

MONDAY POSSIBLE SHOWER 19°

Research needed

MALCOLM Butler, of Port Broughton, has again (YPCT 12-10-21) reminded us of the need to do some “real research” about climate change.

In his latest letter, he quotes Sir David Bellamy as one of his sources. A quick bit of research on my behalf found two interesting things in regards to Sir David:

Firstly, he was a botanist. Not a climatologist, nor atmospheric scientist or chemist. I don’t doubt his knowledge of plants but I do not think he was qualified to talk about the effects of CO₂ on the Earth’s climate.

Secondly, Bellamy recognised in the 2000s the figures on glacier advancement which helped him form his opinion, were in fact fraudulent and out of some embarrassment I assume, he “decided to draw back from the debate on global warming”.

The point Malcolm seems to miss, is research is best done by rigorously looking for evidence which counters your beliefs, rather than stopping your research the moment you find that one-in-a-million article which supports them.

I would also ask Malcolm to research the greenhouse effect, as his comments in a previous letter about the way the sun heats the Earth were erroneous!

Yes Malcolm, we all need to do our research.

Cormorants v trees

AS a former resident of Stansbury and a member of the progress association, I find it outrageous the Yorke Peninsula Council mayor vetoed the consultation with his casting vote (YPCT 19-10-21) and how are councillors who do not reside in the town able to vote on such a local issue.

Just because a school child falls out of a tree while exploring does not mean you cut down all the trees in the school.

The problem as I see it is the shags not the trees.

The shags are only looking for a place to roost after hunting for food all day.

The hotel and its patrons are an important economic and social fabric of any coastal town and need such community support.

We have Norfolk pines in Edithburgh where I now live and we do not have that problem because the shags roost every night on Troubridge Island where there are no residents to complain.

My suggestions are:

Build a roosting island on the sand bar “the spit” using old shipping containers and PVC/timber telegraph poles.

Make the area under the trees a no parking zone, close the roadway and offer it to the hotel on a long, long lease giving them access through to the coast in return for land adjacent (which I believe they own) which would then become a carpark for hotel patrons.

Install an overhead sprinkler system which would activate hourly at night and wash off all the excrement from the hotel patrons’ cars.

Cull them like any pest.

Manly in NSW, Port Lincoln and Port Broughton all have this problem and they have not chopped down the trees as they all have places for the birds to roost.

Come on councillors, think outside the square.

Masks

A LAWYER suggested I write this as a community service.

This is new to us all and something we have to live with.

You cannot discriminate against a person who cannot wear a mask, long term or at all.

There’s lots of reasons why people are exempt and compassion goes a long way.

Yes, you need a doctor’s certificate explaining this and it stands by the law.

As an employer you cannot terminate someone’s position because they can’t wear a mask.

Under the Fair Work Commission it is a definite unfair dismissal and under the Equal Opportunity Act it can be/is discrimination.

There’s a strong chance you can end up in court and it will cost you money.

It can be a long, drawn-out situation for all concerned.

Country towns are not exempt.

It doesn’t matter if you are a large business, small business or farmer, you have to abide by the law.

Chivalry

CHIVALRY has not disappeared.

I would like to take this opportunity to thank two wonderful young men who went out of their way to help me recently.

The first on Hallett Street, Kadina, helped me into the waiting car and secured my seatbelt before he left.

The other came to my aid outside my home 15 minutes later when my garage door wouldn’t open, giving me easy access, he proceeded to help me across the gravel and into my home and even gave me a glass of water before he left.

So grateful to you both for your help.

Faith in our youth restored.

OUR VIEW

Celebrating Sir Richard

I HAD no idea who Sir Richard Williams was until about two years ago, an embarrassing admission to make.

A request had come to the Copper Coast Council asking permission for the installation of a statue in Queen Square, Moonta, to honour Sir Richard.

Council agreed and then began an ambitious fundraising goal to get the bronze work completed before the centenary of the Royal Australian Air Force in 2021.

I was surprised to learn all Sir Richard had accomplished — from his days of service in World War I and II and also the establishment of the RAAF as we know it.

The surprising thing wasn’t his ability to achieve great things but my own ignorance of someone with such importance from our own community.

Thanks to the work of the Sir Richard Williams RAAF Centenary Celebrations Committee, and its team of supporters, this should not be the case anymore.

It has been a huge endeavour to get this project to completion, firstly raising the money, and then dealing with COVID-19 and all its uncertainty.

This Sunday will mark the end of years of hard work as the beautiful bronze sculpture will be officially unveiled.

There will be a parade, RAAF fly-pasts, vintage fly-pasts and a chance to learn more about Sir Richard and his achievements.

The committee has partnered with local schools throughout the past couple of years, to make sure they know what Sir Richard accomplished, and to get them involved in the celebrations which has been fantastic.

Local art will also be on show as part of the celebrations — Sunday will truly have something for everyone.

Members of the organising committee deserve a hearty congratulations before the event is even held for all they have done to get to this day.

Three cheers for the committee, and three cheers for Sir Richard — the “Father of the RAAF”.

TRAILING ON... Moonta Lions Club's Lorraine Darling, Copper Coast Council CEO Russell Peate, Apex Club of Kadina's Shannon Rodda, Wallaroo Lions Club's Peter Hatcher, Mayor Roslyn Talbot and CCC director of infrastructure and services Tim Neumann were excited to see work begin on the Wallaroo to Moonta shared path last week.

TRAILING AHEAD

Work begins on Wallaroo to Moonta shared path

WORK on the Wallaroo to Moonta shared path is rolling ahead. Construction on the 14.4 kilometre walking/cycling/running trail began on Monday, October 25.

The path will link existing paths from Wallaroo to Kadina and Moonta to Port Hughes.

"The State Open Space and Places for People grant received has a completion date of January 1, 2023; however, the anticipation is for it to be completed before the summer holiday season of 2022," Copper Coast Council CEO Russell Peate said.

"The majority of works are on the rail corridor, there will be some minor works in the township of Wallaroo but works will be on the footpath/verge and shouldn't cause any major disruptions.

"It will be another great cycling/walking path for our community and tourists alike.

"People will be able to cycle or walk from Kadina to Wallaroo to Moonta and there is the potential for the track to be used for events in the future."

Member for Narungga Fraser Ellis said he was thrilled to see work commence on the trail.

"It is such a valuable project for locals and tourists, and one I was pleased to formally support during the funding submission process," Mr Ellis said.

"The trail will complement the existing Kadina to Wallaroo trail and additionally, will link the Moonta Bay and Port Hughes trails.

"All these shared paths facilitate all levels of exercise ability, which is fantastic for the health and wellbeing of all who enjoy them."

The path will start in Ryan Street, before travelling along Cornish and Park Terraces then crossing Magazine Road to link with the old railway corridor and end by the Moonta Tourist Office.

Copper Coast Council secured $104,398 from the Federal Local Roads and Community Infrastructure Program — phase 3, $418,000 from the State Open Space Program for 2021-22 and $187,800 from the State Bicycle Fund

Council is contributing $744,200 and an additional $150,000 for project management costs.

Bigger fish to fry in shag drama

Sonny Coombs
JOURNALIST

AN Ardrossan resident has raised concerns about the impact the ongoing cormorant issue could be having on tourism and employment.

A petition to address the issues at Port Vincent and Stansbury was recently submitted to the state parliament.

Local businesses and residents are left with a daily clean-up and stench, and motorists find their cars repainted with excrement.

David Lutze, of Ardrossan, said another issue associated with the increasing number of cormorants is the number of fish they eat.

Mr Lutze estimates there are at least 5000 to 7000 cormorants between Ardrossan and Stansbury.

“Data on how many fish they eat per day states one pound or half a kilogram per day per bird,” Mr Lutze said.

“If 5000 adult cormorants eat one fish each day that is an alarming 35,000 fish per week leaving our waters.

“That’s nearly two million fish per year, we do know there is a fish shortage and shags should be considered as the problem to our fisheries.”

Mr Lutze said he would like to see the state government survey the number of cormorants in the area.

“The number (of fish taken) is pretty horrific and that is only if they eat one fish per day,” he said.

“There aren’t many fish around Ardrossan, there would be at least 2000 shags on the BHP jetties and I don’t believe anyone is monitoring the situation when it comes to the fish.

“The lack of fishing leads to decreased tourism, people come to fish in Ardrossan and they leave empty handed.”

Mr Lutze said the cormorants are not a new issue; however, it is getting worse with time.

“Since 1990 I have been watching the shag population during a time when I was one BHP worker who loaded ships at the Ardrossan jetty,” he said.

“We walked amongst the shags to tie the ships to the wharf.

“There were thousands on the jetty back then and they made a hell of a mess especially in the winter when we had to walk through their mess on the wharf.”

PROBLEM... David Lutze, of Ardrossan, has raised concerns about the number of fish being taken from local waters by cormorants.

Vaccine boosters begin this month

THE Royal Australian College of General Practitioners is warning GPs will need more support to deliver COVID-19 booster vaccines in the months ahead.

Booster doses are expected to commence for those who had their last immunisation six months ago from November 8.

RACGP president Dr Karen Price said GPs across Australia needed a helping hand.

“General practices have done a remarkable job delivering vaccines so far,” Dr Price said.

“I am immensely proud of all the GP teams who have worked so hard in very trying circumstances to get the job done — you are truly the unheralded heroes of this rollout.

“Given the enormous pressures practices are facing and the huge task ahead of us, we fought for a boost in funding to deliver the booster vaccines.

“Unfortunately, the announcement does not feature any new funding for practices delivering these boosters.

“Instead, it will be funded at the same rate as the second dose but without the COVID-19 Vaccine General Practice Incentive of $10, which is paid to eligible practices where the patient received both a first dose and second dose at the same practice.”

There are no new cases of COVID-19 today. There have been 918 cases in total notified in South Australia, including one active case acquired overseas.

Driven to distraction

Nigel Parsons
JOURNALIST

ROAD users south of Minlaton and Stansbury are calling for more works on local roads.

Edithburgh resident, Rick Hutchison said the Edithburgh to Yorketown road is dangerously narrow in places and vehicles constantly have to leave the bitumen to allow oncoming traffic to pass safely.

"Particularly if there is a school bus or a large truck or if two trucks meet, especially at harvest when they're fully laden and towing a trailer, that is very dangerous for them," he said.

"People have complained about it, including myself, to the various authorities including twice to Fraser Ellis's office."

Mr Hutchison said the width of the buses from mirror tip to mirror tip almost exceeded the total width of the road in a few places.

Allan Baker, of Yorketown, who owns several school buses, said one of his co-drivers recently had a side mirror ripped off by a tree branch after he left the road to allow another vehicle to pass.

"It's so dammed narrow in places, we've got nowhere to go ... when you're off you're off and the edges can shred the walls of your tyres when you're trying to get back on," he said.

"Both buses are running on it and everyone complains about it.

"You've got to keep your hands on it because if you let it go off (the bitumen) you've got to be careful when you're trying to get it back up on the road again that it doesn't jump all over the place."

Member for Narungga Fraser Ellis said he was proud of the nearly $200 million worth of road funding secured for Yorke Peninsula roads since 2018 but there is still much to do.

"I have been advocating for more sections of the Maitland to Minlaton road to be done, for the Bute to Port Broughton road, and the Wallaroo entrance section of the Copper Coast Highway which is currently a disgrace," he said.

"Of southern Yorke Peninsula, I see the Edithburgh to Yorketown road and the Minlaton to Port Vincent road as next priorities for shoulder improvements and widening, along with slip lanes to improve safety into the townships of Hardwicke Bay and Port Vincent."

Mr Ellis spoke about the urgent need for funding for the North Coast Road at Point Turton in parliament last week.

"I questioned the decision of the Local government Transport Advisory Panel to overlook this project in favour of lesser ranked priority submissions," he said.

"I am pleased with the investments made on the Port Victoria to Curramulka Road ($3.1m) and the Minlaton to Stansbury Road ($3m) and encourage community members to continue to contact my office with their feedback on what roads should be made future priorities."

NOT HAPPY...
Edithburgh resident, Rick Hutchison says the Edithburgh to Yorketown road is dangerously narrow in places and is in urgent need of an upgrade.

Moonta gets close to top honour

Jess Liddy
JOURNALIST

MOONTA is considered one of the best tourist towns in Australia.

The town claimed the inaugural Tourism Industry Council South Australia Top Tourism Award in May and then competed against six other state and territory winners for the national title last Thursday, October 28.

Mudgee in New South Wales claimed the top honours with Noosa in Queensland coming in second and New Norfolk, Tasmania, third.

Moonta entry oragniser Jo-Anne Buchanan said it was a collaborative effort with the entire community jumping on board to help their nomination.

"It was extremely stiff competition," Ms Buchanan said.

"We are still very happy, it was a huge achievement to win the state title and to make it this far speaks volumes about our community.

"We pride ourselves on our collaborative approach and we take our hats off to Mudgee in New South Wales for taking out the title."

Ms Buchanan said Moonta now had a taste for the awards and they would be entering again next year.

"We are very keen to try again — Moonta has so much on offer from the beaches to swim and fish; to the mines and the heritage, and everything in between," she said.

"It is the ultimate tourist destination that we want to show off to the world."

Yorke Peninsula Tourism manager Brooke Liebelt said for Moonta to be a finalist and represent South Australia at the Australia Top Tourism Town Awards was a phenomenal effort.

"This is an achievement that should be well celebrated by the community," Mrs Liebelt said.

Australian Tourism Awards chair Daniel Gschwind said the Top Tourism Town awards recognised Australian towns, with populations of more than 5000 people, which offered amazing visitor experiences and were committed to working collectively to increase visitation to their region.

Drug driver found in ditch

YORKETOWN police were called to a crash at about 4pm last Wednesday, October 27.

The car of a 49-year-old southern Yorke Peninsula man was soon found in a ditch on Waterloo Bay Road.

Upon searching the car, police located a substance suspected to be methamphetamine, as well as a glass pipe.

The man was reported for driving without a licence and issued a drug diversion.

He was summoned to appear in Maitland Court at a later date.

Speeder reported

A driver was pulled over for travelling at 139 kilometres per hour in a 100km/h zone near Warooka at about 6.30pm on Saturday, October 30.

The driver was subsequently

Man reported for driving unregistered, uninsured

Edithburgh police attempted to stop a car on St Vincent Highway, Yorketown, on Monday, October 25.

A 59-year-old Yorketown man failed to stop for police, but pulled over after a short time.

The man was reported for driving an unregistered vehicle and uninsured vehicle.

He was bailed to appear in court at a later date.

Drink driver reported in Port Broughton

A 63-year-old uppper Yorke Peninsula man has lost his licence after being caught drink driving on Friday, October 29.

Police stopped a car on West Terrace, Port Broughton, just after 7pm and submitted the driver to a breath test.

The driver allegedly returned a positive reading of 0.085.

He was reported for drink driving and lost his licence on the spot for six months.

The man will appear in court at a later date.

Volunteers strap in for bushfire season

LOCAL emergency services have readied for the bushfire season. PREPARATION... Local volunteers enter what could be a burning building.

About 30 ambulance and CFS volunteers from Maitland, Ardrossan and Weetulla attended a large-scale training session held by Maitland CFS late last month.

Volunteers worked through scenarios where they simulated rescuing people overcome with smoke from a building.

Yorke Valley CFS group training officer Mark Harte said it was great so many volunteers made themselves available for the session.

"We sent in crews to a hotel to rescue a dummy which was weighted the same as a human," Mr Harte said.

"The ambos were able to incorporate their dummy for medical training, so the joint scenario worked really well.

"It was a good chance to see where everyone's skills are at and tidy up in a few areas."

Mr Harte said crews across the Yorke Peninsula are well prepared for the fire danger season, which began yesterday (Monday, Novembet 1).

"All of our drills have been positive and I'm confident we'll be ready for whatever the season holds," he said.

Ross Taylor joins Minlaton police

MINLATON Police Station welcomed 10 years of experience with Brevet Sergeant Ross Taylor joining the team recently.

After stints at Henley Beach and Coober Pedy Police Stations, Bvt Sgt Taylor said he moved to Minlaton for a country change, as well as to experience better surf and fishing opportunities.

"I've already driven around to meet the other officers in the area, and everyone's been really welcoming," Bvt Sgt Taylor said.

"The other day I dragged a dog off the highway and brought it into the pub — the locals invited me back for a drink, so I swung by and had one when I knocked off."

Bvt Sgt Taylor said he is driven to help people in need and looks forward to the opportunity to do so on Yorke Peninsula.

Minlaton Cricket Club was amongst the first to welcome Bvt Sgt Taylor to the town;

YP passenger ferry sunk

Sonny Coombs
JOURNALIST

A PROPOSAL to run a passenger service from Glenelg to Yorke Peninsula is dead in the water.

SeaLink, which operates the ferry between Cape Jervis and Kangaroo Island, expressed its desire to run a passenger service from Glenelg to Port Vincent twice a week in 2019.

The proposal would require support of the state government including upgrading necessary infrastructure.

A Department for Infrastructure and Transport spokesperson said the department is not currently considering any proposals to establish a passenger ferry service from Glenelg to Yorke Peninsula.

“A proposal was received in May 2019 from SeaLink to offer services from Glenelg to Kingscote and Glenelg to Port Vincent,” the spokesperson said.

“However, this was contingent on significant state government funding to complete upgrades to infrastructure at all locations, this proposal was not progressed.”

Member for Narungga Fraser Ellis called on the state government in 2019 to include a ferry service to YP in its plans for a major upgrade of Glenelg jetty.

“I had advocated for a ferry terminal to be incorporated in any plans that were then being mooted for a major upgrade of Glenelg jetty believing the time was right to re-commence a ferry service from Glenelg to Yorke Peninsula,” Mr Ellis said.

“I made a submission and liaised with state and local governments and SeaLink, and there appeared to be some momentum.

“Certainly, Sealink confirmed their interest in a fast ferry to Kingscote and Yorke Peninsula.”

Mr Ellis said he hoped fresh discussions could begin soon.

“I still believe a ferry service from Glenelg to Yorke Peninsula would provide a significant tourism boost for our region, and create local jobs for a massive economic injection for Yorke Peninsula,” he said.

Yorke Peninsula Council mayor Darren Braund said it is disappointing the project has not progressed.

“Council will continue exploring opportunities to make Yorke Peninsula even more accessible to visitors,” Mr Braund said.

“With the recently opened Southern Yorke Peninsula Water Tower Mural Trail, and soon-to-be-opened Yorke Peninsula Salt Lake Trail, we continue working to attract tourism to our region.”

Support fund for Indigenous students

UNIVERSITY of Adelaide is creating further educational opportunities for Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander students, following the launch of its Indigenous Support Fund.

The fund will create two streams of support for Indigenous students from 2022.

The Yaitya Tipanthi Scholarships, valued at $5000 for each year of study, will be awarded to students who have completed the university's pre-existing Karnkanthi Indigenous Education Program for senior high school students.

The Yaitya Tipanthi Bursaries, worth up to $2000, will ensure Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander students have the tools needed to succeed in their chosen study program.

“There are many young people in our society for whom disadvantage may be the only barrier to them fulfilling their potential for academic and personal success,” University of Adelaide's vice-chancellor and president Professor Peter Hoj AC said.

“For these young people, philanthropy can have a mighty impact in creating equality of opportunity and a level playing field.”

SUNK... A proposal to run a passenger service from Glenelg to Port Vincent has been sunk by the state government.

FLOATING IDEAS

A tourism plan for Wardang Island

Jess Liddy
JOURNALIST

A TOURISM plan is being floated for Wardang Island.

Effektiver owner and managing director Siggi Frede was awarded the contract to create a master plan for the island and recently held a community consultation session in Point Pearce to gain a local perspective.

“This is such a great opportunity to develop a master plan and tap into local ideas and aspirations for Wardang Island,” Ms Frede said.

“We definitely want the community to benefit socially and economically from this project for generations to come.”

Caroline Densley, director of sub-contractor Diverse Travel Australia, also shared her experiences on what types of activities and tours could draw people to the island.

“There is so much positivity and tourism opportunities going forward,” Ms Densley said.

“It is integral for us to work with the Point Pearce community and a wonderful opportunity to shape Wardang Island into a tourism attraction.

“I specialise in working closely with tour operators and guides in creating journeys and in particular connecting clients to Aboriginal communities and culture.”

Wardang Island supervisor Lyell Sansbury said he supported the idea for a master plan.

“I really want to see pests eradicated and endangered species reintroduced to the island,” Ms Sansbury said.

“The island also needs safe landing facilities to get on and off as well as emergency facilities and practices in place.”

Point Pearce Aboriginal Corporation community coordinator Kaylene O’Loughlin said the future of Wardang Island was so important to create a better future for their youth.

“We want to see the island bloom — to generate money and jobs and to support our culture and history,” Ms O’Loughlin said.

Community consultations will continue in January and March.

The initiative is supported by PPAC and Narungga Nation Aboriginal Corporation.

Doctor shortage at “critical point”

THE Royal Australian College of General Practitioners is calling for the rural GP shortage in South Australia to be addressed urgently.

RACGP rural chair Dr Michael Clements recently travelled from Townsville to meet with regional GPs to help shine a light on the challenges they face.

Dr Clements the rural GP shortage in South Australia was at a critical point.

“The lack of access to high-quality primary care has a direct impact on the health of patients,” he said.

“It means people have overall poorer health outcomes and end up in hospital for health issues that could have been managed in general practice.

“As Australia’s peak body for both rural and urban GPs, the RACGP is uniquely placed to tackle GP workforce challenges — and the way we do this is by tapping into our members and listening to their concerns.

“We are well aware of the challenges in attracting GPs to work in rural and remote communities in South Australia, as well as the very public concerns about the need for better pay and conditions for local doctors in regional hospitals, which has led to critical shortages.

“Everyone deserves access to high-quality general practice regardless of their postcode.”

Addressing GP workforce challenges is a top priority for RACGP, Dr Clements said.

“One change approaching which will also help is the transition of the Australian General Practice Training program back to the specialist colleges, including RACGP — this is an opportunity to reform our GP training system, and improve the distribution of GPs for the long-term benefit of communities Australia-wide,” he said.

Ready, set, go for Copper Coast parkrun

Patrick Goldsmith
REPORT BY

A NEW parkrun is coming to the Copper Coast this November.

Successful events at Edithburgh and Port Broughton inspired local organiser Gerry van Niekerk to bring the event to the Copper Coast.

There will be trial runs along the Rotary Trail, starting at the Kadina Pony Club, on Saturdays, November 7 and 14, before the first main event on Saturday, November 20.

Mr van Niekerk first became involved in parkrun events at Port Broughton two and a half years ago, but an increase in local participation established the need for another event on Yorke Peninsula.

Runs are held each Saturday with participants walking or running five kilometres and tracking their time against themselves, rather than each other.

“It’s not supposed to be competitive, but of course you want to compare your time to that of your mate next to you,” Mr van Niekerk said.

“The idea is there’s no footprint left behind — so you do the parkrun, take all your stuff at the end and it’s like you were never there.

“But of course, at the same time we’re able to get people out and doing stuff, which is just as important.”

Parkrun has events in 23 countries, with over 428 locations in Australia alone, all helping build communities.

“There are a couple of volunteers at Port Broughton who never run, they’re just there because it gets them out of the house and being social,” Mr van Niekerk said.

“And that’s what it’s all about, getting people out and doing stuff with other people.”

The event can also reap significant rewards for the overall fitness wellbeing of the community, according to Mr van Niekerk.

“When I first started it took me an hour to walk the five kilometres, but I managed to get it down to 27 minutes over the period of a year and a half,” he said.

The project received significant support from the Rotary Club of Northern Yorke Peninsula, as well as a community grant from the Copper Coast Council.

The Kadina Pony Club will be open with space for parking and toilet facilities, while organisers are hopeful a coffee van will be present as well.

To find out more about the event and to sign up, visit www.parkrun.com.au.

Summertown Road planning confusion

Jess Liddy
JOURNALIST

DEVELOPMENT around Summertown Road, Port Broughton, is causing confusion for residents.

The land features a mix of industrial, residential and residential premises with a home business properties.

But, as part of the state government’s new Planning and Design Code, the southern side of the road is considered Home Industry Zone.

Barunga West Council staff have recently received complaints about the level of light industry in the area, while developers have also added their concerns as they want to build industrial premises along the road.

Council CEO Maree Wauchope said all previous developments built in the Home Industry Zone prior to August 2020 had received the appropriate development approval.

Restrictions in the new code now prevent property owners from building sheds first.

“To satisfy the current policy provisions you are now required to construct a dwelling in association with the business activity,” Ms Wauchope said.

“The Home Industry Zone now limits developers in terms of the size of business activity or shed they can build — it cannot exceed 200 square metres in total floor area and cannot exceed more than 20 per cent of the allotment area.”

Prior to August 2020, development had been carried out on Summertown Road where industry buildings more than 200sqm had been approved by council with no residential component.

“At the time these developments were assessed to have achieved the requirements as per the then development plan, which didn’t require developers to have a detached dwelling in association with a business activity,” Ms Wauchope said.

“Nor did the policy provisions restrict the size of the building that could be constructed.”

FUTURE DEVELOPMENT... External planning consultant Trevor White and Barunga West Council CEO Maree Wauchope discussed the future development of Summertown Road at the October council meeting.

BIG PLANS... Marion Bay Progress Association, which includes members Rob Rigoni, Josh Harkin and Abby Richards, is one of 10 associations which have expressed an interest in constructing a wheeled sports facility in the Yorke Peninsula Council region.

Progress associations wheely keen

Sonny Coombs
JOURNALIST

YORKE Peninsula Council has received overwhelming support to develop a plan for wheeled sports and other recreational facilities.

Council regularly receives requests from progress associations and community members for new wheeled sport facilities, such as pump tracks and skate parks.

The Wheeled Sport and Recreations Parks Proposal was created to provide an evidence-based framework for the construction of facilities.

Nearly 300 responses were received during the consultation phase, with 97 per cent of respondents supporting the proposal.

A majority of respondents (44.3 per cent) were from Ardrossan followed by Yorketown and Marion Bay on 10 and nine per cent respectively.

Skate and challenge parks received the most support for potential facilities followed by pump and BMX tracks.

There were also 10 local progress associations which expressed an interest in the proposal with nine indicating a commitment to engage in the construction or maintenance of new facilities as well as a co-contribution scheme.

Marion Bay Progress Association has registered its interest in seeking funding for a first-class facility.

"We are hoping we could have something that could host an X Games, something similar to what is at West Beach," chairperson Josh Harkin said.

"The skate park idea would be the start of a plan for an area we could have barbecues, toilets, basketball rings and things like that.

"The plan would be to have it at Penguin Point which has been dedicated for recreation and sport by council.

"This would give everyone who visits Marion Bay a meeting place because at the moment we don't have anything apart from the jetty."

Council will be presented with a stage-based plan to assist future development of facilities across the region at its November meeting.

Labor plans education overhaul

Patrick Goldsmith
REPORT BY

YORKE Peninsula children will be in preschools at age 3 under a plan announced by the state opposition in the lead up to the March 2022 election.

The plan is just one aspect of Labor's proposed education reform, which also includes building five new technical colleges — including two regionally — and an increase in allowance to country teachers.

The desired delivery of the "once-in-a-generation" revamp of early childhood learning would be investigated by a Royal Commission if a Labor government is elected in March.

A midyear intake for reception and preschool students would also be reinstated, reversing a decision from Labor's last stint in government in 2014.

Opposition leader Peter Malinauskas said the early years of life are when the seeds of success are sown.

"It is vital we do everything we can to support and nurture all children in the first 1000 days of their life," he said.

"Too many South Australian children are developmentally vulnerable when they start school.

"We know by age 5, 90 per cent of adult brain development and growth has already occurred."

Preschool programs for 3 year olds have already been introduced in Victoria, New South Wales and the ACT.

Ardrossan and Districts Community Kindergarten preschool director Christina Bilney said it was well and good to introduce 3 year olds to a preschool setting but centres needed adequate support.

"We're already struggling as it is without 3 year olds, and while I can see where they're coming from, we want it to be done right with support," Miss Bilney said.

"You wouldn't think it, but there is a huge difference between 3 and 4 year olds when it comes to their development and with that, brings new challenges.

"We want to make sure that adequate funding and staffing are put in place."

Education reforms

- A plan for universal preschool for 3 year olds and extended out of hours care for young children, to be investigated by a Royal Commission
- Lifting teaching quality by having recruitment and performance management decisions better reflect what schools need
- Increasing permanency among teachers
- Extending allowances to country teachers to increase retention
- Introducing a midyear intake for preschool and reception.
- Working with universities to set a minimum ATAR entry score of 70 for teaching degrees
- Building five new technical colleges in South Australia, including two regionally, featuring courses like building, construction, carpentry, bricklaying, and plumbing
- Offering 400 scholarships for teaching degrees to strengthen and diversify the teaching profession
- Hiring 100 mental health and learning difficulties specialists for schools

Copper Coast taking the pledge

Jess Liddy
JOURNALIST

COPPER Coast residents who pledge their commitment to reduce their waste could win big.

Council, with KESAB Environmental Solutions, is implementing the Take the Pledge program as of this month.

The program will encourage and foster sustainable behaviour change, focusing on household waste and recycling.

Corporate assistant Jenny Bruce said council had experienced a great first quarter with the roll out of the FOGO/organics program diverting food waste from landfill.

“The Take the Pledge program is the same as the one the City of Unley implemented back in 2016,” Mrs Bruce said.

“That program has more than 1900 participating households who have committed to recycling more and diverting as much organic material as possible to the green bins.”

Mrs Bruce said residents are encouraged to participate in Copper Coast Council’s Take the Pledge program and register by completing the online form.

“Registrations can be received as of yesterday (November 1) and residents will be issued an A4 landscape sticker that will be adhered to their organics bin,” she said.

“Ten registered residents organics bin will be selected for judging from

FOGO statistics

In the first quarter (July-Sept 2021) residents diverted:

- 763.68 tonnes (59 per cent) of kerbside collected waste from landfill, compared with
- 352.26 tonnes (31 per cent) in the first quarter (July-Sept 2020)

each town.

“Copper Coast residents who pledge their commitment will go in the draw to win a bi-monthly prize.

“Ten prizes include a 6x4 trailer load of Peates Organic Compost to be collected from Copper Coast Recourse Recovery Centre at no charge plus a $50 hardware or nursery store voucher of their choice in the winner’s town.”

Mrs Bruce thanked councillors Bruce Schmidt, Peter Oswald and Margaret Pope for becoming the inaugural Take the Pledge members.

Mr Schmidt said Take the Pledge was a great initiative.

“I’ve always recycled so it doesn’t make a huge difference but it will be another good way to promote better waste habits in the community,” Mr Schmidt said.

For more information or to Take the Pledge, visit www.coppercoast.sa.gov.au/services/waste-and-recycling/take-the-pledge.

YORKE Peninsula Council is asking the community for feedback to help shape the future of Maitland's main street.

WAX Design, in association with council, is holding community consultation to understand what opportunities exist to enhance Robert Street.

Interested community members can complete an online survey or book in for community consultation on Friday, December 10.

WAX Design has been appointed to create the plan and has already held a meeting with key stakeholders.

A concept plan will deal with the plane trees in the street which have been causing problems and also options to make it more welcoming and vibrant.

"We want to hear from members of the community about Robert Street including what makes it great and what could be improved," operations manager

Stephen Goldsworthy said.

"The consultation will be held in the visitor information centre and, due to COVID-19 restrictions, people need to register.

"There will be about eight 45-minute sessions during the day when people can deal solely with the consultants."

To complete the survey, visit www.surveymonkey.com/r/robertstreetmaitland.

The great plover rescue

QUICK thinking locals leapt into action to save an injured hooded plover at Port Victoria last month.

Friends of Hooded Plover Yorke Peninsula volunteer Annie Hopkins and daughter Grace Disher were alerted to the incident during an afternoon walk on Rifle Butts Beach just before the October long weekend.

"We saw the hoodie pair near the foot of the dunes, but we could tell straight away that something was wrong," Annie said.

"One of the birds was hopping on one foot, and tucking the other foot up under itself.

"It wasn't able to forage or scuttle along the sand in the endearing way these birds usually move."

A closer look with binoculars revealed a tangle of blue twine wrapped around the injured foot.

Annie's quick thinking set a crisis response into action and an expert team was pulled together — BirdLife Australia's Emma Stephens drove from Adelaide while Seaside Vet's Dr Veronica Bhakti volunteered her time to treat the bird on the beach.

Cold and blustery weather and fading light meant everything had to go to plan for the experts, locals and Northern and Yorke Landscape Board officer Fabienne Dee.

The injured hoodie, part of a pair referred to as Bob and Marge, was in need of treatment, Dr Bhakti said.

"The bird was slightly underweight, with a body condition score of 2/5, mildly dehydrated," she said.

"This could be due to pain and having to hop on one leg for a few days.

"If the fibres were left wrapped around the toes, eventually blood supply would be cut off and the toes would die.

"The bird would be left without toes on the affected foot, which would greatly decrease its ability to forage and escape predators — both critical for its survival.

"As a vulnerable species, every bird counts, so it was imperative we saved one half of a breeding pair so that they could continue producing more baby hooded plovers."

After a delicate operation to remove the tiny fibres, the plover was returned to its mate and was spotted scurrying along the beach on both feet a couple of days later.

Minister for Environment and Water David Speirs congratulated everyone involved on their efforts.

ENTANGLED... An injured hooded plover was spotted entangled in blue twine at Port Victoria, prior to the October long weekend.

"Hooded plovers are an amazing little species and are being slowly nurtured back from the brink of extinction by dedicated volunteers all across the state," Minister Speirs said.

"Quick thinking and commitment were the hallmark of this successful rescue and I want to thank those who did their bit."

While several nests have been lost this breeding season due to bad weather, there are still plenty monitored by volunteers.

"There are currently two families with chicks at Port Victoria and one each at Port Hughes, Point Turton, Corny Point, Port Moorowie and Port Julia," Northern and Yorke Landscape Board officer Janet Moore said.

Fledgling birds are yet to be sighted, so it is important to watch out for nests, eggs and chicks and keep your distance by walking close to the water's edge and keeping your dogs on a leash.

Experts are also reminding beachgoers to pick up any litter on the beach to prevent further close calls.

RESCUE... A crisis response team assembled at Rifle Butts Beach to attempt to save the threatened bird, including an expert BirdLife Australia catcher and vet from Wallaroo.

SAVED... After successfully removing the blue twine from the bird's foot, it was released and sighted on the beach with its mate two days later.

Show over for Karen after 28 years

Sonny Coombs
JOURNALIST

KAREN Launer is shutting down the computer and putting her pen away after nearly three decades as Maitland Show Society's entries secretary.

The show society committee has extended its gratitude to Karen with honorary life membership.

Taking on the role as entries secretary was an accident after she wandered into the office one day to find the volunteers were all busy.

"I used to enter things into the show when I had small children and one particular year I went to enter and the women in the office were really busy," she said.

"They were helping someone else so I entered my own items into their books and waited for them to check it.

"When they had a look, they jokingly said 'you could get a job here' and I told them I didn't mind doing bookwork."

The following year she received a phone call from the show society asking for help.

"I had recently had my fourth child which I told them about and said I could wheel the pram with my foot so I brought my new infant in and worked in the office," she said.

"I thought I would be helping someone but they showed me what to do and disappeared and that's how it all began."

Karen said working in the office initially involved making signage, organising place cards for convenors and entries.

"Over the years it gradually got more involved, occasionally we didn't have a secretary or treasurer so I filled those roles on the odd year.

"I was never keen to take those roles on because I lived out of town, had four children and was a farmer's wife so it wasn't always easy to do.

"I found a week every year to give to the show ... 14 years ago I got a job so I gave up paid work (for that week) to volunteer at the show."

Karen said there has been a bigger focus on policies and occupational health and safety in recent years.

"I loved the organisational part of the office; I love that I had it down pat because it's very fiddly bookwork," she said.

"It used to be a lot of handwriting, about eight years ago we bought a computer and along with that came an ag show program.

"It was wonderful, we loaded it onto the computer and that helped, all the handwriting went out the window and everything was done on the computer.

"I also love that I got to know people in the community that I hadn't met through other things I am involved with."

The show society is currently looking for someone to take on the roles of entries secretary and secretary.

"It's a great thing to do for the community and you meet some really lovely people along the way," Karen said.

"I figured I can't do it forever plus we have moved towns.

"Our son got married in January and we always said when he gets married, he needs the farmhouse so we have moved away."

Karen, originally from the Mid North, didn't have anything to do with shows until marrying her husband in 1980.

"My husband had stud cattle so we were always entering cattle in the Adelaide Show," she said.

"I started entering needlework, jams, knitting and pickles (into the Maitland Show) when I got married and when I had children, they entered artwork or something they created."

Karen said she will still be kept busy through her involvement with the Maitland Lutheran School and accommodation business in Port Vincent.

STEPPING DOWN... Maitland Show Society's Graham Mattschoss presents Karen Launer with honorary life membership.

Can you help?

MAITLAND Show Society is looking for enthusiastic volunteers to fill the roles of secretary and entries secretary.

"Not only have we lost Karen but also our secretary Renee Harrold has resigned due to moving to Western Australia," a spokesperson said.

"This has left the Maitland Show Society in need of a few people to fill roles so the show can go on.

"If you have been on the other side of the desk placing your entries perhaps you would like to join the team and help others with their exhibits."

The Maitland Show is a community event which needs the support of the community.

"Being part of the planning for our annual show is very rewarding," the spokesperson said.

"Whether like Karen, you would enjoy helping people place their entries in the days leading up to the show, or perhaps you have the skills for taking minutes, dealing with correspondence and other secretarial duties and could commit a few hours a month to take on the role of secretary we would love to hear from you."

To find out more call treasurer Heather Drysdale after hours on 0418 830 041 or send an email to maitlandshow@hotmail.com.

Makin' Tracks back at veterans centre

POPULAR vocalists Lyn Stead and Sandy Owen, who perform together as Makin' Tracks, are once again appearing at the YP Veterans Community Centre, Kadina, monthly dinner on Friday evening, November 5.

The duo has been busy as the transition away from COVID-19 restrictions progresses and is once again looking forward to catching up with old friends and acquaintances.

"Great value-for-money meals and many popular tunes from the 1950s through to the '90s are all part of this regular dinner experience that many of the local community always include on their calendar," the organisers said.

"Lyn and Sandy have well-founded singing and entertaining experience and this shows through with their relaxed way of reacting with audiences which has made them a favourite act throughout regional South Australia as well as interstate.

"So, in the words of the legendary Ian 'Molly' Meldrum, do yourself a favour and get along to see them."

See Community Calendar advert last issue for details; bookings are essential, phone 0418 830 639.

WALKING AROUND... Greg Germein in his bushland with Friends of Walk the Yorke, Native Orchid Society of South Australia and friends of Peter Anastassiadis and Cathy Cashen.

Friends take a bush walk

ABOUT 30 walkers from across Yorke Peninsula explored some local bushland on Sunday, September 19.

The group comprised Friends of Walk the Yorke members plus friends and associates of the landowners. Walk leader Pam Bennett set the pace and led the group 17 kilometres in perfect walking weather.

Pam had arranged with seven generous landholders for permission to cross a portion of their farms. Walkers were shown an environmentally friendly self-cleaning stock trough, pioneer graves, had lunch by a salt lake and enjoyed the countryside at its best in spring.

Some of the landholders were involved in the walk itself, with landholder Greg Germein walking through part of his property with the group.

Greg pointed out the sandpit in which the sand taken by hand shovel and horse and cart, which was used to make the mortar used in building the heritage Minlaton show hall, currently under restoration.

Greg also showed the group the wildlife corridors which have been planted to link patches of native scrub.

This has been done to provide pathways for birds, native animals, and pollinating insects, linking adjoining farms and retaining important ecosystems on the land.

At the final destination, the walkers were treated to afternoon tea by landowners Peter Anastassiadis and Cathy Cashen.

It was a hugely successful day with friendships formed between the two participating groups.

All involved appreciated the well-planned walk and kindness of all landholders involved.

Moonta Probus 29th anniversary celebrated

MOONTA and District Probus Club marked its 29th anniversary at its meeting on October 11.

President Doug Warmington welcomed Rotary Club of NYP president Neville Andrews and wife Christine to help celebrate.

Neville spoke briefly about Rotary's local community projects before cutting the splendid birthday cake, which had been baked by inimitable club member Dulcie Barker.

Doug announced the lucky draw winners as Denice Karutz, Noreen Hatcher, Klynton Kitto and Dawn Ireland.

October birthday greetings were offered to Kevin French, Lindsay Barker, Nancy Rawlings, Syd Cheesman, June Healy, Denis Healy, Leon Roesler and Kathlyn Fabian.

Marilyn and Neville Hards were then applauded for their October wedding anniversary.

Twelve members were reported as visiting the National Trust Miner's Cottage, Moonta Mines, where the wonderful volunteer guides were acknowledged, then to coffee and cake at Moonta Cafe to conclude the enjoyable excursion.

Sharon and David Medlow spoke about CocoLaura, their Laura-based gourmet chocolate business.

A former university lecturer, David decided on a career change in early 1990s.

Making confectionary in their own kitchen using pectin from oranges to make jellies, and rocky road chocolates, there was much experimentation with moulds and equipment.

Fifteen years later they sold their McLaren Vale enterprise, with its 19 employees, and David returned to lecturing.

Now residing in Laura, a "pleasant area with many tourists", the Medlows decided to become chocolate manufacturers again, exclusively using Belgian chocolate.

Their diverse products include liqueur varieties as well as the popular frogs.

Samples of their jelly sweets were gratefully consumed by members before Doug gave thanks to the Medlows for their outstanding address.

Next on the calendar is the club luncheon at the Wombat Hotel, Kadina, on Monday, December 6.

ARTHURTON Hotel owner Gary Maxwell is encouraging locals and visitors to drop in and check out the changes.

The pub has an extensive dining menu and is also gaining a reputation for its fresh pizzas since re-opening its doors in August.

"We've had some pretty great support from the community, but also we're getting a lot of people from surrounding towns as well," Gary said.

"I saw the pub was for sale, decided to buy it and move down here from Queensland.

"We spent about three months renovating it and bringing it back up to standard."

Gary said the pub prides itself on the freshness of its pizzas, with the bases made on site, and was excited to offer delivery to select areas.

"We do takeaway options for the whole dining menu and the pizzas and they can also be ordered via the Here U Go app.

"Delivery is also available for those in Ardrossan, Price, Port Clinton, Pine Point and Arthurton through the app."

The Arthurton Hotel's dining room is open for lunch from Thursday to Sunday, and Wednesday to Saturday for dinner.

Once a month, the Arthurton Hotel will host local and visiting bands with Mother Truckers performing on Sunday, November 14, and Outback Overdrive playing on Sunday, December 19.

"It's been a tough year for local musicians, they haven't really been able to travel for work so we wanted to give them a space to play," Gary said.

"It's always great to have some live music and when we don't have bands, we have already had a few DJ days as well."

Check out the Arthurton Hotel at 15 Main Street, Arthurton, or call 8835 1313.

Minlaton High old scholars' reunion

THE Minlaton High School year 8 class of 1954 held another well-attended class reunion recently.

This was the fifth time the class has held a reunion, with plans for another in two years.

There were 16 former students and some partners who attended the day.

A special 80th cake was baked by Pat Barrand's (nee Cameron) daughter-in-law, Theresa Barrand, which was cut by Vivienne Illman and Joy Kirk.

Ray Agnew and John Eglinton were responsible for lighting the candles.

Rob Tonkin produced copies of the school hymn and the school war cry.

Some attendees, considering their competitiveness while at school, had unbelievably completely forgotten the war cry.

These were among the first students to attend Minlaton High (now Minlaton District School) on the present site.

Prior to this, classes were held in the St Benedict's Anglican Church Parish Hall (now the church).

Probus celebration at Wallaroo

MEMBERS of the Probus Club of Wallaroo celebrated the group's 29th anniversary in style on Monday, September 20.

More than 40 members of the club were joined by 23 visitors from Kadina, Gilbert Valley and Minlaton for the celebration in the Wallaroo Town Hall.

A birthday cake was cut and attendees enjoyed a morning tea of tea, coffee and biscuits.

The club also took the opportunity to honour founding members Audrey Thomas and Roma Rayner with life memberships — the first awarded since the club's founding.

"These two women had previously been asked to cut the birthday cake but the committee had agreed not to announce our intention so as to surprise them with their well-deserved acknowledgement, they were both very surprised and the members of the club were delighted, a very touching moment," member Leonie Jauczius said.

"The club has offered opportunities for fun, friendship and fellowship for all members, and also for those in the community who join us from time to time for outings and fun times."

Vocal duo Makin' Tracks entertained the group with a variety of swinging songs and sentimental lyrics, which were greatly enjoyed by all present.

Members and visitors then spent a pleasant afternoon at the Prince Edward Hotel for lunch.

Pride of Moonta

MOONTA is a proud and unique town which is central to the story of the Copper Coast and a key part of the state's development.

Traces of copper were discovered on a pastoral lease in 1861, and the town has continued to grow since.

Almost 5000 ton of ore was produced in the first year mining operations and by 1870, more than 5000 people were dependent on the mine, which was producing 20,000 ton of dressed ore.

Moonta is known for its celebration of history and heritage, something which is no more obvious than at the Moonta Mines National Heritage area.

Groups like the Moonta and District Progress Association continue to drive change and a sense of community, creating groups to look after areas of parkland and artistic pursuits, as well as organising Christmas events.

Many of Moonta's iconic structures still exist today but it is also home to some of the region's best beaches, acclaimed eateries and shops for everything you need.

Moonta is also home to Sir Richard Williams, the "Father of the RAAF", with the RAAF celebrating its centenary in 2021.

Moonta progress plays its role

Advertising Promotion

MOONTA and District Progress Association members are always working hard for the community.

The association currently has about 80 members across various groups with 10 people forming the overarching committee.

"A lot of our members are involved in the community shed while we also have groups involved in Victoria Park, Polgreen Park, McCauley Park and the town beautification group," vice-president Pamela Kerr said.

"We are always looking for new members to join progress, and our committee.

"We are an active group, there's something for everyone.

"Progress has an art committee which is working on restoring murals around the town and creating other community art projects."

The progress association also holds an annual show 'n' shine to raise money for its Christmas activities, which will be back at the town oval this year.

Members of progress have also been deeply involved in the official Sir Richard Williams RAAF Centenary Celebrations this Sunday, November 7.

Progress contributed financially to the statue fund and are named on the sponsor plaque.

"Graham Sobey and I were part of the committee from the beginning and it's been so wonderful to see it get to this point," Pamela said.

"It's taken a lot of work from the committee but we're proud to be here."

Celebrating Moonta's history

CELEBRATING local heritage and history is something the National Trust SA Moonta branch does on a daily basis.

The branch is run by dedicated volunteers and is responsible for the Moonta Mines National Heritage area including the Old Railway Station, museum, sweet shop, tourist train, history centre and cottage.

"We're so very pleased to be involved in the Sir Richard Williams RAAF Centenary Celebrations," tourist officer Glenys Blacker said.

"We'd like to extend a very large congratulations to Robyn Knight and her committee for the work they have put in towards this effort, both in regards to fundraising for the statue and planning the celebration."

Moonta is home to some wonderful historical figures and the rich history of the area's Cornish settlers.

"It's always important to recognise the work of those who came before us and helped turned the area into what it is today," Ms Blacker said.

"When you visit the museum, you'll see and learn more about other famous people from Moonta as well.

"The Moonta Mines National Heritage Area will open for business on Sunday, the train will be running, as the sweet shop and other venues as well."

It's a great time to learn more about the history of the area as the planning progresses for the Moonta Mines National Heritage Place.

National Trust will host Nelson Surveyors as they complete a laser survey demonstration on historic sites this Friday.

"We really want to bring the community, businesses and individuals along with us over the journey to develop this national heritage place over the next couple of years," Ms Blacker said.

"From time to time there will be opportunities for various groups to get involved and this is one of those times."

"The laser survey is the first step in our planning for the future, it will open up new doors to the way we can present this National Heritage Place with conservation of the buildings and new tourism experiences to enjoy."

You can now book your train rides and museum trips online, while vouchers are also available for the sweet shop — making the perfect Christmas presents.

Visitors to the area can also check out the digital Moonta Heritage Walking Trail through the SA Heritage mobile phone app.

Sir Richard Williams RAAF Centenary Celebrations

Sunday, 7th November

Moonta's own "Father of the RAAF"

A CELEBRATION like no other to recognise the special achievements of one of Moonta's own will be held this Sunday, November 7.

The Sir Richard Williams RAAF Centenary Celebrations will mark the 100th anniversary of the formation of the modern Royal Australian Air Force and the role a Moonta local had in its establishment.

Sir Richard Williams was born to Richard and Emily Williams (nee Hodge) in Moonta on August 3, 1890, and attended Moonta Public School before working as a telegraph messenger at the Moonta Post Office, a greengrocer and for the Union Bank.

At the age of 19, Williams enlisted in the South Australian Infantry Regiment in Kadina.

On the formation of an army aviator corps he was accepted as a member of the first pilots' course at Point Cook, Victoria.

Sir Richard, then 24, was the first student to begin flying training, and was the first to gain his wings.

He served with No. 1 Squadron (Australian Flying Corps) in World War I and was awarded the Distinguished Service Order in August 1917 for conspicuous gallantry when attacking enemy forces and rescuing a pilot behind enemy lines.

By the end of the war, Sir Richard was the AFC's leading operational commander.

Sir Richard was instrumental in the formation of the RAAF in 1921 and was the first Chief of Air Staff for the RAAF — he would eventually rise to the rank of Air Marshal and retired after World War II.

He led the Department of Civil Aviation after leaving the armed forces and was knighted in 1954.

Sir Richard died, aged 89 years, in Melbourne on February 7, 1980.

NEW HOME... Goerecke Memorials employee and crane operator Tulsa Osborn, sculptor's assistant David Jones, sculptor Tim Thomson, Goerecke Memorials owner Shaun Mercer and Goerecke Memorials employee Kai Collins-Sewart celebrate the installation of the Sir Richard Williams statue.

Planning takes time

THE Sir Richard Williams RAAF Centenary Celebrations Committee started planning a whole-town celebration in 2019.

Celebrations were initially organised to coincide with the official 100th anniversary of the formation of the Royal Australian Air Force in August but were postponed due to COVID-19.

Organisers set a goal to raise $75,000 to fund a bronze statue of Sir Richard and install it in Queen Square to mark the milestone.

Community groups, individuals, businesses and the state government all contributed money for the works, created by Tim Thomson, and installed last week.

Her Excellency, Frances Adamson AC, Governor of South Australia, will officially unveil the statue at the celebrations in Queen Square, on Sunday, November 7.

Dr Robert Black AM, president of the Air Force Association SA, will read aloud a poem written by centenary committee chairperson Robyn Knight and unveil a plaque thanking those who supported the venture.

Copper Coast Council mayor Roslyn Talbot said it was an honour to work with the RAAF, state government and local committee on such auspicious celebrations.

"Relatives, officers and state representatives have been in contact to express their gratitude for this celebration and the mountain of work that has been put into organising this celebration by everyone involved," she said.

"The Sir Richard Williams RAAF Centenary Celebrations Committee has made this day possible through their passion to honour a Moonta hero in the heart of the town and now everyone who visits will know his achievements and contributions to aviation and the nation.

"We encourage everyone to come down, join in on the celebrations and learn about the life and times of Sir Richard Williams and his strong connections with Moonta and the RAAF."

PUBLISHED... A poem by Donna Edwards, Marion Bay, has been included in a recent anthology celebrating Ginninderra Press's 25th year in business.

Milestone for local poet

MARION Bay poet Donna Edwards is amongst more than 160 poets whose work is included in a recent anthology printed by Ginninderra Press. The collection, titled Milestones, was published to celebrate the business's 25th year of operation. "The poets explore their take on life's milestones — personal and historical, mournful and whimsical, light and dark," owner Stephen Matthews OAM said.

"To read the book from beginning to end is to take a poetic journey through the triumphs and setbacks of everyday life." Donna is a regular contributor to Poet's Corner in the YP Country Times' and she encourages writers and budding poets to share their words. Milestones can be requested through local libraries or ordered directly from Ginninderra Press.

Double celebration for Moonta Bay couple

IT was a double celebration for Elaine and Roger Norris-Green, of Moonta Bay, on Sunday, October 10. Family helped the couple mark their diamond wedding anniversary as well as Elaine's 80th birthday with an outdoor afternoon tea at Modbury Civic Park. The celebration continued with an evening meal at Modbury Hotel. Elaine and Roger were married by the Reverend Neil Usher in the Campbelltown Methodist Church 60 years ago. They lived most of their lives together in the Adelaide Hills but retired to the Copper Coast. Elaine is involved with the NYP Quilters and is a life member. Roger is a Gulf FM radio announcer, author and Uniting Church lay preacher. They have four children, five grandchildren and five great-grandchildren.

Cholesterol — steps you can take to manage it

Healthier Hearts

on Yorke Peninsula

There are two common types of cholesterol. Low-density lipoprotein is the 'bad' cholesterol. It can stick to the walls of arteries and cause a fatty build-up called plaque. Too much plaque leads to blockages that prevent blood from flowing properly to the heart. High-density lipoprotein is the 'good' cholesterol. It carries the LDL away from the arteries and back to the liver where it is broken down. Most people with high cholesterol don't even know they have it because they won't experience any symptoms. So, if you are 45 years or over, or 30 years or older for Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander peoples, we recommend you see your doctor to have your cholesterol checked as part of a Heart Health Check. Certain risk factors contribute to high cholesterol, including age, smoking, not doing enough physical activity, being overweight or obese, having a family history of high cholesterol and eating an unhealthy diet. A heart-healthy eating pattern can help lower your cholesterol over time — we recommend eating plenty of vegetables, fruits and wholegrains, a variety of healthy protein sources, especially fish, seafood and legumes (such as beans and lentils), nuts and seeds. You can eat dairy foods, but people who have high blood cholesterol or a history of heart disease should choose reduced fat options. Nuts, seeds and avocados are packed with healthy fats, and you can use olive oil for cooking. Remember to reach for herbs and spices instead of adding salt. Lot Fourteen enthralls Ardrossan students

A GROUP of 17 Ardrossan Area School years 7 to 10 students travelled to Adelaide to participate in an exhibition at Lot Fourteen on Thursday, September 16.

Lot Fourteen, on the old Royal Adelaide Hospital site at the corner of Frome Road and North Terrace, is a precinct based upon innovation, entrepreneurship, research, education, culture and tourism, with the aim to grow jobs and South Australia's economy.

At the exhibition, students had the opportunity to tour the Australian Cyber Collaboration Centre, investigate the Space Discovery Centre and talk to industry representatives about career pathways.

A part of the exhibition was the World of Work Challenge, which focused on jobs of the future, displaying multiple career options, where students had the opportunity to talk one-on-one with workers in these industries.

This experience at Lot Fourteen has contributed to the learning programs at Ardrossan Area School, which participates in various innovation and entrepreneurship programs including Shark Tank, Future Focused Learning, Personal Learning Plan and the $20 Boss Program.

Isabelle Teakle

TECHNOLOGY... Serenity Gorden and Keeley Abell put technology of the future to the test.

INTERACTIVE... Eliza Whittaker, Ashlee Clifford and Mikayla Dayman check out some of the interactive displays.

EXPLORATION... Chloe Purnell and Brady Badari explore some of the technology on display in the Lot Fourteen exhibition.

Implant for n-AMD

The USA Food and Drug Administration has approved Susvimo (previously called Port Delivery System with ranibizumab) for intravitreal use via ocular implant for the treatment of people with wet (neovascular) age-related macular degeneration.

n-AMD is a potentially blinding condition that requires treatment with anti-vascular endothelial growth factor eye injections as often as once a month.

Surgically inserted into the eye during a one-time, outpatient procedure, the Susvimo implant delivers ranibizumab continuously and is refilled every six months.

If necessary, supplemental ranibizumab treatment can be given to the affected eye while the implant is in place.

The FDA approval is based on positive results from clinical trials that showed wet AMD patients treated with Susvimo achieved and maintained vision gains equivalent to monthly ranibizumab injections at weeks 36 and 40 of treatment.

More than 98 per cent of Susvimo patients in the trials could go the six months before their first refill.

However, two per cent of patients with the implant experienced at least one episode of inflammation to two or more adjacent layers of the eye.

Most common adverse events were conjunctival haemorrhage, conjunctival hyperaemia, iritis and eye pain.

Von Bertouch retires from SANFL

RETIREMENT... Jake von Bertouch, in action against Central District, has retired from SANFL football.

Peter Argent
REPORT BY

Jake von Bertouch is walking away from state league football satisfied with his achievements.

The key position player recorded 130 SANFL league matches and a premiership in his nearly decade long stint at Woodville-West Torrens.

"I started with the Eagles in the under 15 program for West Torrens Country," Von Bertouch said.

"It is a timing and work commitments issue as I'm a credit assessor with Westpac.

"We had a decent crew from Yorke Peninsula who played at Oval Avenue and, for an extended period, we were all together.

"Pooley (Angus Poole) and I, and for a time Cam Sutcliffe, along with a couple others, lived in a house on Headley Court, about 100 metres from the Woodville Oval, so the club was our second home."

Von Bertouch was a member of the South Australian state under 16s and under 18s teams, and was a part of the National AIS program which included a trip to South Africa before moving into senior ranks.

"We did play a game of football in South Africa against their national side, but most of the trip was cultural," Von Bertouch said.

He spent a season on the Adelaide Crows list after being selected at pick 44 in the 2010 rookie draft and made his SANFL league debut, alongside Moonta's Matt Appleton against Glenelg, in round 18, 2013.

"The season as a rookie with the Crows was a good experience, but I wasn't ready for AFL at the time," he said.

"Our premiership is certainly the highlight of my time at the Eagles. It is (the) only thing I ever wanted, (I'm) happy to tick that off and I'm pretty content.

"On reflection I owe a fair bit to my parents, Diane and Craig.

"The commitments supporting me, the travel and time they spent getting me to games and taking me to training and everything else was a major commitment."

Woodville-West Torrens CEO Luke Powell thanked Von Bertouch for his service to the club.

"He is a much-loved player within our playing group and will be sorely missed," he said.

"We wish Jake all the best for the future."

Max Litster, state MVP

Peter Argent
REPORT BY

Wonderful representative performances by Max Litster have culminated in him winning the John Halbert Medal for the state's Most Valuable Player in the SANFL state Under 19 football program.

Litster was presented his award at the 2021 Torrens University Under 17 and Under 19 State Team Presentations on Tuesday, October 26.

The John A Halbert Medal has been presented to the program's MVP since 1996 with previous winners including 2021 Magarey Medallist Bryce Gibbs, Melbourne's Luke Dunstan, two-time Richmond premiership player Jack Graham and Yorke Peninsula export Hayden Skipworth.

Litster was also acknowledged as the Players' Player as voted on by teammates across the tournament.

SANFL Commissioner Tom Zorich awarded Litster a plaque for his best-on-ground performance against Western Australia at Lathlain Park.

"It took me a bit by surprised, I thought I had a consistent carnival, but I thought we had a number who could have taken away the award," Listster said.

"Being my first carnival and donning the state colours I had nothing to lose.

"It was a great opportunity to prove myself at the level.

"The biggest thing I took from the experience is the friendship with guys from other clubs you foster during the championships.

"I had a week off post season, but have started both running and weights programs.

"The MVP award was awesome, but the Players' Player award is also a huge honour as well as it's voted on by your peers."

SANFL talent program head Brenton Phillips said Litster reminded him a lot of Adelaide Crow Luke Brown.

"Luke was getting a senior game under Nathan Bassett at Norwood," Phillips said.

"He gave him at opportunity at state under 18s level as an over-ager.

"He, like Max has this year, proved his capability as a player in 2011 and has become a 10-year AFL footballer, having now played upwards of 170 games."

Other YP talents, Brock Thomson (under 17s) and Zac Phillips (under 19s), were presented with their match jumpers at the awards night.

The national elite underage championships will revert to under 18 and under 16 programs next year.

MOST VALUABLE... Max Litster received the SANFL state Under 19 program's Most Valuable Player and Players' Player Awards late last month.

SANFL trio back in red and black

Fin Hansen
REPORT BY

Three Kadina-bred talents are set to return to the Bloods in 2022.

Angus Poole, Jake von Bertouch and Jack Elsworth will all line up at their home club following SANFL careers.

Most notably, Poole, 27, and Von Bertouch, 28, enjoyed 155 and 130 games with Woodville-West Torrens respectively.

Poole rounded out his decorated career with back-to-back premierships, while Von Bertouch also featured in last year's flag triumph.

Poole said he had been keen to join Kadina for a while and potentially take the field alongside brothers David and James.

"My parents still live in Kadina and I've still got a few mates around the club, so I'm looking forward to getting back and enjoying my footy again," he said.

"Kadina really helped shape my footy as a junior so it'll be a good chance to give back.

"This is the keenest I've been for a season in a while — I'm really looking forward to getting stuck in."

Still with family and friends in the town, von Bertouch hopes to add to his Kadina trophy cabinet, which includes senior colts and A grade premiership medals from in 2009 and 2017 respectively.

Elsworth, 25, will also be a key inclusion for the Bloods following 29 games for Port and South Adelaide.

"The lure of playing with close mates and the family connection back at Kadina meant it felt like the right time to return to my roots," he said.

"We have a very young group full of really promising locals so it is certainly exciting to be returning home.

"Some of my favourite memories date back to winning junior premierships, teammates of which I get to reunite with now which is special.

"(I'm looking forward to) relishing the country footy environment and chasing the ultimate success back where it all began."

STARS... Two of Kadina's favourite sons Jake von Bertouch and Angus Poole are excited to return to their home club with family and close friends.

COMING HOME... The youngest of Kadina's inclusions, Jack Elsworth, said he's looking forward to relishing country football again.

PLAYER COACH... Moonta Football Club 2018 premiership player Jonathon Ross has been appointed coach of the Freeling Redlegs.

Moonta premiership player to coach Freeling

Peter Argent
REPORT BY

Jonathon Ross, a key component in Moonta's 2018 premiership, has been appointed coach of the Freeling Redlegs in the Barossa, Light and Gawler Football Association.

"I'm coming to the club in a playing coach role," Ross, 26, said.

"For the past two years, I've played under Brett James at Kersbrook and before that I spent two years at Moonta.

"I was lucky enough to play in the Demons' '18 flag when we defeated the Cougars.

"This year Kersbrook also enjoyed premiership success defeating Meadows in the decider by about 10 goals."

Ross expects to predominate play as a key forward and pinch hit in ruck.

Freeling did not win a game in 2021, with its last A grade victory coming in 2019.

In other recruiting news, Moonta has secured the services of South Gawler's Lachlan Everett.

Everett is fresh off a premiership in the BLGFA with South winning the premiership by a single straight after being 56-0 down halfway through second quarter.

Girls for a kick at Crows Cup

Fin Hansen
REPORT BY

About 100 girls laced up the boots for Adelaide Football Club's Optus Crows Cup last Wednesday, October 27.

The years 5-7 nine-a-side carnival was contested by teams from Ardrossan and Moonta Area, Central Yorke, St Mary MacKillop, Wallaroo, Maitland Lutheran and Minlaton District Schools, plus Harvest Christian College, Kadina.

The carnival was one of 19 scheduled to be held across South Australia this year and aims to offer an additional pathway for female aspiring footballers.

AFC club engagement executive and former Adelaide Crow Sam Jacobs said the club had been putting lots of time into its women's program.

"We're giving as many opportunities to girls as we can to help them grow and develop early," Jacobs said.

"Participation is the first step for girls to try their hand at footy.

"Hopefully we see a Yorke Peninsula competition soon, as you just have to be able to play to see if it's for you or not.

"We're aiming for this carnival to be ongoing to get as many schools and girls involved as possible."

SACA women's first grade

In her initial first grade game, Jemma Torsney played a starring role in West Torrens' exciting seven-run twenty20 win against Northern Districts at Salisbury Oval on Sunday, October 31.

West Torrens batted first and made 4/110 from its 20 over allotment.

Torsney finished with three wickets at a cost of 21 runs from her four overs, including a couple of wickets in quick succession to put her side on the front foot.

SACA men's first grade

James Reuther and Murphy Short, slated to bat at 10th and 11th for West Torrens, spent the majority of the day as spectators in the men's first grade game at Hawthorn Oval on Saturday, October 30.

The West Torrens batters dominated Sturt's bowling attack, making 4/426 before declaring at the end of the 91st over.

Bailey Capel was dismissed on 199 and skipper Daniel Drew also made a century.

West Torrens bowled three overs at the end of the day, collecting 1/6 in the first two-day game for the season.

Blake Gutsche and his teammates started in the field after Tea Tree Gully won the toss at Woodville Oval.

Woodville bowled TTTG out for 175 in 60.1 overs and was in the strong position of 2/108 at stumps; Gutsche is expected to be the next player at the batting crease.

SACA women's second grade

West Torrens batted first against Adelaide and made 3/88 from its 20 overs at Glandore Oval.

Mackenzie McCauley opened the batting and was run out for 16, having faced 36 balls in a 44-minute stay during which she dispatched a single boundary.

Adelaide chased down this total in 13.2 overs, for the loss of three wickets.

Claire Harvey was the pick of the side's bowlers in her first game for West Torrens this season.

Harvey took two of the three wickets to fall, finishing with 2/18 from three overs.

Bowling her leg spinners, McCauley sent down two wicket-less, but frugal, overs, which cost just seven runs.

SACA men's second grade

The second grade game between West Torrens and Sturt at Henley Memorial Oval was a different affair than the men's first grade batting bonanza.

Batting first, West Torrens was bundled out for just 79 in 47.4 overs.

Lachlan Pointon failed to trouble the scorers, making his second duck of the season, this time facing seven balls in an eight-minute stay.

Callum Agnew was the second highest scorer with 10, behind opener Thomas Woolford who batted through the innings for 47 not out.

SACA boys' under 16 Red

West Torrens started its first two-day game of the season, also against Sturt, at Bailey Reserve.

Strongly built quick from Curramulka, Will Pointon opened the West Torrens bowling and proved to be the most successful trundlers, as Sturt was bowled out for 190 in the 70th over.

Pointon sent down 15.5 overs, four of them maidens, and finished with an excellent 4/38, bowling strong lines, and not letting the Sturt batters many free hits.

These are the best figures in West Torrens colours for the bowling all-rounder.

SACA UNDER 16 RED... Will Pointon opened the West Torrens bowling against Sturt, his 4/38 being his best figures so far for the Eagles.

Moonta Dirt Bike Club

The last two Moonta Dirt Bike Club meetings for the season were held recently.

The earlier meeting was a pony express for juniors, where riders chose partners over a series of four pony expresses.

With the partner changes, no one really dominated.

The riders had a great time negotiating different tracks in reverse.

Overall results: 1st Bede Mackereth, 2nd Blake Whitbread, 3rd Bella Osborn.

A lot of these juniors will be going up a class next season, so good luck and ride safe!

The last meeting was a fun day with water balloon races, flag races and, for those who could reach the footpeg, a ride on a speedway bike.

It's been a great year with the masters games enduro, Chappy three-hour pony express, Paramatta mine two hour, and all the other meetings.

Thanks to Mat Whitbread and Tamika Mackereth for running the meetings so smoothly, to barbecue cooks Tim Eastwood and Lorraine Povey; scorers Julie Eastwood, Kaylene Osborn, Amanda Formosa and Michelle Leicester; track prep crew Dave Povey and John Osborn; flaggies and helpers throughout the season.

To all our many sponsors, thank you for assisting the club.

See you all next year!

Ardrossan bowls best of the best

Patrick Goldsmith

Ardrossan Bowling Club is one of the state's best clubs.

The group claimed the Clubs SA Small Club of the Year Award for 2021 at the recent awards night.

Club secretary Charmaine Simmons said it was a fabulous night to receive such an honour.

Ardrossan beat out other contenders, Elizabeth Football, Henley, Modbury, Para Hills and Salisbury Bowling, Kingston SE Golf and the Highercombe Golf and Country Clubs.

Simmons said the club was acutely aware of the important role volunteers play, but also of the social impact of the club.

"We're so proud of our volunteers and the entire community," she said.

"If we had to pay those who put the hours in at our club, there is no way we'd survive so this award really is recognition for everyone involved at our club.

"We do have a lot of people here, so it has also become a very social place which many people in our community need as an outlet."

The club has a strong focus on fundraising, hosting annual events for the Ardrossan Community Hospital as well as Legacy.

It has also provided emergency relief when required, like for a bushfire.

"Fundraising is something we have always held as really important to us," Simmons said.

"Not only do we raise funds but we also try to give back to the community whenever we can, such as following bushfires in southern Yorke Peninsula or at Pinery."

Each year the Ardrossan Bowling Club hosts 150 participants from all across the state in an Easter tournament which significantly boosts the local economy.

"It provides an opportunity for the whole community to show what Ardrossan has to offer, which is exciting," Simmons said.

"Of course, people are looking for a place to stay and places to eat so with that brings money for local businesses.

"We look at this award as a thank you to the members of the Ardrossan Bowling Club."

Alford Bowling Club cosmo fours tournament

Alford Bowling Club held its cosmo fours tournament on Monday, October 11.

Twelve teams played in perfect weather.

Winner was the men's team from Wallaroo Mines, R Simpson, C Shean and R Appleton, with Alford fill-in S Davis.

Runner-up was the Moonta women's team of S Cavanagh, J Andrew, J Wilson and C Herrmann.

The club thanks sponsors and members for their support.

Bute Bowling Club women's invitation fours

Bute Bowling Club held its women's invitation fours event on Tuesday, October 26.

There were 14 teams participating on a fine, warm day.

Competition was close with two teams finishing on 78 shots.

After a count back, Rosemary Smith's team from Moonta (Anita Woods, Joyce Andrew, June Wilson) was victorious, 18 shots up.

Pat Keech skippered the runner-up team from Redhill and Port Broughton (Maureen Coffey, Heather Griffin, Kerry Hayes), 15 up.

Thank you to the many volunteer members who contributed to making the day such a success.

Kadina wins by five shots

Joan Hill
REPORT BY

Saturday competition

DIVISION I

Closest game of the round was at Port Broughton where Kadina won by five shots.

This included draws on two of the rinks, scores 23-23 on one and 18-18 on the other.

Arthurton has started the season well and must be pleased with its results.

This week, both its sides (divisions I and II) played at home and had good scores, div I defeating close neighbour Maitland and div II having an all-rinks win against Paskeville.

With Wallaroo White playing at home, no one would have thought the home side would win by 22 shots against Moonta. Kevin Robinson, Malcolm Johns, Fred Schenck and Richard Kent had a good win 35-9. Moonta's Don Bennett was the only one up for his side.

Ardrossan had a good win at home against Bute with three teams up and the other a drawn game.

Paskeville, with all teams up, was too good for Wallaroo Blue and is sitting in fifth spot.

DIVISION II

All div II scores showed big wins for the victors.

Moonta Blue was too strong for Alford and Wallaroo Blue too strong for Port Broughton.

Wallaroo Mines must be happy with its results so far this season, last week travelling to Ardrossan for a 102-76 win.

Kadina defeated Bute 104-81.

DIVISION III

Wallaroo White hosted Moonta White and won by one shot, 54-53.

Maitland won 69 to Ardrossan White 43, Moonta Blue had a big win against Kadina 67-34, and Moonta Red had the biggest win, 83 to Wallaroo White 40.

Game of the round at Kadina

DIVISION I

Game of the week will be in Kadina with the home side playing Wallaroo White, which is yet to lose a game. Can it win in Kadina? I think it can but Kadina will have something to say about that. This should be a great game between two good sides.

Arthurton, which is having a good season so far, travels to Bute. I don't think harvest should cause any problems for either side so this should also be a great game. Bute usually wins at home but Arthurton is playing well and could easily come out on top.

Maitland and Port Broughton are both looking for a win. Maitland will be at home but Port Broughton may just be the stronger of the two sides.

Can Ardrossan win away from home, especially at Wallaroo against the Blue side? This will be a test for Ardrossan to see how it manages Wallaroo Blue.

Paskeville travels to Moonta and, after Moonta's loss last week, the trip home will be long for Paskeville.

DIVISION II

Paskeville and Ardrossan are both yet to have wins. Harvest is just around the corner for Paskeville so it will want to win this one.

Moonta Red travel to Port Broughton. Both sides have had their byes but, coming off its bye, Moonta Red might just win this one.

Wallaroo Mines, playing at home, may just beat Moonta Blue.

Kadina is at home against Wallaroo Blue. This should be a great game but Kadina is favoured to win at home.

Arthurton has had three wins and can make it four in a row at Alford.

DIVISION III

Wallaroo Blue travels to Ardrossan to play the White side; the visitors might just win this one.

Ardrossan Blue will be playing at home also against Kadina. Both sides would like a win here.

The local derby will be played at Moonta and this could go either way; at the toss of a coin, Moonta Blue.

Thursday competition

Both games at Ardrossan were abandoned due to the amount of hail and rain on October 28.

These were Ardrossan v Wallaroo in div I Green and Ardrossan v Paskeville in div II Gold.

In fact, all div I Gold games were abandoned due to inclement weather.

DIVISION I GREEN

Wallaroo will be looking for a win this week when it travels to Bute. Wallaroo lost its first game at home and then was washed out at Ardrossan so Bute will be have to play at its best if it is going to win this game.

Moonta Blue is playing well; when it plays Moonta Red this week, it will want to keep up that good form but the derby could give Moonta Red three wins in a row.

Kadina-Mines Green travels to Maitland for a game that will test Kadina-Mines. It won't be surprising if Maitland wins this one at home.

Port Broughton had a win by one shot at home last week. Ardrossan was

Saturday competition

DIVISION I

After its win against Stansbury the previous week, Yorketown continued on its winning way with a 13-shot victory against Minlaton on October 30.

Stansbury bounced back to defeat Warooka at Warooka by 38 shots.

Despite Warooka’s reputation as “Windy Hill”, there was no breeze to speak of, which players found rather unusual and so took time to settle into the game.

Big winner was John Cook (Stansbury) 32 against Anthony Bilney 13, and Ken Rickard (Warooka) pushed Rob Natt to a 20-19 Stansbury win.

Yorketown’s home green advantage helped it get the better of Minlaton, 89-76.

Rod Franke (Yorketown) scored the biggest win of the game, 25-15 against Gavin Porter; Minlaton’s only winning rink was that of Craig Norgren, 23-19 against Massimo Castiglia.

Port Vincent defeated Edithburgh with three rinks up; Peter Green was the best performer, 29-14 against Chris Tatchell. Edithburgh’s only winner, Deon Heidenrich scored 24 to Rob Storm’s 18.

Port Victoria got the points at Curramulka, where each side had two rinks up.

The two Thompsons played out a real battle with Marshall (Curramulka) defeating Steve 24-23. Ben Groombridge (Curry) scored a big 28-16 win against Lyndon Watters, and Luke Brind (Port Vic) had a 24-15 win against Des Short.

The ladder has Yorketown on top from Stansbury, Edithburgh and Port Vincent, with Port Victoria just out of the top four.

DIVISION II

Stansbury’s two sides continue to lead the way with White on top from Blue, followed by Yorketown Blue and Port Vincent Black to make up the top four. Yorketown Red is two points behind in fifth.

Port Vincent Black had a narrow 74-69 win in the derby against Port Vincent Gold, whilst Yorketown Blue had a narrow escape, 65-62, against Minlaton.

All other games had larger margins for the winners Yorketown Red, Port Victoria and Stansbury Blue.

Ardrossan Saturday: Results 23-10-21 — Division I lost to Arthurton 75-106. Best rink G David, L Burman, M Shaw and Ben Rowntree (sk) hung in for a 24-20 win. J Simmons's team came from behind to take the lead before falling away to 25-30. D Adcock's rink led mid game, but scoring was rare thereafter in its 15-28 loss. Despite winning 10 ends, L Rich's team lost 11-28. Div II lost to Alford 73-93. Best rink K Holman, F Stennett, R DePieri and J Burgess (sk) came out winners 23-19. After a slow start, D Johnson's team surged to a 19-20 defeat. C Simmons's rink produced a couple of high-scoring ends, limiting the loss to 20-27. P Goudie's team started competitively but struggled to impact in the run home, losing 14-29. Div III Blue lost to Moonta Blue 34-80. Best rink R Jackson, G Moulds, M Toovey and M Gerschwitz (sk) matched its opponent only to fall short 16-24. H Burdett's team fought back in the second half but lost 12-28. C Voysey's rink, a player short, lost 6-28. Div III White had depleted teams for a 46-76 loss to Moonta Red. Best rink R Foote, J Anderson, A Lee-Archer and B Hosking (sk) dropped a devastating five shots in the last end to miss 18-19. M Stennett's team valiantly reduced its opposition's lead to 16-25. Ahead mid game, D Anderson's rink was then outplayed, losing 12-32. Results 30-10-21 — Div I defeated Bute 100-82. Best rink B Hicks, F Stern, P McCarthy and L Rich (sk) set up a defendable lead in the first half and won 31-21. J Simmons's team also surged early for a good lead, but needed a final burst for its 26-20 win. Ben Rowntree's rink had a close game, sneaking a win 22-20. D Adcock's team also had a close match, resulting in a 21-21 draw. Div II lost to Wallaroo Mines 76-102. Best rink C Robinson, D Lambert, P Robertson and D Johnson (sk) scored freely to win 31-10. C Simmons's team launched to the lead in the second half, and held on for a 23-19 win. J Burgess's rink came back from a poor start but lost 10-26 loss. Despite scoring five shots in one end, P Goudie's team was comprehensively defeated. Div III White lost to Maitland 43-69. The only winning rink R Jackson, I Warner, G Kluske and C Voysey (sk) had a good run home to finish 19-16. N Marsh's team finished strongly in its 14-22 loss. D Anderson's rink yielded to a high-scoring run 10-31. LBB

Ardrossan Wednesday: Results 20-10-21 — Congratulations to the many club members who made themselves available to form an extra side, neutralising the bye to make a more enjoyable competition. Ardrossan Blue lost to Stansbury 20-48. After making ground from a poor start, the better performing rink of K Holman, G Moulds and M Shaw (sk) fell away for a 11-24 loss. B Hicks's team had long runs without scoring and lost 9-24. The new Ardrossan side lost to Ardrossan White 30-41. Ardrossan's C Robinson, N Atkins and J Burgess (sk) broke away from L Burman's team in an interrupted surge to win 24-14. White's F Parocz, I Werner and F Stern (sk) dominated G Covino's rink to win 27-6. Results 27-10-21 — Ardrossan Blue lost soundly to Port Vincent Black 21-50. the better rink K Holman, P Ward and M Shaw (sk) came home strongly in its 12-25 loss. B Hicks's team was competitive in the latter ends, losing 9-25. Ardrossan White was defeated Minlaton 40-28. Best rink T Spiteri, N Marsh and L Burman (sk) closed down a narrow deficit to win 19-11. F Stern's team built a lead which it defended to win 21-17. Ardrossan lost to Stansbury 29-61. Best rink R Foote, R Evans and G Covino (sk) gave up its early lead but came home strongly to fall short 18-23. J Burgess's team forfeited too many large scores, losing 11-38. LBB

Kadina/Mines Thursday: The Gold side travelled to Arthurton but, due to inclement weather, there was no play. In very tricky weather, Green defeated Moonta Blue at home by 13 shots with one winning team: Coralie Fiskien, Robyn Spurling, Barb Spurling, Barb Cooper 37-9. Others Anne Rule 18-19, Wendy Venning 15-18, Jan Spry 14-25. BS

Kadina Saturday: Everybody away! The first division side took the trip to Port Broughton, where it met a reasonably paced green. The expected tough battle was put up by the hosts, but we came out ahead by five shots. Phil Miller's team of Paul Thomas, Mark Venning and Roger Francis led the way with an eight-shot victory, and there were two drawn games. Second division headed to Bute and brought home victory by 23 shots. John May's team of Jan Spry, Jamie Battle and Allan Hutchinson, ahead by 14, was the club's leading team this week. Third division headed to Maitland and did it tough, down overall by nine shots. Club tournament draws will be done soon, please enter these events as they are good competitive practice, even when you lose. You can never tell in advance what will happen. "Second Wood"

Maitland Thursday: Results 21-10-21 — In lovely weather, Maitland's Thursday side began the season hosting Ardrossan. Judy Prosser's team of Judith Kelly, Marion Wearing and Margaret Wuttke had a close win against Annette Rowntree's team, with the other rinks close. Final scores were Ardrossan 78, Maitland 59. Looking forward to a good season of bowling friendship. Results 28-10-21 — Travelling to Port Broughton, we received phone calls to tell us of the horrific hailstorms in and around Maitland. Some homes and farms suffered damage, but our cars in the bowling club carpark were all ok. To top off a dramatic day, we lost by one shot to the home side. Judith Davies and her team Gill Jarrett, Meralyn James and Julie Hollams had a seven-shot win against Elizabeth Dolling's team and Judy Prosser's team of Judith Kelly, Marion Wearing and Marg Wuttke had a great 12-shot win. Good luck for this week. Julie

Moonta Thursday: Despite hail and gale-force winds, most clubs managed to play their games on October 28. In Green division, Moonta Red played at home against Bute and won 98-59. Marg Chandler 18-19, Joyce Andrew 29-15, Sharon Cavanagh 30-15, Claire Eichenberger 21-10. Best team: Sharon Cavanagh, Sandra Barker, Helen Andrew, Riki Bartlett. Moonta Blue played Kadina-Mines at Kadina and, despite having three teams up, lost 71-84. Ann Waters 18-15, Maxine Reynolds 25-14, Sheryl Rost 19-18, Judy Gibb 9-37. Best: Maxine Reynolds, Pauline Cross, Jenny Emmerton, Jen Wehleit. In Gold division, Moonta White played Alford at home and, after a hard-fought game, won by one shot 74-73. Maureen Johnson 25-12, Julie Downs 13-19, Rosemary Smith 21-16, Beryl Williams 15-26. Best: Maureen Johnson, Marian Sorrell, Helen Heddle, Carmen Mena. Well done players, and apologies to Chris Edwards for renaming her Chris Smith in last week's report. Unfortunately, due to more than 50 per cent of matches in this division being cancelled due to inclement weather, these sides will be awarded equal points. "Woyda"

Moonta Saturday: The open competition sides had three wins, two losses and a bye on October

30. Division I went to Wallaroo; with the match being even early, the home side pulled away for a 79-101 victory. Moonta had three rinks down including one big loss. Best and only winner was the team of Don Bennett, Steve Eichenberger, Kevin Sorrell, Graham Curtis its good start to the season winning 120-61, all rinks up. Best was the team of Scott Wilson, Paul Ausburn, Bert Mansell, Adrian Hatcher 36 up. Div III Red hosted Wallaroo White and came away with an 83-40 win, all rinks dominant. Best Terry Brock, Jenny Emmerton, Lance Rawlinson, June Wilson 20 up. Div III Blue also stayed at home and dispatched Kadina 67-34, all rinks up. Best for the second week Vern Thoms, Greg Jones, Colin Taylor, Geoff Zilm 20 up. Div III White played away against Wallaroo Blue and lost narrowly 53-54, although winning two rinks. Best Ray Walker, Glen Price, Bob Jenkins, Roger Dall 7 up. "Signing off from round 3"

Paskeville: The Thursday (women's) side travelled to Ardrossan and what a sight it was to see all the hail and rain, and hear the thunder. Not really great bowls weather. Thanks everyone for arriving and then having to turn around and travel home when play was abandoned. No play last week and the bye this week. I was pleased to see over the three days (women's open, Thursday pennant and Saturday) we raised $395.95 for prostate cancer. Saturday (open) division I had a good win with all teams up, 103-70. Biggest win came from David Millard, Rick Day, Gary Price and Matthew Ward 30-11. Well done Pasky. After three games, div I is fifth. See how long you can stay there. The news wasn't so good from div II but let's hope for better results this week when you play at home. "One-eyed Magpie"

Wallaroo Mines Saturday: Division II travelled to Ardrossan on a beaut spring day. Two rinks had a tough day: P Heinis, M McCumiskey, D Appleton, G Hewitson 10-31; and J Gosling, T Webb, K Greer, A Whaley 19-23. On the plus side were E Beare, B Simpson, T McConnell, R Appleton 26-10; and P Seeley, P Neimz, I Sobey, D Stock 47-12. Overall 104 (12) to 76 (4). This was again pleasing as we had changed seven players from the previous week, a big well done! DS

Warooka: Thursday (women's) bowls was cancelled due to thunderstorms, hail and general wild wintry weather last week. Saturday (open) division I played at home and lost against Stansbury. Ken Rickard 19 lost a close one to Robbie Natt 20, Tony Dunn 22 lost to M Jennings 32, A Gregory 17 to T Gill 25, and Anthony Bilney 13 to J Cook 32. Overall scores: Warooka 71 (0) to Stansbury 109 (18). Div II also played at home, losing to Yorketown Red, Ron Ahwan 11 to R Bullock 31, Heather Drury 16 to Peter Quick 24 and Di Brooks won 30 to R Spratt 26. Overall scores Warooka 57 (2) to Yorketown Red 86 (12). The Wednesday (men's) side played Yorketown Red and also lost. So let's hope we all have better luck this week. Tea at the club on Thursday night for $15 meat and dessert; a lovely time is usually had and everyone is welcome, so give the club a ring on 8854 5230 to book your spot or book a table. "Wensie" K

Tigers stay undefeated

“The Finger Roll”
REPORT BY

Round five of the Yorke Valley Basketball Association season began with Jackson Arthur and Nathan Humphries returning for the Bears in the A Men. Many would’ve expected them to cruise to victory, but Sam Taylor channelled his DeMar DeRozan to steal the spotlight with 28 points and the win.

Dani Richardson was just as dangerous for Arthurthun in the Senior Women with ball in hand. The speedy guard helped her side fire at both ends, as the star-studded Tiger team extended its unbeaten run.

Results
A MEN
Paskeville v Moonta

Pasky celebrated Halloween by rolling out Alby Price for his debut. After being down at half-time, the Pies found their groove and three Kye McDonald triples in the last helped them to a 10-point win.

Wallaroo v Kadina
Both sides struggled on offence early before Griffyn Hansen knocked down a three to get the ball rolling for the Bloods. Alex East is yet to have a double-digit scoring game this year and questions have been asked. His team-mates’ scoring ability and strength on the boards were too strong for Wallaroo, which succumbed by 23 points.

Bute v Bears
Rumours have surfaced of Dylan Shorne returning to the YVBA, this time for the Bears. With Jackson Arthur and Nathan Humphries returning on Friday night, this could make for a lethal trio. Arthur’s four threes weren’t enough in this one, as 28 huge-Sam Taylor points powered Bute home by 17.

SENIOR WOMEN
Arthurthun Black v Wallaroo
As expected, the Tigers caught fire. Dani Richardson’s 26-point outing led Arthurthun to a massive lead, which ballooned to 33 by the final buzzer even without Izzy Jacobs in the line-up.

Paskeville White v Moonta
An impressive effort by Pasky had the underdogs go toe to toe with the Blazers. A physical Fi Bussenschutt performance just wasn’t enough, as Amber Aldridge led her side with 12 to an 11-point victory.

Arthurthun Orange v Paskeville Black
Foul trouble limited the Tigers from running away with this one, but the experienced line up managed to cling on to a seven-point triumph. Jenny Davey and Monica Britton again led their side’s scoring. A triple to go with Jorja Rogers’ nine points just was not enough in Pasky’s loss.

YVBA SENIOR WOMEN... Jo Davey, Arthurthun Black, looks for a way to goal past Kianna Pepall, Wallaroo.

Tips
A MEN
Bears v Wallaroo

If Bears are to form a big three with Dylan Shorne, they could become one of the toughest sides in the comp. It would be especially big if he suited up against his ex-Wallaroo teammates this week. The Holman boys have been ultra-aggressive at both ends through their first few games, yet still seem to lack scorers.

At the final buzzer... Bears by 11.
Kadina v Paskeville
Kadina’s Isaac Glasgow has claimed he’ll be holding Kye McDonald to a doughnut this week, which would be a massive feat against the comp’s second leading scorer. The Pies will need to find another gear on the glass if they hope to contain Geoff Munn and company.

At the final buzzer... Kadina by three.

Arthurthun v Bute
The Roosters seem to be rolling on the back of Sam Taylor’s dead-eye shooting. If they can maintain disciplined defence in this showing, Bute should have the better both inside and out.

At the final buzzer... Bute by eight.

SENIOR WOMEN
Paskeville White v Bute
The winless Bute will head in as underdogs again, and rightfully so against this strong, deep Magpie side. Depending on how well Pasky fires on transition, look for its young guns to get out on the break and potentially blow the opposition away.

At the final buzzer... Paskeville White by five.
Wallaroo v Moonta

Moonta’s Aldridge and Briggs sisters have overwhelmed offences with their tenacious pressure of late. It’s unlikely Wallaroo’s guards will get many good scoring looks, and could well concede ample points on the fast break.

At the final buzzer... Moonta by 14.

SHOOTING

Maitland Rifle Club: Results 30-10-21 — Nine members contested the first stage of the Nelligan Trophy from 700 yards in weather which bore a strong resemblance to the previous week. Unfortunately, we were more than double the distance from the targets this week. The fish tailing wind certainly had a mind of its own and was causing trouble throughout the afternoon. Just when you thought you were having a good string, concentrating on getting a good shot away, the breeze would instantly drop or swing. A wayward shot would appear on the monitor, a quick check of the flags would show the cause and now what do you do? Wait for it to settle? A quick adjustment and go again? The choices are many, decisions need to be made and dealt with, this is competitive shooting. In F standard, best first round scores were John Shobbrook and Chris Tucker on 57.02. F open, Brad Renfrey's 52.01 edged out Matt Pointon on 50.01. Greg Klopp and Les Klopp were back at it again this week in target rifle with Greg scoring 46.03. The second-round score card in F standard showed Roger with 57.05 and Barry Tucker 57.01. Greg improved with 48.05 in target rifle and Brad carded another 52.01 in F open. Scores. F standard: Chris Tucker 57.02, 53.01, 110.03, 7, 117.03; Barry Tucker 48.01, 57.01, 105.02, 10, 115.02; Roger Francis 56.03, 57.05, 113.08, 1, 114.08; Bill Gillis 52.01, 56.03, 108.04, 5, 113.04; John Shobbrook 57.02, 55.02, 112.04, 1, 113.04; F open: Brad Renfrey 52.01, 52.01, 104.02, 7, 111.02; Matt Pointon 50.01, 48.00, 98.01, 6, 104.01; target rifle: Les Klopp 39 .02, retired, equipment issues; Greg Klopp 46.03, 48.05, 94.08, 5, 99.08. Handicap points: Greg Klopp 3, Chris Tucker 2, Barry Tucker 1. Top off-rifle: Bill Gillis (F open), Roger Francis (F standard), Greg Klopp (target rifle). Additional rounds, F open: Bill Gillis 57.05, 58.02, 115.07, 4, 119.07; John Shobbrook 57.01, 55.00, 112.01, 0, 112.01; Roger Francis 54.02, 53.01, 107.03, 2, 109.03; handicap: John Shobbrook 48.04, 49.00, 107.04. This week: Second stage of the Nelligan Trophy from 900 yards. Roger SSAA Moonta: Top off-rifle and handicap winner at air-rifle precision was Craig Amundsen. Joe Zappia benchrest top off-rifle with 366. Amundsen was second with 361.3 and Dwaine Chapman shot a score of 327.2. Doug Warmington 307.1 and Lynette Warren 350.1.

Wallaroo Sailing Club

Another family (Rebecca Morgan and Ellis Smith, with children Elka and Elliot) experienced their first day on the water at Wallaroo during sail training on Sunday, October 31.

They gave a resounding two thumbs up upon their return to land.

The Wallaroo Sailing Club has been fortunate to have a Sea Scout patrol sailboat made available to it, skippered by David Hetner, a Scout trainer with 18 years of training experience.

It is satisfying to see so many sails on the bay and enthusiastic trainers.

The radio-controlled division is also attracting more members, sailing three times a week in the protected waters of the marina basin.

The afternoon club racing consisted of two races.

The first was in a pleasant breeze producing some good times.

During the second, however, the breeze faded away into an almost non-event. Hats off to Griffin Meiers, age 9, who crewed on one of the Tasars.

Picturesque property at Port Rickaby

LOCATED in the picturesque seaside Port Rickaby community, this property presents an opportunity to secure your future, Nutrien sales specialist Troy Goldsworthy says.

“Set on a spacious 1408-square-metre block, the property consists of two separate allotments, providing immediate options to sell one or build another,” Troy says.

“The original part of the home dates back to 1897, while an extension was completed in 2008.

“It consists of four or five bedrooms and two bathrooms while the undercover entertaining area links the main home to the guest quarters.

“The open-plan kitchen and dining area has a lovely stone feature wall and is filled with natural light.

“The kitchen has loads of storage, bench-top space and features a gas cooktop, dishwasher, plus a great view over the back fence.

“The formal lounge and second bedroom have access to the bathroom, while the laundry, two bedrooms and rumpus/bedroom add great flexibility.

“Upstairs, the master suite is spacious with a walk-in robe, ensuite including spa bath and sea views, while the balcony offers a peaceful space.

“The property also has a neat and tidy garden and great outdoor storage with a nine-metre x 8m shed/workshop to go with the high-clearance 11.5m x 3.2m carport.

“Other key features include split-system air conditioning, an outdoor shower, 67,500 litres of rainwater storage, a Biolytix septic tank irrigating the lawns, and 1.5-kilowatt solar system.”

END OF AN ERA... Julie and Peter Button are saying goodbye to their Minlaton farm with smiles on their faces after the sale of their 306-hectare property exceeded all expectations to set a new benchmark for SYP land values.

Sale exceeds expectations

Nigel Parsons
JOURNALIST

A NEW benchmark for southern Yorke Peninsula land values has been set.

The 631 arable acres of Ramsay Park, Minlaton, sold for a record SYP price of $9500 per acre late last week.

Ramsay Park stud operators Peter and Julie Button could not wipe the smiles off their faces as the sale exceeded their expectations by around $1 million.

Maitland farmers Ben and Jaymee Francis were the successful bidders at the auction, hosted by Elders.

Elders auctioneer Ben Finch said there was a lot of enthusiasm in the room, allowing him to call for $250,000 bids for most of the auction.

"It showed there's a lot of confidence in agriculture and obviously this area is pretty reliable and has been for generations, and that shone through today," he said.

Mr Finch said the result was at the top end of his and his clients' expectations.

"I think that showed when we stepped into the office during the mid-auction stall and he (Mr Button) asked for a mask to hide his smile," Mr Finch said.

The sale marked the end of an era for the Buttons and their White Suffolk stud.

Mr Button said he always intended to re-evaluate his career when he hit 60 and an accident on the farm in April 2020, which nearly put him in a wheelchair, forced him to consider his options.

"That close shave reinforced the 'life is short' idea and led to what we've done today," he said.

The Buttons are keeping 400 acres including the farmhouse of their property, but plan on attending to their bucket list.

"We've got one ewe sale to go in January and then it's seeing a lot more of the grandkids, a caravan and a bit of travel," Mr Button said.

Ag land values set to continue rising

Nigel Parsons
JOURNALIST

YORKE Peninsula landowners learned more about the trends driving agriculture land prices last week.

Rabobank senior agriculture analyst Wes Lefroy spoke to interested stakeholders about Rabobank's recent Five-year Agricultural Land Price Outlook report at a breakfast at the Yorke Valley Hotel, Maitland.

Mr Lefroy said the current high growth phase is likely to continue into 2023 and possibly beyond.

"Looking at the overall farmer psychology combined with favourable macro settings not seen in 30 years, the stars are aligning for this growth phase to continue for the next few years," he said.

The report states "Four of the six states recorded double-digit median price growth in 2020, a reflection of the strength of the underlying fundamentals: commodity prices, production levels and the low cost of finance."

"Very low interest rates, near record commodity prices, production yields and upward revenues should stay aligned into 2023-24," Mr Lefroy said.

Rabobank's forecast predicts land price growth to continue for at least the next five years.

HARVEST READY... Viterra's sites across the state, including Port Giles, are ready for this year's harvest.

Viterra ready for harvest

Advertising promotion

VITERRA is ready to go for this year's harvest with operations running smoothly and safely including new customer services to save growers' time and effort when delivering into its network.

Everything is in place to ensure growers have all they need for a successful harvest, including segregations, fast turnaround times and flexible opening hours.

Viterra operations manager for central region Jack Tansley said the new service offerings this year make it easier for growers to get their grain into storage and to market.

"We listen to our customers through the year and adapt our services to meet their needs," he said.

"This harvest, we have new technology to save growers time and effort during deliveries and transactions and have expanded our payment options."

Grower products and services include an updated app with a new main menu, improved navigation and a customisable snapshot of a grower's account without them needing to login.

Growers can still login to Ezigrain to instantly transact, check delivery information and view tonnes in warehouse which can be filtered by season, commodity and grade, all in a mobile friendly format.

Viterra's new digital delivery advice, available on the app, can be used to prefill information, duplicate delivery advices and complete a single declaration for each commodity and variety in a paddock.

The service helps streamline grain deliveries and saves growers time at site by reducing the amount of information entered while loads are being classified.

Port direct is a new Viterra service which benefits growers and buyers in the Viterra network by offering up to $11.10 per tonne reduction in receival fees compared to Viterra's full-service offering. It offers flexibility to growers who prefer to store their grain on farm, to sell it directly to port.

Buyers can purchase grain directly from growers ahead of when they have a vessel booked to load. It is available for post-harvest deliveries only and is upon a buyer's call.

Viterra's payment options give flexibility for growers selling and transacting their grain.

Warehouse to cash enables instant selling and transferring warehoused grain to a cash price. Options through warehouse to cash in the Viterra app or at site, include daily cash for immediate transactions with standard payment terms and sustainable cash which is available for growers who meet the buyer's sustainability requirements and have an appropriate declaration in place.

Extended payment terms are available via warehouse to cash in the app for growers to sell their grain to a cash price with longer payment periods.

For more information on delivering to Viterra and grower products and services, visit viterra.com.au/growers or call 1800 018 205.

Future growth predicted for Australian canola industry

STRUCTURAL changes in the global market are set to bring future growth opportunities for Australia's canola industry.

Rabobank's Global Canola Opportunities in the Sustainable-Fuel Future: Is Australia fit and ready? Report said policies to curb emissions in North America and Europe are expected to lift global demand for oilseeds through to 2030.

"This will present opportunities for Australian canola exports," Rabobank agriculture analyst and report co-author Dennis Voznesenski said.

"In our base case outlook, these are modest initially, but grow as a result of structural shifts in the global industry in 2024-25 due to Canada's falling exportable surplus and then again from 2026-27 onward due to the European Union's increasing canola import needs."

Global supply of canola in the current season has been severely reduced by drought in Canada, the world's largest canola exporter, and by continued heavy EU import demand.

Canola prices domestically are edging towards the A$1000 a tonne mark while overseas markets already broke through that level earlier in the year.

However, just how much Australian canola, and canola prices, benefit will depend on a number of variables including how quickly the EU phases out palm oil in biofuels and how much Canadian canola exports drop.

Global production growth and any additional sustainability requirements placed on Australian canola growers will also have an impact.

"While the road to 2030 for canola contains many uncertainties, we can be sure that the global exportable surplus is on a downward trajectory," Mr Voznesenski said.

"And this will create opportunities for the Australian canola industry.

"In years when global production significantly underperforms, which it inevitably will, shortages will result in even greater opportunities for Australia.

"Australia can lift canola production, and it will continue to have an export surplus, potentially much larger in periods of supportive price signals and favourable seasonal conditions."

GROWTH... Australia's canola industry looking forward to future growth.

SA drought hub boosted by funding

THE South Australian Drought Resilience Adoption and Innovation Hub is being expanded following an injection of additional funding from the Australian Government.

An additional $20 million is being split across the eight Drought Resilience Adoption and Innovation Hubs to drive agricultural innovation and create jobs.

The SA Drought Hub is led by the University of Adelaide, and interim director Professor Chris Preston welcomed the government's announcement.

"The extra funding and broadening of the SA Drought Hub's scope is an endorsement by the Australian Government of the importance of our hub and its pivotal role in delivering research innovations to strengthen the resilience of farmers and regional communities," Prof Preston said.

"Following a recent series of collaborative regional workshops across the state involving hundreds of participants, the SA Drought Hub is well down the path of developing the co-design activities for drought resilience that will be delivered through the hub.

"While this work will remain the immediate priority for the SA Drought Hub, the announcement by the Australian Government offers exciting new opportunities for the hub and its partners to deliver innovation in other aspects of agriculture."

Federal Member for Grey Rowan Ramsey said the Roseworthy-based hub would become the flagship for agricultural innovation in this state.

"The hub will continue to support farmers and communities right across South Australia, with its nodes located at Minnipa, Port Augusta, Orroroo, Loxton and Struan," Mr Ramsey said.

"The Hub provides a physical platform for stakeholders from across our great state to come together and translate research and knowledge to make real impacts on the ground.

"The SA Drought Hub already has a fantastic partner network of grower groups, universities, government, agribusinesses, industry RD&E partners and industry bodies and organisations, all working together to achieve great outcomes for our farmers and communities."

For more information about the expanded role of the Drought Resilience Adoption and Innovation Hubs, go to <https://bit.ly/3DgtSz2>.

More information about the Australian Government's Future Drought Fund is available at www.agriculture.gov.au/fdf.

Get snapping for ag photo competition

PHOTOGRAPHERS of all levels are encouraged to capture Australians at work in agriculture to celebrate National Agriculture Day, Friday, November 19.

Entries for the AgDay #AgVenture Photo Competition, a joint initiative of the National Farmers' Federation and Syngenta Australia, are now open.

"As they say, a picture tells a thousand words and we're excited to see in photo form, examples of Australians enjoying careers in agriculture," NFF president Fiona Simson said.

"So much of agriculture lends itself to great pics: whether it's the rough and tumble of the cattle yards, a harvest team about to do its thing in a bumper wheat crop, or the exacting work of a plant breeding laboratory."

The best photo will receive a $2000 pre-paid Mastercard, second place gets a $1000 Mastercard and four runners-up will each receive $500.

Entries close at 5pm, November 19.

To enter, visit www.agday.org.au/2021-photo-competition.

Starscopes

♈ ARIES—March 21-April 20
You may be vulnerable, possibly in the area of romance. Avoid acting on impulse. Academic ventures are favourable, but don't overextend yourself.

♉ TAURUS—April 21-May 22
You are uncommonly shrewd and can make some clever professional decisions now. In personal matters however, you may be vulnerable. A relative may be unusually possessive this weekend.

♊ GEMINI—May 23-June 21
Moderation is the keyword this week. Take a lesson in "balance" from an Libra friend. Your taste is impeccable and you can make excellent choices in the friendship department.

♋ CANCER—June 22-July 22
A friend may rely on you for a modest but important ration of moral support. Some experimentation may lead to the solution of a career puzzle. Your romantic intuition peaks.

♌ LEO—July 23-August 22
Flexibility is important if a new relationship is to expand. A relative may be surprisingly mysterious and a colleague may be outspoken but not necessarily a threat. A financial favour is returned.

♍ VIRGO—August 23-September 22
Family reunions and/or reconciliations are highlighted. Sports are in the picture - you may enjoy the role of competitor. New responsibilities may come your way.

♎ LIBRA—September 23-October 22
A younger relative takes you into his/her confidence and learns from your example. This is a great week for learning skills that help you adapt with rapidly changing techniques.

♏ SCORPIO—October 23-November 21
At the workplace you understand the meaning of "method in one's madness". Family responsibilities are shared. A friend is surprisingly generous but there may be some strings attached.

♐ SAGITTARIUS—November 22-December 22
You are surprisingly unrealistic, living in a dreamworld where practical matters are involved. Your financial situation may need a thorough review. This a good time to talk to financial experts and not to rely on amateurs.

♑ CAPRICORN—December 23-January 20
New forms of relaxation are the focus of the week. Romance and cultural activities blend well. New hobbies can be surprisingly costly. Some important information may arrive by the weekend.

♒ AQUARIUS—January 21-February 19
Local travel, foreign correspondence and exotic entertainment, all may figure in this week's agenda. Home maintenance is a high priority - health is an even higher one.

♓ PISCES—February 20-March 20
You are in a competitive mood and excel especially in mental challenges. Visits to new places are highlighted. Messages from abroad may arrive after the weekend.

BIRTHDAY THIS WEEK
Being fairminded and optimistic, you are noted for diplomacy. You sometimes tend to be mysterious and you can deliberate much too long before making a decision. Partnerships are highlighted in the coming months. Unusual travel may also be on the agenda.

Brooke makes Bachelorette history

BROOKE Blurton is making Bachelorette history — amongst other things.

Brooke is the first ever Indigenous, bisexual rose-giver and it is exactly what Australia needed!

I have been more than excited to follow her journey because of how incredibly important the representation is — in the context of the reality TV world but also as a wider part of Australian culture too.

In the first episode there was an Acknowledgement of Country and then a Welcome to Country, which made Brooke cry. And also, all of us. It was honestly the most wholesome content I had seen on TV in ages.

We then began to meet all of the people vying for Brooke's heart which included men and women in a first for any series of the Bachelor across the world — how amazing is that?

Australia is really leading the way and setting an example for the rest of the world, and it is about time people from all communities feel represented on a larger platform.

We are only four episodes into the season and already there has been some really important conversations had about sexuality, diversity and representation and I am here for it.

Brooke is the perfect role model for the youth of BACHELORETTE... Brooke Blurton is the first Indigenous, bisexual woman to lead a season of The Bachelorette Australia which includes both men and women.

Australia and around the world, and like she said even if only one person feels represented by her doing this that is all she can ask for.

I truly can't get enough of this season and I can't wait to see who will win Brooke's heart.

An icon passes: Bert Newton, aged 83, passed away on Saturday night. Bert had recently suffered a long health battle which led to one of his legs being amputated. The TV personality and four-time Gold Logie winner is survived by his wife of 47 years Patti, his two children and six grandchildren. A state funeral will be held in the coming months.

Dropped: AFL star, Jordan De Goey has been stood down by Collingwood indefinitely as he awaits a December court date following an alleged incident at a Halloween-themed party in New York. The 25-year-old's career hangs in the balance after he — and friend Luke Dyson — were charged with forcible touching and assault and temporarily placed in a holding cell. De Goey pleaded not guilty to the charges and is due to face court on December 8.

HOT FISHING TIPS with Greg James www.gregjamesfishing.com.au

Welcome to the column with all the hot tips for fishing around Yorke Peninsula; contact Greg by email at greg@gregjamesfishing.com.au.
Wallaroo: The water was not a good place to be last week as strong, gale-force winds lashed pretty much all of the YP coast. Late Saturday and then Sunday brought calmer conditions and a few keen boat crews fished Point Riley and the Boiler grounds for a mix of King George whiting, gar and squid. The jetty has the odd small blue crab and tommy ruff (Australian herring) at night.
Moonta Bay/Port Hughes: Tipara Reef has squid, whiting and medium gar. Bigger whiting are off Cape Elizabeth and the grounds just south of here. The jetties have small gar, blueys and squid after dusk.
Point Turton: I had a bird's eye view of the hailstorms that hit mid to late on Thursday morning as I travelled south from Wallaroo – a few boaties managed a launch much later on the weekend to fish the relative shelter of Hardwicke Bay for gar and small squid. The jetty has salmon trout and tommy ruff.

Marion Bay/Stenhouse Bay: Salmon and even some late-season mullet can be caught from the beach at Richards, Gym and Browns at the moment. Boat crews made the odd run on Sunday for whiting, flathead and squid, but the water was slightly discoloured from the storms. Jetty fishing has tommies and squid from late morning.
Edithburgh/Stansbury: I checked both jetties over the weekend and found them pretty quiet in terms of anglers. A few squid ink marks were at Edithburgh jetty, while boat crews fished for whiting at Sultana Passage and gar from Stansbury/Port Vincent.
Black Point/Ardrossan: Rakers working the grounds from Billy Goat Flat to James Well caught a few blue swimmer crabs last week. Anglers fishing along the local blue-line in the rough weather reported small whiting, blueys and garfish. Further offshore there are snook, blueys and squid.
Tight lines and see you next week!
