger future and creating more opportunities for our children by investing $843,000 to upgrade the Wallaroo Primary School facilities.

“It is part of a new program that will see outdated facilities at schools around South Australia replaced with world class modern modular learning areas.”

Minister for Education John Gardner said the upgrades are part of an ongoing program for retiring outdated facilities and upgrading school learning environments.

Funding for the project will come from existing department resources which were previously unallocated.

“These modern modular facilities would enhance the way teachers deliver lessons and improve learning opportunities for students,” Mr Gardner said.

“These new buildings won’t just provide excellent learning environments, they will also support the building industry and local jobs.

“We want to make those tired transportables from the ’50s and ’60s a thing of the past.

“I look forward to seeing these outdated buildings transported to their final resting place.

“This is an investment in our state’s future, helping our children get the skills they need to set them on the pathway to future success.”

Ella's ride for MND SA

Sonny Coombs
JOURNALIST

RIDE FOR A CAUSE... Ella Fleming, formerly of Port Broughton, will ride from Port Broughton to Melbourne in 2023 to raise money and awareness for Motor Neurone Disease SA.

ELLA Fleming is gearing up to cycle from Port Broughton to Melbourne, in honour of her uncle Phil Tod.

The almost 900-kilometre ride will recreate a journey Ella’s uncle made before his battle with motor neurone disease.

“My Uncle Phil rode to Melbourne from Port Broughton to visit my mum Fiona Fleming who was living in Melbourne at the time in the late ’80s,” Ella said.

“It was a spur of the moment idea, he approached the ride as a novice in football shorts, a tank top, thongs and a back pack.

“His bike was no more than steel and rubber and it was in the middle of summer.

“I want to recreate this ride with a tad better bike, more safety equipment and a slightly cooler climate in order to raise money for Motor Neurone Disease SA.”

Ella, who is an emergency nurse, plans to make the trek in March 2023.

“I will be riding with my husband Michael aiming to average about 100 kilometres per day,” she said.

“We don’t have a specific time frame in mind but we want to finish the ride and get there safely, whilst being challenged and having fun.

“We will have some cameo appearances along the way including some of my nursing and medical colleagues, family and friends.

“My mum is going to follow us to help keep us safe and carry our equipment.”

Ella said she is a novice rider and is seeking advice and guidance from the community.

“The good thing about the cycling community is everyone seems to be positive and are very open to helping me,” she said.

“I’ve started by riding locally to and from work around Adelaide, I ride pretty much every opportunity I get.

“I’m planning an Adelaide to Port Broughton round trip to visit my family and also help with training.”

Landscape boards commit to reconciliation

THE state's nine landscape boards have made a strong commitment to reconciliation and to strengthening partnerships with First Nations people across the state.

Board chairs recently signed a historic Statement of Commitment, marking a formal pledge to collaborate with First Nations in working toward statewide landscape priorities.

The statement was developed in consultation with cultural authorities including the First Nations Coordinating Committee and SA Native Title Services.

It comprises 12 commitments to guide how each board will embed First Nations partnerships and expertise in delivering regional landscape plans.

"Each of the nine Landscape SA regions encompass rich and diverse cultural stories and histories," chairperson of the collective landscape board chairs David Greenhough said.

"Through signing this statement each board is committing to build stronger relationships with Aboriginal people and organisations in SA, and supporting their greater economic prosperity and wellbeing. Ultimately, we are committed to looking after our land, water and people together.

"We have worked with First Nations authorities to ensure the statement genuinely honours the intent of reconciliation and the Closing the Gap principles, and reflects our pledge to deliver."

The Statement of Commitment emphasises the boards' ongoing dedication to collaborate and partner with the First Nations people of the region.

Previously, the boards had formed an Aboriginal Engagement Committee and facilitated Healthy Country Planning.

"Healthy Country Planning and the boards' Aboriginal Engagement Committee provide genuine and practical opportunities to listen to a range of voices from First Nations communities," Northern and Yorke Landscape Board Aboriginal partnerships officer Matthew Turner said.

"The rich information generated through these processes is fundamental in setting the boards' priorities and the development of on-ground programs."

COMMITMENT... The nine chairs of South Australia's landscape boards have signed a historic Statement of Commitment with First Nations people across the state. At the signing were, back: Murraylands and Riverland Landscape Board chairperson Di Davidson, South Australian Arid Lands Landscape Board chairperson Ross Sawers, Kangaroo Island Landscape Board chairperson Andrew Heinrich, Green Adelaide Board chairperson Chris Daniels, Eyre Peninsula Landscape Board chairperson Mark Whitfield; front: Alinytjara Wilurara Landscape Board chairperson Parry Agius, Northern and Yorke Landscape Board chairperson Caroline Schaefer, Hills and Fleurieu Landscape Board chairperson David Greenhough, Limestone Coast Landscape Board chairperson Penny Schulz.

Dedicated delivery

BETTY Beare has been delivering for Meals on Wheels in Kadina for 40 years.

The dedicated volunteer was recently recognised alongside other long-serving members for her efforts.

“I guess I started because someone asked at church fellowship if anybody would like to get involved,” she said.

“Several of us put our hands up at the time but I think I’m the only one left.”

At 91, Mrs Beare is older than some of the people to whom she delivers.

“When I started, we had four rounds and we had to go to the high school and pick up a school student who would help us,” she said.

“Then we had to go to the hospital to pick up a billy can full of soup and the like; the first stops probably got a little less than the last one because we had to make sure we had enough.

“I just kept coming back to it because I enjoy it.”

Mrs Beare has seen many changes

during her time with Meals on Wheels — from moving headquarters, to greater meal selections and the amalgamation of the Copper Coast branches as well as different partners.

“It’s just as nice for us as the people we visit,” Mrs Beare said.

“You become very close to some people, you might be the only face they see that day, so you do like to check up on them.

“They don’t know who’s coming to visit them but someone does and they become a bit like family.”

For the past 15 years, Mrs Beare has been joined on her deliveries by daughter Kathryn Thomas.

“I got involved 20 years ago because I wanted to do something to help the community, and I knew Mum was involved,” Mrs Thomas said.

“I’m just very proud of her, it’s a good time we get to share together.

“Mum has a really caring nature and she’s always looking to help people.

Maitland mural unveiled

MAITLAND has marked the beginning of its 150th anniversary celebrations with the unveiling of a mural.

Maitland and District Progress Association unveiled the work on the markets shed, which was created by local artist Lee Polkinghorne, last Thursday, March 3.

"Maitland will celebrate 150 years in August and we had been looking at doing murals for a while so it's great to be able to unveil this," progress chair Emma Leonard said.

"Lee did a mural for the 100 years celebration on the side of the pharmacy which is sadly long gone and she kindly offered to do another.

"It's an opportunity to showcase our farming heritage and we hope this will be the first of many murals."

Ms Leonard said the project had been funded by the progress association as well as the Maitland Canasta Club and local op shop.

"We don't have silos or water towers; we have sheds and this is a hub so lots of people will see it and its continuing to develop the Heart of Maitland," she said.

"It's absolutely fantastic, Lee has done an amazing job with the painting and we need to thank the men's shed who have done a fantastic job of framing and mounting it."

TOWN ART... John Koenders, artist Lee Polkinghorne and Emma Leonard admire the mural Lee created for the town's 150th celebrations.

Pt Broughton twilight Duck Race Saga continues

PORT Broughton's annual twilight Duck Race Saga is this Sunday, March 13.

Port Broughton Sailing and Boat Club's fundraising event will begin at the foreshore at about 7pm.

Members of the public can purchase one or more of the 260 little racing ducks for $5 each.

"The rubber ducks have been in training for some time and are excited to be racing," boat club member Tricsha Nurk said.

"You can buy your duck at various businesses in town or at the foreshore right before the event, when EFTPOS will be available.

"For the first time, payment will also be accepted via direct deposit (BSB 105003, account 129114240); leave your name and mobile number and we will contact you with your duck numbers."

Using their yellow receipt as proof of ownership, owners can collect their ducks to keep as mementos after racing.

"There are five major prizes, with great prizes donated by Port Broughton businesses, and giveaways for the children, some of whom are third generation participants," Tricsha said.

"The Duck Race Saga, with its unexpected excitement, will be launched into the bay somewhere, depending on the tide and weather.

"Bring a torch just in case the race takes longer than expected and the naughty little ducks cannot be found in the dark."

Money raised by the event will enable the boat club volunteers to provide its programs throughout the year.

For information, contact Tricsha on 0427 970 894 or email pbsbc@hotmail.com.

THE annual Moonta Show 'n' Shine is roaring back to the Moonta Football Oval this Sunday, March 13.

Some of the best looking cars from across the state will be on show from 9am.

Free blues event in Edithburgh

THE Edithburgh tidal pool reserve will be a wave of entertainment this Sunday, March 13.

Performers with strong Yorke Peninsula connections have teamed up to present Twilight Blues at the Burgh.

Artistes include four-piece jazz and blues band Cruizn Blues, Swamp Donkeys, Sarah J, Ugly Rumour and Trav Collins.

“Swamp Donkeys are just as comfortable on stage as they are in a tractor, these farmers have played at some of South Australia’s most iconic venues,” a spokesperson said.

“Yorke Peninsula born and bred, Sarah has played local gigs, mostly weddings plus the occasional winery or local event.

“Ugly Rumour is a four-piece band that plays everything from blues to indie, pop and rock and roll.

“Trav Collins is originally from Marion Bay, and has played at many venues on Yorke Peninsula and further afield.”

Local community groups will provide on-site catering or it’s an easy walk from the tidal pool to the town cafe, hotels and shops.

The free event is organised by the Day at the Burgh committee.

“The last two Day at the Burghs have been either cancelled or significantly modified due to Covid,” the spokesperson said.

“We thought this would be an opportunity for people to come together for a fun outdoor event.”

The free event will be held from 3pm to 8pm with attendees encouraged to bring their own chairs.

FREE EVENT... Kate Martin, John Weekley and Gary Weekley are excited for Edithburgh to host Twilight Blues at the Burgh this Sunday, March 13.

Ardrossan SACWA back again after holiday break

SOUTH Australian Country Women’s Association Ardrossan branch held its first meeting for 2022 on Wednesday, February 9.

Members were excited to catch up again and plan for a busy year ahead, including participating in local markets and holding fundraising raffles.

There was a lovely display of fruit, vegetables and flowers from members’ gardens and one member brought some beautiful hand-crocheted hankies she had made to be used for Mother’s Day.

As in previous years, the branch will have Easter and Mother’s Day raffles, and will sell tickets for these outside the local Drakes Supermarket.

Other ideas include a Mother’s Day stall at one of the Ardrossan Pop-up Markets.

Several members planned to attend the International Women’s Day Brunch hosted by Goyder branch at Paxton Square Cottages, Burra, and the SACWA state council at Loxton.

Ardrossan branch’s next meeting is at the Tiddy Widdy Beach home of member Jose Patrick on Wednesday, March 9.

Itinerary includes a bring-your-own lunch, a short meeting, a singalong and branch arts day; Jose will have a kettle boiling and afternoon tea in her garden afterwards.

The branch’s April 13 meeting starts at 1.30pm in the Ardrossan Meals on Wheels room, where members would love to welcome any local women to drop in for a chat and a cuppa.

Racing club raises toast to new sponsor

Advertising Promotion

AWARD-winning Clare Valley winery Jim Barry Wines has signed a new five-year partnership agreement with the Clare Valley Racing Club.

The brand is now a major sponsor of the club and naming rights sponsor for the November meeting, the Jim Barry Clare Valley Cup.

This comes as the club is preparing for its autumn racing dates, to be held on Sunday, March 13, and Easter Saturday, April 16.

Club chairperson Don Williams said the partnership is a welcome collaboration.

“Jim Barry Wines has been involved with CVRC for close to 50 years of its 132-year history, and we proudly boast Jim Barry as a life member and the Barry family as long-term supporters,” he said.

“It is also a pleasure to work and gain the support of local businesses and brands in the region for our iconic race meets.

“We look forward to working with Jim Barry Wines and the family for the next five years and beyond.”

Jim Barry Wines proprietor Peter Barry said his family was proud to be affiliated with the club.

“My late father Jim had a great passion for horses, which has been woven into our family history,” he said.

“Dad was a horse racing enthusiast, breeding horses for the track, some of which ran at the Clare Racecourse.

“As a result, Jim was intrinsically linked to the industry, and as such, we have chosen to honour him by supporting this iconic country racing club.

“My family and I often look forward to attending the Clare Race Days, in particular the Easter Races, where we have shared many memories with our friends and family over the years.”

Jim Barry Wines will also be featured at the upcoming Clare Valley Family Day, in the Jim Barry Memorial Cup and the 1800m Handicap Race, on Sunday, March 13.

Tickets for the autumn race days are available at www.clareracingclub.com.au.

Gates open at 11.30am with racing to commence at 1pm.

Tickets must be pre booked and the meeting will also be card only for catering.

Minlaton Probus visits Bublacowie Museum

MINLATON Yorke Peninsula Probus Club members ventured to the Bublacowie Military Museum as part of their regular monthly meeting recently.

Host Chris Soar greeted them at the gate and escorted them into the old school building, which contained many yesteryear items including swords, suits of armour, a big display of John Wayne photos and posters, as well as many old pictures and books.

Next they moved into sheds containing more old items such as radios, records and players, sports equipment and electrical items.

Then to the military displays, photos and records of past service people from the immediate southern Yorke Peninsula district, an old spotter plane, restored cars, military vehicles and much, much more.

Chris explained the significance of the memorial garden and memorials to the interested group before heading off into other displays.

Members could have spent much more time at the museum, president Tom Martin said when thanking Chris for allowing them to visit the museum and for his excellent commentary.

Proceeding down the dusty road to Stansbury, members then enjoyed a sumptuous lunch at the Stansbury Dalrymple Hotel and held a short meeting afterward.

The club's annual general meeting, followed by a guest speaker, is on March 18; new members welcome.

Get Stoked this Saturday

YORKETOWN'S young people will be stoked with a free community BMX event this Saturday, March 12.

The Lighthouse Youth Project will hold the Get Stoked BMX workshop at the Yorketown BMX track in Weaner's Flat (adjacent the golf clubrooms).

The workshop follows the success of last year's event, which was held in Edithburgh.

An event spokesperson said it is a community ride day designed to be fun, interactive and incorporate skills and mechanics mentoring for all ages.

"The aim is to share the joy of riding as well as teach basic to advanced skills depending on the individual participant," the spokesperson said.

"The workshops are also designed to encourage young people to use their local riding facilities in a safe, responsible and respectful manner.

"The facilitators actively promote all of the healthy lifestyle benefits that come from cycling including physical and mental wellbeing.

"As part of the workshops, the aim is to continue to build on community spirit and promote inclusion so everyone can enjoy their local riding facilities and the benefits that come from riding a bike."

YORKE PENINSULA'S GUIDE FOR SOLAR

Record rooftop solar energy installations

AUSTRALIA continues to lead the world in uptake of rooftop solar, with three million solar systems installed across the nation.

In 2021, rooftop solar contributed seven per cent of the energy going into the national electricity grid.

By choosing solar energy to power their homes, businesses and community spaces, Australians are helping build a clean energy future and taking control of their power bills.

Minister for Industry, Energy and Emissions Reduction Angus Taylor said it was good to see so many people taking up the opportunity to save on their power bills while helping reduce emissions.

"Australia's three million rooftop solar installations are reducing Australia's emissions by over 17.7 million tonnes and will only increase in the future," he said.

"More than one in four houses and many non-residential buildings have installed small-scale rooftop solar."

With support from the government's Small-scale Renewable Energy Scheme, kindergartens, schools, community centres, pubs, clubs and many homes are enjoying the benefits of rooftop solar.

Assistant Minister for Industry, Energy and Emissions Reduction Tim Wilson said it was great to see Australia leading the way in renewable energy.

"Australia is the global leader in rooftop solar and we're adding up to 2000 small solar installations every business day," he said.

"Solar empowers small businesses and local community groups to cut their costs and emissions."

For more information about installing small-scale solar systems, finding accredited solar retailers and installers and approved products, visit www.cleanenergyregulator.gov.au/.

Bill for cheaper home batteries

AUSTRALIANS would be able to embrace the benefits of renewable energy under a plan by federal politician Dr Helen Haines.

Under Dr Haines' Cheaper Home Batteries Bill, home batteries would be brought into the Small-scale Renewable Energy Scheme.

The Clean Energy Council's Roadmap for a Renewable Energy Future: Federal Election policy recommendations, released in February, highlights the need for a household battery program.

Household batteries have become increasingly popular, with 23,796 Australian homes installing batteries in 2020.

While the cost of household batteries continues to fall, the upfront cost of systems remains a barrier for most Australians.

"There is a role for governments to incentivise battery solutions and drive innovation in business models to support the increased customer uptake of household battery systems," Clean Energy Council chief executive Kane Thornton said.

"This is a move that will reduce the upfront cost of household batteries and accelerate the deployment and development of the household battery industry."

Maitland Garden Club to plan an interesting year

MAITLAND Garden Club held its annual general meeting in February. Margaret Illman reported that, although the group is small, the previous year's program had been varied, including a visit to Jamie and Helly Smith's beautiful garden.

At the zone rally hosted by the Clare club in September, zone coordinator of many years Beryl Crabb was farewelled; her replacement is Rex Herde, of Kadina.

Cherie Greenslade took the chair for the election of the Maitland club's officers for 2022-23, with all previous office bearers returned: Margaret Illman president, Kath Mason vice-president, and Viv Illman secretary/treasurer.

With the Maitland Show just around the corner, members' thoughts turned to the flower sections, cut flowers and floral art.

There are ribbons to be won in the cut flower section and generous cash prizes for floral art, including novices; the juniors have not been forgotten either.

The club's program for the coming year is yet to be arranged but is sure to be interesting; it is not all about flowers and women, men love gardening too so come and share your knowledge.

Get your Maitland Show entries ready

HOW are your entries coming along for this year's Maitland Show on Saturday, March 26?

"Closing dates for entries in many of the sections have changed so be sure to pick up a copy of the show book, which is also on our website, and start planning so you don't miss out," treasurer Heather Drysdale said.

As they need to be sent away for judging, photography is the first to close, on Saturday, March 19.

"Where possible, email your entries to maitlandshow@hotmail.com or post to PO Box 183, Maitland SA 5573, as early as possible," Heather said.

"The office staff can then process your entries and have the paperwork ready for you to collect when you come in, shortening your wait time in the office."

This year, due to staffing shortages, the office opening hours are — Saturday, March 19, 10am-1pm; Monday-Thursday, March 21-24, 3pm-7.30pm, and Friday, March 25, 9am-8pm.

"If you are interested in a particular area of the show, such as flowers, cookery, jams or preserves, and could spare a couple of hours on the Friday before show day and also on show morning we would love to hear from you," Heather said.

"Several of our conveners have indicated this will be the last year they will be able to volunteer due to advancing years and/or ill health, so we need new people to come alongside them and learn the ropes to become conveners.

"If we can't find new conveners, sadly some of the sections will have to be withdrawn in future years, leaving a lot of empty space in our pavilion."

NEW FACES... Doctors Kwan Leung Chia and Anna Kearney joined the team at Kadina Medical Associates last month.

KMA welcomes new faces

KADINA Medical Associates welcomed two new doctors to the practice last month.

Dr Anna Kearney and Dr Kwan Leung Chia both have plenty of experience in regional areas and are enjoying their time in the Copper Coast.

Dr Chia is a rural GP registrar working towards his fellowship with the Royal Australian College of General Practitioners.

Before coming to Kadina, Dr Chia has spent time in Victor Harbor, Mount Gambier, Jamestown and Murray Bridge.

“I’ve worked across different clinical specialties in both Hong Kong and Australia including acute and emergency medicine, paediatrics, and obstetrics and gynecology,” he said.

“I have also received training in public health medicine.

“My clinical interests are emergency medicine, pain management and traditional and alternative medicine including acupuncture.”

Dr Kearney has already spent time in Kadina, completing her registrar year at the practice about 18 months ago.

She returns as a qualified GP/obstetrician and is specialising in women’s health, including contraception, pregnancy, post-natal care and endometriosis.

“My husband and our two boys, who are 5 and 3, have just returned from travelling around South Australia, Northern Territory and Western Australia, working along the way,” she said.

“We really liked the lifestyle here and the beach, we’re loving being on the coast.

“For me, rural practice is great because of the diversity we see and the continuity of care.”

Local childcare educator receives community engagement award

LOCAL childcare educator Susan Sparrow has received the prestigious Community Engagement Award in G8 Education's 2021 National Standout Educator Awards.

Lead educator at Community Kids Kadina, Ms Sparrow was selected from G8 Education's 9500 employees nationally for the award, recognising her connections and relationships with the wider Kadina community.

The awards acknowledge outstanding achievements of people working for G8 Education, one of Australia's largest private providers of early childhood education and care.

Ms Sparrow has worked and built relationships to connect her centre with local community members, including creating opportunities for children to learn about culture and country with First Nations community members.

A lifelong Copper Coast local, Ms Sparrow said she was thrilled to be honoured with such an award.

G8 Education CEO and managing director Gary Carroll said award winners were selected for representing a commitment to excellence and care amid the challenges of Covid-19.

"Our National Standout Educator awards give our teams and families the opportunity to highlight the work our educators do to provide a wonderful learning experience for children across Australia," Mr Carroll said.

"The Community Award is given to an individual who demonstrates an ongoing commitment to promoting safety at the forefront of our practice in our centres.

"Susan is a deserving recipient of this award, as she became the Community Ambassador for her centre, and she has been able to foster genuine relationships which have grown such wonderful results of the children connecting with the wider community."

Ms Sparrow was recognised for her achievements in a virtual award ceremony alongside recipients in five other categories, the six national winners selected from 36 regional finalists.

CHILDCARE AWARD... Susan Sparrow, who works as lead childcare educator at Community Kids Kadina, has received a community engagement award.

Port Pirie smelter's $750m green hydrogen project

A LANDMARK $750 million hydrogen project will be integrated with the Nyrstar Port Pirie smelter.

The Marshall Government, partnered with Trafigura, unveiled the project earlier this month.

Both parties have committed $2.5m to accelerate the investment and jobs boom the project will deliver to Port Pirie.

"We've been working closely together on how they could invest further in South Australia, and we are thrilled to unveil this world class project," Premier Steven Marshall said.

"The project is part of the ongoing transformation of South Australia into a producer of green hydrogen of global significance based on our outstanding renewable energy resources.

"My government has dialed up the state's intention to lead the way by achieving net-100 per cent renewables by 2030 and a 50 per cent cut to emissions by 2030, detailed in our climate change plan."

Minster for Energy and Mining Dan Van Holst Pellekaan said the project is a great opportunity for the people of Port Pirie and the Upper Spencer Gulf.

"The South Australian Government's Hydrogen Action Plan will turn our world-class wind and sun resources into clean fuel to run shipping and trucking fleets, and power industry here and abroad," Mr Van Holst Pellekaan said.

"Our vision is a Renewable Energy Industrial Precinct in the Spencer Gulf — incorporating Port Pirie, Port Augusta, Whyalla and our world-class copper resources, to support jobs for generations to come."

The project will allow other industries to be established at Port Pirie to make use of the available hydrogen and ammonia, whilst improving the competitiveness of the smelter.

SA Country side for YP netballers

Peter Argent
REPORT BY

YP netball talents Georgina Farrow and Emily Bajcarz have been selected to play for SA Country in a pre-season tournament at the Netball SA courts, Mile End, on Sunday, March 27.

Circle defender Farrow was a member of the CMS Crows A grade side which defeated CY Cougars by the smallest of margins in last year's YPNA season decider.

She spent the majority of the season in the B grade and also played for Stansbury in the SYP Friday night competition.

"When I filled out the forms, I didn't think it (being selected in this team) would ever happen," Farrow said.

"This is certainly my highest personal accolade in the game.

"I did play for the Southern Yorke Peninsula at under 17s level and was a member of the senior team last year.

"I played basketball alongside Emily at Stansbury, so it will be good to have someone I know in the team."

Former Yorketown junior netballer Bajcarz is currently playing netball in Whyalla, also winning a premiership with Kiwi Netball Club and being named GK in the Team of the Year.

"I'm a circle defender and can play either the goal defence or goal keeper role," she said.

"This is (selection in the SA Country Team) one of the biggest achievements of my career so far.

"I play for the love of the game and the social aspects.

"My mentor was my mum, Kathy.

"Whilst I was studying, I played three years in town with the Pembroke Old Scholars.

"Before that I had two years — the 2016 and 2017 seasons — playing A grade for the Southern Eagles.

"My junior netball started on the courts at Yorketown."

South Clare champion and long-time star of the country championships Katie Lielbelt will be the playing coach, while hardworking Northern Areas Netball Association representative Mary Hewett, of Port Broughton, is the team manager.

SPECIAL MOMENT... Maitland's Mackenzie and Michael McCauley lined up together for West Torrens on Saturday.

Father-daughter duo makes the grade

Peter Argent
REPORT BY

Maitland's Michael and Mackenzie McCauley made history for West Torrens Cricket Club on Saturday, March 5.

The father and daughter lined up for the Eagles in their SACA men's fourth grade clash against Adelaide Buffaloes, believed to be a first in SACA grade cricket.

"It was a good experience and I enjoyed it immensely," Michael said.

"We have played a few games together at home for Maitland Lions.

"To be playing in the SACA grade competition alongside Mackenzie was a pretty special event for the family.

"For me, it was 32 years between games at SACA grade cricket level.

"I'd previously played through the grades at Prospect and Port Adelaide and it was my debut for West Torrens at 54."

The Buffaloes batted first and made a strong total of 6/234.

Up and coming leg spinner Mackenzie was the pick of West Torrens' bowlers, with 3/52 off seven overs.

There was much discussion on the car journey home about the batting exploits of the pair.

Mackenzie was dismissed for one and Michael endured the pain of a second ball duck.

The cricket bloodlines are strong in the family with Mackenzie's aunt Andrea a former Australian test and one day player.

AFL... Caleb Poulter is getting ready to begin his second season of AFL football with Collingwood.

AFL season preview

Peter Argent
REPORT BY

There are three Yorke Peninsula players on AFL lists ahead of the 2022 season. Bute's Lachlan Jones and Ardrossan's Caleb Poulter enter their second year in the system with Port Adelaide and Collingwood respectively. The Power are gunning for a top four spot again. After playing six games and being hindered by injury in his first season, Jones will be fighting to become a regular member of Port Adelaide's back seven defensive rotations. Already a fan favourite with his mullet hair-cut and uncompromising attack on the football, this is a great opportunity for Jones to cement his position in the side. Jones averaged a respectable 13.5 disposals in the six games he played in 2021. Port Adelaide travel to the Gabba for their round one game, taking on Brisbane on Saturday, March 19. Collingwood has appointed a rookie coach, triple Brisbane premiership small forward Craig McCrae, and is in a rebuilding mode. Noted for his penetrating kick, Poulter played 11 games in his inaugural season with the Pies under Nathan Buckley. He played his first game in round seven against the Gold Coast Suns. This season Poulter will be vying for a role on a wing with veteran Steele Sidebottom and young gun Josh Daicos. He had a strong performance against Hawthorn in the trial match at Morwell and spent last weekend in the VFL side, playing solidly again against Essendon. Collingwood starts its minor round against St Kilda at the MCG in a Friday night blockbuster. Port Broughton's George Hewett was recruited from Sydney after 120 games to Carlton. Hewett and fellow recruit Adam Cerra from Fremantle will add strength, maturity and flexibility to the Carlton midfield. At just 26, Hewett is a hardened AFL footballer in the prime of his career. He debuted against Collingwood back in round one 2016, played in an AFL grand final in his first season and played his milestone 100th game in round one 2021. As Carlton is looking to play major round football under a new coaching regime this year, expect Hewett to be a key component. The Blues start their season with a clash against Richmond at the MCG on Thursday, March 17.

Local umpires refine skills

Central Zone hosted a successful Umpires Training Day at Snowtown on Sunday, March 6. About 50 umpires from across the zone, including about eight from Yorke Peninsula, were able to refine their skills and knowledge across the morning. SANFL umpiring manager Shane Harris held a workshop to explain a range of rules and interpretations. Central Zone umpiring coordinator Micheal Cogan said Harris was good in walking the local umpires through some different tips and tricks. "He (Harris) stressed the importance of getting into the right positions to give yourself the best opportunity to make good decisions," Cogan said. "He showed some game scenarios on a screen and got everyone to write down what decisions they'd make. "I think all the umpires took a fair bit out of the day, which they can each take back to their leagues. "We also had some young umpires out who are pushing up the ranks now, which is really promising. "Thanks to Blyth Snowtown Football Club for hosting the day and putting on a great roast for everyone." To express your interest in becoming an umpire, contact Micheal Cogan on 0408 699 900.

Saturday competition

DIVISION I

Living up to its reputation of being able to hit top form at finals time, Kadina won Saturday's second semi-final against top side Moonta at Moonta, 104-95 with three teams up.

Like a quality racehorse, Kadina continues to prove itself a strong contender in finals.

Derrick Bushell's and Bruce Hines's teams both won 31-25, and Phil Miller's team won 23-18. Don Bennett's team was Moonta's only winner.

Kadina now progresses straight to the grand final and Moonta meets with first semi winner Wallaroo White in the preliminary final.

Wallaroo White won all four rinks against Bute in the first semi at Kadina, 23 shots up overall.

Both sides have artificial playing surfaces so the lawn would have been a challenge, and they also had to contend with the wind, an extra test for Wallaroo White, which is used to playing indoors.

Wallaroo may have been lacking confidence going into the semifinal after finishing the minor round in third and being hit with players unavailable because of Covid but, with all teams up in the first semi, it will go into the preliminary more self-assured.

What a game the preliminary final will be!

Wallaroo White player Mick Hayes finished the minor round on top of the players' ladder for the third consecutive season.

Mick usually plays lead to Brian Smith and played all 18 minor rounds in 2021-22; he joined Wallaroo after playing many years for Moonta.

Second-placed Steve Eichenberger from the Moonta club was two shots behind Mick.

DIVISION II

The second semifinal was a Moonta Red v Moonta Blue derby.

Top-of-the-ladder Red played that way to defeat Blue 114-77 with all teams up. For Red, Graeme Dunstan's team took out the honours of the biggest win 36-20.

In the first semi, Kadina was too good for Wallaroo Mines out at Bute. Bill McFarlane, Jan Spry, John May and Donald Thomas had the biggest win of the day, 43-18.

Kadina will now play Moonta Blue in the preliminary final.

DIVISION III

Again, Moonta displayed its dominance, with three sides in third division's top four.

Moonta Red defeated Moonta Blue 68-56 in the second semi local derby, and Moonta White defeated Wallaroo White 64-54 in the first semi.

Moonta White now plays Moonta Blue in another local derby for the preliminary final at Moonta.

Semifinals results 5-3-22

This week

DIVISION I

Who can pick the winner out of Moonta and Wallaroo White?

The game being played at Port Broughton is certainly not giving an advantage to either side.

Wallaroo will have to wait to see if Covid has spread.

Moonta would have had a shock losing but it may be the loss it needed to have.

Both are good sides and both have some brilliant bowlers.

At the toss of the coin, I will tip Moonta to have another go at Kadina in the grand final.

DIVISION II

Moonta Blue plays Kadina at Wallaroo.

Each has had a win during the season; seeing the game is at Wallaroo I will go for Moonta Blue.

DIVISION III

Moonta Blue will win the derby against Moonta White.

Preliminary finals

DIVISION I

DIVISION II

Moonta Blue v Kadina, at Wallaroo.

DIVISION III

Moonta Blue v Moonta White, at Moonta.

Thursday competition

Moonta Red and Arthurton have won their ways through to the grand finals in the green and gold divisions respectively.

Both finished the minor rounds top of the ladder, where they had been for most of the season, earning the right to play their second semifinals on their home greens.

DIVISION I GREEN

Moonta Red won by seven shots against Wallaroo. Both sides had two teams up but it was the team of Sharon Cavanagh, Sandra Barker, Helen Andrew and Riki Bartlett (28-8) that swayed the momentum to Moonta.

Over the years, Moonta Red has been a strong side and is still the side to beat.

At the time of going to print, Wallaroo's preliminary final opponent and the match venue are not known.

DIVISION I GOLD

Arthurton was too good for Paskeville. Bev Mullins, Brooke Morris, Jennie Barton and Noreen Atkinson played extremely well and won 25-9. Arthurton's Alison Adams, Jan Westly, Joy Kitto and Sheryl Davey also played well and won 26-11. Arthurton is a good side and the way it played showed it deserved to go straight into the grand final.

The first semifinal was played at Kadina and, in a very close game, Moonta defeated Wallaroo by two shots.

Both sides had two teams up and the game was even all over. The highest winning margin came from Moonta's Rosemary Smith, Henny Van Pelt, Christine Edwards and Maureen Trenorden 21-16.

This week, Paskeville and Moonta will contest the preliminary final at Wallaroo.

With Covid raising its head as it has over the past week, it is hard to say how the teams will line up.

Semifinals results 3-3-22

Covid cancels open competition

“NN”
REPORT BY

At least two Southern Yorke Peninsula Bowling Association clubs have been impacted by Covid and so, with all games cancelled at the last minute, the greens were empty on Saturday, March 5.

After a breakout earlier in the week, Stansbury Bowling Club had to adhere to strict rules and conditions, including having a deep clean.

When it came time to select sides, it was a matter of scratching deep.

The association delegates met at Yorketown Bowling Club on Saturday evening to discuss the finals, which start this week.

It is planned for the Thursday (women's) semifinals to go ahead, although players and spectators are reminded some clubs, including Port Vincent, have a no jab, no entry (even to watch the game) policy, so check first.

Let us hope that the season will continue as planned.

Thursday competition
Warooka shows form
DIVISION I

In the last minor round games, Warooka defeated Yorketown 91-48 with three rink wins and a draw.

Can Warooka continue its good form to win its first-ever flag, or will Stansbury or Yorketown spoil its party?

Even after defeating Port

Victoria 96-67 (two rinks up), Port Vincent just missed the four.

Defeating Edithburgh 81-64, Curramulka left its run for finals too late.

The executive declared the Stansbury versus Minlaton game a draw due its duty of care responsibilities re Covid.

Top four going into finals is Stansbury, Warooka, Minlaton and Yorketown.

DIVISION II
Edithburgh defeated Warooka by seven shots, and

Port Vincent had the better of Minlaton by nine shots.

BOWLS

Arthurton Thursday: The day turned on some great weather for the Arthurton v Paskeville major (second) semifinal at Arthurton on March 3. The game scores started close then Ali Adams's team (Sheryl Davey, Joy Kitto, Jan Westley) had some successful ends finishing with 26-11. Bev Mullins's team (Noreen Atkins, Jenni Barton, Brooke Morris) also finished strongly for a convincing 25-9. With three teams up, Arthurton finished with a great 83-59 win to advance to the grand final. "Wildoats2"

Kadina: A Covid-depleted Saturday first division travelled to Moonta and had a great battle with the locals. Overall scores were close all the way through, and we managed to sneak in by nine shots, thus making it through to the grand final. The teams of Bruce Hines (Craig Woodward, Phil Gray and Rob Kennett) and Derrick Bushell (Adam Curtis, Graham Wilson, Roger Spry) each had six-shot victories, Phil Miller's team got up by five. Congratulations to Adam, too, first game in first division. Saturday second division travelled to Bute to play Wallaroo Mines in the knockout semi and won with the seemingly comfortable margin of 33 shots. Bill McFarlane and team Don Thomas, John May and Jan Spry were the stars of the day, up by 25 shots. John Kuhl ahead by 11 and Terry McCumiskey ahead by nine made it a good day for the IIs. They'll have to beat Moonta Blue this week to progress. The Wednesday side, having somehow scraped into the four, put up a huge fight in the shed last week but went down by a single shot to Moonta Red. Congratulations to Bruce Hines, the club men's singles champion this season. "Second Wood"

Moonta Thursday: In division I green, Moonta Red played at home against Wallaroo in second semifinal. After a tightly fought match, the outcome could have gone either way, but Moonta got over the line with the scores being 78-71. Marg Chandler 14-23, Joyce Andrew 11-24; Claire Eichenberger 25-16 and best team for Red and for the day with scores of 28-8 was Sharon Cavanagh, Sandra Barker, Helen Andrew, Rikki Bartlett. Moonta now goes straight through to the final. The div I Gold first semifinal was played at Wallaroo between Moonta White and Wallaroo. This was also a close match with Moonta coming away with a win 73-71. Beryl Williams 16-12, Julie Downs 19-25, Maureen Johnson 18-17 and best team for White with scores of 21-16 was Rosemary Smith, Henny van Pelt, Christine

Edwards, Maureen Trenorden. They will be playing the preliminary final against Paskeville at the Wallaroo Bowling Club so anyone who can, make sure to go along and cheer them on. Thank you to everyone who helped in any way to make finals day a great day and supplying cakes and slices for afternoon tea; as usual, there was a great variety. "Woyda"

Moonta Saturday: It was the first week of the finals on March 5 and the club's open competition sides were well placed to make an impact. Division I finished top of the table and met second-placed Kadina with the advantage of the home ground. It was not a happy outcome; the result was in the balance with four ends remaining, losing 95-104 with only one rink up. Best Don Bennett, Sharon Cavanagh, Kevin Sorrell, Andrew Pearson, eight up. Div II Red got the best of Moonta Blue 114-77, all rinks up, to go to the grand final in a fortnight. Best Graeme Dunstan, Rod Bilsborough, John Gibb, Dennis Willshire, 16 up. Div II Blue will play Kadina in the preliminary final for a rematch with Moonta Red. Div III Red was too good for Moonta Blue 68-56 to go into the grand final. Best Ina Coates, Ray Frost, Jeff Salter, Carol Shillabeer, 12 up. Div III Blue has a second chance against Moonta White. Div III White was the good story of the weekend, playing away to Wallaroo White, which had defeated it by 33 shots the week before and having to play one player short, got up 64-54. The rink with the best score was Pauline Jowett, Kath Amos, Pam Parmiter, Maureen Johnson, 16 up. The hero award goes to Trevor Obst, Diane Eylward, Carmen Mena, going down by one shot playing one short. "It's hotting up"

Paskeville: To Ric Schild, Matthew Ward, Jackie Harrop and Judy Bussenschutt, great effort last Sunday in Kadina. Thursday we were not successful at Arthurton but we get to live another day playing Moonta at Wallaroo. Sheryl Millard, Judy Bussenschutt, Clare Rundle and Alison Owen were our only winners, 24-14. Let's hope for a better result this week. Best of luck. "One-eyed Maggie"

Wallaroo Wednesday: We were successful in midweek with the two Wallaroo sides playing off. White had a win with Blue to play this Wednesday. Scores: M Wildash, N Hards, M Johns 24 to J Brennan, R Jolly, G Harper 8; R Kent, P Spiers, B Griffiths, C Oborn 29 to K Godfrey, G Walling, P Rankin, D Carter 25; B Smith, K Robinson 35 to J Page, F Schenck 11. Wallaroo Sailing Club hosts state Tasars

Wallaroo Sailing Club hosted the Tasar State Heats on Saturday and Sunday, March 5 and 6. The fleet for both days consisted of local boats and boats from Adelaide and the weather was cool and cloudy. Two races were held on Saturday in winds gusting around 26 knots. A local crew placed in both the first and the second race. It was a very active day on the water. Winds became more moderate on Sunday but still managed peaks of 26 knots. Two races were held in the morning, allowing for those who needed to travel. It was a very windy but successful weekend, enjoyed by all. It was humbling to see the bottoms of some very capable sailors' boats floating on the course on occasion. Mother Nature is a great leveller. Radio control It was a windy day and all eight starters started with the same rig — the B rig.

It was hard fought sailing with two of the eight failing to finish for various reasons. Bevan Atkins finished strongly with two wins and three seconds beating Max Walker by one point. Sunday is the final round of the six-round Summer Club Championship. There is a battle to fill the first three positions. Interested in sailing or radio control boats? You can do both at the Wallaroo Sailing Club. Drop by on a Sunday and have a chat to our helpful members. MS

Cross Roads indoor cush bowls

Cush bowls is a unique game of indoor carpet bowls. Formed almost 65 years ago at Cross Roads, near Moonta, Cross Roads Indoor Sports Club originally offered several indoor sports; today only cush bowls is played. When another venue had to be found in 1978, the club was able to hire the Moonta Mines Uniting Church hall, where games are still played on Friday nights.

The first come and try/practice night for 2022 was held with good attendance on Friday, March 4. The club welcomed one new interested player. Numbers are down slightly on the 2021 season but the club is hoping more interested people will come forward this week and have a go. Ideally, for good competition (without teams having byes), 12 teams — plus a few fill-in players for when people are away — are needed. It's not too late to come along and join in the fun; age is no barrier. As teams are scheduled to be selected at the second come and try night this Friday, all players are asked to be present. Covid rules apply; all players must have proof of their vaccination. For more information or to arrange a practice, contact Bev 0447 253 103. "Thru the Gap"

YP Harness Racing Club news

Yorke Peninsula Harness Racing Club connections had wins in two of the races at Port Pirie on Friday, March 4. In race 4, the Bagnato Horse Transport Pace over 2050 metres, the Leah Holman-trained Roll With Mustard finished 5.2m ahead of his nearest rival. The win gave Lisa Ryan a driving double for the night, having previously placed first in race 3 with Luv Me Or Hate Me. Roll With Mustard's owner is

GA Long. The best bet of the night was certainly Rosiano and driver Leah Holman in race 5, the 1609m Bob and Angelique Graham — Ram Racer Sulky Pace. Rosiano crossed the line 2.2m ahead of the second-placed horse for trainer J Olds and owners K Grossman, and A and H Olds. Kadina Pony Cup YPHRC will host the Kadina Pony Cup at Globe Derby Park on Saturday, March 12. A group of young inspiring drivers will guide their ponies around the track in four divisions. One of the young drivers will be Hunter Mumford, son of Candice and Todd Mumford, a family well known in the sport of harness racing. The club thanks EAC Animal Care for being the major sponsor for the night and wishes Hunter success with his drives. Pauleen Linke

AFLW

Adelaide held on against Collingwood in a round 9 thriller at The Parade, Norwood, on Sunday, March 6. The Crows defeated the gallant Magpies, 4.6 (30) to 4.4 (28).

Chelsea Biddell, Port Vincent, continued her strong season in defence, taking three contested marks to go with her nine possessions and pair of tackles.

Hannah Button, of Minlaton, was impressive defensively having six tackles, along with seven disposals, six of them kicks.

Younger sister Rachelle Martin, also Minlaton, threw her body in courageously, collecting 11 touches, four kicks and seven handballs, along with taking a couple of marks and laying four tackles.

A plucky Greater Western Sydney outfit charged home with four final quarter goals against Richmond at Giants Stadium, but agonisingly fell eight points short of victory, 7.4 (46) to GWS 6.2 (38) on Saturday, March 5.

Port Broughton's Tait Mackrill was a solid contributor across half forward with seven disposals, five kicks and two handballs. She also took a mark and laid a tackle.

AFL Community Series

A third quarter of Port Adelaide brilliance ensured a Community Series Showdown victory against Adelaide at Richmond Oval on Saturday, March 5.

Five points down at halftime, Port charged away to win 17.9 (111) to 11.8 (74).

Bute boy Lachlan Jones was impressive in the back line, finishing with 22 possessions.

In a fine all-round game, Jones secured nine kicks, 13 handballs, four marks, five tackles and was credited with a clearance.

Carlton hung on for an important team-lifting win against the reigning premier Melbourne at Marvel Stadium last Thursday, March 3.

The Blues were the better team across the majority of the contest, winning 15.8 (98) to 14.9 (93).

George Hewett formed part of a potent midfield group, also featuring Patrick Cripps, Matthew Kennedy and Adam Cerra.

Hewett, of Port Broughton, produced an outstanding start to his first season in navy and white.

He collected 12 disposals in the opening term and finished with an outstanding 33 touches for the match to be among the best players on the ground.

Hewett also recorded 12 kicks and an equal team-high 21 handballs.

SANFLW

North Adelaide proved too powerful for the young Woodville-West Torrens outfit at Elizabeth Oval on Saturday, March 5.

The Roosters kicked five unanswered goals in the third term and ran away with a comprehensive 51-point triumph, 11.5 (71) to 3.2 (20).

Jaimi Tabb, of Moonta, kicked a pair of majors for North and also recorded nine disposals, two marks and five tackles.

For the Eagles, Edithburgh teenager Shineah Goody was a little quieter than usual, especially in the first half, but still finished with 14 possessions.

South Adelaide was vastly superior to 2021 grand finalists West Adelaide, winning by a handsome six-goal margin, 9.10 (64) to 4.4 (28).

Former YP resident Nari Wright continued her robust debut season with a 19-possession performance in this contest.

The diminutive talent added eight tackles and four clearances to her 12 kicks and seven handballs in an excellent all-round effort.

SACA men's first grade

West Torrens clawed their way back into finals participation with a thrilling victory over the lowly Adelaide Buffaloes on Sunday, March 6.

Having fallen out of the top four after the round 12 bye, the Eagles batted first and scrambled to a mid-dling total of 194.

Lachlan Pointon, of Curramulka, made an important and patient 36 in the middle order.

He faced 106 balls, dispatching three boundaries.

Murphy Short, also of Curramulka, made a cameo of 17 (61 balls, 88 minutes) and James Reuther, of Coobowie, remained six not out.

Short and Reuther were the opening bowling partners for the Buffaloes' first innings.

Reuther had fellow teenage dual sporting talent Will Patton caught behind for a first ball duck and finished with of 1/16 from three overs.

The Buffaloes fell 40 runs short in their run chase.

West Torrens batted for 12 overs in a second dig and made 5/83.

Short made 14 not out, hitting a big six among the nine balls he faced.

Woodville finished its season with a win against premiership contender Kensington.

Chasing a handy total of 232, the Peckers achieved the total just five wickets down, after being 2/0 at the start of their innings.

Sunbury lad Blake Gutsche produced a well-compiled 30, in a 62-run second wicket stand with centurion Harvey Brennan.

He hit four boundaries in a 71 minute, 57-ball stay at the batting crease.

Despite a brilliant 130 from Thomas Kelly, Sturt lost to Glenelg by 102 runs in a high scoring contest.

Chasing the Seahorses' 5/359 declared, the Blues were on track at 4/217, before losing their last six wickets for 40 runs.

Kelly's rich vein of SACA first grade form continued with his 130 coming from 138 deliveries, in a three hour and 14-minute stay, where he dispatched 18 boundaries.

His SACA two-day season average is currently 160.40 and across the three forms (two day, 50 over and T20s), he is averaging 102.83.

SACA men's second grade

West Torrens' match against Prospect was reduced to a one-day game because the watering system was left.

The Eagles went down by three wickets, defending 192.

Lachlan Pointon had a solid all-round game, making 33 with the willow and taking 3/55 from 14 overs with the ball.

WNBL

Adelaide Lightning enjoyed a commanding victory against Townsville Fire during the league's Indigenous Round on Saturday, March 5.

The Lightning secured a 21-point win, 78-57.

Skipper Stephanie Talbot, of Kadina, was solid, without having a telling influence on the game, finishing with 10 points, eight rebounds and six assists, along with a pair of steals.

With five games left, the Lightning is currently top of the WNBL premiership ladder.

AFL COMMUNITY SERIES... Lachie Jones was impressive for Port Adelaide in its 111-74 win against Adelaide.

SHOOTING

Maitland Rifle Club: The third round and final stage of the Shobbrook Trophy was held on Saturday, March 5. As the members arrived, it was hard not to notice the twitchy stiff south-south-easterly wind going down the range. When the flags went up the poles it reinforced the notion shooters were going to have to keep a close eye on the wind today. There were six members and one visitor who contested F Standard — Roger Francis secured the best first round school with a handy 58.05 with John Shobbrook next with a 56.00. Three members chose F Open rifles as their preferred class to start the day and Bill Gillis had first round honours with 57.05 while Lynton Wakefield was close behind on 56.03. Greg Klopp and Les Klopp contested target rifle with Greg’s 46.04 edging out Les with 45.04. In the second detail on the F Standard card, John Shobbrook shone through with a very fine 60.05 and Roger next with a 57.02 (Roger waited in a tricky patch of weather for more than four minutes to shoot his ninth and 10th shots) and dropping two points to give John Shobbrook top off-rifle by one point. Other top off-rifle scores were Greg Klopp in target rifle and Bill Gills in F Open. Meanwhile over in the F Open camp an exemplary exhibition of shooting skill, coupled with a state of the art, craftsman-built rifle meant Lynton Wakefield shot the perfect score of 60.10 Xs with a 35 mm group (the first time this has been achieved on this range). Congratulations Lynton on an awesome achievement! What a memorable moment! Bill Gillis also posted an awesome round of 60.08 which on any other day would have been nearly impossible to beat! On the target rifle scorecard Greg Klopp posted a fine 50.05 in his second round. Possibles went to Lynton Wakefield with 60.10, Bill Gillis with 60.08, John Shobbrook 60.05, Greg Klopp with 50.05 and Brad Renfrey 50.06. Roger Francis received three handicap points, Greg Klopp two and John Shobbrook one. On an interesting note, both Barry Tucker and Roger Francis kept all four of their sighters, John Shobbrook and Lynton Wakefield kept three, with Brad Renfrey saving two consecutive sighters. Congratulations to trophy winner Brad Renfrey 199.07, r-up Greg Klopp 196.15. This week: 700 yards. BAR OPEN... Butch Davies declares open Gilbert's Bar, named in honour of his father, at the Wallaroo Cricket Club.

Gilbert's Bar opened at Wallaroo

Wallaroo Cricket Club canteen and bar has been officially named Gilbert’s Bar, in honour of life member, the late Gilbert Davies, who passed away recently. The bar’s new name and signage were unveiled by Gilbert’s son Brenton “Butch” Davies on Yorke Peninsula Cricket Association A grade preliminary final day, Saturday, February 26. WCC hosted the match between Moonta and Paskeville, with Moonta comfortably accounting for Paskeville in front of a large crowd to advance to the grand final against Wallaroo (see grand final scores this issue). Gilbert was a life member of both the Wallaroo and Alford Cricket Clubs and, right up to his passing, attended nearly every A grade game in his hometown Wallaroo. He will be sadly missed by all who knew him.

Finals wide open in all three senior comps

“The Finger Roll” REPORT BY

The stage is set for a massive semi-final fixture this Friday, March 11. Like last season, the Yorke Valley Basketball Association has split the Senior Women into two grades giving every side a chance at playing finals. Arthurton Black will face Moonta in an A Women blockbuster, with the winner set to advance to the grand final and the loser to play third-placed Wallaroo in the preliminary.

The B Women will be just as intriguing after Paskeville Black and White, plus Arthurton Orange all finished on five wins. Well done to the YVBA for structuring such a fascinating finals fixture yet again.

Kadina will head in as favourites against Arthurton in the A Men, the winner to advance, whilst Pasky will try to upset Bute in an evenly-matched knockout clash.

Results

A MEN

Wallaroo v Kadina

The Dogs again forced a physical, scrappy match with their gritty defence and tenacity at the rim. Foul trouble hurt Kadina, which only lined up with six players, but the Bloods' shooters proved too efficient in their last minor round contest.

Paskeville v Moonta

The Blazers were always going to struggle after heading into this one without a bench. Despite big man Mackyle Thomson fouling out, guards Luke Wheare and Kye McDonald combined for 39 points to cruise past Moonta by 31.

Bute v Bears

Bute's offence finding a rhythm at this time of year is becoming a consistent theme. Sam and Jordan Taylor, 29 and 23 points respectively, balled and easily knocked off Bears by 37.

SENIOR WOMEN

Paskeville White v Moonta

The long-awaited return of a near-full strength Moonta line up seemed to click straight away. Montana Briggs poured in 21 points in her first outing in a month, coupled with a silky 14 points from Amber Aldridge, helping the Blazers over the line by 17.

Arthurton Orange v Paskeville Black

An undermanned Tiger side was pushed up and down the court all night against the young Pies. Lucy Bussenschutt found the bottom of the net consistently, finishing with 12 to edge out Arthurton by 26.

Arthurton Black v Wallaroo

Wallaroo was valiant against the top Tigers, as Talia Nadich dropped 11 of her side's 15 points on the night. Arthurton's Dani Richardson was at her dominant best at both ends, combining for 32 with Joanne Davey to beat out the Dogs by 37.

Semifinals tips

A MEN

Kadina v Arthurton

These sides were neck and neck for most of the game when they met two weeks ago. The Bloods will be ultra-focused on containing Anthony Oliphant and Trent Hoare from beyond the arc, seemingly the only area they can lose this one. If Geoff Munn stays out of foul trouble and Will Schultz is on from mid-range, Kadina may just have an edge and head straight into the big dance.

At the final buzzer... Kadina by three.

Paskeville v Bute

The Roosters finished with just one more win than its opponent after playing an extra game in the regular season. They and Pasky make for an incredibly even match up in this elimination clash. Kye McDonald will need to be dialled in from deep if he hopes to compete with the offensive dominance of the Taylor cousins. The Pies should have the upper hand on the boards if they keep out of foul trouble, but somehow, I can't see Pasky containing Bute's shooters for the entire night.

At the final buzzer... Bute by a point.

A WOMEN

Arthurton Black v Moonta

Clearly the two top sides all year — if anyone can go toe-to-toe with Arthurton's crafty backcourt it'd be Montana Briggs and Amber Aldridge. The pair will be desperate to get a full roster functioning as a unit if they hope to advance to the grand final. Moonta will need to get a hand out to Izzy Jacobs from three and somehow slow Dani Richardson from powering into the lane. Although I can definitely see the Blazers going on some runs, it's hard to imagine how a side that's been the clear benchmark all season, suddenly fold when it matters.

At the final buzzer... Arthurton Black by 10.

B WOMEN

Paskeville Black v Paskeville White

This Magpie clash should draw much attention, as they both look to advance into the big dance. White's Jorja Rogers and Fi Bussenschutt have combined seamlessly all season and will be intent on controlling both the paint and outside against their rivals. However, Black probably carries in the hottest form, with youngsters Lucy Bussenschutt and Cedar Napier pushing the pace at every opportunity. Black has been devastating on the fastbreak all year and this clash should be no exception.

At the final buzzer... Paskeville Black by four.

Arthurton Orange v Bute

The Tigers will face Bute in a must-win elimination. Arthurton hasn't carried the best of form into its finals series, but will be crossing its fingers it can welcome back Monica Britton and return to full strength. Finishing with just three wins and on the bottom of the Senior Women ladder, I can't picture Bute pulling a miracle this late in the season.

At the final buzzer... Arthurton Orange by 15.

Preparing to sell SP Hay facility

Sonny Coombs

JOURNALIST

SV Partners has engaged Elders South Australia to market SP Hay Group assets, including the site near Paskeville.

Expressions of interest for the large-scale processing and storage facility site will close on Thursday, March 31.

The sale of the site, as well as another located in Western Australia, will be used to pay back NAB debt followed by creditors.

An estimated $14.5 million is owed to creditors, which include about 70 individuals and businesses, many of which are South Australian farmers.

The company, which was owned and operated by director Stuart Price, flagged trade tensions with China as a major downfall.

This claim is disputed by farmers who have stated problems with the business started long before trade issues.

SV Partners preliminary investigations found a number of other issues played a part in the company's downfall, including:

- Involvement in numerous court actions resulting in high expenditure in legal fees and distraction of the director from running the business.
- Non-payment of growers leading to lack of supply of hay for processing, lack of accurate financial information due to long-running dispute with former accountant and delay in having new accountant assist in bringing accounts up to date.
- Failing to resolve a sale of assets or take action to appoint a voluntary administrator at an early enough point when illiquidity impacted the company's ability to trade.

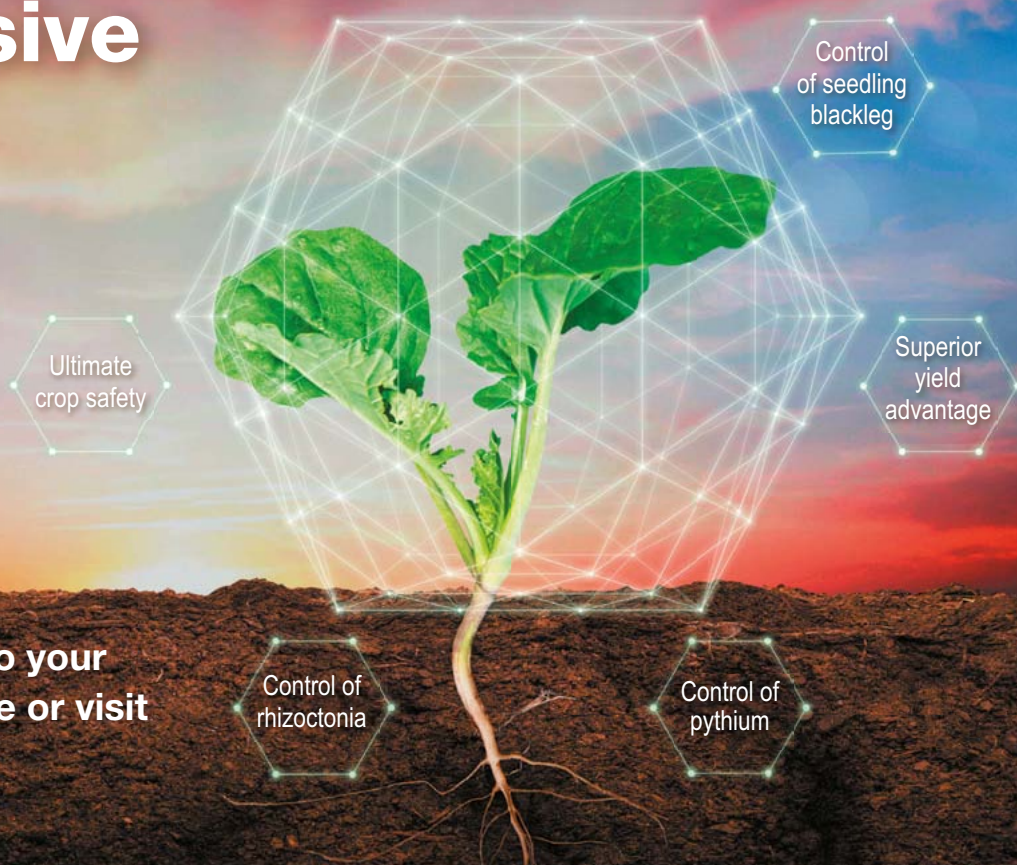

READY TO SELL... Elders SA has been engaged to sell the SP Hay site near Paskeville.

Voters back grain policies

A GRAIN Producers SA phone poll has found more than 55 per cent of voters in Narungga are more likely to vote for a candidate or parties which support the grain industry.

The poll was completed by uCommunications on behalf of GPSA and demonstrated many issues important to grain growers are also vital to the communities in which they live.

“According to the poll, voters in Narungga want to see commitment to addressing the regional road maintenance backlog, doing more about mobile blackspots in farming areas and helping farmers adapt to a changing climate,” GPSA CEO Brad Perry said.

“GPSA recently released its 2022 state election priorities and we are urging all candidates and political parties running in this election to back our policy agenda.”

The poll also revealed more than 85 per cent believe the grain industry is very important or somewhat important to the state’s economy and 93.6 per cent believe it is very important or somewhat important for the candidate or political party they vote for to commit to addressing the regional road maintenance backlog.

Almost 89 per cent of people agreed or strongly agreed the state government should do more to fix mobile blackspots in Narungga and 68.3 per cent strongly agree or agree more needs to be done by the government to help farmers adapt to a changing climate.

To find out more about GPSA’s 2022 state election priorities, visit www.grainproducerssa.com.au.

Beachfront home sells for almost $1 million

Fin Hansen
REPORT BY

ONE lucky bidder became the new owner of 53 Otago Road, North Beach, Wallaroo, last month.

The beachfront property attracted 23 registered bidders and sold for $930,000 at an open auction on Saturday, February 19.

Klemich Real Estate, Adelaide, managing director Matt Smith said he couldn't remember a property that's drawn anywhere near the same level of enquiry across his 18 years in real estate.

"We had a portion of local bidders and some from the city,"

Mr Smith said.

"Our reserve price was around the mid-$600,000 mark, so it well surpassed the goal."

Mr Smith said the Adelaide-based vendor Helen Liddicoat and family had used the property as a holiday home since the 1980s.

"She (Helen) decided it was time to move on, but there were plenty of mixed emotions after holidaying at North Beach for most of her life," he said.

"The majority of bidders had the intention to knock the home down and start again, but I think the purchaser will enjoy it for what it is and has no view of demolition."

Mr Smith acknowledged the home was in need of significant repair.

"The structure itself isn't where the value comes from, but rather the amazing outlook right on the beachfront — it's as good as it gets," he said.

"It's a great investment and I think we'll be looking back in 10 years thinking it sold extremely cheaply."

PERFECT LOCATION... Klemich Real Estate, Adelaide, managing director Matt Smith said the purchaser had planned on enjoying the home for what it is in a second-to-none location.

HISTORIC SALE... A beachfront property on Otago Road, North Beach, sold for $930,000 to an undisclosed buyer at an open auction on Saturday, February 19.

The Perils of Power

Tanks are rolling through Ukraine's pleasant land

Guns are blazing wildly

Against the valiant band

Refugees are fleeing

From terror closing in

And who are we to criticise

Being scared is not a sin

Bombing, killing, murder

How did it come to this?

Threats, nuclear war

The world on an abyss.

We can point the finger

At one man sure enough

At Dictator Putin

Out there acting tough

But please learn a lesson

In this sad, sad hour

Never give one person

All glory and all power

They say power corrupts

Absolute power is worse

It's time for ordinary people

Rise up and break that curse

Starscopes

♈ ARIES—March 21-April 20

Indications call for a week that involves new friendships, new ideas and possibly new opportunities for earning extra cash. In the household situation, the best approach is to sort priorities.

♉ TAURUS—April 21-May 22

Intellectual pursuits dominate much of the week. New fields of study, philosophical discussions and cultural events are all highlighted. Verifying plans of all kinds is critical.

♊ GEMINI—May 23-June 21

No news is not necessarily good news. Seek out answers to puzzles that remain unsolved and chase up outstanding debts. A last minute cancellation may prove a blessing in disguise.

♋ CANCER—June 22-July 22

Your idealistic streak surfaces as you go out of your way to help those not as fortunate as yourself. Brainstorming sessions bring bright ideas.

♌ LEO—July 23-August 22

This is a week highlighting joint ventures, with two heads proving better than one. Keeping informed of current happenings can have beneficial results.

♍ VIRGO—August 23-September 22

You are at the hub of activity, but take breaks for enjoying such solo pleasures as reading or listening to your favourite music. Romance may be on the upswing this week.

♎ LIBRA—September 23-October 22

This is a favourable week for starting a new project - possibly one shared with a dedicated friend. Your empathy level is high. You prove a fine listener for a tale of woe or two.

♏ SCORPIO—October 23-November 21

Long overdue letters, emails or calls arrive during this week. Financial discussions may include contradictory advice. Don't avoid asking questions. Your relationship is on a steadier course.

♐ SAGITTARIUS—November 22-December 22

Notices coming your way require immediate clarification before you misinterpret any message. This is a good week for getting close to those who really matter in your life. A relative offers needed encouragement.

♑ CAPRICORN—December 23-January 20

Your creative energies are in full swing this week. Indeed, energy is the operative word in a week that finds your workmates trying hard to match your pace.

♒ AQUARIUS—January 21-February 19

This is a good week for reconsidering opinions regarding a family related issue. A newly arrived neighbour or coworker may share some of your interests. If travelling, prepare for possible detours.

♓ PISCES—February 20-March 20

Travel options expand. The dilemma lies in you making the most effective choice. Career moves require further consideration and discussion with a reliable and objective confidant.

BIRTHDAY THIS WEEK

Sharing the limelight is often difficult for you, yet the coming months often see you in a "co-starring" role. Your spirit of adventure responds to the travel prospects highlighted.

Problematic 2000s

FEELING nostalgic lately, I decided to look back to the early 2000s and revisit movies I thought were hilarious at the time.

Rewatching some of those films, I learned an important lesson — some things are best left in the past!

Twenty years doesn't seem that long ago to many but watching a few films highlighted how far we have come as a society.

In the year 2000, films like Dude, Where's My Car?, The Nutty Professor II: The Klumps and Little Nicky all had box office success.

However, box office success isn't the only thing these films have in common — they are all very problematic.

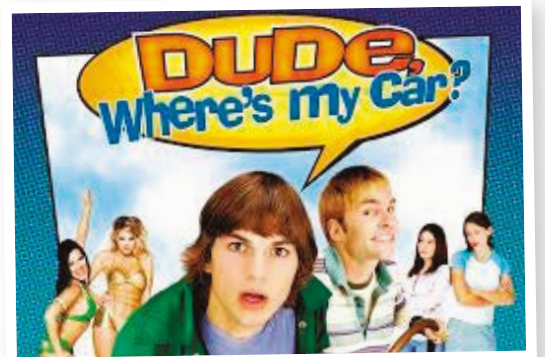

It would be fair to say they don't just have undertones of racism, homophobia, transphobia and body shaming but are blatantly all of those things.

These films could possibly be career-ending for actors today.

They clearly weren't career-ending in the 2000s because they starred some of today's most successful Hollywood actors.

All of these films were painful to re-watch but none more than Dude, Where's My Car?

Ashton Kutcher and Seann William Scott star in this film which follows their ridiculous journey to find their car, lost after a drunken night.

PROBLEMATIC... Some movies like Dude, Where's My Car? are best left in the past.

They encounter a number of characters including a transgender stripper, this character is the centre of so many transphobic jokes.

Not content with making fun of just one minority, it also goes on to perpetuates Asian stereotypes and makes fun of gay people.

It's not all doom and gloom for 2000s' movies, there are many that have stood the test time but films like Dude, Where's My Car? are best left in the rear-view mirror.

This day in history

March 8, 1531: Henry VIII is recognised as supreme head of the English Church by the Convocation of Canterbury.

March 8, 1973: Paul and Linda McCartney were issued a £100 fine for growing cannabis.

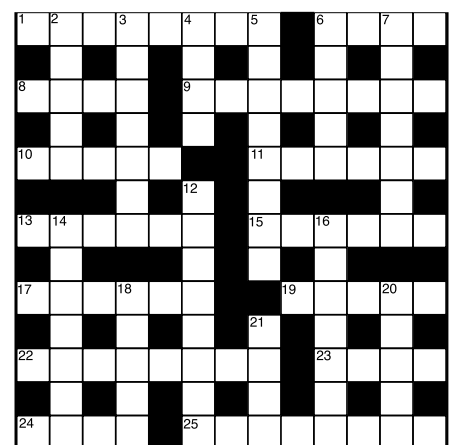

March 8, 1986: Martina Navratilova becomes the first tennis player to earn $10 million.

What's been Trending

Farewell Neighbours: It was announced long-running Australian soap opera Neighbours had been axed after 37 years. The cancellation came after Australian production company Fremantle Media couldn't find a new broadcast partner after UK network Channel 5 withdrew its backing.

Barty withdraws: Aussie tennis star Ash Barty shocked the country after announcing she had withdrawn from hardcourt tournaments at Indian Wells and Miami. Barty stated she hasn't had time to prepare following her Australian Open win.

HOT FISHING TIPS

with Greg James www.gregjamesfishing.com.au

WELCOME to the column with all the hot tips for fishing around Yorke Peninsula; contact Greg by email at greg@gregjamesfishing.com.au.

Recipe: Salt 'n' pepper garfish: Ingredients – 4-6 fillets fresh garfish, 1 green and 1 red chilli (diced), 1 bunch spring onions (diced), plain flour, salt and pepper, vegetable oil, extra virgin olive oil.

Preparation – dust the fish fillets with flour and cook for 2-3 mins in vegie and olive oil mix. Separately fry chillies and spring onions and sprinkle over the fish. Season with salt and pepper and serve with a glass of Colombar white wine.

Wallaroo: A grain ship was anchored well offshore when I arrived back in town on Saturday as those persistent southerly winds swept along the coast. Hopeful jetty-based anglers have tried for blue crabs, tommy ruff (Australian herring). Boat crews grabbed their chance mid to late last week and fished for gar, blueys and squid at the Magazine.

Moonta Bay/Port Hughes: Both jetties have had reasonably large numbers of anglers as grey nomads caravan their way around Yorke Peninsula. Gar, small baby squid and yellowfin whiting have come from the jetties and local beaches on the high tides. Boat crews went far and wide from Cape Elizabeth to West Light for gar, squid, blueys and tommy ruff.

Point Turton: I spent most of last week down this neck of the woods and offshore fishing opportunities were few and far between. Gar and sprat tommy ruff can be caught out from Point Souttar and The Pines, while the jetty has good catches of garfish before dusk. Hardwicke Bay has whiting but they are in 4m of water and only biting in the afternoon tides and sea breezes. Berley is essential.

Marion Bay/Stenhouse Bays: Strong onshore winds continue to be part of the local fishing equation. Try Gym Beach and Daly Head for salmon trout and garfish from the southern rocks at Pondalowie Bay. The two jetties have squid, tommyies and salmon trout. Port Moorowie anglers have caught fat gar at Mozzie Flat and Point Gilbert.

Edithburgh: The broken ground at Limits and north of Troubridge Island have King George whiting to 37cm. Big snook are at Marion Reef while blue crabs are at the jetty and Coobowie.

Stansbury: Rakers continue their work off The Hut and northern beaches towards Black Point. KG whiting and snook came from the Orontes Bank again last week and there are blue crabs in the water just north of the oyster lease marker.

Ardrossan: There have been some good catches of gar and blueys but many of the blueys are undersize and need to be returned to the water. The jetty has a couple of mullocky at night, blue crabs and squid.

Tight lines and see you next week!
