

Solar farms back on the grid

Rhiannon Koch
JOURNALIST

THE discussion around solar farms within town boundaries is set to heat up again, with two new proposals for Kadina.

New South Wales based company MPower lodged two applications for 4.95MW farms with Copper Coast Council's planning department in March.

The proposed developments are on industrial zoned land on Roach Street and South Tce, southeast of the CBD.

While there are no specific provisions for solar farm developments within the zone according to council's development plan, there isn't anything to oppose them either.

"The proposed solar farm, whilst it accounts for a relatively large area, is very low scale when compared to the land uses envisaged within the zone," Planning Chambers director Damian Dawson wrote in both of the applications on behalf of MPower.

Opponents of previous solar developments had cited the new state Planning and Design Code, which came into effect in the Copper Coast in July, as it required farms of this size be one kilometre from homes.

However, because the applications were lodged in March, they will be assessed against council's old development plan.

Both proposed farms will be situated on eight hectares of land, but are different from previous proposals as the panels will not rotate.

"The panels will be installed on a PEG frame system, with rows running north-south with the panels oriented east and west, tilted at an angle of eight degrees in either direction. The panels are butted up to each other to form blocks," Mr Dawson wrote.

"The panels utilise anti-reflective, highly transparent, low iron tempered glass."

At most, the panels will measure 800 millimetres above the ground, which "results in the panels being less apparent to neighbouring properties than previous solar farms constructed and approved within the Kadina region."

The developments will also have three metres of landscaping between the proposed fence lines and the existing boundary.

Each site would take about six months to be fully operational, and would feed power through the existing lines on South Terrace to the Kadina East substation.

The South Terrace development would consist of 15,600 panels split over 44 groups while there would be 15,860 panels across 45 groups on Martin Terrace.

Public consultation is open until October 26.

Staffing correction

I AM a former practice manager at the Ardrossan Medical Centre with 10 years' experience in the role.

The article regarding the packages for rural GPs (YPCT 12-10-21) erroneously included the Ardrossan hospital as one which falls within the agreement being negotiated.

Being a private hospital, the Ardrossan doctors have never been covered by the same agreement for attending and providing on-call and emergency services at that facility.

The agreement relates to doctors providing a service to public hospitals.

Whilst there is a small payment from Country Health SA for the provision of these services, it is only a small fraction of the payment for the same services in public hospitals.

This is an important distinction when addressing rural doctor payments, highlighting the long-standing disadvantage experienced by the doctors in Ardrossan.

Apologies

WHEN I began writing for the YP Country Times in 1983, I was sternly told by the then editor Doris Boyd, "It doesn't matter what you write as long as you spell their names correctly".

Alas, I now owe a grovelling apology to Sheelagh Phillips and Shirley Trevena, members of Minlaton History Society (YPCT 12-10-21).

I will try to do better.

Climate discussion

REGARDING Malcolm Butler's response about climate change (YPCT 12-10-21).

I did not dispute Mr Butler's figures on CO2 emissions in his original letter (YPCT 28-8-21).

Australia is a huge country with a small population so of course reporting emissions by land mass will make us look good.

I still believe presenting these figures on a per capita basis is more genuine.

Professor David Bellamy was a botanist, author, environmentalist, and TV presenter but not a world leader on climate science.

Neither was "Professor Sir Andrew Switzer or a name something like that" as I have been unable to find any trace of this person on the internet.

Anyone with a biased view will be able to find "evidence" to support their beliefs.

I prefer to get mine from the 97 per cent of climate scientists who agree on this subject.

Neither of us will be around to witness the truth, we can only hope to be on the right side of history.

Medical support

I READ with amazement the article Doctor pay reform discussions continue (YPCT 12-10-21).

I cannot believe that packages for rural general practitioners who work in their town hospitals are still being negotiated.

For the work and responsibility these medical practitioners face daily they should immediately be awarded whatever they require, within reason.

In my opinion the regional health services are operating well beyond their capacity to the degree lives are placed at risk because allegedly the government does not adequately fund them.

On Yorke Peninsula there are approximately 27,000 permanent residents, which at holiday times balloons to over 60,000.

The medical staff are under tremendous pressure to just cope.

Member for Narungga Fraser Ellis has recently indicated he may be seeking support from the local community to enable him, if necessary, to run as an independent at the coming election.

He needs your vote.

Helping regional medical staff in all circumstances acquire the necessary resources and salary they need to operate efficiently could be a way to attract it.

Keep cats safe

RECENT research shows some interesting facts about the cats who live up so many of our homes.

More than half of homes with cats now keep them indoors all the time.

Respondents recognised the horrendous damage done to wildlife by roaming cats, but by far the main reason given was the safety of the cats themselves.

Outside, cats are exposed to many dangers, including contagious diseases, speeding cars, poisons, and attacks by dogs, wildlife, and cruel people.

Cats' physical and psychological needs are easily met indoors, and this lifestyle can more than double their lifespan, compared to that of an outdoor cat.

Keeping cats indoors is a lifesaver — not just for the 230 million birds, reptiles and mammals which cats kill each year in Australia — but for the cats too.

There are many ways we can further enrich our cats' lives, by building them an enclosed patio, or offering cats with an adventurous gene the chance to go on neighbourhood walks on a harness and leash.

OUR VIEW

Uncertain health

THIS week the state government announced South Australia's health workforce is bigger than ever.

Figures from the independent Auditor-General's Report showed there are more than 1000 extra frontline health staff in the past year, with an extra 2500 health staff employed during the past three years.

The Yorke and Northern Local Health Network has 1136 full-time equivalent employees — the report doesn't mention how many of these new staff were directed to the regions.

We've repeatedly, and will continuously, support the staff who do their best to serve our communities.

But simply adding more people to a system without addressing the greater issues of retention, attraction and support doesn't mean anything.

You need a strong structure in place to allow these new staff to thrive, and unfortunately we aren't necessarily seeing that come through.

Even more staff are expected to be hired in health, which is wonderful, in preparation for eased restrictions and relaxed borders.

But the question should be asked if this focus will be to the detriment of areas like ours which are already crying out for better support and funding.

Finding locum doctors is continuing to be a problem for local practices which are short staffed, forcing patients to wait up to five weeks for an appointment.

The pressure clinics face now with general care, COVID vaccinations, chronic condition management and visiting the hospital as on-call physicians is, quite frankly, a lot.

There's hope that open borders will mean better access to interstate locums, which hopefully could benefit those areas needing more doctors.

It is a good thing to have more people in such important jobs and to be preparing for the easing of restrictions.

But a little time focusing on regions wouldn't go astray either.

Debate takes root in council chambers

Sonny Coombs
JOURNALIST

A MOTION to seek feedback about the possible removal of Norfolk Island pine trees in Stansbury and Port Vincent has stumped Yorke Peninsula Council.

Councillor Leanne O'Brien wanted to survey residents about the removal of the trees due to the ongoing cormorant issue.

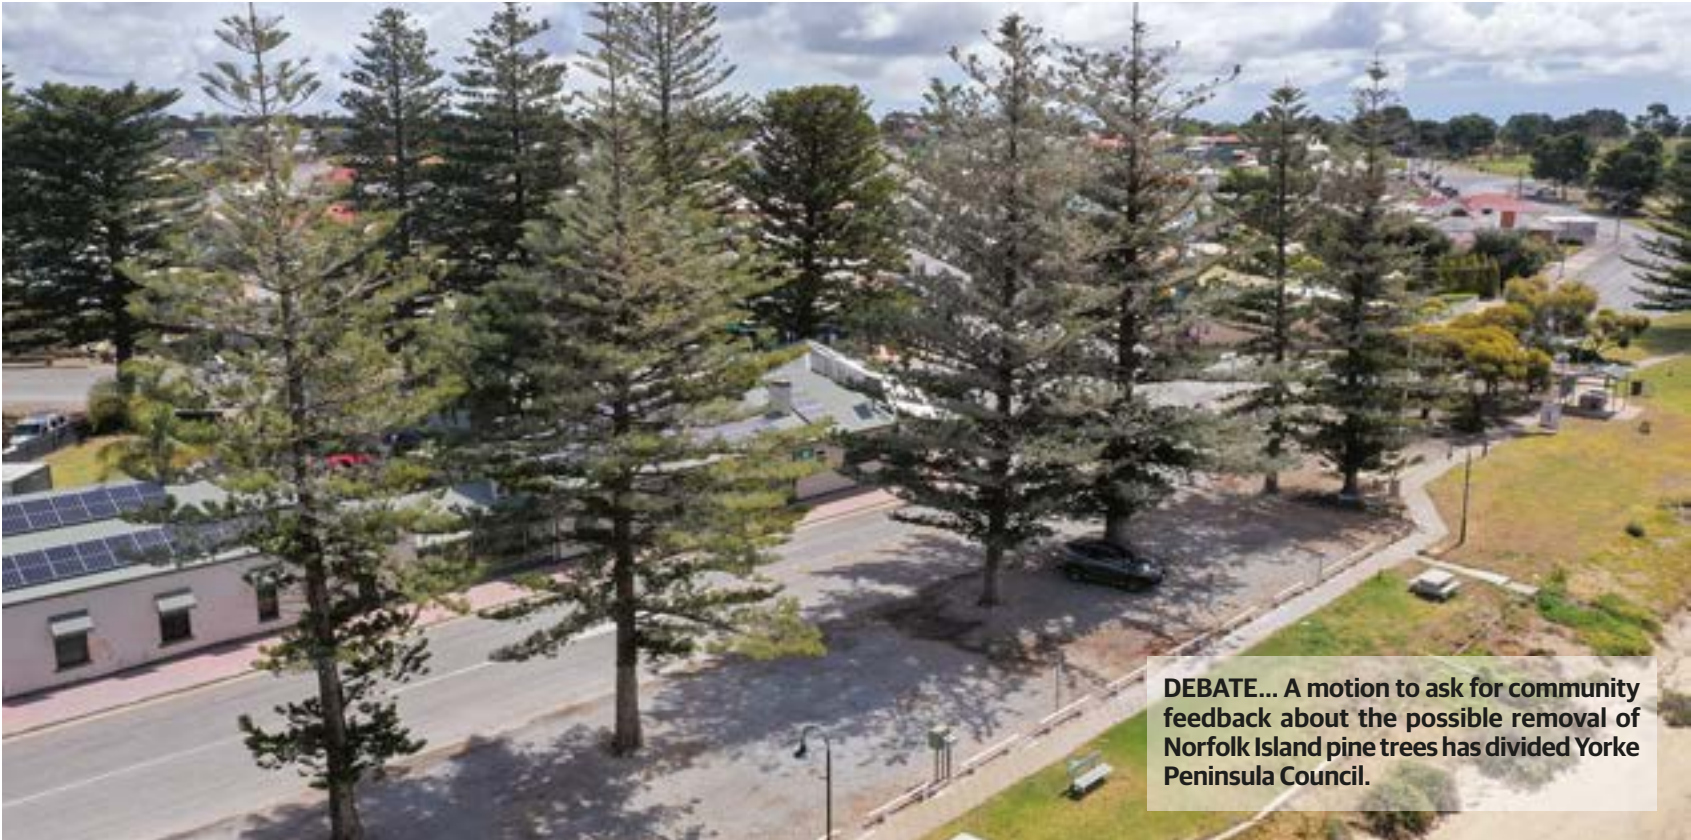

However, after vigorous discussion the proposal was replaced with a more general motion to ask for feedback about the cormorant issue.

Elected members were divided with Mayor Darren Braund casting his deciding vote against consultation.

CEO Andrew Cameron estimated about 90 trees would need to be removed at a cost upwards of $350,000.

Mrs O'Brien said she had received many emails, messages and photos from ratepayers concerned about the cormorant issue.

"Unless something significant is done I don't see the problem going away and it is detrimental to businesses, tourists and locals of the town," Mrs O'Brien said.

DEBATE... A motion to ask for community feedback about the possible removal of Norfolk Island pine trees has divided Yorke Peninsula Council.

"I feel by asking the residents of the town their feelings about the cormorants and Norfolk Island pine trees we would be able to make an informed decision going forward.

"If you are going to get rid of the trees it would need to be all of them because there would be no point because they would move into the town."

Councillor Roger Johns said more information was needed from qualified professionals before any public feedback.

"The problem I have, is we are dealing with something we have no fully qualified information about, we need information from someone who understands birdlife," he said.

"There would be people out there who we could get information from because we are not an isolated incident when it comes to cormorants.

"There would be qualified people who would be able to advise on the consequences of removing trees."

Councillor Naomi Bittner also stressed more information was needed.

"If we had a majority of residents come back saying they want every tree removed and we then get a quote that is expensive and the EPA opposes it then what would we do?" Dr Bittner said.

"I suggest we get some information on costings and legalities and whether there are heritage issues, I know they are not native but they are iconic to the town.

"I would like to know what we might have to do if the community comes back and says they want to get rid of the trees because it would be embarrassing to turn around and say it isn't feasible."

KEEP THE TREES... Stansbury Progress Association chairperson Don McPhee said the community have made its views clear through a petition presented to state parliament.

Community has "already spoken"

STANSBURY Progress Association chairperson Don McPhee said the community had already made its feelings known about the cormorant situation in the town.

The community submitted a petition to state parliament, asking for the government to develop a multi-faceted strategy to manage the impact of the birds.

The issue has been ongoing for decades with cormorants, commonly known as shags, wreaking havoc by roosting in the Norfolk Island pines.

Local businesses and residents are left with a daily clean-up and stench and motorists return to find their cars repainted with excrement.

"We have not been contacted concerning the matter (tree removal), in my personal view the community has already spoken about their views in relation to the shags," Mr McPhee said.

"They (community) want a well-researched and properly founded plan to be implemented to deal with them.

"The issue is not about whether we have the shags or whether we have the trees as an alternative, the issue is about the shags."

Mr McPhee said if the trees were removed the cormorants would find somewhere else to roost.

"These Norfolk Island pines would be getting close to 100 years old; they are a feature of the town, they are significant in the amenity of the town and there would be a public outcry if they were removed," he said.

"There is no scientific basis established to show that removing the trees would solve the shag problem."

Redeveloping Maitland main street

Sonny Coombs
JOURNALIST

YORKE Peninsula Council is engaging the community to help develop a concept plan for Maitland’s main street.

Wax Designs has been appointed to create the plan and has already held a meeting with key stakeholders.

“What it stems from is the plane trees in the main street have been causing problems, there have been tripping incidents, leaves are making a big mess and they have almost become a liability,” YPC operations manager Stephen Goldsworthy said.

“This is a chance for the community to come up with a concept for the main street to make it more welcoming and vibrant.

“We went out to six different companies to see which could come up with the best concept and we picked Wax Designs based on their submission.”

Mr Goldsworthy said Wax Designs had completed similar projects.

“Judging by their first meeting with progress association and stakeholders they are really professional and will lead us in the right direction,” he said.

“We want to create a vibrant welcoming community and comfortable friendly spaces.

“We want the plan to connect and enhance the community to businesses, be attractive and create a lasting memory for visitors.”

Council has launched an online survey and will hold a public consultation event on Friday, December 10.

“The initial meeting was with business owners, the progress association and some people from the sporting clubs and their feedback was great,” Mr Goldsworthy said.

“For the December 10 meeting, people will need to register due to COVID-19 restrictions, for a 45-minute appointment when they can have their say.

“Having a plan in place is an important part of the process before you can start looking at grants to apply for.”

Case delayed, Ellis pushes for Liberal return

MEMBER for Narungga Fraser Ellis has confirmed his desire to run for the 2022 state election as a Liberal candidate.

Mr Ellis suspended his Liberal Party membership in February after he was charged with 23 counts of deception, a result of an Independent Commissioner Against Corruption investigation into the misuse of the Country Members Allowance across parliament.

He was due to appear in court in November but his trial has been adjourned until June next year.

Mr Ellis's legal team successfully argued last week that Member for Mount Gambier Troy Bell's High Court appeal could impact his case.

"The legal issues to be determined by the High Court in respect of Mr Bell's matter have the capacity to make a material difference to the legal issues in my own trial," Mr Ellis said.

"In those circumstances it is not possible for my trial to proceed until the High Court has ruled on the proper interpretation of the Independent Commissioner Against Corruption Act 2012 which it will do when it hears Mr Bell's matter."

Mr Ellis said, while he hoped to have the issue resolved before the state election in March, he had written to the Liberal Party State Executive to confirm him as the endorsed candidate for Narungga.

"I have consistently said and again repeat that I unequivocally maintain my innocence and look forward to clearing my name," he said.

"Given I am presumed innocent I hope the party will confirm my endorsement and allow me to stand as a Liberal candidate at the election."

Mr Ellis will run as an independent if the state executive denies his request.

Independent candidate Dianah Walter welcomed the opportunity for clarity around Mr Ellis' standing.

"Constituents deserve certainty as to the political status of candidates (so far just Mr Ellis and I) at the March 19 poll," she said.

"A definitive decision will give both constituents and other potential candidates clear air around choice on who to back and how campaigns will run.

"Mr Ellis is entitled to the presumption of innocence and I look forward to the matter of the charges against him finally coming before the court and the matter being dealt with expeditiously."

UPGRADES... Barunga West Council manager of assets and infrastructure Steve Davey is keen to see upgrades to Edmund Street in Port Broughton to make it safer for everyone.

Edmund Street upgrades approved

Jess Liddy
JOURNALIST

EDMUND Street in Port Broughton is on the road to recovery.

Barunga West Council approved a $150,000 upgrade to the street at its recent meeting.

Issues were brought to the attention of council late last year, after many locals had complained about the poor condition of the road and footpath, used primarily by Barunga Village residents.

"The residents of Barunga Village have been using the road to travel to the park at the end of Edmund Street," BWC CEO Maree Wauchope said.

"Because of the poor condition of the surface it is really quite unpleasant for those who use walkers, wheelchairs and gophers."

The road and footpath are also used by patrons of the Port Broughton Bowling Club and visitors to and from Barunga Village.

"Work will involve sealing and widening the existing footpath on the southern side of the road," Ms Wauchope said.

"We will also extend the footpath to the entry of the gardens at the end of Edmund Street and install appropriate street lighting.

"The road will be repaired and resealed and we will install a safe crossing to and from Barunga Village and the bowling club."

Barunga Village CEO Merrilyn Hewett said the proposed upgrade to Edmund Street will make it safer for their house members from Barunga Homes and residents of Barunga Cottages to walk over to the bowling club and along Edmund Street.

"We appreciate council listened and responded to the house members who contacted them with their concerns," she said.

A budget of $150,000 has been allocated for the project in the 2021-22 Annual Business Plan and council will call tenders next month.

A CENTRAL Yorke Peninsula woman recorded nearly three times the legal blood-alcohol limit on Friday, October 15.

The 47 year old was stopped by Maitland police for a random breath test at 10pm on Robert Street, Maitland, before returning a positive reading.

After being taken to Maitland Police Station for a breath analysis, she recorded a blood-alcohol reading of 0.179.

The woman was reported drink driving, was issued with an immediate 12-month loss of licence and had her vehicle clamped for 28 days.

Police stopped a Henley Beach man for a random breath test at 8.59pm on Saturday, October 16.

After recording a positive result whilst driving on Clinton Road, Maitland, the 38 year old was taken to Maitland Police Station where he recorded a 0.105 blood-alcohol reading.

The man was issued with an immediate six-month loss of licence.

SAPOL urges regional drivers to stop dying

ALARMING... Seventy per cent of lives lost on South Australian roads result from crashes in regional areas of the state, and two-thirds of these fatalities are people who live outside Adelaide.

A NEW South Australia Police road safety campaign has urged regional drivers to "stop dying".

At the centre of the campaign's messaging is an alarming statistic – two thirds of lives lost in regional crashes are of people who live in regional areas.

SAPOL Assistant Commissioner Ian Parrott said nearly half the people who have died on regional roads this year have resided 20 kilometres or less from the collision site.

"Overwhelmingly the research found people living in regional areas believe it is metropolitan drivers who die on country roads," Ass. Com. Parrott said.

"The common misconception is drivers who know the local roads like the back of their hand are less likely to be involved in a fatal crash.

"Our aim with this campaign is to dispel that myth. We need regional road users to understand they are as susceptible to the fatal five as anyone else.

"Drink or drug driving, not wearing a seatbelt, excessive speeding, distraction and dangerous driving are the behaviours killing people from our regional communities and it needs to stop."

While only 30 per cent of South Australia's population lives in regional areas, 70 per cent of deaths occur on regional roads.

Road Safety Minister Vincent Tarzia said it was shocking how many people have lost their lives in crashes such short distances from their homes.

"Driving close to home does not guarantee your safety in the regions but this crucial new road safety campaign aims to raise awareness about the Fatal Five and urgently change driver behaviour," Mr Tarzia said.

"Complacency has crept in for some, but we can reverse bad driving habits while saving lives and preventing serious injuries on our roads.

"If just one life is saved, then (this campaign) has done its job."

ANOTHER UPGRADE... Harvest Christian College business manager Rob Tucker and principal Peter Ayoub (second right), with physical education staff Cherrie Bettess and Tyler Nield, are excited to see the possibilities as works continue on the school's oval.

ON TRACK... With levelling stages progressing well, the Harvest Christian College oval is set to be ready for use by late April.

Fin Hansen
REPORT BY

HARVEST Christian College, Kadina, has big plans on the horizon after its $700,000 oval development commenced recently.

Installing a minimum-sized AFL oval has been a piece of the college's masterplan for years, with the self-funded project finally nearing fruition.

After acquiring the lease of the allotment behind its Cornerstone Stadium, Harvest had the site levelled and purchased about 8000 tonnes of sand from Mount Pleasant.

The college engaged Greene Eden, Adelaide, for the turf installation, locals Mosel Surveyors for surveying and location services, Polgreen Crushing and Earthmoving for all earthworks, as well as MJ Roberts to assist with irrigation.

Harvest principal Peter Ayoub said the benefits of the new oval will be enormous for the school community.

"We will have the ability to run our own sports day on site, interschool sporting competitions, physical education lessons, lunchtime sport and (other) activities," Mr Ayoub said.

"Everyone is very excited about this project, especially the students."

Seeding and plugging is set to begin in late November, before the turf starts growing during summer.

"(Growing) will be done by using direct seeding and plugging, a method where roll-out turf is minced up and punched into the ground," Mr Ayoub said.

Eight football goal posts have arrived at the college and are ready to be installed.

The oval development is on track to be completed in mid December, with the oval ready for use in late April.

KMS rolls up for Pfizer jab

REPORT BY

PFIZER vaccinations are set to be offered at Kadina Memorial School later this month.

KMS students aged 12 years and older will be eligible to receive vaccinations during school hours, with vaccinations available to parents after school hours.

Other community members will also be able to utilise the hub on weekends.

SA Health will manage the hub in two blocks, each three weeks apart to allow for first and second dose vaccinations.

KMS is one of about 20 schools selected for the program, as announced by the state government on Tuesday, October 12.

A Department for Education spokesperson said schools are in a great position to facilitate the vaccination roll-out.

“(Our) position is parental consent is required for students under 18 years of age to participate in vaccination programs provided during school hours,” the spokesperson said.

“However, it’s important for families to know under state government law children 16 years and older can consent to their own medical treatment, including vaccination.”

Minister for Health and Wellbeing Stephen Wade said the state government is determined to get young people vaccinated.

“These pop-up clinics will help more young people to get fully vaccinated before the end of the school year and before they reach their end-of-year celebrations,” Mr Wade said.

“As we move towards our vaccination targets it is crucial we ensure strong vaccination rates across geographical and cultural cohorts across the state.”

For more information, go to www.sahealth.sa.gov.au/covidvaccine.

ROLLING UP... Kadina Memorial School year 11 students Lucas Schmidt and Lucy Johns are looking forward to getting fully vaccinated when a Pfizer hub is set up on campus later this month.

App added to YP launching options

Sonny Coombs
JOURNALIST

YORKE Peninsula Council will offer boat ramp users the ability to purchase permits via a mobile phone app, in addition to ticket machines.

Elected members moved to enter a formal agreement with EasyParks to provide single-launch permits via a phone application at council’s October meeting.

The new system won’t affect those who purchase monthly or annual permits, and will complement the coin-only ticket machines already in place.

Currently, single-launch permits can only be purchased from onsite ticket machines.

Information circulating on social media suggested there would be hidden charges associated with the application.

However, council staff have verified with EasyParks, which is also in operation on the Copper Coast, that this is not the case.

Council also decided those using the app will be charged $5 per launch, down from $6 at the coin machines, for the rest of the financial year.

Mayor Darren Braund said there would be no changes to the current payment systems, and the EasyPark app was just one extra new option.

“Our coin machines are still operating, and we will still offer monthly and annual permits,” Mr Braund said.

“There is no charge for parking, only for launching, just the same as it already was.

“The Wallaroo and Port Hughes boat ramps already utilise the EasyPark system — it hasn’t been a problem there and we don’t anticipate it will cause any issues here.”

Councillor Naomi Bittner said the incident on social media has been a good learning tool.

“Although it is frustrating that misinformation spreads like wildfire, in some ways it was worthwhile because we did our extra due diligence and staff clarified this is an additional service,” Dr Bittner said.

“This is an additional service for people who don’t carry cash, there is still the option to purchase in the traditional way.”

Key points to new system

- Yorke Peninsula Council is not removing the coin ticket machines
- There will be no changes or additional charges to monthly or annual permits
- There won’t be charges to park cars and trailers, it is only for boat launching
- There are no hidden charges — nil establishment or monthly account keeping fees charged to users via EasyPark (activation fees in the EasyPark terms and conditions relate to business accounts, not individuals purchasing single-use permits)
- There is no requirement to sign up for monthly membership
- There is no additional cost to ratepayers — establishment of the app for council’s eight boat ramps is at no financial cost to council
- Signage will be provided by EasyPark for each boat ramp
- A call centre is available from 6.30am to 8.30pm Monday to Friday, and 7.30am to 8.30pm on weekends

Ring in the New Year

PORT Broughton's New Year's Eve event will go off with a bang.

Barunga West Council elected members moved to hold a family-friendly event on Port Broughton foreshore at its ordinary meeting on Tuesday, October 12.

"Council approved a family friendly 2021 New Year's Eve community event with food trucks, live music, kids' entertainment, and fireworks display," CEO Maree Wauchope said.

"The fireworks will be launched from the Port Broughton jetty and go for about 10 minutes."

The Port Broughton Tourism and Events Committee recommended the fireworks after another tough year of COVID restrictions.

Ms Wauchope said council staff needed to ensure the event was COVID safe which meant screening and COVID marshals.

"Council will work with SA Health to hold a safe event but in saying that we still have a few hurdles to jump," she said.

"SA Health can intervene at any time so keep that in mind, but we are willing to give it a go."

Mayor and committee member Leonie Kerley said she knew some people were against the event and she too considered both sides extensively before voting in favour.

"We have had two horrible years of COVID-19 lockdowns and restrictions, children in and out of school and people losing their jobs," Mrs Kerley said.

"We just need a night of fun and light to end the year."

"I hope this event will give people a lot of joy and families have a really fun and positive night."

Council received more than 100 survey responses, the majority positive, during a public consultation process.

BIG EVENT... Barunga West Council administration officer Kelly Glenton and mayor Leonie Kerley are celebrating elected members' approval of a New Year's Eve event on the Port Broughton foreshore.

October Narungga update

Kadina Memorial School pop-up vaccination hub

I WAS pleased the largest school outside the metropolitan area, Kadina Memorial School, has been selected as one of 18 schools across the state to have a pop-up COVID-19 vaccination hub established in it, in an effort to boost vaccination rates.

At time of writing, I'm advised the hub will commence operating in the next couple of weeks and will be part of a six-week blitz to administer first and second doses.

The Kadina school facility will be open to staff and students, and likely to local community members on week-ends. More information to come.

Nightworks commence at Port Wakefield

The Department of Infrastructure and Transport advises nightworks will commence October 15, as part of the ongoing construction of the $124.5 million Port Wakefield Overpass and Highway Duplication Program.

The works will be completed over about two months from just north of the new overpass to just south of Minnie Street.

They will be undertaken intermittently, Sunday to Friday, between 6pm and 7am, and will involve barrier relocation, median removal and installation, pavement constructions service location, line marking and drainage installation.

Anyone with questions can call 1300 161 407 or email enquiries@pw2pa.com.au.

Grants

I encourage local sporting clubs to apply for equipment funding via the newly opened round 50 of the popular Active Club Program.

Up to $3000 is available to clubs needing assistance to acquit various costs such as hand sanitiser, face masks and marshal vests, as well as to purchase uniforms, and sporting or scoring equipment.

Also opened are the SA Sport Institute's Individual Athlete Program and Country Athlete Awards Program which assists young rural athletes travel to Adelaide for specialist training.

I also advise the Coast Protection Grants program offering funding to repair, restore and sustain regional coastal areas is still open but closes on October 29.

For information and guidelines on the above grants programs, and others, please visit www.fraserellis.com.au.

FUNDING... Yorke Peninsula Tourism manager Brooke Liebelt is pleased $20,000 has been awarded to the Yorke Peninsula Tourism Plan through the Building Better Regions Fund.

$20,000 for YP Tourism Plan

Jess Liddy
JOURNALIST

THE Yorke Peninsula Tourism Plan has received $20,000 as part of the federal governments Building Better Regions Fund.

Yorke Peninsula Tourism manager Brooke Liebelt said YP Tourism was incredibly grateful to have been successful.

"The $20,000 will allow the organisation to develop a Strategic Action Plan," she said.

"This will allow YPT to better its positioning and effectiveness to assist industry and stakeholders, particularly due to the COVID disruption in 2020, to achieve our goal of $289 million in tourism expenditure by 2025," she said.

Mrs Liebelt said the need for an updated Strategic Action Plan became a priority after COVID-19, with the release of the South Australian Regional Visitor Strategy 2025 this year.

"The plan will align with tourism plans that have been created by local councils and the South Australian Tourism Commission," she said.

"Ultimately it will help pave the way for YPT to assist industry and stakeholders by growing tourism in a sustainable way.

"How long the plan will take to implement will depend on a number of external factors — consultation with the YPT Board will need to take place — the YPT Board is representative of industry and stakeholders."

Federal Member for Grey Rowan Ramsey said he was delighted the YP Tourism Plan would receive funding.

"I am so pleased to announce these projects which communities have invested much time and effort into bringing to fruition," Mr Ramsey said.

"The federal government is investing in the future of Grey with almost $10 million in funding under Round 5 of the highly successful Building Better Regions Fund.

"We are backing these projects so local people have the facilities for the future, while creating jobs to boost our economic recovery.

"I have worked closely with local councils and community groups and I am proud to be part of a government that will listen to and deliver for our communities."

A bit of give and take (at grow free cart)

JOURNALIST

GROW free carts have been popping up all over Australia in recent years, and Kadina is now no exception.

After moving from the Adelaide Hills around five years ago, Josie Watson was inspired to start a grow free cart.

"I used to live in Birdwood and there was a grow free cart there which was really popular and I just love the idea of helping the community," Ms Watson said.

"Then I saw on Facebook a friend had started one outside her work and it was going really well so she put me onto the Grow Free page and after reading through the page I thought ... this is so easy to do!"

Ms Watson started the produce cart on Matta Road about a month ago and contributes some of her own garden produce but said local donations have made up the bulk of the stock.

"It's mostly been the community, they've been amazing, and in the first couple of weeks it was up and running ... I was just gobsmacked," she said.

Grow Free is about giving away or donating free home-grown produce and seedlings so some people give and some people take, or both.

Ms Watson is taking the concept even further by adding more storage space for excess household food stores such as canned food, as well as for toiletry items.

"I've added the little cabinet next to it because there are a lot of people doing it tough out there at the moment on Yorke Peninsula," she said.

So far community reaction has been incredibly positive and has exceeded Ms Watson's most optimistic expectations.

"It's been better than I ever thought it would be and people have acted very honourably," she said.

Ms Watson said her partner had promised to build a bigger cart out of metal with a roof to protect the goods from the weather.

JOBS... Country Home Services' Ashley Clarence and Lauren Donnellan with employment facilitator Lisa Brock (middle) at the Local Jobs and Careers Expo held at the Copper Coast Sport and Leisure Centre last Thursday, October 14.

Jobs and careers expo providing new chances

Patrick Goldsmith
REPORT BY

KADINA'S first Local Jobs and Careers Expo was held last Thursday, October 14.

The expo, at the Copper Coast Sport and Leisure Centre in Kadina, had a steady stream of locals come through the door.

It was an opportunity for employers and employees to engage with each other face to face, something that has been missing in the job-seeking process since the onset of the COVID pandemic.

"It bridges the gap between the two, because sometimes job seekers can be a little bit nervous about meeting employers and, sometimes, they just need a little help," employment facilitator Lisa Brock said.

"Job seekers could bring their résumé in, apply for any vacancies available, and by the end of the day, could be walking away with a job."

Companies such as Seven Point Australian Pork, Vittera and Country Home Services were there representing many of the industries on the peninsula.

Representatives from the University of South Australia, Adelaide University, TAFE SA and Flinders University were also present to explain tertiary education.

Ms Brock said it was a chance for the people of Yorke Peninsula to make connections and extend their networks.

"Only about a fifth of jobs are actually advertised," she said.

"A lot of small businesses, if they're looking for staff, they ask people they know so a lot of people looking for work are not even seeing what jobs are really advertised.

"I think a lot of employers need to see they need to be really tapping into the local talent, because they can't rely on getting people in from outside the region."

Ms Brock said there was a possibility the expo would return.

"The feedback we get is all really positive, and it's about the visibility and the connections that are really important," Ms Brock said.

"We don't want a hidden jobs market — as there currently is — let's get the jobs out there and work out how we connect the jobs to the people in the community who can do the jobs."

Keeping the community connected

Jess Liddy
JOURNALIST

REGIONAL DisAbility Support Services is looking to provide an up-to-date list of National Disability Insurance Scheme providers on Yorke Peninsula.

RDSS general manager Trudy Clift said it would be a community project in collaboration with key stakeholders.

"This will be privately funded and available via different platforms," Ms Clift said.

"There is a huge need for a document like this in our region — a collaborative approach to give clients every choice possible."

Ms Clift said this was a great opportunity for local service providers to jump on board.

"We want to provide all the details we can, whether you're a registered NDIS provider or not, what services you provide, if you travel, where you're based and so on — complete transparency," she said.

"Too many people are falling through the cracks in our area and it can be purely because they can't find the support they need.

"It's up to us to make sure this changes and people are able to navigate a directory with ease to find what services are available to them and, more importantly, what is available close to home."

Ms Clift said YP had a growing population which needed access to an updated directory.

"Information is so valuable and we are committed to making that information available so people can make informed decisions about what services are best for them," she said.

"We want to ensure the directory is up to date and should provide a useful tool for our NDIS partners in the community."

"We are looking forward to collaborating with other local services and engaging with the community."

To be a part of the directory or for more information, contact Regional DisAbility Support Services on 8877 4444 or email enquiries@regionaldisability.com.au.

SUPPORT... Regional DisAbility Support Services general manager Trudy Clift is keen to create a local directory of service providers.

Celebrating Port Broughton's ambulance history

MORE than 80 people attended the Port Broughton 50-year ambulance celebration on Sunday, October 3.

The day marked 50 years since the first St John Ambulance, run by a local group trained in first aid, was stationed in the town in 1971.

Today, the station is still staffed by a group of 15 dedicated volunteer officers who service the Port Broughton district and surrounds.

Many of the volunteers have connections to the original officers.

Celebrations included the unveiling of a new plaque at the new helipad garden and people had an opportunity to browse the upgraded facilities.

"We had a lot of past and present ambulance officers come to reminisce which was special and we had a brief history on ambulances then and now," volunteer Sandra Ireland said.

"We then moved into the Port Broughton Combined Sporting Club where we had memorabilia on display as well as two old ambulance vehicles from Adelaide."

In 1970 the Broughton Rural Youth Club recognised the need for an ambulance in the Port Broughton district and, along with the help of the St John Council of South Australia and the Port Pirie Ambulance Brigade, an ambulance was purchased and eventually presented to the Port Broughton district in October 1971.

The Port Broughton station is always on the lookout for more volunteers.

"More volunteers keeps an ambulance in the local community," Mrs Ireland said.

For more information contact Port Broughton team leader Jason Murphy on 0427 972 330.

CELEBRATION... Sisters Kate Nottage and Rhonda Anstee attended the recent Port Broughton 50-year ambulance celebration; the pair are currently doing their Ambulance Assist Training.

Commissioner now enshrined in legislation

ABORIGINAL children and young people will now have stronger voices in South Australia.

Commissioner for Aboriginal Children and Young People April Lawrie now has legislative provisions equivalent to those of the Commissioner for Children and Young People, including powers to conduct systemic inquiries.

Minister for Education John Gardner said more must be done to improve the outcomes of Aboriginal children and young people.

"Aboriginal children and young people are disproportionately represented within the state's most disadvantaged and vulnerable children and youth," he said.

"They are more likely to be absent from school and generally have poorer health outcomes than non-Aboriginal children and young people.

"They are also more likely to be subject to out-of-home care and the criminal justice system.

"The challenges which lead to these circumstances are complex, but we believe the Commissioner will assist in improving government services for Aboriginal children and young people.

"It is a very important piece of legislation that will give a voice to many Aboriginal children and young people in a formal way, with the Commissioner acting as their megaphone."

The new laws give Ms Lawrie, a proud Mirning and Kokatha woman, independent authority.

Key areas of focus for the role include improving health, education, child protection and justice outcomes.

Council grants for Copper Coast community groups

VOLUNTEERS... Copper Coast Council recognised its community grant recipients with a barbecue last Wednesday, October 12. More than $95,000 was awarded to groups for facility improvements and projects, with Mayor Roslyn Talbot thanking the organisations for the work they do for the community. In no particular order, Peter Elverd, Sonia Kisielecki, Robert Short, Alison Meier, Geoff Battle, Dean Landorf, Steve Hudson, Paul Smith, Annette Smith, Peta O'Reilly, Denise Rowe, Hazel Kirlew, Barb Langman, Michael West, Andy West, Bill Tetley, Robyn Miller, Craig Woodward, Stephanie Krieg, Linda Kinch, Dean Flowers, Lesley Bowden, Maxine Koch, Andrea Ford, Greg Allen, Dawn Ireland, Tom Chapman, Sarina Tremayne, Karen Armstrong, Alan Poole, Marie Smith, Margie Davies, John Hampton, Vaughan McWaters, Josie McWaters, Arthur Tzanakis, Vicky, Sam, Dianne Landorf, Lloyd, Bronwyn and Barb.

Take the pressure down, for your heart's sake

Healthier Hearts
on Yorke Peninsula

HIGH blood pressure is a key risk factor for heart disease. It is often called the 'silent killer' because people who have it often do not have any obvious symptoms. It is important to get regular blood pressure checks as, over time, high blood pressure can increase your risk of having a heart attack or stroke. Data from the Heart Foundation reveals 23 per cent of people in the Mid North and Yorke Peninsula region have high blood pressure, which is just above the state average. Blood pressure is the pressure of your blood on the walls of your blood vessels as the heart pumps blood around your body. It is normal for your blood pressure to go up and down during the day, adjusting to your body's needs, depending on what you are doing. For example, if you are lifting something heavy it might go up and if you are resting in a chair, it might go down. With persistent high blood pressure, your readings are consistently high. Blood pressure is recorded as two numbers. Systolic blood pressure, the higher number, indicates the pressure in the blood vessels when the heart is contracting or pumping. The lower number is called the diastolic blood pressure, and this is the pressure when the heart is at rest before the next beat. With high blood pressure your heart must pump with more force than normal, putting extra strain on your heart. Think about pumping up the tyres on your pushbike using a handheld pump — at first it is quite easy to do, but as the pressure in the tyre increases it becomes harder to pump. The best thing you can do is to get to know what your blood pressure numbers are. The Heart Foundation recommends you visit your GP for a heart health check if you are 45 years and over (30 for Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander people). Walking 30 minutes each day, maintaining a healthy, balanced diet, limiting your salt and alcohol intake and not smoking will also help you to control your blood pressure. If you would like to know more, visit the Heart Foundation website www.heartfoundation.org.au/. Imelda Lynch, Heart Foundation SA/NT CEO

New faces at YP Country Times

YORKE Peninsula Country Times is pleased to welcome two news faces to its editorial department — Patrick Goldsmith and Nigel Parsons.

“Patrick and Nigel were chosen from a strong pool of candidates who applied for our cadet and journalist positions earlier this year,” editor Rhiannon Koch said.

“It was a difficult decision as we were very impressed by several applicants — we thank everyone who applied for the jobs and wish them the very best for the future.

“Both have local connections, with Patrick’s father growing up in Honiton and Nigel returning home to Port Vincent.

“Patrick’s commitment and understanding of the importance of regional journalism stood out to us and Nigel’s experience behind a camera, having worked for The Advertiser and Stock Journal, was an added bonus.”

Patrick will join the team full-time as a cadet journalist in November while Nigel will spend three days a week in the office and around the southern Yorke Peninsula.

working in a newsroom and servicing a region which I have such a deep affinity for,” Patrick said.

“I can’t think of anywhere better to be given the privilege of telling people’s stories.

“As a lover of sport, I look forward to becoming a part of the way that plays a role in life on Yorke Peninsula.”

Nigel said a recent stint at university reminded him how much he enjoyed writing.

“To join the Yorke Peninsula Country Times and have the opportunity to take photos and write as well is great,” he said.

“I’m really enjoying being back on the leg and I’m grateful to the paper for the opportunity.”

If you have a news tip for Patrick or Nigel, contact 8821 1155 or email patrick@ypct.com.au or nigel@ypct.com.au.

Treat yourself for Christmas at National Dental Care Kadina

WITH Christmas, New Year and summer holidays fast approaching, the professional team at National Dental Care is encouraging patients to be friends with their health insurance benefits.

Practice manager Julie Hage said now was the perfect time to book in for a regular dental check-up, or follow up on any outstanding treatments patients may have put on hold during COVID restrictions.

"Most health funds reset at the end of the year – this means any dollars allocated by your health fund for dental treatment, if not used within the year, expire," Julie said.

"These funds do not roll over to the next year so NDC Kadina urges patients to use it or lose it.

"Make friends with your health insurance and let them help you put yourself first, and get back on track with your dental health before the end of the year."

Health insurance typically covers a wide range of dental services from general dental to majors dental and popular cosmetics procedures including teeth whitening.

"Our team of providers and friendly staff can help keep your teeth in great shape as well as identifying any work needed and will happily discuss any aesthetic treatments you might be interested in," Julie said.

"They will provide you with a detailed treatment plan which will make the most of your extras cover.

"Why not treat yourself this Christmas and get the smile that you have always wanted?"

For all your dental needs, call NDC Kadina on 8821 2899 or visit and speak with staff at 70 Graves Street, Kadina.

Pioneer Italian aviators meet Sir Richard

REPORT BY

ITALIAN aviator Wing Commander Francesco De Pinedo and Chief Mechanic Ernesto Campanelli's pioneering flight to Australia in 1925 was an important milestone in Australia's relationship with the rest of the world.

This was the third journey by aircraft to Australia, after two from England — Ross and Keith Smith in 1919, and Ray Parer and J. C. McIntosh in 1920.

As impressive as these earlier feats were, the audacity and scale of the Italian airmen's flight to Australia and Japan is as outstanding as it is astonishing.

In Melbourne they were feted by many, including "father" of the Royal Australian Air Force, then Wing Commander Richard Williams.

The pair left from Savoy on April 20, arriving in Adelaide on June 8 and Melbourne on June 9.

Their route home was via Tokyo (September 26) and back to Rome (November 7).

The journey covered approximately 55,000 kilometres during some 370 hours of flight, with periodic stops along the way for rest, refuelling and repairs.

The aircraft was a Savoia S-61 hydroplane baptised Gennariello after St Gennaro, the patron saint of Naples.

De Pinedo and Campanelli reached Australia on May 31 and the Australian press followed the flight closely, giving readers daily reports on progress in evocative and colourful language.

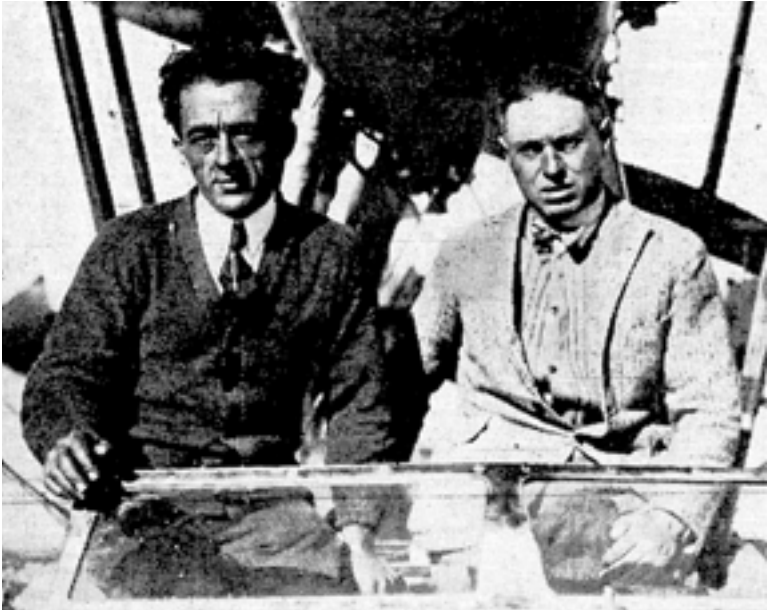

The aviators had "grit", "pluck", and "daring", they wrote, and the world was full of "admiration" for Italy's "illustrious sons" whose voyage "full of hazard" was "without parallel".

Adelaide

When De Pinedo and Campanelli reached Adelaide and alighted at Outer Harbor, they had been in the air for seven weeks and completed about 24,000km.

There was much excitement among Adelaideans, special trains were scheduled so people could attend the arrival, and Port Road was "one long line of motors" on their way to Outer Harbor, many sporting Italian flags.

By noon, 10,000 spectators had gathered along the foreshore where "cheers followed cheers". Once ashore, the aviators were met with a "tremendous

Melbourne

The Italian aviators left Adelaide for Melbourne the following morning, carrying additional fuel and, for their lunch in the air, six hard-boiled eggs (to which De Pinedo was partial) and two bottles of beer (there is no record about whether they drank them mid-flight).

On reaching Melbourne, Wing Commander Richard Williams, then First Member of the Australian Air Board, was impressed by the remarkable distances made by De Pinedo and Campanelli over six weeks and spoke in admiring terms of the feat, calling it one of the most noteworthy events in the history of aviation, and one that would help convince the community that flying was safe.

Controller of Civil Aviation, Lieutenant-Colonel Brinsmead, said their journey across India from coast to coast in one complete flight had excited the greatest admiration among Australian airmen.

Indeed, Melbourne received the aviators in grand style, their arrival at St Kilda attracting 40,000 people.

On June 11, they were given a large civic reception on behalf of the Commonwealth Government, with Williams representing the AAB; a week later, Williams and wife Constance hosted a dinner party at their flat before a more elaborate celebration with officials from the RAAF, the government and the Italian Consulate.

There was a gala night at Melbourne's His Majesty's on June 19 with lavish decorations: gum foliage, lights, festoons and balloons in the Italian colours, and flags of the Allied nations; a model of the Savoia seaplane was suspended over the auditorium.

Representatives of the RAAF, including Williams, the Navy and Army were present, together with Prime Minister Stanley Bruce, many state ministers and government officials.

Other celebratory events were scheduled and Williams was invariably present.

After Melbourne, the Gennariello flew along Australia's east coast and then to Tokyo.

This part of the journey also made history, as it represented the first flight from Australia to Japan and effectively opened up the air route between the two countries.

After 1925 and deaths

De Pinedo embarked on other historic flights over the next eight years; he died when his aircraft caught fire at Bennett Field, New York, on September 3, 1933.

Campanelli made a career in the Italian air force until his death on his way home from war service on July 18, 1944.

Sandra's passion for volunteering

Jess Liddy
JOURNALIST

SANDRA Ireland is making a difference.

A passionate volunteer, Sandra has been an ambulance officer at Port Broughton for the past 27 years.

"Ultimately, I got asked to be a volunteer ambulance officer after having children but at the time they were young and I wasn't ready," Sandra said.

"When my daughter turned 17 she was interested in joining, so we went to a community information session and we joined — she ended up moving but I stuck with it.

"There have been some big changes (during my time) from technology to vehicles, and even how many crew are on board an ambulance.

"There is a lot more equipment in the trucks these days than on the original vehicles and they can track where we go now and provide maps which is helpful.

"There is also a lot more training especially on the theory side of things, ambulance officers have to have a lot more knowledge now on things like medication — we travel with a lot more medications now."

Sandra volunteered on the truck for 20 years but now remains predominantly in the station doing various jobs from admin, to helping with trainings and being a general sound-board for other volunteers.

"A lot of people would come up to me and say 'oh I couldn't be a volunteer I don't like blood," she said.

VOLUNTEER... Sandra Ireland, of Port Broughton, has volunteered with the SA Ambulance Service for 27 years and volunteers with various other community groups in the region.

"I don't think I saw all that much blood in my entire 20 years on the truck to be honest.

"Most of the time the patient would be at their front door with their bags packed because in our region it's always more retired people seeking assistance.

"We always had callouts very close — each station always serviced their own area — now ambulances travel a lot further and can be called out to various surrounding towns depending on volunteer numbers, what vehicles are available and where, and the urgency and need."

Sandra said she was able to gain a lot of skills as a volunteer ambulance officer.

"I learned so many skills I was able to use in everyday life," she said.

"And, if I ever came across an accident I had those skills and the knowledge to really help and make a difference.

"It was always nice to see how relieved people were to see us so in that sense it was really nice as well but you definitely get more out of volunteering than you put in — well I do anyway."

Sandra also spends her time volunteering with various other community groups.

"I am the treasurer at our local church, president of the quilting group, I volunteer at Meals on Wheels and with the Port Broughton parkrun, and I help out with the netball and football clubs when I'm needed because I used to umpire netball and I still enjoy going to watch," she said.

"It's just nice to be involved in the community and mixing with different people.

"I think it's really important to be involved in activities and groups and keep things going in the community.

"We have a really good mix of older and younger people volunteering around town and I truly believe you'll always get something out of volunteering."

Sandra was born in Crystal Brook and grew up in Wandearah where she attended primary school before completing high school in Port Pirie.

"I then worked at the Ford dealership for about five years before meeting my husband Lynton and we moved to the farm in Wokurna and had three children," she said.

"We now live in Port Broughton and spend a lot of our time with our eight grandkids.

"Besides volunteering I also enjoy gardening, reading and sewing.

"I'm definitely looking forward to doing some more travelling when COVID permits."

Aladdin Jr. musical on stage at Maitland

MAITLAND Music and Arts Club Youth Theatre is presenting the musical production of Disney's Aladdin Jr. at the Maitland Town Hall on Friday and Saturday, October 22 and 23.

The bright and colourful production is based on the favourite Disney animated film and its Broadway musical adaptation, MMAC Performing Arts School committee member Chrissy Wright explained.

"With some new songs and characters, everyone will love this adventure brought to life," she said.

Aladdin (Indy Thyer) and friends Babbak, Omar and Kassim (Sophie Davies, Charlotte Liebelt and Cameron Carson) attempt to keep one jump ahead of Guard Razoul (Poppy Dyett) and other city guards in the busy streets and colourful marketplace of Agrabah.

Inside the palace walls, the Sultan of Agrabah (Hugo Thyer) is frustrated with his daughter Princess Jasmine (Kira Davies), who is refusing to choose a suitable husband.

Jasmine's friends Asir, Manal and Rajah (Edie Moloney, Rachelle Launer and Charlotte Howse) encourage her to explore life outside the palace walls.

All the while, the Sultan's evil royal adviser Jafar (Tyson Wright), helped by his witty sidekick Iago (Alice Butler), is plotting to marry the princess himself to become the kingdom's next ruler.

Aladdin's luck changes when a magical lamp containing a wish-granting genie comes into his possession.

Genie (Jed Alderman) turns Aladdin into a prince and, with help from Aladdin's friends, they attempt to impress the Sultan and Princess Jasmine.

Aladdin promises to use his third and final wish to free Genie, but can he keep up the charade of being a prince without Genie's help?

"Directed by Nathan Wright and choreographed by Danielle Mangano and Leah Tucker, this super fun show full of great music, energy and colour will delight audiences," Chrissy said.

Tickets are $20 for adults and $10 for children and are available via trybooking.com/BSVRM.

Native foods feature at Copper Coast Garden Club

LYNNE Rowe from Broughton River Gourmet Foods was guest speaker at the Copper Coast Garden Club general meeting on September 22.

She shared the journey she and husband John had taken from being school teachers to producing a wide range of popular jams, chutneys and sauces.

The story began with buying 45 acres of land out of Port Pirie where they planted native food plants Lynne uses to produce delicious condiments.

With only a little help from family, Lynne and John oversee all aspects of the business, which started in their home kitchen, but they now have a commercial kitchen in which to work.

Most of the main ingredients are produced on the farm.

They sell products under two labels: Heritage (red label) which is predominantly Lynne's mother's recipes, and the Broughton River Gourmet Foods brand.

Their business being only small, the Rowes attend many local markets (including Kadina) and sell online.

Members enjoyed tasting some of their produce, and were able to purchase anything they had tasted.

John also judged members' competition table entries.

Sandra Stuart from the SA Herb Society will speak about herbs and salvias, and have plants for sale, at the club's October 27 meeting see Community Calendar for details.

TALENT... Kadina's Brian Schulz performed with the Glenelg Brass Band recently.

Brian a guest of Glenelg Brass Band

KADINA resident Brian Schulz was honoured as the guest artist at the Winter Concert of the Glenelg Brass Band, held in Adelaide recently.

Known locally for his playing at YP dances in the 1970s and beyond, as well as the local music club, Brian, now 88, was chosen to perform a medley of his favourite pieces for the concert.

He performed on a grand piano which was unfamiliar to him but he soon adapted to its feel, and gave a rousing rendition of Bold Gendarmes (also known as the Adelaide Crows' song), Easter Parade and Beer Barrel Polka.

Brian, who is self-taught, has been playing the piano for more than 70 years, starting when he would perform with his father and brother at dances in the Riverton area.

On this occasion he was accompanied by his daughter Gay Lee, of Kulpara, on the drums in some of the pieces.

The performance can be seen at <https://youtu.be/3DWfCgyLcZg>.

Celebrating SENIORS

Recognising our seniors

COMPARED to the alternative, growing older is great, but what we choose to do with our golden years is up to the individual.

But luckily, we are surrounded by fantastic support services and organisations who can make it a little easier.

Yorke Peninsula is also incredibly fortunate to have wonderful community groups to aid in socialisation, activities and opportunities for engagement.

Own your age

AGEING doesn't have to be something to be afraid of but celebrated.

As part of International Day of Older Persons on October 1, COTA SA encouraged people to call out ageism and replace the stereotypes of older South Australians.

"We duck and weave to avoid mentioning a number for fear it means we're entering old age, as though that label somehow defines us," a COTA spokesperson said.

"We have an irrational fear of getting older.

"The result is that, as a community and as individuals, we are at grave risk of wasting our older years.

"We are in danger of treating our older years with disdain and writing them off as if they have little value, even though we've worked so hard to get them.

"Our significant investment in clever public health over the last century has resulted in longer and healthier lives.

"As children, we are impatient to grow up fast and be older. Now that time's here, we should own it. We need to reject the use by date imposed by ageism.

"The challenge for our community is to reframe ageing, to grasp the opportunity of our longevity, and to explore what the possibilities may be."

COTA SA is also encouraging people to reject the stereotypes about old and rewire the rulebook.

"We also need to tackle the phenomenon that many older South Australians increasingly feel as they age — invisibility," the spokesperson said.

"Older people are disproportionately underrepresented in the media and in popular culture, despite being the fastest growing and largest segment of the population.

"Worse still, when they are, their appearance often panders to the stereotypes and is littered with ageist overtones.

"Older age is made to look frail, sad, poor, and lonely.

"There is a move to refer to International Day of Older Persons, designated by the United Nations, as Ageism Awareness Day.

"It's a move that COTA SA fully supports.

"It's well and truly time that we fronted up to the damage that ageism has done and continues to do."

ENFIELD Furnishers at Kadina has been a trusted local business for more than 40 years, delivering great customer service across Yorke Peninsula and Mid North.

The honest and reliable team is a proud supplier and distributor of Merits Australia healthcare products including mobility scooters, walking frames and wheelchairs.

Manager Paul Smith said he was pleased to provide an opportunity for locals to find mobility solutions close to home.

"There is a high demand for these products and in the past locals would have to make a two-hour journey to Adelaide just to look at a mobility scooter," Paul said.

"Now they can come in to our Kadina store, see and feel the quality of the product and ask our friendly staff for advice."

Merits Australia was established in 1986 and is proudly Australian owned and operated.

The innovative healthcare products are manufactured for all people who experience mobility or health problems, and today the company is considered one of the leading mobility product manufacturers.

Merits Australia is based on the principles of supplying quality products which are standards tested, offering superior service for all their customers.

"Merits Australia follows the same great values we do here at Enfield's, that's why we didn't look anywhere else," Paul said.

"We pride ourselves on providing safe and reliable products for our loyal customers."

The healthcare products come in a great range of colours with loads of features and accessories.

"We have a huge range in stock but if we don't have the Merits product you want, we can get it in for you," Paul said.

"Our customers come first, we are here to assist all of your needs, and we'll even deliver to your front door."

You can also chat to Paul and the team about finance options.

Pre-paid funeral plans available at McQueen's

Advertising Promotion

WHEN planning ahead for your funeral there are options to consider, including whether to organise and pay for the entire service in advance, or simply to set money aside to contribute towards funeral expenses.

Your choice of funeral director is also important.

McQueen Funeral Services is an accredited member of the Australian Funeral Directors Association, and Iain McQueen is a past president and divisional council member of South Australia/Northern Territory division of the Australian Funeral Directors Association.

McQueen Funeral Services offers pre-paid funeral plans.

This allows people to fix the cost of a funeral with McQueen Funerals by obtaining a pre-paid contract which documents their wishes in detail.

Iain encouraged people to lock in their choices at today's prices

"With a pre-paid funeral contract, your service is planned and paid for in advance," he said.

"The price of your funeral is fixed at today's prices, protecting you from the rising cost of funeral prices in the future."

Another option available is a funeral bond investment which helps people put money aside for their funeral expenses without going into the details. However, a bond does not guarantee against price rises.

People can pay for their funeral plans or bonds via a lump sum or on a payment plan.

An added advantage is a pre-paid funeral plan for any amount, or bond up to $13,550, is not considered a personal asset.

This means it is exempt from asset tests, and could help maintain or improve people's pension entitlements.

Pre-paid funeral plans and bonds ensure your money is held securely, and give you peace of mind knowing you have helped alleviate the financial and emotional burden from your family in the future.

For more information, or to arrange an in-home personal visit, contact McQueen Funeral Services, 52 Main Street Minlaton, phone 8853 2236.

FUNERAL PLANS... Iain McQueen, Gail Burke and Kate Edwards from McQueen Funeral Services can visit you in-home to discuss pre-paid funeral plan options.

AT HOME... Parkview Community Care home care coordinator Deb Adams talks to Francis Fidgeon about the services she can receive through a home care package.

Home care with Parkview

Advertising Promotion

PARKVIEW Community Care, Moonta, is now providing home care packages.

The friendly team can offer everything from home and garden services like cleaning, laundry, shopping and bill payment, home cooked meals and garden maintenance as well as personal care.

"We work with you to tailor care and services to best support your needs and goals," Moonta Health and Aged Care Service general manager Alison Clare said.

"If home is where your heart is, we can help you stay there as long as you are able.

"Many people tell us that they want to stay living in their own home for as long as possible.

"At the heart of wanting to remain living at home is the sense of being in control; however, as we age there can be some challenges."

Alison said, while many challenges can be overcome with the assistance of family and friends, that isn't always possible.

"That's where Parkview can assist," she said.

"We see the support we offer as a way of taking away the worry, so you can get back to doing the things you love.

"Whether you need support to attend medical appointments, social outings to get you out and about or assistance accessing allied health services, we're here for you.

"We can even provide nursing services and access to aids and equipment like walking sticks, electric recliner chairs and beds.

"And, when the time comes that you need a break, we offer respite and permanent care all from the one facility."

IF you wish to live life to its fullest, Community Care and Transport Incorporated can help you!

Community Care and Transport places care at the forefront of everything staff and volunteers do, meaning clients will always come first.

"We will help you to get to those important medical appointments so you can ensure you are looking after yourself," CEO David McDonald said.

"Then you can enjoy your life after all the hard work you have put into getting this far.

"We can also assist you to visit friends, and family, or to do some shopping or personal appointments — including a visit to the hairdresser or barber if that makes you look and feel better!"

Community Care and Transport offers a range of transportation services, from medical, social and business trips to the health bus, community bus and social trips.

Wheelchair accessible vehicles are also available, and fees do apply.

"If you don't need transport but would just like some companionship or friendship, we can help with that too," David said.

"There is no need to feel down, lonely, or isolated, we are here to help via a free government initiative.

"We provide the Community Visitors Scheme thanks to the support of our wonderful volunteers.

"We can visit residential aged care facilities or in your own home if you are receiving or are approved for a My Aged Care Home Care Package.

"There is no cost involved to participants."

Community Care and Transport clients are full of praise for the services provided.

"It makes me feel so alive and better to know that somebody cares about me and is willing to visit regularly and we are able to share stories together, some of which make me laugh," Charmaine P. said.

"It is good to be able to laugh with someone."

Community Care and Transport is always looking for volunteers — for more information visit

Star of the Sea supporting your care

Advertising Promotion

STAR OF THE SEA, Wallaroo, has been a leader in aged care within the region for more than 40 years.

The caring and compassionate team not only offers quality home services but respite and residential stays as well.

Star of the Sea offers package levels 1, 2, 3 and 4 for clients who need a little extra help at home, and can also offer Veteran Home Care and private services.

"We want people to be able to remain in their homes for as long as they can, and we're able to assist in a number of ways — like nursing and clinical care, gardening, home maintenance, domestic assistance, bed making/laundry, shopping/bill paying, driving to medical appointments and palliative care," community care general manager Mel King said.

"If your needs increase and you can't manage being at home anymore, we're here to help you transition to residential care."

Star of the Sea residential services manager Lyndal Stanley said the staff were proud to assist people transitioning to their next chapters.

"The community care and residential services teams work closely together," she said.

"Moving into residential care doesn't have to be a quick process, we can work together to make it a gradual shift, starting with respite stays.

"We do what we can to suit your individual needs.

"Respite stays can suit those who need a little bit of extra help for a short time, including those recovering from illness, or needing a little break."

Not only is Star of the Sea a great place to live, it has been recognised as one of the best places to work in the state.

Star of the Sea was named a semi-finalist in the SA Community Achievement Awards.

"We were nominated by an anonymous person in the Employer Excellence in Aged Care Award, which came as a huge surprise to us," Lyndal said.

"The award is judged on how happy our employees are, it looked at how we support our employees from diverse backgrounds, how we offer upskilling and traineeships and flexibility.

"We think it's quite an achievement — to be recognised in this way during one of the most unprecedented times is amazing."

Pathways to Life

by Roger Norris-Green

A talk on a park bench

THERE'S an interesting painting by William DeBurgh. It depicts a young man sitting next to Jesus on a park bench.

The young man is questioning Jesus, asking, "So why do you allow things like hate, famine, war, suffering, disease, crime and homelessness to exist in our world?"

In the painting, Jesus replies, "Interesting that you should ask because I was about to ask you the same question."

We live in a world where the things the young man asked about definitely exist.

Sometimes, like the COVID-19 virus, they hurt and destroy lives. The incredibly sad scenes in Afghanistan testify to how hate, war and suffering can tear families and societies apart.

Some people including our young man on the park bench ask, "If there's a God, why does He allow all this bad stuff to happen?"

But can we really blame God?

The point is we've been created with a free will. We're able to make decisions.

At least some of the issues raised by the man on the park bench can be resolved by us.

We can stop hating, we can share food, we can stop fighting for a start. If we have the will, we can work together to reduce suffering, diseases, crime and homelessness.

The Christian faith says we're not doomed. It is possible to turn things around and as we walk life's pathways we can do our bit 'in our small corner'.

The New Testament story of the Good Samaritan (Luke 10: 25-37) is still relevant today.

So are the words of Jesus in this passage. 'Love your neighbour as you love yourself'.

Omega-3 eye drop for dry eye disease

A post-market study of eye drop NovaTears + Omega-3 has shown it is a significantly effective treatment for evaporative dry eye disease, Australasian drug company AFT Pharmaceuticals managing director Dr Hartley Atkinson said.

The eye drop is said to be the first that combines the tear film stabiliser perfluorohexyloctane with a high-quality, vegan-sourced omega-3 fatty acid.

According to AFT, the study showed the therapy delivered significant improvements in dry eye symptoms in 36 patients over eight weeks.

"The improvements were evident on a broad range of measures including total corneal staining and tear film break-up time," Dr Atkinson said.

"Of particular interest was the meibomian gland assessment score which improved (markedly) over the course of the study ... supporting the hypothesis that the treatment might liquefy meibum secretions from the meibomian glands."

According to AFT, the 2020 Vision Index showed 77 per cent of Australians have experienced dry eye, with more than 85 per cent suffering from some form of evaporative dry eye

However, there are currently limited medicines available to specifically target this form of the disease and relieve symptoms, which include reddened and inflamed eyes and eyelid margins or encrusted eyelids, Dr Atkinson said.

Eye drop NovaTears + Omega-3 works to improve dry eye symptoms by helping liquefy meibum secretions from the meibomian glands that surround eyes; meibum is essential because it prevents the aqueous (water) layer of tears from evaporating.

Poole announces retirement

Peter Argent
REPORT BY

Kadina's Angus Poole officially announced his retirement from Woodville-West Torrens at the club's best and fairest count on Friday, October 15.

Poole, 28, started playing with the Eagles in the under 15 development sides and will hang up his boots after a 155-game career.

During that time, Poole has claimed two premierships medallions, the latest as part of the Eagles victory against Glenelg earlier this month.

Poole claimed the Reserves Magarey Medal in 2012 and was the leading vote catcher in the same award the following year but was ineligible due to suspension.

Poole and 34-year-old veteran Patrick Giuffreda both announced their retirement on the night.

Noted for this team-first attitude, Poole was a hard-running and fearless midfielder and small forward, having a strong football skillset and a never say die attitude.

He left no stone unturned in getting the best out of himself across more than a decade in the Eagles colours.

"Gus is an absolute competitor; he hates getting beaten and really loves the one-on-one contest," captain Luke Thompson said.

"You know exactly what you are going to get every time Gus dons the Eagles jumper.

"He loves the place and is well respected by the entire playing group.

"I couldn't speak highly enough of Angus as a person and a player around the club.

"He's a pretty quiet person around the group, but when he speaks the boys listen and he's a real character.

"Ultimately from a football perspective, he's a player that is prepared to go above and beyond for his teammates."

Poole was also a member of the Eagles Reserves flag in 2014.

This year he finished seventh in the best and fairest count and also secured the Best Team Man accolade.

"I leave the club satisfied as I can be, but you would have still liked to have won a couple more (premierships)," Poole said.

"It (the club) has been a significant part of my life across the past 10 years and more.

"I have a strong friendship group I have come through grades at the club with.

"The club has played a role in shaping me as a person as well."

Poole and partner Leah Cowles are expecting their first child in the coming months.

SANFL... Angus Poole celebrates Woodville-West Torrens' recent premierships win against Glenelg.

SANFL RESERVES... Angus Poole looks for an option during a reserves match in 2011.

Best and fairest night

Jarrad Redden finished the 2021 Woodville-West Torrens Football Club best and fairest count in fifth place.

Redden, who had an outstanding second half to the season and wonderful final series, has committed to another season with the Eagles.

Matthew Goldsworthy, who unfortunately missed the 2021 premiership with a hamstring injury, will also line up again next year.

Angus Poole finished the vote count in seventh spot while Stansbury-based midfielder Lachlan Hoile, who can be considered unlucky not to make his SANFL League football debut this year, was runner-up in the club's Reserves best and fairest count.

State pistol shooting championships at Maitland

Maitland Pistol and Shooting Club hosted the state championships, Saturday to Monday, October 2 to 4.

The facilities looked second to none, thanks to members' hard work.

Campers started to arrive from Thursday, and by Saturday morning there were many caravans, tents and swags scattered about; the club is a favourite amongst shooters from all over the state.

Dean Lombladt and Howard Linke fired up the barbecues for Saturday breakfast and the smell of bacon wafted across the scrub as members and other helpers put up targets and backers for the day's events.

Competitors and event helpers were given "show bags" organised by vice-president Craig Brennan from event sponsor Open2View, plus free lucky draw tickets for prizes from other sponsors Frontier Arms, Walther and Adelaide Gun Shop; another major sponsor Gunforce set up a pop-up shop.

Saturday competitions included 25m rapid fire pistol (with 30 competitors, a record for Maitland), 25m standard pistol and air pistol for men, women and juniors.

A minor turning target failure on the rapid-fire range caused a delay, but the competitions soon began and everything ran smoothly.

Scorers were kept busy with data entry while the Disag scoring machine worked overtime with air pistol targets being fed through, and canteen volunteers, organised by Ruth Lombladt, were kept on their toes.

There were no finals due to the restraints of a high number of competitors, together with COVID-19 limitations.

With scores finalised for the first day of competition, club president David Porter introduced guest trophy presenter Yorke Peninsula Council mayor Darren Braund and wife Terri.

Results were close with a countback for all third placings and, coincidentally, all had a difference of two bullseyes:

*25m rapid fire — 1st David Chapman (Balaklava), 2nd Jason Wolf-Williams (Elizabeth), 3rd Garry Heinrich (NESSCI) c/b

*25m standard pistol — 1st Jason Wolf-Williams (Elizabeth); 2nd David Chapman (Balaklava); 3rd Cristobel Nunez (Penfield) c/b

After presentations, 58 members and visitors enjoyed some delicious hot pots, rice and vegetables, followed by scrumptious desserts prepared by catering coordinator Gail Seeley and helpers.

Sunday, due to the overnight time change to daylight saving, competitors had an even earlier start, but at least the happy campers didn't have far to wander over from their campsites to enjoy breakfast, volunteer on the ranges or start their competitions.

Again, the program ran smoothly, reflecting the thought put into the squadding by David Porter.

Sunday's events were 25m centrefire pistol, 25m pistol women, 25m pistol junior and air pistol completion.

Sunday guest presenter was club patron Mary Smith:

*10m air pistol men — 1st Garry Heinrich (NESSCI), 2nd Ben Beaumont (SSAA Para ISU), 3rd Tyson Hughes (Penfield)

*25m pistol women — 1st Sharlene Ismail, 2nd Alison Heinrich (AURRPC), 3rd Sarah Cooke (Penfield)

*25m pistol junior — 1st Tyson Hughes (Penfield), 2nd CJ Ismail (Noarlunga)

*Women's 3-match aggregate — Sharlene Ismail (Noarlunga)

After the presentations, 58 people again dined at the club, this time enjoying chicken and beef barbecued by David Porter and Dave Seeley, with fresh salad, vegetables and potato bakes followed by delicious desserts.

Monday arrived and the weather was dodgy, with good old Yorke Peninsula winds from the South Pole plus some scattered showers.

The hot cooked breakfast was again popular, in fact 79 breakfasts were cooked over the three days, while Maitland Bakery pies, pasties and sausage rolls were popular all weekend, particularly on this cold day.

The two 50m pistol details finished early afternoon, after which the scorer Lorraine Linke and secretary Gary Thomson tallied scores for judges to check before posting on the board, allowing for protest time before presentations.

State Member for Narungga Fraser Ellis presented the trophies for the final day of competitions:

*50m pistol — 1st David Porter (Maitland), 2nd Garry Heinrich (NESSCI), 3rd Jason Markowski (Elizabeth)

*50m pistol WSPS — 1st Kevin Shepherdson

*25m centrefire pistol — 1st Jason Markowski (Elizabeth), 2nd Garry Heinrich (NESSCI), 3rd David Chapman (Balaklava)

*25m pistol WSPS — 1st Kevin Shepherdson (Penfield)

*Men's 5-match aggregate and Tremelling Trophy (aggregate of slow-fire matches 10m air pistol and 50m pistol) — Garry Heinrich

In total, there were around 60 competitors from around the state, with some disappointed interstate visitors unable to attend due to COVID-19 restrictions.

A big thank you to all sponsors, everyone who volunteered to help make the weekend run smoothly, and to competitors for supporting the event.

Even with the workload, Maitland members David Porter, Craig Brennan, David Edinburgh, Russell Nankivell and Gary Thomson competed, and all achieved a (grade) place medal.

It was Porter's 19th state 50m pistol title since competing at his first titles in 1988. His first win in 1990, with a score of 555, still stands as the state titles record.

Pistol shooting is a sport for all ages and abilities, and the club encourages enquiries from prospective new members; contact the secretary at email maitpistol@gmail.com.

Kadina hosts hockey carnival

Kadina Hockey Club's annual carnival returned with a bang on Saturday, October 16.

The carnival had not been held since 2018 due to the construction of the new turf and COVID restrictions.

A field of 12 teams contested the nine-a-side tournament, with sides travelling from as far as Whyalla and Victor Harbor.

"Thanks to Graham Sobey for his sound system and emceeing of the day, Desmond Waters for the use of the coolroom, Kadina Apex Club for the use of the barbecue trailer, the Kadina Football Club for the use of the changerooms and the Kadina Show Society for the last-minute relocation of our campers," a club spokesperson said.

Women

The women's competition had some close games and at the end of four games, the Kittens from Port Pirie came up against South Coast Hockey Association's Baywatch Beavers in the grand final.

It was an even battle against two strong midfields. Kittens broke the deadlock with a fast break and a skilful finish to beat the keeper in a one-on-one midway through the game. The Beavers pushed numbers up the field in an effort to get an equaliser; however, this backfired as the Kittens scored the sealer in near identical circumstances to their first. Final scores: Kittens 2 d Baywatch Beavers 0.

Men

The men's competition was tightly contested.

Forestville side Kermit the Froths met a youthful Panthers team from Port Pirie in the decider.

Kermits had played some skilful hockey in the minor rounds and the grand final was no different. They opened the scoring in the first five minutes following some good build up play.

Panthers used their speed to their advantage but couldn't penetrate the defence. Kermits continued to pressure the Panthers' backline and were able to put another two goals on the board. Final scores: Kermit the Froths 3 d Panthers 0.

Joan Hill
REPORT BY

This week is Blue Week for prostate cancer in the Northern Yorke Peninsula Bowling Association.

First cab off the rank is the Wednesday (men's) competition, then the new-look Thursday (women's) division I with Green and Gold competitions makes its debut.

The Saturday (open) competition has its second round but all players are asked to wear blue and clubs are asked to decorate their clubrooms with blue, to raise money for the Prostate Cancer Foundation of Australia.

NYPBA had its first Pink Week in season 2019-20; this season it is Blue Week for prostate cancer.

Saturday competition
Moonta takes all points in Kadina

DIVISION I

Kadina often starts the season slowly but I would not have thought Moonta would be able to win all four rinks, overall scores 113-77. Don Bennett, Steve Eichenberger, Kevin Sorrell and Graham Curtis had the best winning score: 11 shots, 31-20.

Wallaroo White, playing at home against Bute, had a big win scoring 136-82. Biggest win went to Mike Wildash, Robert Brandt, Stuart Paterson and Mick Hayes, 48-13.

Closest game in division I was at Port Broughton with the home side winning 95-93 against Wallaroo Blue. Playing in div I for the first time, Wallaroo Blue must have gone home reasonably happy only losing by two shots.

Ardrossan had the biggest win of the round against close neighbour Maitland. David Adcock, Gerry Covino, Rosie Stern and Frank Parocz won 43-14. Paskeville playing at home had a 12 shot win against Arthurlton. Great to see Simon Geater-Johnson back at Arthurlton, and Grace Moloney again being a skipper.

DIVISION II

Second division has 11 sides, causing a bye.

Closest game was at Wallaroo with Moonta Blue winning 97-94; Wallaroo Blue lost despite having one team up 43-12.

Kadina, at home, defeated Port Broughton 92-76. Doug Reed's team (Kadina) and Wayne Hogben's team (Port Broughton) drew 18-18.

Arthurlton, with a side in div II, had a win at Ardrossan 98-91.

Wallaroo Blue 94 lost at home to Moonta Blue 97.

Biggest win of the round went to Moonta Red at home against Paskeville 131-55.

Bute also had a big win, scoring 122 shots to Alford's 61.

DIVISION III

Third division also has a bye with nine sides in the competition.

Wallaroo White, at home, defeated Ardrossan White 72-53.

Similar scores at Moonta had the Red side defeat the White side 74-43.

Wallaroo Blue 97 had a big win at home against Ardrossan Blue 97-27.

The game at Maitland was the closest in this division, the home side winning 52 to Kadina 43.

Moonta 113 (16) (P Rost 25, D Bennett 31, M Treloar 32, S Jolly 25) d Kadina 77 (0) (B Hines 19, D Bushell 20, B May 22, P Miller 16).

This week

DIVISION I

There will be plenty of blue shirts when Wallaroo Blue plays Wallaroo White. White will want to win against Blue, which is having its first season in div I.

Moonta will want to keep on winning this week at home when Port Broughton visits.

Paskeville travels to Bute; Bute will want to win this one after its loss last week and Paskeville would like to make it two in a row.

After its loss last week, Kadina will be looking for a win when it travels to Maitland.

Arthurlton will be at home to Ardrossan and both sides will be looking for the win.

DIVISION II

Wallaroo Mines will be playing its first game of the season, at home against Kadina. Although both will want the win, it will be the visitors who go home happy.

Alford hosts Ardrossan. Alford will want a win after its loss but Ardrossan is the likely victor here.

Paskeville is at home against Wallaroo Blue, Paskeville will want to redeem itself after last week.

Arthurlton plays Bute, which should be a great game. Both sides play on artificial surfaces so neither will have the advantage; Arthurlton to win, but just.

The local derby at Moonta should be a close encounter with Red winning.

DIVISION III

Wallaroo White has the bye which could strengthen the Blue side to play Kadina; Wallaroo Blue to win.

Ardrossan Blue plays Moonta Blue and the visitors should have a win.

New to the competition, Moonta White plays Maitland and I think they can win.

NYPBA SATURDAY DIV II... Barry "Couta" Bruce, Kadina, throws the kitty down to start an end against Port Broughton.

NYPBA SATURDAY DIV I... Garry Willson, Paskeville, watches the action on an adjoining rink against Arthurlton.

Ardrossan White, at home, plays Moonta Red; the visitors should win.

Thursday competition

In a new-look Thursday competition, there will be div I Green and div I Gold.

Both were originally going to have eight sides but Wallaroo has pulled its Blue side out of the Gold division, meaning there are eight sides in Green and seven in Gold, thus causing a bye in Gold. With the Gold sides then only playing 12 games, it was decided to add another two rounds to even up the number of matches. Gold sides will now play an extra game closer to Christmas and resume a week earlier than Green.

GREEN

Div I Green starts the season with a repeat of last season's div I grand final, Wallaroo at home against Moonta Red. Wallaroo will be determined to win and go one up on its arch rival.

Moonta Blue is at home against Port Broughton. Both will want to start the season with a win but don't be surprised if Moonta Blue takes the honours.

Bute has a good side and will be at home to Kadina-Mines, which didn't end last season well. Kadina-Mines will be out to win this one.

Ardrossan travels to Maitland and should win.

GOLD

Ardrossan has a bye.

Paskeville and Arthurlton start the season playing one another and I will be surprised if Arthurlton doesn't win.

Last season Kadina-Mines had one side in div I and two in div II; this season, it has one side in each competition. So Kadina-Mines should be a stronger side but Moonta might just have something to say about that.

Alford will play at home against Wallaroo, which must be strengthened now with only one side in each competition.

With this the first round of the Thursday competition, I will predict Moonta Red and Wallaroo to play in div I Green grand final and Arthurlton and Wallaroo to contest the Gold grand final.

NYPBA SATURDAY DIV I... Arthurton skipper Simon Geater-Johnson discusses the head with teammate Gavin Adams against Paskeville.

NYPBA SATURDAY DIV I... Paskeville's Gary Price concentrates on the kitty as he lets a bowl go against Arthurton.

NYPBA SATURDAY DIV I... Arthurton skipper Grace Moloney watches Jeff Miller, Paskeville, bowl.

NYPBA SATURDAY DIV I... Moonta's Bob Cavanagh sends a bowl on its way against Kadina.

Southern Yorke Peninsula...

Grand final replay gives different result

REPORT BY

Saturday competition

DIVISION I

Round two took place in cool spring weather. There were some surprising results, none more so than Port Victoria against Minlaton and the grand final replay from last season between Stansbury and premier Port Vincent.

The grand final replay was at Stansbury, the home side turning the tables in no uncertain manner; after losing the grand final by two shots, last week's margin was 50 shots and all rinks up.

Big winners were Malcolm Jennings, 17 up against Rob Marner, and Trevor Gill 16 up against Ron Turnbull. Turnbull suffered heart problems at the tea break and had to be replaced; we wish you well Ron.

John Cook scored a 26-17 win against Peter Green, and Rob Natt defeated Rob Storm 28-20.

Port Victoria had a decisive win against Minlaton at Port Victoria, 115-70, losing only one rink.

Yorketown struggled against Curramulka but won by eight shots with two rinks up. Mick McCallium defeated Marshall Thompson 23-13 and Rod Franke defeated Cindy Thompson 25-19.

Both undefeated, Stansbury and Yorketown are at the top of the ladder.

DIVISION II

Yorketown Blue, Stansbury White and Stansbury Blue lead the way with all three not having lost as yet this season.

Yorketown Blue had a battle against Port Vincent Black, winning by 10 shots after scores were level across the green with three ends to go. Brenton Spratt defeated Vanessa Germein 24-16.

Stansbury White played Edithburgh Gold at the Burgh, winning on two rinks with Ian Perry up 29-12 against Rick Knight.

Stansbury Blue hosted Port Victoria and won on all rinks. Les Nichol defeated Cheryl Hawkey 28-14 to be best performed.

Port Vincent Gold had a good win against Warooka 88-57 with Bryan Tuttle 34-18 against Di Brooks, Roger Underwood 32-17 against Heather Drury, and Des Chambers and Naomi Mathews had a 22-all draw.

Yorketown Red received a forfeit from Curramulka, which does not look good for later in the season, particularly when harvest begins.

Clubs are struggling to field players each week and what the reason is, I do not know but we should be inviting players to our clubs and letting them join in at their pace.

DIVISION I

Edithburgh plays Port Victoria and this could be a win for the Vic side.

Minlaton plays Warooka at Minlaton and should be a win for the Maroons but don't count on it.

Match of the day has Yorketown taking on Stansbury at Yorketown with both sides undefeated. Yorketown, at home, should be a winner.

Port Vincent hosts Curramulka and should finish the day on top.

DIVISION I

There were some close games last week with Minlaton scoring a one-shot win against Port Victoria 59-58.

Warooka sits top of the table after its 77-61 win against Edithburgh. Dawn Detmar was Warooka's standout rink with a 30-8 win against Midge Diprose, this result carrying the side to victory. Di Brooks had a two-shot win over Sandra Millowick 20-18; Maree Przibilla lost to Deb Funnell 16-18 and Heather Drury lost to Janet Tuck 11-17.

DIVISION II

Edithburgh 39 defeated Port Vincent 18, and Warooka 34 defeated Minlaton 28.

Curramulka Bowling Club women's invitation day

Curramulka Bowling Club hosted its women's invitation day on Tuesday, October 12. The weather was great and the competition was excellent. Winner was the Warooka team comprising Di Brooks, Kris Meyer, Jutta Rigoni and Kim Rickard, and the runner-up team came from Ardrossan: Penny McCarthy, Rosie Stern, Jenny Adcock and Trish Burman. Curramulka patron Pat Joraslafsky presented the winners with their prizes.

Port Broughton Bowling Club women's invitation day

Port Broughton Bowling Club held its annual women's invitation day on Tuesday, October 12. With 18 teams competing, in ideal weather, this was a great lead up to get in some practice at the beginning of the bowls season. A successful event was won by a rink from Laura (Margaret Wells, Ronda Janz, Val Thomson, Jackie Bray), with Crystal Brook (Agnes Dhu, Erica Young, Cheryl Nitschke, Helen Greig) second, and Wallaroo (Dianne Poole, Julie Oborn, Anne Robinson, Lyn Wildash) third.

Warooka bowlers' season opener

Warooka Bowling Club held its season opening day on Monday, October 4. Although the weather was rough, quite a few people attended. A minute's silence was held for past members who had died in the off-season: Lis Fiege, Neil Cranwell, Marlene Halliday and Geoff Aldous. Last season's champions Di Brooks and Allan Gregory rolled the first kitty and the first bowl, respectively, on the carpet, as it was far too cold out on the green. The new club shirts were shown to the members in preparation for ordering; this is later than planned, due to COVID. Many Warooka members attended the association opening the day before, Sunday, October 3, when Audrey May spoke about 3F — friendship, fellowship and fun.

NYP Little Athletics season starts

Northern Yorke Peninsula Little Athletics Centre commenced its 2021-22 season strongly with more than 110 athletes participating in the opening meet on Friday, October 15.

Many of the participants took advantage of the Come and Try program which allows families to try the sport for two weeks at no cost before committing to a paid membership.

The athletics program varies from week to week to give children experience in a wide range of events.

Last week, they had the opportunity to try a mixture of throwing, jumping and running events; hurdles were included in the program, giving many their first taste of the popular track event.

Due to the large number attending, athletes from the under 6s to u11s competed wholly within their own age groups with a few groups having 12 or more competitors.

Athletes set their baseline bests for the season ahead and will now work on improving their personal results each week.

Little athletics instils a “be your best” attitude as athletes work towards individual improvement rather than worrying about how they fare against others.

Recording personal bests is an integral part of the sport, providing children with feedback on their effort and ensuring they are recognised for improvement.

Tiny tots aged between 3 and 5 years participated in a range of fun play-based activities designed to improve fundamental movement skills in a stimulating and engaging environment.

Little athletics is held 5.30pm to 7pm Fridays, tiny tots is 5.30pm to 6.15pm, during school terms 4 and 1 at Kadina Memorial School's senior oval.

The final Come and Try night is this Friday, October 22, and interested families are urged to register at least 24 hours beforehand.

All details can be found on the NYP Little Athletics Facebook page or littleathleticssa.com.au; alternatively, phone 0408 852 635.

“The Finger Roll”
REPORT BY

A controversial ending helped Arthurton A men to their second win in as many games. Despite missing multiple names from last season’s minor premiership side, the Tigers are clearly on a mission.

Not one, but two senior teams were ruled to have had unregistered players suiting up on Friday night. Both Moonta’s A men and Pasky Black in the Senior Women had to forfeit and therefore conceded defeats.

A clash of the titans headlines the women’s fixture this week as Moonta and Arthurton Orange do battle in what could be a gran final preview. Early call, but I’ve never been wrong.

A MEN

Bute v Wallaroo

The undersized Doggies fought valiantly against a young and talented Bute outfit to start round 2. Sam Taylor found his rhythm and knocked down two triples to go with his 13 points. S Taylor was the only Rooster whose name did not start with J on Friday night, with a Jace, Jesse, Jacob, Josh, Jack and Jordan all contributing to the 10-point win.

Arthurton v Paskeville

Pasky was bolstered by the returning Brock Thomson, who looked dangerous at both ends of the court. His partner in crime Kye McDonald was just as good and even showed off his springs by soaring for an athletic slam dunk. In the clutch, a McDonald bucket was controversially ruled a two-pointer before the Pies weren’t sent to the line when Arthurton picked up a foul. Nonetheless, Tigers were too good and came away with a two-point triumph.

Bears v Moonta

The Yorke Valley Basketball Association found Moonta to have fielded an unregistered player, meaning the Blazers forfeited and Bears were handed a win.

SENIOR WOMEN

Arthurton Orange v Paskeville White

Ruth Vogelsang hit her straps by pulling off an efficient 12 points on Friday night. Vogelsang and Laura Cassidy led the Tigers offence despite again having just five players. The experienced, yet determined Arthurton side battled hard for an eight-point victory, its first of the season after a round 1 draw.

Bute v Arthurton Black

Despite also lining up with five players, the Black side put its opponents to the sword on court one. Katie Orr is proving to be a very handy addition around the rim. Countless offensive rebounds helped her get very high quality looks and also allowed her to create opportunities for her efficient teammates. Arthurton was ruthless all the way to the end, clearly looking to boost its percentage with a full court press while holding a 60-point lead in the last quarter.

Paskeville Black v Wallaroo

Paskeville was also found to have fielded an unregistered player, conceding a forfeit to Wallaroo.

Round 3 Tips
A MEN

Arthurton v Kadina

Coming off a bye, the Bloods will need to bring their best against the undefeated Tigers this week. Will Schultz has labelled himself a left-handed Devin Booker after he couldn’t miss from the short corner in round 1. If he and Mitch Miller can get to their spots, it doesn’t seem to matter how well the opposition defends. Alex Elsworth will need to turn one on again, but I’m unsure if he has enough cattle to help him at this stage.

At the final buzzer... Kadina by 15.

Wallaroo v Paskeville

The Doggies will need to lift after a slow start. Their tight, gritty style could contain Pasky to an extent, but the Pies should eventually let loose and get out in the open floor. Possibly the most dangerous side in transition, the men in black and white shouldn’t have too many troubles in this one.

At the final buzzer... Paskeville by 11.

Bute v Moonta

Sam and Jordan Taylor seem to be at their best again and will take some guarding here. The Blazers will look to utilise their strength around the rim, but it seems unlikely they’ll be able to stop all five positions. If the Roosters’ shooters can get hot, the game will be decided quickly.

At the final buzzer... Bute by 12.

SENIOR WOMEN

Paskeville Black v Paskeville White

The clash singlets will be pulled out for the first time in this Magpie scrap. Getting all its players registered will be the first step for Pasky Black. It will need to play at a high tempo and make the most of some young legs at both ends. However, the duo of Lucy and Fi Bussenschutt has been dynamic for White and will take some stopping from the perimeter as well as under the basket.

At the final buzzer... Paskeville White by four.

Bute v Arthurton Orange

The Roosters shouldn’t have as many problems with the orange Tigers as they did with black. Ella McCauley has been a consistent performer and will again look to get out in space. Arthurton could struggle against a younger outfit with just five players, but Monica Britton and co are smart and should find a way.

At the final buzzer... Arthurton Orange by seven.

Moonta v Arthurton Black

Early signs point to another crack at a flag for the Tigers in black, but if one thing stands in their way it’ll be Moonta. The Blazers, coming off a bye, have at least two former state players and will push Arthurton right to the line. Katie Orr will need to be at her best if she is to snatch boards against Adele Keleher, while Izzy Jacobs will need to make her share of shots over the Briggs sisters. An extra few players on the bench for Moonta could be the difference in this contest.

At the final buzzer... Moonta by a point.

YP club hosts archery state titles

Yorke Peninsula Field Archers, Kadina, hosted the Branch I State 3D Titles on Saturday and Sunday, October 16 and 17.

Unfortunately members of clubs in Mildura (Mallee Sunset Field Archers) and Broken Hill (Silver City Archers) were not able to participate on the weekend due to COVID-19 restrictions, and will hold their rounds as soon as they can after their lockdowns end. Results from the championships will be published once these rounds have been completed.

A total 22 archers shot at Kadina, coming from Branch I clubs Playford District Field Archers, Border Bowmen, Southern Yorke Field Archers, Lower Eyre Archers and YP Field Archers.

The weekend was enjoyed by all participants; the weather was gentle but was almost a bit warm on the Sunday.

Three-dimension archery is quite different to ABA Paper; it tests an archer's ability to judge the distance and their accuracy.

A two-arrow round was shot first up each day, with adult and junior archers shooting off the main peg, and then there was a walk-up, whilst the cubs only shoot from their main peg; second rounds for each day were shot from their main pegs.

The scoring system is 20 for a kill, 16 for a vital and 10 for a wound, which relates to zones on each of the targets.

Thank you to the visiting archers, and our own club members who assisted with the running of the event.

Cross Roads indoor cush bowls

Cross Roads Indoor Sports Club's indoor cush bowls season concluded with members and partners attending the presentation dinner at the Weeroona Hotel, Wallaroo, on Friday, October 15.

After an enjoyable meal, chairperson Kevin Swain thanked everyone for another successful season and attending the dinner.

There were 12 teams competing, which included 11 new players who all played and fitted in extremely well, as if they had been playing for several years, he said.

The wooden spoon challenge was not played this year due to unforeseen circumstances with one team unable to participate.

Roger responded, thanking his team with a special mention to the runner-up Rubies, which was on top of the premiership table for the most of the season.

It was a great season enjoyed by all participants; without the players, the club would not exist so thank you to everyone.

The evening finished with lucky numbers and many left with a small gift.

The club's annual general meeting on Friday, February 25, will be the start of the 2022 season; watch the YP Country Times for details.

BOWLS

Alford Saturday: The side travelled to Bute for the first game of the season but our players could not handle the speed of their greens. Bute was way too good, winning 122-61. B Davies (sk), R Jesser, J Hoare, S Davies 17-26; R Wallis (sk), D Willment, R Gibbs, M Davies 16-30; R Balman (sk), G Pearce, M Dare, L Hotchin 17-36; T Reid (sk), Phil March, T Bruce, B Philbey 11-30. We extend a very warm welcome to four new players at Alford this season — Michael Dare, Russell Gibbs, Jake Hoare and Peter March. Enjoy your bowling. RW

Ardrossan Saturday: Division I began the season with a commanding success against Maitland 124-62. It took until the 11th end for best rink F Parocz, R Stern, G Covino, D Adcock (sk) to slip past its opponent; from then on it was a one-way street in the 43-14 win. Ben Rowntree’s team shot out of the blocks to a 15-0 advantage, securing a 32-10 victory with a consistent team performance. After a slow start, J Simmons’s rink plunged to a sound lead, winning 28-20. L Rich’s team pinched the lead in the penultimate end, finishing in front 21-18. Div II lost to Arthurton 91-98. Best rink C Robinson, D Lambert, P Robertson, D Johnson (sk) had consistent multiple scores to win 34-13. P Goudie’s team had couple of large scores to offset a persistent opponent 26-22. P Ward’s rink struggled early but reduced the deficit to 17-24. B Lee-Archer’s team offered sound resistance in its 14-39 loss. Div III Blue lost 27-97 to Wallaroo Blue. C Voysey’s team took the lead early but lost 10-31. Similarly, M Stennett’s team was overcome as the game progressed, losing 11-32. H Burdett’s lost 6-34. In the shed, div III White lost 53-72 against Wallaroo White. Closest scores came from M Gerschwitz’s rink, which lost 26-29. B Hosking’s team was 13-14 down when its opponent rallied to force a 13-19 loss. D Anderson’s rink fell short 14-24. Welcome to new pennants players Phil Goudie, Graham Kluske, Cheryl Werner, Ian Werner and Rick Foote. We also thank the many club members who stepped up to fill the sides, and the subs who made up the shortfall. LBB

Ardrossan Wednesday: Ardrossan Blue defeated Yorketown Red 37-28. Taking the lead in the sixth end, best rink C Robinson, L Rich and B Hicks (sk) confirmed a 20-12 win. G Covino’s team sprung to the lead early, and held its nerve for a 17-16 win. Ardrossan White won 46-32 against Yorketown Blue. Best rink F Parocz, R Evans and F Stern (sk) had a 18-3 lead by the 13th end, and won 26-9. L Burman’s team fell behind mid-game to a sad 10-20, but then clawed its way back to even the scores for the final end, only to go down 20-23. LBB

Kadina Saturday: Welcome back to another pennant season! Not a great day for the Kadina club though. Second division hosted Port Broughton and provided our only win for the day, 92-76. Robert Cross and team Don Thomas, Rodney Milligan and John Kuhl, 12 up, carried the day. First division hosted the star-studded Moonta outfit and went down on all rinks, to the tune of 36 shots. We sure hope we can improve on that result! With a few new members this year, we’ve entered a third division side, which took the trip to Maitland. All teams down there, too. Let’s get some serious practising done, people! “Second Wood”

Moonta Saturday: The season commenced with the club entering six sides in the three divisions of open pennants on October 16. Division I played at Kadina, last season’s finalist, and came away with a solid 113-77 win with all rinks up. Best were the teams of Don “Duck” Bennett and Steve Jolly, 11 up. Div II Red started its defence of its pennant last season with a big victory over Paskeville 131-55 with three rinks up; best Graeme Dunstan, Rod Bilsborough, Dennis Willshire, Joe Fahey. Div II Blue had a narrow win over Wallaroo Blue 97-94, three rinks up; best Jeff “Tojo” Adams, John “Bubbles” Hodgetts, Al Gordon, Barry “Tug” Wilson. Div III Red, also defending their win last season, had the grudge match at home against Moonta White, winning 74-43 with two rinks up and one loss. Red’s best were Ina Coates, Ray Frost, Jeff Salter, Brian Pender; White’s winning rink was Roger Dall, Robert Jenkins, Ray Walker. Div III Blue had the bye. “Signing in for the new season”

Paskeville Saturday: Saturday division I played at home and had a win against Arthurton. Great to get that first win on the board. Best on the day was Jeff Miller’s team of David Zielonka, Chris Burden-Smith and Andrew Ward, who won 24-13. Second division didn’t do that well at Moonta against the Red side. Good news though we had one winning rink — Robert Manuel, Geoff Daniel, Neil Gardner and Bryan Newton 21-18. This week is the women’s open and the women’s pennants competitions start Thursday. Don’t forget it is Blue Week so wear whatever clothes you have that are blue. Let’s hope for three wins this week. “One-eyed Magpie”

Wallaroo Saturday: Welcome to the first round of our pennant season. Division I White defeated Bute: M Hayes, S Paterson, R Brandt, M Wildash 48-13; D Milner, B Griffiths, G Summerton, C Oborn 23-29, R Kent, F Schenk, M Johns, K Robinson 35-19; D Carter, K Cock, B Smith, P Spiers 30-21. Div I Blue lost to Port Broughton: G Walling, J Smith, R Peters, C Zanker 19-31, G Hewitt, Daryl Stringer, M Brandt, Paul Banks 24-18, N Hards, G Harper, A Robinson, David Harris 18-29, P Rankin, B Hosking, Dean Stringer, A Weber 32-17. Div II lost to Moonta Blue: M Mellow, J

Vasey, D Hendry, W Wade 19-32; Mim Topham, D Poole, J Horrigan, M Spiers 17-31; M Ross, T Schultz, L Wildash, J Page 15-22; J Brennan, S Yandell, G Bruce, T Hudson 43-12. Div III White defeated Ardrossan White: B March, J Oborn, C Harris, J Symons 29-26; B Price, J Poole, P Taylor, P Harris 24-14; J Meier, J James, K Godfrey, G Male 19-13. Wallaroo Blue d Ardrossan Blue: D Fenwick, T Depledge, J Halls, B Taylor 32-11, J Batrachenko, G Mackrill, I Kennett 31-10; S Kelly, M Harris, P Graham, J Jaensch 34-6. Thank you to all who filled in as required and welcome to our new members. Good luck for next week. “Papa Bravo”

Warooka: A Warooka team was runner-up in the men’s fours at Stansbury on Tuesday, October 12. Lost the pairs and won three out of four games. Players were Jim McKenzie, Tony Dunn, Peter Drury and Ken Rickard. A team went to Curramulka women’s day and was also runner-up; well done to Kimberly Rickard, Kris Meyer, Jutta Rigoni and Dianne Brooks. Wednesday, the men played Curramulka and won 52-17, gaining 10 points. Peter Lang 29 d Malcom Wheare 7, Allan Gregory 23 d Des Short 10. Thursday the women had wins in both divisions. Div II defeated Minlaton 34-28. Naomi Matthews 15 lost to Lorraine Decellis 16, Tania Chandler 19 d Maureen Worden 12. Div I played Edithburgh, also at home, and won 77-61. Di Brooks 20 d Sandra Millowick 18, Maree Przibilla 16 lost to Debra Funnell 18, Heather Drury 11 lost to Janet Tucker 17, Dawn Detmar (who carried the rest of the team) 30 d Midge Diprose 8. Lucky draw winners were Ken Algate OAM, Ron Ahwan, Tuula Scaife, Elaine Kammermann and Heather Drury. Saturday (open gender) div I played at home, defeating Edithburgh 96 (15) to 88 (3). Allan Gregory 22 drew with D Heidenreich 22, Tony Dunn 25 d C Tatchell 17, Anthony Bilney 28 d L Diprose 22, Ken Rickard 21 lost to M Davies 27. Lucky draw winners were Jimmy McKenzie, Fiona Bilney, Ken Coad, Maree Przibilla. Div II played at Port Vincent and lost. Di Brooks 18 lost to B Tuttle 34, Heather Drury 17 lost to R Underwood 32, Naomi Matthews 22 drew with D Chambers 22. Wendy K

NYP veterans: It takes more than a forecast of gale-force winds and torrential downpours to deter the veterans from their golf day at Wallaroo. Players contested the Kadina Hotel Stableford off the new Wallaroo red course, with some handicap adjustments to compensate for the shorter distances. A couple of players still couldn’t resist dropping a ball or two into the water hazards. Overall winner David Smart 39 pts. A grade: Geoff Tapps 35, David “Doc” Holman 33, Grant Donovan 32. B grade: Dean James 35 c/b Geoff Richardson, John Poulton. C grade: Jim Smith 35; Don Nottle 31; Kym Sundberg, Heinz Wehleit 30. Seventy-three and over: Tony Jamieson, Ross Argent 30. Wallaroo Rifle Club: The first stage of the Peninsula Insurance Trophy was shot in meek and mild weather on Saturday at 400 yards. The 400-yard yips set in as the breeze seemed alright for some good scores but must have had some tricky changes which put the centre out of the target. Only one possible was shot and that was from Bob Savage with a well-earned 60.3. Andrew Dayman cleaned up all target rifle honours winning off-rifle and handicap. In F open off-rifle, Bob Savage with Dennis Cox took out the F class handicap award. Results, target rifle: A Dayman 48.4, 46.4, 94.8, 8, 100.8 (75%); J Dayman 44.1, 47.3, 91.4, 5, 96.4; M Dayman 45.2, 45.3, 90.5, 7, 97.5. Thelma Roach celebrates 25 years at Kadina Croquet Club

Kadina Croquet Club life member, 93-year-old Thelma Roach and 44 other members enjoyed a special day at the club on Thursday, October 7.

Thelma joined the club in 1996 and has been a beloved central figure for 25 years.

“Soon after joining, she put her hand up to be secretary and I also understand she and her late husband Marshall did a lot of work around the club in their early days,” Linda Kinch said.

“I know from personal experience

Thelma has the patience of a saint when it comes to teaching association croquet and croquet in general, and she has helped and guided literally dozens of our members over the years.

“She never shows any exasperation, and her down-to-earth advice is greatly respected and listened to.”

Thelma played in the AC pennant team for many years and, after retiring from competition, continued playing socially till age 90 (not a bad innings!); she continues to be an integral part of the club to this day.

During the SA Masters Games, and for gala days and other special occasions, she filled the club with beautiful roses from her garden, which everyone enjoyed.

“She lives across the road from the club and is often seen on her gopher going back and forth with the basket filled with flowers and vases ready to be arranged in the clubhouse,” Linda said.

“Thelma is also a generous prize donor for club events and raffles, and on this special morning provided three beautiful pot plants as rewards for good play, two of which were won by new players, which gave them great pleasure and encouragement.

“The depth of Thelma’s vast experience and that of our other retired life members cannot be understated and we are lucky to have these sage elders in our midst.”

“Thelma was particularly pleased some of her ‘old’ playing friends from Moonta and Wallaroo Croquet Clubs joined in the celebrations and it was lovely hearing these ladies laughing and reminiscing about past croquet matches and events.

“The club of today has been built on the hard work and dedication of these past volunteers and players.”

“It was a delight to see two of Thelma’s great-grandchildren cuddling into her as she cut her silver anniversary cake, a great family lady still full of life, generosity and love for the game of croquet.”

Minlaton table tennis presentation night

After a late start and an even later finish to the season due to COVID-19 and a mid-season lockdown, Minlaton Table Tennis Association held its presentation night at the Melville Hotel, Yorketown, on Tuesday, September 21.

President Alan Twartz congratulated everyone on a well-played season, especially most improved recipient Brady Bryan, and vice-president Graham Bittner awarded him with a special medallion.

Alan also congratulated Chris Cook for holding the association record for winning in 21 grand finals in the past 53 years, with the first 16 playing for the Minlaton Football team and the past five playing for the Minlaton

Lutheran team, an awesome achievement!

As a finale, Alan announced the Minlaton Lutheran team as the winning team for 2021, and secretary/treasurer Gilbert Liebelt awarded team captain Graham Bittner with the association shield.

Alan proceeded to present each member with their individual medallions and congratulated everyone involved.

Anyone interested in playing in 2022 can contact Alan on 0427 277 164 for further info.

We encourage beginners and age is open. The season usually starts in April and finishes in August, each team needs eight players and a few reserves.

West Torrens began its one-day campaign against a heavily experienced Adelaide University side at Park 12 in North Adelaide.

After winning the toss and sending their opponents in, the Eagles kept the Blacks to competitive but still gettable total of 9/232.

Left arm first change bowler from Curramulka Murphy Short bowled 10 overs, claiming two top order wickets at the cost of 46 runs in a purposeful display with the ball.

Edinburgh teenager, James Reuther sent down five overs but collected the impressive analysis of 2/14.

West Torrens was in total control in the run chase at 1/172, before it lost four wickets for 30 runs.

Short added to his bowling efforts with a little cameo with the willow, smashing 11 not out from seven deliveries, including a pair of boundaries to give his team victory.

At Woodville Oval, the Peckers fell 20 runs short in their run chase against the Northern Jets.

Sunbury Cricket Club talent Blake Gutsche got a start, advancing into double figures before being dismissed for 13, having faced 26 balls in a 27-minute stay at the crease.

Mitchell Fuss, the teenage son of 1980s Port Victoria sporting talent Colin, batted in the middle order, making a classy 46 from 55 balls including five boundaries.

In the Eagles second XI match at Henley Oval, Adelaide University was bowled out for just 115, in the 43rd over.

Lachlan Pointon was penetrating with his leg spinners, finishing with 3/25 from his 10 overs, which also included a couple of maidens.

West Torrens failed to chase down the modest total, being bowled out for 101, with Pointon making a 22-ball duck, and Callum Agnew only managing four.

In the under 16s Red competition, Will Pointon made a cameo of 14 in West Torrens total of 7/107 from 40 overs.

Pointon dispatched a boundary and a six in the 12-ball, 14-minute occupation of the crease.

The Kensington Browns achieved reached the required runs only eight wickets down.

Pointon was also productive with the ball, collecting 2/25 from five overs.

SACA Women

In the women's T20 second XI round two match, West Torrens bowlers were given a strong base of 2/15 to defend.

They achieved this in fine style restricting Adelaide University to 6/81.

Ardrossan's Jemma Torsney was frugal when opening the bowling.

She collected a wicket in her opening over, and finished with 1/7 from her four overs, including a couple of maidens.

After sub fielding in the second XI clash, Maitland's Mackenzie McCauley batted at number four in the first grade game, but endured a golden duck.

West Torrens, despite losing a cluster of wickets in the middle order, still made an enterprising total of 7/148 from 20 overs.

The bowling attack then kept the Adelaide University side to 7/88, enjoying a handsome 60-run triumph; an opening win for the season.

SACA WOMEN SECOND GRADE... Jemma Torsney sends one down during her four over spell.

SACA WOMEN SECOND GRADE... Mackenzie McCauley took to the field during West Torrens' match as a sub fielder.

SACA MEN FIRST GRADE... Blake Gutsche and Mitchell Fuss were strong performers in Woodville's 20 run loss against the Northern Jets.

Yorke Peninsula teams in junior tournament

REPORT BY

Yorke Peninsula fielded two teams in the Mega-Courts Super League III at West Beach from October 5 to 8.

The under 16s side included Eric Warren, Jaxon Barnes, Cooper Traeger, Freddie Wilson, Nicholas Harvey, Henry Coote, Harrison Geater-Johnson, William Pointon, Rupert Polkinghorne, Tom Dolling and Harry Kakoschke.

A number of these players are expected to be vying for positions in the YP Under 16s side for the SACA Country Championships in December.

The YP side started with a twenty20 fixture against the Mega Courts combination and lost by five wickets after making 9/94.

LOOK no further than this home with reception to year 12 schools less than a 10-minute walk away, Ray White sales principal David Bussenschutt says.

“Kadina’s Victoria Square and bustling main street are only a few hundred metres down the road, plus the Kadina Golf Course is just a hop across the street,” David says.

“This 1890s-built stone home still has lots of character and great features, including beautiful high ceilings, a wide hallway, and the front door is surrounded by elegant stained glass.

“On the left is the main bedroom complete with split-system air conditioning, a built-in wardrobe and ceiling fan.

“All three bedrooms are generous in size, while the lounge has split-system air conditioning, plus a feature stone fireplace.

“The kitchen is also greatly sized, has lots of storage with overhead and under-bench cabinets, plenty of bench space, as well as its own air conditioner.

“Of a good size, the bathroom has a separate toilet, and the laundry is roomy with built-in cabinetry as well.

“The convenient study/room has frosted glass windows for natural light, plus the dining room easily has enough space for an eight-seater table.

“The backyard is full of beautifully-maintained grass, and the fully enclosed yard includes a huge rainwater tank, as well as two single lock-up garages, one with a roller door.

“Established plants scattered throughout the colourful front garden are another reason to check out this gorgeous home.”

REPORT BY

KADINA Show's Led Animal Competition was well contested by local schools recently.

Students from Kadina Memorial, Central Yorke and Port Broughton Area Schools were joined by Gladstone High School in leading their goats and steers through the Grand Parade, as well as Goat and Cattle Handler Classes.

The Grand Parade was won by Gladstone, the goat class by Noah Pachur, Port Broughton, and the cattle class by Tanisha Wakefield, Gladstone.

The competition would usually act as a preparation event for the Royal Adelaide Show but, after the latter was cancelled, Kadina Show was the students' only chance to show off their skills.

"We usually hold the Kadina Show event as a practise run to get the animals out of their school pens because they can be unpredictable," competition coordinator Tash Westbrook said.

"This helps students work through any issues before they get to Adelaide.

"Abigail Hickman was our judge this year — she gave students some feedback about how they can improve (their leading).

"Last year, the Kadina and (Royal) Adelaide Shows cancelled, so it was good to get something out of the program this year."

Ms Westbrook said good weather and minimal hiccups allowed for a successful event.

"This was our third year running the program and it was good to see lots of people interested," she said.

"It's great for parents and grandparents to have the opportunity to watch their kids at Kadina, when they might not be able to in Adelaide."

Ms Westbrook said she would love to see more schools involved in future years, with prizes of up to $200 on offer for school agricultural programs.

"(The program) allows students to improve their teamwork and communication skills while working in groups of two to three with their animals in the lead up to competition," she said.

"We're really looking to grow ag education and increase awareness for jobs in the industry."

Central Yorke School reaps rewards

CENTRAL Yorke School, Maitland, entered the entered the virtual on-hoof steer competition run by SA Young Beef Breeders recently. Local steers Ted, an Ashvell Murray Grey, and Tank, a Bayview Shorthorn, entered alongside 47 other steers from around the state. Both placed first in their individual weight classes, before Ted was crowned Reserve Champion for the Heavy Domestic weight class. CYS ag science teacher Jaynelle Le Feuvre said students were grateful to show off their skills at the Kadina Show on-hoof competition and also the Royal Adelaide Show Carcass Competition. Student Sophie Baker said it was rewarding to finally see strong results.

"We spent about four months conditioning and grooming the steers," she said.

"There were some challenges with Tank coming straight out of the paddock, but we spent so much time with them that it all paid off."

STRONG TEAM... Central Yorke School's Sophie Baker (right) claimed second place in Kadina Show's Cattle Handler Class with Ted the Ashvell Murray Grey steer. She is pictured with (in no particular order) ag science teacher Jaynelle Le Feuvre, Tayla Coles, Sophie Heinrich, Tank the Bayview Shorthorn steer, Kennie Dunlop, Billy Everleigh, Tammie Rawlings, Annabelle Smart and Georgia Hasting.

SIMPLE BUT EFFECTIVE... Viterro operations manager for central region Jack Tansley said Viterro's dynamic binning system provides the opportunity for growers to instantly upgrade their wheat and barley.

Viterro service gives big value to growers

Advertising Promotion

A SIMPLE but effective upgrading service for grain delivered to Viterro sites has given back $15 million in value to South Australian growers over the past three years.

Viterro's dynamic binning was launched in 2018-19 and provides the opportunity for growers to instantly upgrade their wheat and barley, giving them more money in their pocket.

Operations manager for central region Jack Tansley said the service gives growers more flexibility and potential access to a higher grade for loads that are just outside of receival standards.

"Our dynamic binning is instant – the grade is printed on the ticket at site and is immediately available to transact," he said.

Grain can be upgraded when the classification results are within the tolerance zone for protein, screenings or test weight.

"The higher grade will be given if all other quality requirements are met, including variety, contaminants and Maximum Residue Limits and the average quality of the individual stack at the site continues to meet receival standards," Jack said.

"Viterro carefully monitors the quality of grain going into its storage facilities while continuing to ensure out-turned grain meets the requirements of end-use customers.

"We have made significant investments in our grain IT systems and can now monitor the quality of stacks in real time.

"This has allowed us to offer dynamic binning with confidence we will continue to meet our customers' out-turn needs."

Dynamic binning also creates a more efficient classification process and improves turnaround times for growers at harvest due to fewer requests for retests.

"We listen to our grower customers to ensure we continue to provide a valuable service for them, both when choosing to deliver their grain to Viterro but also in providing outstanding market access for South Australian grain," Jack said.

Dynamic binning complements Viterro's newest grower services which include an updated app, a digital delivery advice and flexible payment options.

CFS initiates trial to join forces with farmers

Jess Liddy
JOURNALIST

A NEW program being trialled by the SA Country Fire Service will provide better coverage for farm firefighting unit operators this fire danger season.

The program will specifically look to provide registered operators who register with better access to safety and insurance arrangements.

CFS executive director frontline services support Georgie Cornish said the trial program builds on the recommendations of the Keely Review.

"We are encouraging owners of FFUs to register with the CFS so we can work together when they respond with our volunteers to bushfires," Ms Cornish said.

"By better coordinating our approach with FFU operators on the fireground, we will be able to provide improved support for everyone helping on the fireground."

CFS Northern Yorke group officer David Bussenschutt said the relationship between the CFS and farmers was very important and working together made so much sense.

"The farming community and the CFS have worked together for many years and many CFS members are farmers, or have ties to the industry, and they understand fire behaviour and the land," Mr Bussenschutt said.

"Having your FFU registered with the CFS helps the CFS identify resources and people who are actually on the fireground for larger fires where this is so important.

"There are plenty of benefits for the farmers including two way communication of what's actually happening, making sure we are all safe, catering for ongoing incidents and, most importantly, insurance if things go wrong."

Member for Narungga Fraser Ellis said FFUs played a vital role in assisting the CFS fight fires and farmers were often first on the scene.

"CFS is currently trialling a state-wide program designed to improve support and communication for farm firefighting operators and I am very keen to receive feedback on the trial that is requiring registrations and logging on and off the system," Mr Ellis said.

"I ask local farmers to please contact me with your views and experiences with this trial."

Operators are encouraged to register their units and find more details about the program at cfs.sa.gov.au/prepare-for-a-fire/farm-fire-units/.

IMPORTANT TRIAL... Ian Dayman and Todd Woodley, Gulfview Grain, have registered their farm firefighting unit as part of a new trial with the CFS. The pair said the trial would provide both sides with better communication and farmers with insurance.

Regional Grower Relationship Manager

- Long term career opportunity
- Based in the Mid North and Yorke Peninsula
- Exciting and supportive environment

About the role

Viterra is seeking a regional grower relationship manager to be based in Mid North and Yorke Peninsula. In this role you will manage and promote grower relationships across Viterra's storage and handling network for our Central region. You will have an active role in facilitating the management of grain contracted to Viterra Trading, this includes working with domestic markets and export programs. Working closely with our operations managers and teams, you will build and maintain grower relationships and connect growers with operations, marketing and commercial and transactional services to assist in meeting growers' needs.

Duties

- Maintain and identify grower relationships through the CRM
- Undertake visits to growers and promote grain marketing options
- Develop and implement strategies to promote Viterra storage and handling services
- Provide crop and grower information to the accumulation, trading and operations teams
- Engage with growers to secure ex-farm deliveries to domestic end-users or to Viterra ports
- Assist in accumulation, contract execution and logistics for ex-farm deliveries

About you

- Strong knowledge of the grain industry, growers, and grain storage and handling
- Demonstrated skills and experience in a grain purchasing/marketing role
- Experience in out-bound phone sales calls
- Sound knowledge of technology to support business and delivery of role
- Ability to use Excel to analyse data

Benefits

As well as providing an empowering culture, Viterra promotes a range of employee benefits including:

- Relocation assistance
- Tools of trade including a company vehicle
- Employee assistance program – access to confidential and free support
- Corporate health insurance funds, financial services and gym membership discounts

How to apply

To apply or to see a detailed position description, please visit the careers page of our website viterra.com.au, or for further information please contact HR Manager Rachel Walker on 8304 5172.

DEFENCE PROOF & EXPERIMENTAL ESTABLISHMENT PORT WAKEFIELD: LIVE FIRING RANGE WARNING NOTICE

Test and evaluation activities involving static firings and/or firings of naval and artillery weapons are conducted at the Proof and Experimental Establishment Port Wakefield throughout the year. The Proof and Experimental Establishment Port Wakefield is a vital Defence test and evaluation capability that has supported Defence since 1929.

These firings may require specific tidal or weather conditions, and are critical for the safety of current and new Defence capabilities. Members of the public may notice noise, vibration, flashes and/or smoke during the testing. There is no risk to the public outside of the gazetted Defence Practice Areas.

For reasons of public safety, there is a permanent exclusion zone covering land, sea and air around the Port Wakefield Establishment. Specific details on the Port Wakefield Prohibited Area can be obtained from Commonwealth of Australia Gazette No GN 26, 4 July 1990, and is shown on the diagram below. Trespassing in this Area is strictly prohibited and very dangerous due to the presence of unexploded bombs. Any person found within the Prohibited Area or on Defence land will be subject to prosecution.

Specific test and evaluation activities may also require restricting public access to the Port Wakefield Defence Practice Areas over specific periods with these areas articulated in the Commonwealth of Australia Gazette No. GN 40, 7 October 1992, and also identified on the diagram below. This may affect access to the Gulf of St Vincent at Port Wakefield and Port Parham.

If any member of the public has inquiries in relation to these activities, please contact Proof & Experimental Establishment Port Wakefield – Range Control on (08) 8867 0270 between 8.00am and 4.30pm weekdays or the Proof & Experimental Establishment Port Wakefield – Security Office on (08) 8867 0299 outside these hours.

AUSSIE BACKYARD BIRD COUNT

aussiebirdcount.org.au
#aussiebirdcount

The Aussie Backyard Bird Count is the nation's largest annual citizen science project. It's run by BirdLife Australia, the national bird conservation charity.

Each October, for one week, people across the country count how many birds they see within a 20 minute period in their backyard, local park or any other outdoor area, and record this data using the Aussie Backyard Bird Count app or website.

This provides a snapshot of Australian birds at the same time each year, which allows us to look at the trends in our bird communities over time, and allows you to make an important contribution to citizen science from your own backyard.

It's these more common species that give us the best indication of the health of the environment - think of birds as a barometer for nature!

To learn more or to get involved, visit aussiebirdcount.org.au and count the birds that are counting on you.

When you came into our lives and we brought you home you were a small ball of soft black fluff.
You melted my heart with those beautiful eyes.
You played hide and seek with your daddy while Mum was at work.
You scared Daddy because he thought he lost you.
You were a cheeky little one, who loved to play games.
We watched you growing up, so fast, you were your mummy’s girl who loved her daddy too.
You had your own personality, you were my doggy human, who understood every word that was said to you, sometimes even answered us back.
You were the boss of the house.
Our cuddles, our talks, our car rides, our walks, our special bond.
You will never be forgotten, you were our princess!
Fly high beautiful princess with your wonderful dad.
You will remain in our hearts forever. Love you always.

Starscopes

♈ ARIES—March 21-April 20

Hunches are generally strong, especially those related to career prospects. Overseas correspondence encourages you to shape your own travel plans. A research project brings some surprises.

♉ TAURUS—April 21-May 22

Careful planning may help you avoid a financial snag. Watch a tendency to take risks - you are in an adventurous mood. Your creative energies are high and your efforts could win you high praise.

♊ GEMINI—May 23-June 21

A dull job suddenly becomes much more interesting. Your social life is livelier too. A friend may become suddenly possessive so try to nip the problem in the bud.

♋ CANCER—June 22-July 22

You may find friends to be a little argumentative. Do your best to remain objective. A loved one is more willing to co-operate in a joint venture. Academic advancement is highlighted.

♌ LEO—July 23-August 22

Tackling large jobs is your current strength. The simple tasks may present unexpected problems. This is a good time for getting in touch with friends who have drifted away.

♍ VIRGO—August 23-September 22

Transportation and communication problems are starting to end. Your independent streak is surfacing, but try to include your partner in your plans. You have a knack of excluding those who could be the most helpful.

♎ LIBRA—September 23-October 22

A trusted friend may help you out of a rut. You begin to feel more ambitious this week, but work accordingly to a plan. Romance accents its whimsical side.

♏ SCORPIO—October 23-November 21

You can boost your partner's sagging confidence and encourage children to realize their potential. An interesting financial option could require further research before you make a definite decision.

♐ SAGITTARIUS—November 22-December 22

This is an excellent week for presenting your proposals. Your instincts are sharp, especially in domestic matters. A happy romantic trend continues through the week and at the end of the week a recent mystery is solved.

♑ CAPRICORN—December 23-January 20

Your charisma helps you avoid some tricky situations this week, at home or at work - but don't count on it exclusively. You are very popular at present and you could receive a series of invitations

♒ AQUARIUS—January 21-February 19

Careerwise, you may find that a more traditional approach appeals to your superiors. Don't be experimental just to be different. Some good financial news may arrive this week.

♓ PISCES—February 20-March 20

Your energy level is generally high, but avoid over extending yourself. You can be somewhat gullible so don't believe every strange tale you hear right now. A reward bonus of some sort may arrive by the end of the week.

BIRTHDAY THIS WEEK

You are a devoted friend and family member, but shun the praise for doing what you think is just the right thing. Your wit sometimes hurts others - until they realize there is nothing personal intended. Put your quick wit to practical use - perhaps taking on a public speaking role.

Behind Her Eyes — see if you can blink

AFTER being recommended this six-part thriller purely for the last-minute twist, I was definitely not left disappointed.

Behind Her Eyes tells the tale of a wealthy couple who move to a new area of the United Kingdom in an effort to start fresh following a long list of previous debacles.

Clearly unhappy in his marriage, psychiatrist David (Tom Bateman) starts an affair with his secretary Louise (Simona Brown).

This genre of series isn't usually my cup of tea, but the tension just seems to pick up a gear in every episode.

I can't stand spoilers so I won't delve too deep, but one of the two women in love with David is not 100 per cent sane.

Through her life, she has found a way to know almost everything about other people and places despite not always being there to see events with her own eyes.

This drives David absolutely crazy, which forces him to breaking point, while the other woman tries to investigate the incredibly strange line of events.

ENTICING... David, Louise and Adele shine in Behind Her Eyes, a series that will lock you in more and more as you go.

If I was to read this script on a piece of paper, there's no way I'd even bother, but the final two episodes boast twists which are extremely well entwined.

This short, sharp series will definitely keep you on the edge of your seat and is well worth a watch.

#Throwback

This day in history

October 19, 1933: The International Olympic Committee votes to introduce basketball in the 1936 Berlin games.

October 19, 1974: Australian tennis star Evonne Goolagong wins her first WTA Tour Championship, beating Chris Evert 6-3, 6-4 in the final at the Los Angeles Sports Arena.

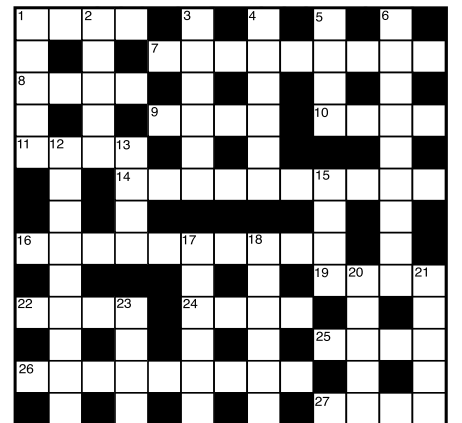

October 19, 1999: Cher releases hit single Believe.

What's been Trending

Emma Wiggle out: Emma Watkins, the first female Wiggle, is retiring her yellow skivvy and stepping away from the role to spend more time with family and focus on post-doctorate studies. She will be replaced by 15-year-old Tsehay Hawkins, who was one of the four new members announced in August.

Search continues: Western Australia police are continuing their search for missing 4-year-old Cleo Smith, who disappeared from a campsite near Carnarvon on Saturday. The sea search has been scaled back with crews now focusing on land clues instead.

HOT FISHING TIPS

with Greg James www.gregjamesfishing.com.au

Welcome to the column with all the hot tips for fishing around Yorke Peninsula; contact Greg by email at greg@gregjamesfishing.com.au.

Wallaroo: Boat crews are fishing for King George whiting from Point Riley, the Boiler grounds and Bird Reef. Several crews were also running berley trails south of the jetty seeking gar, blue crabs and tommy ruff (Australian herring). Gar and snook are also out from Tickera and the Magazine. Jetty fishing has been quiet.

Moonta Bay/Port Hughes: Good catches of KG whiting continue from Coopers, Cape Elizabeth and the grounds just west of Tipara Reef. Gar and squid are in the bay with a few small blueys, while the jetties have ruff and squid.

Point Turton: KG whiting are in the bay for the canny boat crews who drift their boats here and the broken grounds out from Point Souttar and all the way down to The Pines. Gar are again up around Chinaman Wells and Port Rickaby with jetty fishing producing after-dusk tommies and not much else.

Marion Bay/Stenhouse Bay: Big donkey-head squid are off both jetties at the moment. Boat anglers are fishing for whiting, flathead, red nannygai, sweep, flathead and snook. The small whale carcass is still affecting the fishing off Port Moorowie.

Edithburgh: I enjoyed a catch of medium-sized tommies when I checked in here in the early part of last week, but this particular jetty has its secret spots as a couple of KG whiting were landed from the north-east end. Boat crews are fishing for whiting, snook and gar from Troubridge Point, Marion Reef and Sultana Point/Wattle Bay.

Ardrossan/Black Point: Blue swimmer crabs have started a decent run here and south to Black Point as tides improved in the latter part of the week. Whiting are off Tiddy Widdy Beach and just south of Windara Reef while shore-based anglers are trying for yellowfin whiting from the Pine Point wharf.

Tight lines and see you next week

Sasha's got the fever

REPORT BY

Super shot specialist Sasha Glasgow has committed to a further two seasons with the Suncorp Super Netball League's West Coast Fever.

Glasgow, 23, is moving into the prime of her career — scoring 29 super shots and 84 goals in 2021 as well as 152 goal assists from 191 circle feeds.

She has slotted seamlessly into the Fever's potent attacking rotation playing alongside Jamaican international superstar Jhaniele Fowler.

the arc across the 2021 season.

"This year was great, I really loved my time in Perth and enjoyed expanding my game into the goal attack role," Glasgow said.

"Of course, every year comes with challenges but I'm excited for the next two years in Perth and for the West Coast Fever and couldn't see myself anywhere else.

"Perth is a beautiful place, it's very similar to Adelaide, the beaches are incredible and I've really loved the WA lifestyle.

"My ambitions for next year are to continue developing my goal attack endurance and constantly striving towards solid court time, more consistency and volume of shots.

"I'm really settling my life in Perth, starting more university over there and am looking forward for the next two years."

Glasgow made her debut for the Adelaide Thunderbirds as a teenager in 2017.

Since then, she's played 47 Suncorp Super Netball games and was named in the 2021-22 Australian Development Squad in August.

Glasgow played for the Thunderbirds until last season and in 2020, the first year of the two-goal super shot, she scored at 44 per cent.
